

FIGHTS IN DIVORCE SUIT AT EIGHTY

Octogenarian Objects to Allegations of Spouse.

Fourth Wife Brings Action Against Charles V. S. Thorne.

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1118 Broadway, Feb. 10. Charles V. S. Thorne, an octogenarian, who confesses to four matrimonial ventures, is preparing to contest the suit of his wife, Julia H. Thorne, for divorce. He says she has no legal ground for a divorce decree and denies that he has ever been cruel to her.

Thorne's fourth and last matrimonial alliance was contracted when the snow of seventy-six winters had settled on his head. He describes himself as an "English gentleman," with no occupation. His ancestry he traces to Sir Henry Vane, a noted aristocrat of his time.

When he had reached the well-balanced age of 79 years, Thorne married a woman of 25, but this marriage was brief. He was married twice before that, one wife dying and one wife divorcing him.

In his answer to his wife's suit Thorne recites many troubles. Last Sunday, he says, his wife deserted him without cause and that he had no knowledge of her whereabouts until the filing of the divorce suit. He will make her desertion the basis of a cross-complaint.

Mrs. Minna Voigman was granted a divorce to-day by Judge Melvin on the ground of cruelty from August Voigman. The husband filed a cross-complaint, but it was not sustained.

Jennie Hoffman has been granted a divorce from Louis Hoffman on the ground of desertion.

CREATE OFFICE WHICH THEY CANNOT ABOLISH Berkeley Trustees Would Do Away With Town Auditor, but Law Foils Them.

BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—The Town Trustees are in the peculiar position of having created an office they do not want, but of which they are unable to rid themselves. The town charter provides that the Trustees have the power to provide for the election of an auditor by ordinance when they deem it necessary. A few weeks ago they thought an auditor was required and passed the necessary ordinance. Last night the Trustees moved to abolish the office and his motion was seconded by Trustee Hoff.

Want Higher Water Rates. BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—The annual report of the Contra Costa Water Company was filed with the Town Trustees last night. According to the report the company is not receiving a sufficient rate of interest on its investment and a request for a higher rate was made. The trustees will consider this Friday evening, February 20. The report showed the following receipts: Water rents, $70,645.48; tapping mains, $354.95; land rents, $666.45; pipe connections, $283.90; total, $72,340.86. The expenses were: Operations, $22,853.98; repairs, $1087.22; interest, $1181.51; services, $2195.90; taxes, $3984.46; total $32,573.46. The net earnings was shown to be $39,767.40, which amounts to 4.4 per cent on the cost of the company's plant—$748,234.23. This rate of interest Manager Adams thought too small.

Elevator Crushes Employee's Foot. OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—The left foot of Howard Fisher, an employee of the Jackson Furniture Company, was severely crushed this morning by an elevator on which he was riding. In attempting to move a roll of carpet the elevator started upward and moved just far enough to catch his foot.

Selects New Postmaster. HAYWARDS, Feb. 10.—Postmaster George Oakes has been advised by Congressman Metcalf that the name of Alonzo Bradford has been sent to the President as Oakes' successor in the Haywards postoffice. Bradford is a veteran of the Civil War and held postmastership under President Harrison.

POSTUM CEREAL. MENDED CHINA. Don't Do Well With Hot Water. "We housewives know better than to use hot water on mended china and common sense tells us that coffee or tea should never be used by those who have undergone operations for stomach trouble or appendicitis, etc. In fact if it were not for the stomach troubles set up by coffee, I believe these operations would not be necessary in nine cases out of ten," says a lady of Peoria, Ill. "My husband has been changed from a confirmed dyspeptic to an average healthy eater by the use of Postum in place of coffee. I find it much richer and clearer by making over, always adding a little more fresh Postum and then proceed as if fresh. My husband never likes it fresh as well as the second or third make-over. Our physician who recommended Postum to us was a confirmed coffee drinker, but found that one cup of Postum satisfied him and improved his digestion immediately. Another physician acquaintance had a similar experience. But I started to write you about my husband's condition. He had four operations for stomach trouble. I feel certain that had he used Postum in place of tea and coffee for years preceding this the operations would never have been necessary.

