

ROBBER TAKES ABOUT A DOZAN EXPRESS COMPANY LOSES A LARGE AMOUNT OF MONEY.

Package Removed From Car as Train Stands at a Station.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 26.—Though the Adams Express officials denied that a Burlington train was robbed of a package containing $40,000 in currency, while standing at a depot in this city last week, the local manager of the company, J. A. McCulloch, today acknowledged that the robbery did occur substantially as reported, being that he refused to state the amount lost.

AT FIRST GLANCE

It Would Appear That Local Remedies Would Be Best for Cure of Catarrh.

It would seem at first glance, catarrh being a disease of the mucous membrane, that salves, sprays, etc., being applied directly to the membrane of the nose and throat, would be the most rational treatment, but this has been proven not to be true.

The mucous membrane is made and repaired from the blood, and catarrh is a blood disease, and any remedy to make a permanent cure must act on the blood, and when the blood is purified from catarrhal poison the secretions from the mucous membrane will become natural and healthy.

In this climate thousands of people seem scarcely ever free from some form of catarrh; it gets better at times, but each winter becomes gradually deeper seated, and after a time the sufferer resigns himself to it as a necessary evil.

Catarrh cures are almost as numerous as catarrhs suffer, but are nearly all so inconvenient and ineffective as to render their use a nuisance nearly as annoying as catarrh itself; any one who has used douches, sprays and powders will bear witness to their inconvenience and failure to really cure.

There are a number of excellent internal remedies for catarrh, but probably the best and certainly the safest is a new remedy composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar antiseptic remedies and other valuable catarrh cures.

This remedy is in tablet form, pleasant to the taste and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and any one suffering from catarrh may use these tablets with absolute assurance that they contain no opium, opiate nor any poisonous mineral whatever.

A leading druggist in Albany, speaking of catarrh cures, says: "I have sold vast quantities of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, but have never sold any which gave such general satisfaction as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. They contain all the best and latest catarrh remedies, and catarrh sufferers who have used douches, sprays and salves will find permanent results obtained after a week's use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. All druggists sell full sized packages for fifty cents."

"ROBIN HOOD" REVIVAL PLEASES LOVERS OF THE OLD-TIME OPERA

Theater Republic Opens Saturday Night With Fine Stock Company—"Brown's in Town" Fills Alcazar. "Belle of New York" Coming to the California

BARYTONE WHO WILL SING AT VERDI MONUMENT BENEFIT, TALENTED ACTRESS WHO WILL APPEAR AT REPUBLIC THEATER AND GIFTED YOUNG WOMAN AT THE CALIFORNIA THEATER.

EVEN the warmest friends of "Robin Hood" and the Bostonians are surprised at the freshness and charm with which the opera comes after its not infrequent productions here. Its songs have been sung, played and whistled for more than a decade, yet strike the ear as kindly as on their first hearing.

Next Sunday evening will be given the first concert of the famous Royal Italian Band of Channing Ellery. The engagement is unique in many of its features. The concert is to take place in the Mechanics' Pavilion, that has been excellently adapted for the purpose.

The hand is one of the finest of military bands, and its conductor, Rivea, one of the foremost artists of his profession. The band itself is practically composed of soloists, among whom Palma and De Mitrin may be particularly mentioned, and its fine achievements of last year under Creators have given it first place in the hearts of local lovers of music.

The first concert of the season will take place on Sunday evening next and concerts are to be given every evening thereafter with matinees on Saturdays and Sundays.

For the Verdi monument benefit on Friday evening, November 28, a fine programme has been prepared. All the artists at the Tivoli will participate, besides a couple of new singers who have been heard in the third and fourth acts of "Rigoletto," which is one of the selections to be given, and he and Signor Avedano will sing the great duet from "Falstaff," a novelty in the programme. Act 1 of "Fragola" including the prologue, will be given, and the second act of "Lilla," with the famous sextet. Steindorff will lead the orchestra, which will be enlarged for the occasion, and the fund for the erection of monument in Golden Gate Park to the memory of the great composer should be largely augmented.

"Fra Diavolo" goes this week, the last of the grand opera season, and Hartman and company return in "The Toymaker" next week.

The Harrington Reynolds Company has $250.00. The program contained the Symphony No. 4 of Schumann, the prelude to "Tristan and Isolde," the symphonic poem, "Lamia," the work of the director of the orchestra, and the Grieg "Peer Gynt" suite. The orchestra was heard much at its best in the "Lamia" number, that from the fact of its being conducted by the composer and his fuller rehearsal—this being its second performance during the series—was more fortunate in its handling and interpretation. The composition is dignified, interesting and sincere. It is thoroughly well made, the orchestral coloring is more varied, and in the matter of theme, though not strikingly original, it is yet characteristic and pleasing. The number was warmly applauded, Mr. Zech gracefully sharing the applause with his orchestra. The next concert, to take place on December 10, will have a programme composed of the works of Beethoven and Wagner.

German Emperor Rebuked Gunmaker's Accusers. The Cortège Passes Through Lighted Streets Hung With Black

ESSIN, Prussia, Nov. 26.—The presence of Emperor William at Herr Krupp's burial to-day was designed by his Majesty to show his absolute disbelief of the accusations in regard to the gun manufacturer's death. A statement was issued that the Emperor was indignant at the cruelty and malice of the Social Democratic charges and he is said to have personally expressed his feeling in the matter to the Rev. Mr. Kilgmann, who delivered the first of the two funeral orations.

