SHIP'S CAPTAIN DEATH'S ENGINE

Windlass Gets Beyond Control, With Awful Result.

Two Men Are Dead and Five Others Injured Through Accident.

The breaking of a capstan bar yesterday afternoon on the ship Pyrenees resulted in the drowning of one man, the wounding of another so badly that he subsequently died, and the injury of five others.

The vessel is lying off the Union Iron Works and was to have been moved yesterday afternoon to Oakland. She is without a crew and a gang of longshoremen was taken on board to assist in getting up the anchor and later in making her fast across the bay.

The capstan was manned and the anchor was well clear of the bottom when one of the capstan bars broke. The weight of the heavy mudhook came with sudden force on the remaining bars, which the men grasping them were unable to hold. The capstan whizzed around with terrific force, the heavy bars throwing longshoremen in every direction. Two of the men were knocked overboard and the body of one, whose name could not be learned, has not yet been recovered.

D. Hannigan, who lives at 8 Moulton street, was the other, and in addition to three severe lacerations of the scalp he has probably sustained a fractured skull.

Another victim never recovered consciousness. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where he died at 10:30. The frontal bone over the left eye was fractured and driven in until it pressed well into the brain. He was operated on by Drs. O'Brien and Harvey, but had no chance for recovery. His companions did not know his name and there was nothing on his person by which he could be identified.

The other injured men were treated at the Harbor Hospital by Dr. Murphy. Of these E. D. Murphy, who lives at 677 1/2 Clementia street, sustained an abrasion of the left hand. John Wilson was treated for a contusion of the left shoulder. Fred Elliston, a colored boy, who lives in Oakland, suffered a dislocation of the left shoulder and a cut on his head, and James Dooley of 727 Davis street had two deep scalp wounds.

Boatmen are dragging the bay for the body of the missing man.

The Pyrenees is a British ship which about a year ago took fire at sea. Her skipper beached her, all ablaze, on an island near Tahiti, where she remained until Captain Thayer of this city made some repairs, floated her and sailed her to this port. Her beams were badly twisted by the fire and the contract for putting her into seagoing condition has not yet been let.

HO YOW TO BE SUED ON THE FORFEITED BONDS

United States Immigration Commissioner Demands That the Money Be Paid.

The cases of Fei Chi How and Kung Hsiang Hsi, Chinese students, who escaped recently into Canada while under bonds to remain in this city pending examination as to their right to enter, are being looked into by the United States Commissioner of Immigration. He inquired by telegraph yesterday of Customs Collector Stratton whether the Collector had caused a suit to be instituted against former Chinese Consul General Ho Yow to recover the amount of the bonds given by him for the production of the youths in San Francisco for deportation or other action by the Chinese Bureau. The amount is $1000.

United States Attorney Woodworth replied that the matter had been placed in the hands of Third assistant United States Attorney Ben L. McKinley and that suit would be begun at once, but that Ho Yow was in the East, beyond the jurisdiction of the court, and could not be served until he should come within its jurisdiction.

Mr. Woodworth stated also that Warren Gregory, counsel for Ho Yow, had informed him that the Chinese officials would endeavor to have the fugitives return voluntarily to the United States in order to satisfy the bond. Mr. Woodworth said yesterday that there is no authority for the arrest of the youths as long as they remain away from the United States and that it is questionable whether they could be readmitted without the certificates demanded by the customs authorities.

Elks' Day at the Santa Rosa Street Fair.

The California Northwestern Railway announces that on account of Saturday, October 4, being Elks' Day at the Santa Rosa Street Fair, it will suspend its regular service on that day from San Francisco round-trip tickets for only $1. The tickets will be good on steamers leaving Tiburon ferry, foot of Market street, at 7:30 and 9 a. m., and on the return on trains leaving Santa Rosa at 3:50 and 10 p. m. Elks' Day is the day of the fair and many novelties in the way of entertainment are promised by the directors of the Fourth District Fair Association.

Mrs. Hans Halvorsen Is Missing.

Secretary White of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children states that Mrs. Hans Halvorsen, whose home is at 522 Eighth street, has been driven from her home by her husband and cannot be found. Halvorsen was arrested for failure to provide for his family about two months ago and since that time she is alleged to have treated his wife and children with extreme cruelty. The officials of the charity organization will endeavor to locate the missing woman and have her husband punished.

Mildred Town's Death Natural.

Morgue Surgeon Bacaluppi made an autopsy yesterday morning upon the body of Mildred Town, the four-year-old girl who died last Tuesday in a private hospital after two weeks' sickness. He found that death had been caused by cerebral spinal meningitis, and that there was no evidence of violence.

You cannot help but take delight in wearing our clothes, because they are smartly built—they have a clever air and hang to 'em—they have an originality about 'em and are so cleverly constructed that it is a pleasure to wear Raphael's clothes.

You have but to mention our name and tell 'em where you buy your clothes, and this stamps you a smart dresser.