"Several weeks ago our Postum ran out and he used coffee for several days. His stomach trouble asserted itself at once and there was an immediate rush for Postum, which drove the trouble away again." Some furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "To bring out the heavy food value in Postum Cereal Coffee it must be cooked for less than twenty-five minutes and it starts to boil in about ten minutes, then it should be slowly boiled full fifteen minutes after boiling has commenced. Some housewives prefer it steeped for many hours or even made over."

HOSPITAL DOORS OPEN FOR WIFE

Mrs. Eliza A. Barrie Is Set at Liberty by Judge Ogden.

Influential Friends Espouse Cause of Sanitarium Patient.

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1118 Broadway, Feb. 10. Mrs. Eliza Barrie, the Berkeley woman who claims to have been illegally detained in a Livermore sanitarium for the last four months by the direction of her husband, A. C. Barrie, was set at liberty to-day by the order of Judge Ogden. She immediately went to the home in San Francisco of Mrs. F. L. Turpin, wife of the vice president of the Columbian Bank of San Francisco, where she will remain temporarily a guest.

The moment the order giving her liberty was pronounced by Judge Ogden Mrs. Barrie turned to her sister, Miss Mary Herrick, who was standing and exclaimed, "Thank God! Thank God. I have earnestly prayed for my release for four long months. Providence has certainly heard my prayer."

A dozen friends, including I. J. Truman, president of the Columbian Bank; Mrs. Turpin and several other well-known society women, who have taken an interest in the case, surrounded Mrs. Barrie and congratulated her. The affidavit on which the writ of habeas corpus was issued recited that Mrs. Barrie was kept under the strictest surveillance and was not allowed to receive visitors, even her own child, Adelaide, a girl of 15 years, being denied admission on the privilege of communicating with her mother.

The husband, through Attorney Lin Church, opposed the release of his wife, but Judge Ogden declared it to be a case where a person was clearly being illegally restrained of liberty. Mrs. F. L. Turpin, who with Banker Truman, was very instrumental in securing the release of the imprisoned woman, in speaking of Mrs. Barrie said: "I have known her for twelve years, and there is not a sweeter or dearer in the woman in the world. The idea of her being insane is preposterous. Her actions this morning in court should show that statement to be false. Had I known before that she was behind bolts and bars it would not have taken me twenty-four hours to secure her release."

I. J. Truman was also equally emphatic in declaring that the incarcerated woman was sound in mind and perfectly able to take care of herself. He said: "I interested myself in the case as a matter of humanity. I wrote the Rev. J. L. Burcham to make an inquiry into the detention of Mrs. Barrie. I received a curt note from Mr. Barrie telling me to mind my own business and to give my advice when it was asked for."

Mrs. Barrie conducted herself very quietly and talked naturally and with dignity of her imprisonment. She said that she had not been subjected to any unpleasant regulations by Dr. J. W. Robertson, save that she was denied her liberty. "My greatest trial," she said, "was that my little girl and my friends were not able to visit me. It nearly broke my heart. For four long months I have yearned for my liberty. If I am not insane after being shut up there for four months it is reasonable to say I was not before. My levity, my actions and talk have shown me to be a sane woman. I cannot sufficiently thank the kind friends who did not desert me. The future certainly looks brighter than it did."

The husband, who is Pacific Coast agent of the Simon & Schuster Company of St. Louis, was anxious to make a statement of his side of the case, which is as follows: "My wife was sent to the sanitarium by the orders of Dr. E. B. Wall of Berkeley, who had been examining her motor, is suffering from an acute agitation of the nerves and melancholia. The talk of a deep laid plot to deprive my wife of her liberty is all nonsense. I have her interests at heart. She has been subject to nervous spells since her motor died three years ago. Any restraint which has been placed upon her has been by the physician's orders, and not mine."

The husband will make an application to be regularly appointed guardian of his wife.

DOUBLE FUNERAL FOR THE BARONIDAS BOYS Schoolmates of the Drowned Berkeley Youths Will Act as Escort of Honor. BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—Coroner Curry of Contra Costa County has not yet set the date for the inquest to be held over the remains of Arthur and Harold Baronidas, the two West Berkeley boys who were found dead yesterday on the marsh near Stege, but the official investigation will be called from West Berkeley to Martinez to present their testimony to the jury, which has already been selected.

