SOCIALISM DEFEATED.

UPON the result of the election of yesterday The Call congratulates the people of San Francisco. The vote was sufficiently large to show that a considerable proportion of the citizens take an intelligent interest in such questions, study them and are prepared to go to the polls to maintain their judgment. Furthermore, the vote showed such a strength of opposition to the scheme to turn the Geary-street Railway over to municipal operation that it is evident we have little to fear from further socialistic ventures in the immediate future.

There is one feature of the vote whose significance should not be overlooked. While the voters of some districts of the city were in favor of municipal operation, the voters of the district through which the railway in question runs were two to one against it. That proves that while some persons may be willing to try socialistic experiments on their neighbors, the neighbors in question are decidedly opposed to being subjected to the test. It is safe to say that the people in the district that would have been most affected by the inefficiency of municipal operation were those who most attentively and most seriously studied the proposition in all of its phases and had therefore the fullest understanding of what would be the inevitable result. So we may conclude that whenever any similar proposal is submitted to the voters of San Francisco the vote against it will increase exactly in proportion as it affects a larger proportion of the citizens.

The Call is the only paper in San Francisco that opposed the municipal ownership scheme, and its opposition was based from first to last not upon anything peculiar to the Geary-street line, but upon the general principle that all governmental socialism is wrong. Again and again The Call has reviewed the socialistic tendency of certain elements of the people and has pointed out how completely such experiments fail to benefit either a community as a whole or the individuals who compose it. In fact, socialism is wrong in principle. It proposes to establish society upon an unstable and insecure foundation—that of substituting failure for success, the weak for the strong, discontent in place of contentment, and a vain yearning for a factitious equality instead of a resolute endeavor on the part of each to master his fortunes and make his own place in the world.

Had the Geary-street experiment been undertaken it would have failed, but it would none the less have been an incentive and a precedent for further steps in municipal paternalism. The advocates of the scheme would have found some specious argument to excuse the failure of the first experiment and gloss it over. Thus we would have entered upon an era of experimenting in municipal operation of public utilities, and the result would have been seriously disastrous to the city as a whole and to every property-holder and tax-payer.

Only yesterday The Call had occasion to direct attention to the statement of the Secretary of War that governmental operation of a transport service between this country and the Philippines is an unprofitable undertaking. The Secretary declared: "I am satisfied that it is practicable for private shippers to do all ordinary business much cheaper than it is possible for the Government to do it, under the limitations which rest upon Government action, and that they can afford to do the business for less than it costs the Government and still make a profit."

If the highly organized War Department of the National Government, with its well-trained staff of experts, cannot successfully carry on a transportation business, it is a sure conclusion that the municipal government of San Francisco could not have operated the Geary-street Railway, which starts from nowhere and ends nowhere, with profit to itself or satisfaction to the city. The people therefore have escaped a costly and foolish experiment. We congratulate them upon it.

TARIFF REVISION.

IT is plain now that the short session will be too brief for Congress to attempt that revision of the tariff which must be comprehensive, if it be attempted at all. Then will arise the question of undertaking that work in an extra session of the next Congress and completing it before the Presidential campaign of 1904.

We do not hesitate to say that as a matter of business necessity and of public policy if there is to be revision let it come before 1904. In the campaign discussions of that year there be no room for false ascription of intentions, no debate on suspicion of what is to be done with the tariff, no declaration that the Republican party is trying to get power again to revise the tariff in this
