HEAVILY LABEN WITH MISPLAYS Oakland Puts Up Poor Ball Against the Senators.

Sacramento Men Easily Out-point Peter Lohman's Aggregation.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS (Pacific Coast League.)

A shamefully overburdened last furnish in the Oakland end of the score furnishes an almost sufficient narrative of the game across the bay yesterday.

It was the first appearance of Fisher's employes in this vicinity and the verdict rendered was that the team will have a voice in the disposition of the pennant.

They play well together, field with commendable rapidity and use the stick skillfully.

Oaklands' wires crossed a number of times and several instances of interference where obedience to orders and cool judgment would have prevented high pitched errors.

Herr pitched good ball while there was a chance of victory, but the poor support received was sufficient excuse for a slackening of energy, and in the ninth the Senators, taking advantage of his let up, batted six hits, netting seven runs.

Young, the Sacramento pitcher, was five times up and banged out four singles and a double—all clean hits. Young has a side arm delivery, not much in vogue now, but if he continues to duplicate his work of yesterday he will be valuable to his team.

BOOTE PLAYERS MAKE NO RUNS

Thompson Keeps Opposing Batsmen Guessing From Start.

Both Teams Play Fast Ball and Commit but Few Bad Plays.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS. (Pacific National League.)

With the real fire of battle in the eyes of each man, the Butte and Helena tusslers lined up for action for the first time this season on the Ninth-street lot.

It was a clever little exhibition of the nation's pastime, full of good pitching, fast work in the field and on the bases.

It was mainly through the efforts of Butte pitcher, the Helena curve artist, that Butte did not get a look in.

Besides this, Thompson made one of the most phenomenal stops ever seen in an ball field in the fifth. Muller lined a hot one right at him.

Helena scored one in the getaway round. Howlett led off with a single to left, Thompson laid down a bunt, advancing the runner a bag, and Clark scored him with a single right out to center.

Catcher Swindells was injured while playing in Los Angeles and was forced to retire to the bench after the first inning.

ROBBED BY TALE IS DISCREDITED

Police Think the Park Highwayman Is Only a Fancy.

Detectives Disbelieve the Story of Leonhardt and Markan.

Diedrich Markan, who is a barkeeper at Offman's saloon, 200 East street, and Carl Leonhardt, who lives at the Park Casino, still claim that they exchanged shots with a man who attempted to hold them up while they were driving in the park late Monday night.

Both Leonhardt and Markan state that the scene of the hold-up was near the Casino, and that four shots were exchanged.

Markan stated further that when the highwayman caught hold of the horse's bridle and commanded them to give up their valuables the woman who was in their company at the time took a diamond ring from her finger and threw it into the road at the foot of the highwayman, while Markan threw out a number of coins which he found in his vest pocket.

Leonhardt states that he threw the coins into the road and that it was while the highwayman was in the act of gathering them up that he fired the first shot.

HORSE SEEMED CALM

Another feature of the statement made by Markan is that the horse stood quietly while Leonhardt fired the shots and that he whipped the horse and was traveling at a rapid pace down the road when the highwayman returned the fire.

Both men state that the highwayman was hit by the first shot fired at him and that he staggered in the road.

Leonhardt says that after the holdup they drove to Dickey's saloon on the northwest corner of Fulton street and Sixth avenue, where they left the woman, whom they were bringing in from the beach.

On being notified of the holdup, Captain of Detectives Taylor and Ryan on the coast, arrived at the scene of the alleged holdup, the detectives found Leonhardt and a number of officers from the Park station, after a thorough investigation the detectives, in a report to Captain Martin, stated that they had every reason to believe that the whole thing was a fake, and that no real holdup occurred.

REPORT OF DETECTIVES

We thoroughly searched the ground, but were unable to find any trace of blood or bullet marks, Leonhardt stated that he found the woman's ring, but he had found the woman's ring, but he had found the woman's ring, but he had found the woman's ring.

Neither Leonhardt nor Markan was able to give a satisfactory description of the alleged highwayman. The police failed to learn the name of the woman who was in the buggy.

BIG CROWD WITNESSES GIVING OF DIPLOMAS

Forty-Five Graduates of Cooper Medical College Receive Licenses to Practice Medicine.

The commencement exercises at Cooper Medical College were attended by a great crowd last night.

Professor C. N. Ellinwood, M. D., presided and Dr. Henry Gibbons assisted in the distribution of the diplomas to forty-five successful candidates for medical degrees.

Dr. Jordan said was all too short for a liberal education if every moment be utilized. Two years, he said, was all too long if spent in idleness and dissipation, or if tainted by the spirit of indifference.

As to what was said about the over-crowding of the room, Professor Dr. Jordan remarked that whether the profession be over-crowded or not it did not matter.

The crowd, he said, was always at the foot of the stairs and still there was always room at the top, but the elevator, as at the sound of a bell would be summoned, and very shabbily dressed. Nothing was found on the person by which it could be identified. The remains had been in the water about a week.
