 Brothers With Identical Names Puzzle the Lawyers.
 Amusing Question Arises Over Ownership of Spokane Land.

Special Dispatch to The Call.
 SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—A most remarkable case of the similarity of the names of two brothers who have fallen out in a land deal is developing in the troubles of the two Martin J. Kalezes of this city. Both men have exactly the same name, both in the restaurant business at different locations, and each accuses the other of unfairness in dealing with his relative.

NEW PLAY IS WRITTEN BY CALIFORNIA AUTHOR
 Miss Verna Woods of Sacramento Completes Interesting Work on Historical Lines.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—Miss Verna Woods of Sacramento, the talented author of "Lord Strathmore," has just completed a play for Charles D. Herman, which will be brought out in the spring under the management of Arthur F. Warde. The new play is entitled "Charles IX." The scene is laid in Paris at the time of the massacre of St. Bartholomew's day. The author has followed historical lines and the cast will include a number of famous names, among them Catherine de Medici, Henry of Navarre, Margaret de Valois, Admiral Coligny and the Duke of Guise. Miss Woods has also created an exceptionally strong high comedy part. The play is in five acts. The scenes are laid in different apartments of the Louvre and give striking pictures of court life in France in the sixteenth century.

CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED
AT POINT OF REVOLVER

Policeman Crowley arrested George Miller, a saloon-keeper, last night on the complaint of Joseph Vigan, on a charge of robbery. Vigan is a stranger in the city, only having recently arrived from Brentwood, Cal. On Friday night he took a trip out to the Cliff House and while strolling near the beach, he observed a man, accompanied by Miller and another man. The pair, he says, approached him, and while the unknown man held a pistol to his head Miller, he deced, went through his pockets and robbed him of $30.

POSTUM CEREAL

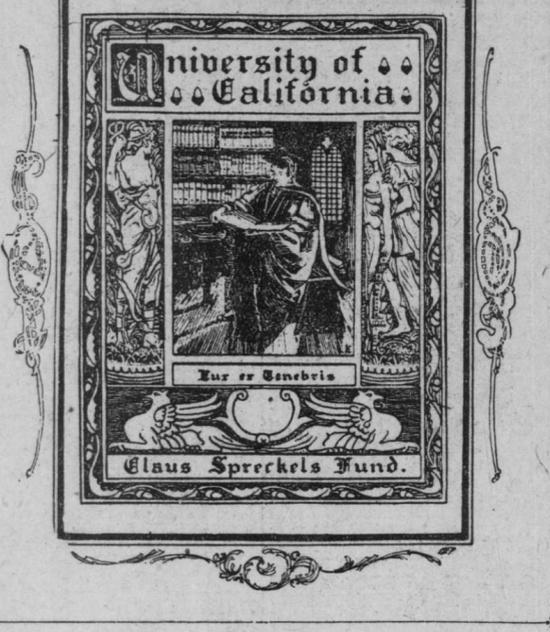

COFFEE FLYERS.
 Can Be One if You Stick to It.
 The coffee habit is as injurious as other drug habits of the same nature. Don't think so? Well, dig in and see. The system craves a stimulant more and more until finally the victim wakes up.

When we are as fortunate as Mr. James D. Kimble of Northampton, Mass., to realize that we have got to stop or the penalty will be severe, it is a little startling at first to consider. He says: "I was an inveterate coffee drinker during twenty years of my life. The first ten years I experienced no ill effects from the coffee, but its insidious working brought forth a train of evils later on. I became very nervous and irritable, in fact felt all the time as if I should 'fly to pieces.' My nerves were all unstrung and I craved coffee as a taper dose liquor; in truth, it was a 'coffee toper.' My appetite became very poor and solid food repugnant to the sight; dyspepsia and indigestion were my inseparable companions, and food did me but little good. About four years ago a friend advised me to try Postum Cereal Food. I was loath to believe that coffee was the cause of my troubles, therefore I did not have much faith in Postum. Nevertheless, I commenced its use, and from the very first I experienced a decided benefit. My appetite returned, food began to taste natural and did me good. My nervousness gradually disappeared, the brain became clear, the loss of strength and flesh arrested and the stomach gradually strengthened. Life seemed once more worth living, and the continued use of Postum has not disappointed me. To me coffee proved slow poison. I have found Postum to be a builder and sustainer of the system, and I heartily recommend it to the slaves of coffee without a single reservation. Mr. Kimble mentions in his letter many of his friends in Northampton who have recovered health and strength from using Postum on his recommendation.

ARTISTIC BOOK PLATE
WILL ADORN VOLUMES
 Design Created by Mrs. Louise Keeler to Be Used in Claus Spreckels' Donation to Library.