There is no doubt that the deaths were accidental and Coroner Curry does not consider an autopsy necessary. It is conceded that the boys were drowned in the shallow water on the marsh, after they had become so exhausted that they were unable to stand or to hold their heads out of the waves. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from Evers' undertaking parlors in Oakland. The pallbearers for Arthur Baronidas will be classmates from the Public Commercial School, of which he was a member. The pallbearers for Harold will be members of his class from the Berkeley High School.

BAZAAR OF HEBREW SABBATH SCHOOL CHILDREN IS OPENED

Little Ones Have Elaborately Decorated Vestry Rooms of the Synagogue, Transforming Them Into a Fairyland With Flags, Where, Behind Various Booths, They Barter With the Elders

LITTLE FOLK WHO WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE BAZAAR, WHICH WILL BE GIVEN BY THE FIRST HEBREW CONGREGATION IN ITS SYNAGOGUE NEXT TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, WITH SOME OF THE SCENES THAT WILL BE REPRESENTED BY BOOTHS.

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—The children of the Sabbath school of the First Hebrew Congregation have been devoting all their spare moments after school these last few days transforming into a gorgeous spectacle the vestry rooms of the synagogue, all in anticipation of the bazaar that opened this evening and will extend over tomorrow afternoon and evening. By the time the doors were ready to be swung open this evening these children had succeeded in turning the place into a miniature fairyland, bedecked with color and dainty decorations.

Streamers of all colors and the flags of all nations figure in the general scheme of decoration. Each booth has its particular color, however, and all have been made to blend in perfect harmony. The booths are in charge of the following named children: Fanny—Rosald Magnus and Sadie Silverstein; Rose Pantosky, Monty Berg, Sydney Silverstein, Miriam Sipin, Seymour Moskowitz; Candy—Sara Kahn, Henrietta Kahn and Fanny Goldberg; Flower—Beatrice Marks, Hazel Samuels, Miriam Levy, Fannie Elizer; Art—Sylvia Selinger, Florence Bauer; Gypsy camp—Albert Cohn, Milton Jonas, Jesse Coffee, Irving Cohn, Irving Kapman, Marise Lazarus, Beckie Kohn, Jeannette Jonas and Belle Jacobs; Cigar and grab—Melvin Schwarzbaum, Irving Kahn, Albert Jacobs, Felix Bauer and George Boas; Refreshments—Edan Robinson, Alma Kahn, Pearl Lubec and Bertha Goldberg; Rebekah at the well—Nellie Van Morick, Myrtle Coleman, Florence Coleman and Claudine Jonas; Fancy—Rosald Magnus and Sadie Silverstein.

In the general arrangements the children were assisted by their parents and friends, who are now filling the office of patrons for the fair, as follows: Mrs. A. Alexander, Mrs. E. Rosenberg, Mrs. Jules Abrahamson, Mrs. I. Robinson, Mrs. Solomon Kahn, Mrs. Gus Cohn, Miss Emma Schelline, Mrs. S. Jonas, Miss Lucy Peres, Miss Ella Rosenberg, Mrs. A. Levy and Miss E. Danielwitz.

IROQUOIS CLUBS WILL HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION State League Will Perfect Organization for the National Campaign of 1904. The annual conference of the State League of Iroquois Democratic Clubs will be held February 23, 1904, at Pythian Castle. The conference will be presided over by Charles H. Holcomb, grand sachem, and Lawrence J. Welch will be secretary. It is expected that more than 150 delegates will be in attendance from various parts of the State. The Iroquois clubs of Spokane, Wash.; Reno, Nev.; Portland, Or., and Phoenix, A. T., will be represented. George E. Chamberlain, the newly elected Democratic Governor of Oregon, will accompany the Portland delegation and Francis Newlands, United States Senator-elect from Nevada, the Reno delegates.