The sketch we show opposite of the nattily cut sack suit is a snapshot of a gentleman, taken while in the store. You will note how the front sets—not a break in it. Our garments are all built that way—built with the permanent front—and, of course, in the smartest fashions of the season. Particularly fetching are the black unfinished worsteds, just as dressy and fetching as anything could be.

BODY OF THOMAS MAGEE IS LAID AT FINAL REST

Simple Funeral Ceremonies at the Late Residence of the Deceased.

The funeral of the late Thomas Magee took place yesterday afternoon from the late residence of the deceased, 3710 Broadway. The interment was made at Mount View Cemetery in Oakland, but many friends of the deceased and the family were present at the house, where the Rev. Dr. John A. Hemphill and his assistant, Rev. Dr. Eldredge, conducted simple funeral ceremonies.

Dr. Hemphill said in part: "It is a sad bereavement for the deceased was a good man. He was good in more senses than one. He was kind and loving to his family, he was generous to the poor and needy and he loved Jesus. This is shown by the charitable institutions which he founded and supported. He led an intense life. He was intense in everything. That was what enabled him to acquire so many friends."

Charles A. Laton, A. J. Ralston, E. B. Pond, Lovell White, Robert Watt, I. W. Hallman, Dr. H. Law, A. S. Baldwin, John F. Merrill, James Horsburgh Jr., Reuben H. Lloyd and William Greer Harrison were the pall-bearers.

A. Hayward, E. P. Newhall, C. A. Shurtlett, J. P. Hopkins and Howard G. Stevenson are the directors of the Pioneer, the Hazard and the Stanislaus Quicksilver Mining companies, which were incorporated yesterday. The Pioneer has a capital stock of $3,000,000, the Hazard $1,000,000 and the Stanislaus $2,000,000. In each incorporation the directors have subscribed $500 each.

Inquest on the Modoc Victim.

A verdict of accidental death was rendered by a coroner's jury yesterday in the case of Mrs. E. Paterson of 826 Polson street, who jumped off the burning steamer Modoc to the wharf on September 25 and broke several of her ribs. The testimony did not vary from the given before the United States local inspectors already published.

FRANCHISE TO BE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Supervisors' Street Committee Reports in Favor of Petition for Burglar Alarm System.

The Supervisors' Street Committee recommended yesterday that a franchise for fifty years be granted to the San Francisco Electric Protective Company to operate a municipal burglar alarm system. The privilege will be granted, subject to the provisions of the "Broughton act," which requires franchises to be sold to the highest bidder.

The committee again took the Board of Works to task for failing to comply with an ordinance ordering the removal of obstructions on Channel street. The board named was cited to explain why the obstructions are permitted to remain.

The Board of Works was requested to survey the necessary lands for the opening of Duncan street.

The petition of H. A. Tessmer for the removal of turnstiles from the bridge crossing of Thirty-fifth avenue, and that of P. A. Ryan for removal of obstructions on Scott street, near Eddy, were referred to the Board of Works.

The committee recommended that grades be changed on Mariposa street and other streets over which the proposed "cut-off" line of the Southern Pacific Company will run; also on Eighteenth street, Andover avenue, Williams avenue and Treat avenue.

At the request of the officials of the Southern Pacific Company, its petition for a franchise for the bay shore road went over for one week.

Price Granted a New Trial.

When Eddie Price, a bunco man convicted by Judge Fritz on a charge of petty larceny for tricking Fred Rasmussen out of $20 by the lock trick, appeared for sentence yesterday, Attorney Shortall for the defendant moved for a new trial on the ground that the evidence did not warrant a conviction. Assistant District Attorney Whiting said he was satisfied that if the case were appealed it would be dismissed on the evidence. Besides if any offense had been committed it was misdemeanor embezzlement and not petty larceny. The judge granted the motion and set the case for trial to-morrow.

Will Lecture on Martinique.

This evening at 8 o'clock E. R. Baumgardt, secretary of the Academy of Sciences at Southern California, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Destruction of Martinique" at the Young Men's Christian Association, Mason and Ellis streets. IDENTIFIES RECKLESS RIDER AS ROSE HANFORD

J. Frank Moroney Gives Name of Injured Girl to the Police Officers.

The young lady who was thrown from a horse in Golden Gate Park last Wednesday morning and who still lies in a semi-conscious condition has been identified by J. Frank Moroney of 710 Steiner street, vice president of the Jesse Moore-Hunt Company, as Miss Rose Hanford. She was formerly in his employ.

Mr. Moroney stated that Rose Hanford had been in his employ as a domestic for more than nine months. "She went out one night last week," he said, "and we did not see her until yesterday, when we found her at the Park Hospital. I know very little about her folks, as she seldom mentioned them."

At Mr. Moroney's request the injured girl was removed to the French Hospital. Dr. Shumate says the young lady is suffering from a slight attack of meningitis, caused by her fall from the horse. With careful treatment it may not prove serious, he says.