The Republicans will begin their whirlwind campaign throughout the State tonight. In every large city, town and hamlet rallies will be held and everything will be done to make voters for Dr. George C. Pardee and the rest of the ticket. The leading orators of the State are actively engaged appealing to the voters to uphold the hands of President Roosevelt by electing Republican Congressmen and Assemblymen. They are pointing out the weakness of Democracy and impressing the people with the need of a continuation of prosperity in this country; they are stirring the citizens of the State to be alive to their own welfare, and their good work is bearing fruit. The Republican State Committee is sanguine of a big victory on November 4. Reports are coming from all sections that Dr. Pardee, the only native son who has ever been nominated for the exalted office of Governor, will be elected by a majority.

BOOKPLATE DESIGNED BY MRS. LOUISE KEELER WHICH WILL ADORN VOLUMES TO BE PURCHASED WITH FUND DONATED BY CLAUS SPRECKELS TO THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The bookplate which has been designed for use in the Claus Spreckels donation to the library of the University of California is the work of Mrs. Louise Keeler, wife of the poet, Charles H. Keeler. It will be affixed to all of the books procured out of the fund of $1,400 offered by Mr. Spreckels last spring. The design is medieval in its character, representing a student in cap and gown, seated at his desk in an old library. On either side the picture is flanked by cuts of Mercury and the Muses.

Alcazar to Begin Run of "A Way to Win a Woman" To-Night.

Several new and interesting turns were added to the bill at the Orpheum this week. Evelyn Ormsby, a beautiful young woman, with rich soprano voice, made her debut as a vaudeville star and made quite a hit. She has a sweet, high-pitched voice and by using care in selecting her songs she will make herself a popular member of the vaudeville fraternity.

 STAUNTON, Ill., Oct. 26.—Edward Schmidt, right tackle in the local football team, was injured in a game to-day with a Louisa team. He died within ten minutes. The first half was almost completed when Schmidt complained of a pain in his head. A physician was summoned hurriedly, but Schmidt died just as he arrived.

THE SHADOW OF THE NEGRO IN "THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
 WHAT would you do if you owned slaves as your father and your father's father had done before you, if after a bitter struggle—a fight that you had waged in the full defense of what you believed to be right, until you had been stripped of family, fortune, friends, everything—you returned home beaten, cowed, penniless, absolutely beggared, to have the dread shadow of the freed negro rise up before you into a grim reality—to find your home sold to one of your slaves, right above your head. What would you do?

THE SHADOW OF THE NEGRO IN "THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
 If you think you can answer that question just read Thomas Dixon Jr.'s new book "The Leopard's Spots," which is now creating a big sensation in the North, and will soon create a bigger furor here. He has answered that question. How? In a way that will amaze you—in a way that has amazed even the South itself, it is so true, so masterful, so tragic and yet so human. His novel is not merely a fascinating romance—it is a revelation, an astounding, historical revelation more surprising because it is absolutely free from rancor or partisanship. Indeed it is in no sense political.

THE SHADOW OF THE NEGRO IN "THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
 As you may have guessed "The Leopard's Spots" is the next story on the long list of the Sunday Call's new fiction, by the very best writers in the world. October 19 the first installment of "Alice of Old Vincennes" was published, October 26 you had the second section, next Sunday the book will be completed. Maurice Thompson's masterpiece complete in three issues—free—think of that.

THE SHADOW OF THE NEGRO IN "THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
 "The Leopard's Spots" begins in the Sunday Call of November 9. You get it absolutely free. But this is only the beginning. Look what follows:

THE SHADOW OF THE NEGRO IN "THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS."
 "The Gospel of Judas Iscariot," by Aaron Dwight Baldwin, which has involved two continents in a strenuous controversy; "When Knighthood Was in Flower," by Charles Major; "The Gentleman From Indiana," by Booth Tarkington; "The Turnpike House," by Fergus Hume; "Tainted Gold," by Mrs. C. N. Williamson, whose detective story, "The Mystery Box," published in the Sunday Call a few weeks ago, was one of the biggest hits of the series. "The Mississippi Bubble," by Emerson Hough, and "The Thirteenth District," by Brand Whitlock.

URGES THE CIVIL WAR VETERANS TO ORGANIZE
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—In general order No. 1, General Robert S. George Dyerforth, commander-in-chief of the Union Veterans' Union, has issued an appeal to the Union veterans of the Civil War to organize into a brotherhood for their own protection. He says that eligibility to membership in the order is now extended to every honorably discharged Union veteran of good record. He says the defenders of the Union should be a factor in the present day.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The rates for money continue unchanged. The £200,000 raised last week to meet the treasury bills appeared to be easily procurable on the open market and did not result in any marked stiffening of prices. No applications for large loans are being made to the banks, consequently the banks' 4 per cent rate has not yet had the effect of raising the market prices.