The conference will take action on a communication recently received from the National Association of Democratic Clubs in New York City urging the organization of the party in the West for the national campaign of 1904. Political topics will be discussed by Nicholas Bowden of San Jose, Albert Kinney of Los Angeles, State Senator Emmott of Kern, William M. Cannon, Max Popper, A. D. Lemon, William McCabe, C. A. Storke of Santa Barbara. Delegates will also be present from Iroquois clubs of Martinez, Point Richmond, Sacramento, Los Angeles, Bakersfield, San Rafael, San Luis Obispo, San Diego, Colusa, San Jose, Santa Barbara and Riverside.

THE PLANET MARS AND ITS CANALS The Great Waterways of Our Neighbor Show Some Evidence of Engineering Skill. Percival Lowell, whose name is so intimately connected with the recent investigations and discoveries about the planet Mars, lectured at the Art Gallery recently before the department of astronomy of the Brooklyn Institute of "The Planet Mars and Its System of Canals." Illustration was by lantern slides and consisted of projections of the planet. A new interest was added from the fact that the pointer was freely used and the explanation of the course of the canals and the peculiarities of the geographical features of Mars made an attractive portion of the talk. The lecture was a fascinating study of the subject, because Mr. Lowell has the gift of fascinating address joined to a comprehensive fund of knowledge upon which to draw.

SUIT TO OUST CONSTABLE IS THROWN OUT OF COURT. Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1118 Broadway, Feb. 10. The proceedings brought by William Baltzer to remove Constable Ed Weidner from office because of the alleged unlawful retention of money, was dismissed by Judge Ellisworth to-day. The demurrer interposed by Attorney Chapman on behalf of Weidner was sustained on every point. The original cause will probably be taken up in the Superior Court, where it has been pending. Weidner claimed if he gave up the fees he would be liable. Weidner was charged with failure to turn over the proceeds from a sale of cows under an execution of judgment. The constable declared he kept the money pending a settlement of the original suit.

NOT NEW INVENTION One Built in 1820 Which Navigated Thames With Twelve Passengers. About the year 1820 there was constructed in London a submarine boat in which twelve rowers and some passengers could stay. This vessel was actually navigated beneath the surface of the Thames from the pier to Greenwich. Its inventor was a Dutch scientist and philosopher, Cornelius Drebbel, who was at one time a state councillor in Austria and had led an adventurous life. Escaping from prison in Bohemia, he went to England and was heartily welcomed by King James. Drebbel took up the thread of his studies and soon his wonderful boat appeared on the Thames. The secret of its construction was carefully guarded. It is certain, however, that it was propelled by oars, and it appears to have embodied the principle common to all modern craft of the kind—water ballast compartments, with pumps for emptying them, to restore the buoyancy of the vessel. Respiration was obtained by means of a wonderful liquid invented by him and called by him "quintessence of air." Artificial illumination was provided by some novel method, for Drebbel laid stress on the fact that "in this boat a person could see under the surface of the water and without candle light, as much as he needed to read in the Bible or any other book." The vessel was never fully perfected, and after Drebbel's death, in 1620, was left to rot on the banks of the Thames.—Baltimore American.

PROPOSITION TO BUY NEW PROPERTY INCREASES COMPLICATIONS

Adeline-Street Site Sets the Councilmen to Asking Questions

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1118 Broadway, Feb. 10.

After struggling another hour or two with the question of the location of the garbage crematory, against which residents of the Second Ward are in arms, the City Council was no nearer a settlement of the difficulty to-night than it was a week ago. If anything the complications are a little more complex.

The proposition of James H. Creeley that the city purchase a lot at First and Adeline streets from the Crocker estate for $10,000 and lease it to the crematory company was the bone of contention. Creeley, backed by the moral support of a lobby filled with protesters, speaking in behalf of the plan, told the Councilmen that it was the only way out of the difficulty and that it was for them to do their duty.

This statement set the ball in motion and everybody had something to say. Councilman Cadman did not know about the ability of the city to purchase the site and lease it to the crematory, who appeared to City Engineer Johnson, who informed him that it would be a lawful procedure.

Councilman Cuvelier wanted an investigation to discover whether the ground would hold its sixth-foot crematory and intermingled his speech with an appeal to the protesters to wait until the crematory is erected, asserting his belief that it would not be as bad as it might seem. Councilman Wilson thought $10,000 a lot of money to pay for something which the people thought they were going to get for nothing and advised going slow. Councilman Schaffer was of the belief that there would be no trouble in getting the Adeline-street lot until assured that the Crocker people would provide one.