By Emperor William's side were the deceased's cousin, Arthur Krupp, and General von Blasing. Labeled servants bore behind the Emperor, and velvet cushions the orders conferred on Herr Krupp by sovereigns all over the world. The city was hung in black and the street lamps were alight and hooded with crape.

The cemetery, as the coffin was lowered into the vault beside that of the deceased's father, Emperor William saluted and a great chorus of workmen's singing societies chanted a requiem. The following two funeral orations, The Rev. Mr. Kilgmann, superintendent of the synod, the highest ecclesiastic of the state church in the province, said: "Friedrich Alfred Krupp was a good man, a true patriot, a true German, and he left a good name behind him. He was of unusual purity of heart and simplicity and amiability of disposition and had fine moral feelings."

Manager Director Roettger, referring to the charges against Herr Krupp, said he thanked the Emperor for his presence at the funeral, adding that it would "be a shame if a German could be found who was influenced by the base inventions of foreigners."

After the burial Emperor William talked with Rev. Mr. Kilgmann, expressing the hope that all of Herr Krupp's benevolent enterprises would be continued. Before departing for Berlin the Kaiser addressed the directors of the Krupp works and a deputation of workmen at the railway station. His Majesty said: "I feel I must express to you how deeply I am affected by the death of Herr Krupp. The Emperor sends to all an expression of the same sorrow and sympathy as I have expressed for Frau Krupp in writing. I have often with my wife enjoyed the hospitality of Herr and Frau Krupp and I felt the influence of the deceased's charm and amiability. In the course of years our relations became such that I may be said to be a part of the life of the deceased and of his household. I therefore felt that I could not attend his funeral, for I considered it my duty to stand beside the widow and the children who were intimately acquainted with the deceased and who were so deeply and sensitively affected by his death, and that he might be dealt a mortal blow. He had been the victim of his unassailable integrity. A deed of this nature in Germany is rare and mean that it makes us hearts shudder and must have brought to the cheek of every German the tears of sorrow and grief at the disgrace cast upon our whole nation."

The man who was German to the core, who lived and died as a German, and for the welfare of the fatherland, above all for his own workmen, had his honor assailed. This deed of dishonor and dishonor to the German people, for there is no difference between him who mixes and presents a poisonous draught to the people and the one who is the author of his editorial sanction with the poisoned sword and the country was enveloped in his honorable name and kills him by the mental tortures he inflicts.

That committed this shameful act upon our friend? Men who hitherto had passed as Germans, but are now unworthy of the name. Men who have sold their souls to the labor population which owes so infinitely much to Herr Krupp, and of which to-day the streets of Essen showed their last farewell with weeping eyes to the coffin of their benefactor.

THROUGHS CATHER AT HER GRAVE

Paris Is Sad and Picturesque. Streets of the Latin Quarter Are Crowded by Students.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The Ellen Gore drama reached a fitting climax to-day in the mournfully picturesque funeral at the American Church in the Rue de Valenciennes. The occasion was marked by a notable demonstration of sympathy not only on the part of the Americans, but by the French middle to the artists and other habitués of the Latin quarter.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the street in front of the church was packed with students in unique costumes and as the cortège approached they uncovered their heads. The hearse was preceded by a uniformed functionary wearing a blue sash and a cocked hat. The hearse was hung with black and bore the monogram of the deceased. The oak casket was covered with a pall. It was followed by three State carriages, but, excepting the first, they were empty.

The first carriage was occupied by M. Paquet, representing Consul-General Gowdy. There were no male bearers and no mourners. The interior of the building was crowded, chiefly with women. Artists filled the aisles. One of them stood sketching the scene. The casket rested on a high catafalque in front of the altar and was covered by five superb wreaths, one of them being from Mrs. Gowdy. The others were from anonymous donors. The Rev. Dr. Thurber officiated. The service included a reference to the proverb: "Evil communications corrupt good manners." Dr. Thurber refrained from mentioning the tragedy. The cortège after the services proceeded to Bagneux Cemetery, where there was a similar brief and simple ceremony.

The official report of the commission of the American doctors which made a post-mortem examination of Mrs. Gore's remains at the instance of Mr. Gowdy is expected to be presented before Saturday owing to sickness in the family of one of the members. Mr. Gowdy is continuing the taking of depositions in the case and will forward his report to Washington next Tuesday.

RECEIVES MRS. GORE'S WILL. Aunt of Deceased Woman in Possession of the Document.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 26.—Mrs. P. T. Dickinson of this city, aunt of the late Mrs. Ellen Gore, received to-day from the New York attorney of the deceased a copy of her will and business letters referring to the estate of the deceased, which consists of property in the City of Mexico. Mrs. Dickinson was not prepared to make the contents of the testament public at this time, and has turned the document over to her attorney. It is understood that under the terms of the will, which was made by Mrs. Gore in New York about six months ago, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Dickinson will receive the greater part of the estate. This consists chiefly of an apartment house in the City of Mexico, which was built by the divorced husband of the testator, Thomas St. Clair Gore, and which came into the hands of the late Mrs. Dickinson by the terms of a will made in New York one year ago. Besides her aunt and uncle in Alameda, Mrs. Gore is survived by other relatives in Ohio and three brothers.
