More Than 27 Per Cent of Votes Cast Were Thrown Out.

OAKLAND, Jan. 8.—Ex-Sheriff Oscar L. Rogers formally withdrew his contest to the election of John M. Bishop as Sheriff in Judge Ellisworth's court this morning. When the court convened Attorney Frick, one of Rogers' lawyers, said:

"May it please the court, we have come to a point where we believe a continuance of the contest will be useless. It was brought in good faith, but nothing has transpired to make us believe any good purpose will be served in taking up the time of the court and incurring expense to both contestant and respondent. I therefore move the court to dismiss the action. The motion was granted. A striking feature of the recount was that 2900 votes out of 14,070 counted, or 27 per cent of the ballots, were thrown out.

CHIEF BURNS CHIEF BALL ASKS AGENT OF BACON ESTATE TO HURRY.

Brick and Stone Building to Replace the One Burned.

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1115 Broadway, Jan. 8. No move having been made to remove the menacing walls of the recently burned Bacon building at the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, Fire Chief Ball served notice to-day on F. S. Page, agent for the Bacon estate, that steps for their leveling must begin within forty-eight hours. The building was burned on December 30, but nothing has been done toward clearing away the debris so that pedestrians will be safe.

Upon receiving the notice Agent Page informed Chief Ball that his demands would be complied with at once. He said that the delay was due to dickering with contractors, who wanted to carry the debris away for the privilege of the material that could be saved. He said also that a new brick and stone building would take the place of the destroyed structure. The insurance companies have paid the Bacon estate a first installment of $14,000 on account in settlement of its loss. The appraisal of Smith Bros.' loss is still going on.

PARDON CLOSES CASE OF CHESTER JUDSON

Young Berkeley Scion of Wealthy Family Is Saved From Serving a Sentence.

OAKLAND, Jan. 8.—With the pardon by former Governor Gage of Chester J. Judson there closes a case which attracted wide attention. Judson is the scion of the family of that name which is rated very high in social and financial circles. His father is at the head of the Judson Dynamite and Powder Company, and the former magnificent family residence in Berkeley has been the scene of much social activity.

Young Judson became very obstreperous on the night of July 23 at the Southern Pacific depot in Berkeley. Refusing to heed the remonstrances of a special policeman, the wealthy young disturber was arrested and confined in the town calaboose. The following morning the culprit, expecting to be fined, pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Edgar Judson, was staggered by a sentence of ninety days in the County Jail, without alternative. He languished five days in a cell and then attorneys secured his freedom on an appeal bond.

There the matter rested. All sorts of influence were obtained to secure a pardon. The only way the youth could be saved from paying the full penalty imposed.

Increase for Fire and Police.

OAKLAND, Jan. 8.—The ordinance providing for two additional detectives and for the addition of a new fire engine to the Department was finally passed to-night by the City Council. Wixson was the only Councilman who voted against the increase. The ordinance providing for an increase of the pay members of the Fire Department was passed over the veto of Mayor Barstow, who disapproved of it to-day on the ground that the increased expenditure would cause a deficit. Councilmen Cadman and Dolan voted against the ordinance for the same reason that the Mayor vetoed it, but it secured the necessary two-thirds vote with the votes of Cuvellier, Wallace, Courtney, Fitzgerald, Bishop, Schaffer, Ruch and Wixson. Boyer was absent.

Kreuz, 29, San Francisco, and Bertha L. Mayer, 23, Stockton.

SOME QUEER PEOPLE IN CHINESE TURKESSTAN

The Lolos Have Customs Entirely Different From Other Parts of the Empire.

Writing of the Lolos of Chinese Turkestan, "The N. Y. Herald" says: "The men wear a loose blouse and wide, short trousers, made of blue cotton cloth, over which a stout platted felt coat is thrown, which reaches from the neck to the knees and is useful in the winter. They wear a turban and at night forms an ample covering." So far as I remember, they wear long trousers, too. To quote again from the same writer: "One peculiar feature is the manner of wearing the hair. Instead of wearing it in the way adopted by the Chinese, the Lolos allow the hair to grow long in the front, then braid it into a kind of horn above the forehead, so that it becomes the most conspicuous object about them. The women wear a short jacket, often finely embroidered, over a platted skirt, not unlike a Scotch kilt. Their feet and ankles are bare—a fine contrast to the cramped, deformed feet of the Chinese women." "The N. Y. Herald" figures and even features. The ease with which they go about their work attracts the attention and wins the admiration of the traveler.

On this special occasion I found the whole family sitting around a big log fire, watching the cooking of a cow, which had died from the cold, in an enormous iron pot. When they considered the carcass cooked the housewife took a big wooden spoon, several feet long, and shoveled the contents of the pot into small tubs, which were placed before each man, likewise a good supply of rice.

Wooden spoons were used in eating. "The N. Y. Herald" says: "The tubs were carefully watched and replenished as soon as a diminution became noticeable. When the principal performers could no longer indulge the tubs were passed to this younger and inferior members of the household, and between them they managed to put out of sight both cow and rice. Beds were not in use, so I was offered the use of a grain chest—quite a dignified place compared with the rest—Boston Globe.

Pink shaded candelabra shed a soft light over the scene and sweet strains of music gave added pleasure to the guests. A clever idea of a host in devising a menu, every name of which was a mystery, produced no end of merriment, as did also the speeches of compliment, which were called upon for impromptu remarks. Miss Johnson was asked to give a violin selection, which she rendered with a delicate sympathy and a fine technique, delighting those present. ABANDONS WIFE TO WED ANOTHER

Lathrop Married Second Time Without a Divorce.

Deserted Woman Commences Suit and Obtains a Decree.

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1115 Broadway, Jan. 8. After pleading with his wife, Mrs. M. Lathrop, not to get a divorce and to return to him, C. R. Lathrop, formerly a resident of Berkeley, deserted his spouse and contracted a second matrimonial alliance without the formality of a divorce. This at least is the story told by the wife on the witness stand to-day before she was granted a divorce by Judge Ogden.

The couple were married in 1882, but three years later, in 1885, separated. For five years the wife says she heard nothing of her husband. He reappeared in May, 1900, asking forgiveness and persuading her not to get a divorce. The wife relented, but as her husband failed to live up to his promises she made an investigation and discovered he had in the meantime married another woman by the name of Myrtle Roundtree. She began suit for divorce.

Minerva Dyer was to-day granted a divorce from Louis Dyer on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in 1887. Nettie F. Dixon commenced suit to-day against Thomas E. Dixon for a divorce on the ground of desertion.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 8.—That Republicans high in the national councils of the party are deeply interested in the selection of a successor to Senator Rawlins of Utah, who will be chosen by the Legislature which meets in this city next week, is learned from a Washington special to the Herald, which quotes Senator Kearns as stating that President Roosevelt has strongly advised against the selection of any Mormon apostle to the United States Senate. This expression of opinion was made by the President in view of the candidacy of Reed Smoot for the Utah seat in the Senate and an apostle in the Mormon church.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

The old idea that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Professor Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of cuticle and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff but stops falling hair and causes a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing. Sold at leading drug stores.