The upshot of it all was that three committees of investigation were appointed. City Engineer Turner was appointed a committee of one to investigate the condition of the land; Councilman Cadman, a committee of one to interview the Crocker people for the purpose of getting an option on the land and trying to induce them to sell a smaller lot; Councilmen Wilson, Fitzgerald and Wallace, a committee to ascertain if the crematory people are agreeable to the site.

There were no hostile demonstrations and the only excitement was caused by a crowd of protesters who expelled W. E. Gibson, who inadvertently mentioned the word "blackmailers." Cuvelier wanted to go into executive session, but his motion was defeated. Wilson introduced an ordinance designed to prohibit the destruction of garbage in the district from which the protesters hail, he being one of them.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—The Ebell rooms were not so crowded a usual to-day, the luncheon being attended by members only, the increased membership necessitating a departure from the long-established rule of allowing each member to bring a guest. An exception was made to-day, however, in favor of Mrs. Bester Riehl, an ordinance designed to prohibit the destruction of garbage in the district from which the protesters hail, he being one of them.

WILL CONTAINS MANY BEQUESTS

Ambiguous Instrument Disposes of Small Fortune.

Margaret Walrath Remembers Her Friends, but Forgets Relatives.

Oakland Office San Francisco Call, 1118 Broadway, Feb. 10.

A will, remarkable for its ambiguity, disposing of an estate estimated from $10,000 to $20,000, was filed for probate to-day by Allen D. Cushing. The instrument, which is holographic, was written and signed by Margaret E. Walrath, who died in Alameda on January 31. Many friends are remembered, but twenty-two relatives are neglected. The will reads as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 8, 1902.—This is my last will and testament. I hereby appoint my executors, Margaret E. Walrath, Judge J. J. de Haven, whom I appoint as my executor and signed by Margaret E. Walrath, who died in Alameda on January 31. Many friends are remembered, but twenty-two relatives are neglected. The will reads as follows:

CAZADERO TAKES TO THE WATER New Ferry Steamer for North Shore Road Slides Off the Ways After Many Delays.

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—After flirting with the waves for a long time the ferry steamer Cazadero threw herself into their embrace this morning in the estuary. John Dickie, the builder, made three attempts to introduce the Cazadero to the estuary waters before she would yield to his importunities. On two occasions she delivered him and a lot of people by moving a little bit and then refusing to go another inch. Tugs and donkey engines were used all to no purpose. This morning, however, the Cazadero took her dip without the least bit of urging.

PROMINENT LECTURER WILL ADDRESS MEETING. E. E. Eberman, the field secretary of the Christian Endeavor Union, will make an address next Friday evening in Calvary Presbyterian Church, at the corner of Jackson and Fillmore streets. Mr. Eberman is making a tour of the States and Canada and is arousing great enthusiasm in the Endeavor cause wherever he goes. He left Boston on December 22 and will go to the New Mexico Convention at Las Vegas and visited Colorado, Omaha, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri. From California he will go to Oregon, Washington and British Columbia and will graduate his tour at Seattle, stopping en route to address many meetings.

Health Official Dies. W. H. Duren, employed as a disinfecter in the Health Department for eight years, died Monday at midnight at his residence, 864 Franklin street. Duren was 71 years of age and led the health office in good spirits at 5 o'clock. At 12 o'clock he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which caused his death.

Licensed to Marry. OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—The following marriage licenses were issued to-day: William H. Buehler, over 21, and Mrs. Lottie Logan, over 18, both of San Francisco; William J. Hollander, 24, and Louise C. Dally, 21, both of San Francisco; Fred S. Carter, 23, and Cecilia K. Mulgreen, 18, both of Oakland.

ADVERTISEMENTS. Mrs. Emmons, saved from an operation for Ovaritis, tells how she was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "I am so pleased with the results I obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it. I suffered for over five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—Mrs. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.—$5000 forfeit if original above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—Mrs. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.—$5000 forfeit if original above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

ADVERTISEMENTS. Mrs. Emmons, saved from an operation for Ovaritis, tells how she was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "I am so pleased with the results I obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it. I suffered for over five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct.
