

THE PRESIDENT, IN CAP AND GOWN, IS THE GUEST AT STATE UNIVERSITY.

of commissions and distributed them around in a most rapid fashion.

REMARKS TO GRADUATES.

President Wheeler says final words to the classes. President Wheeler called upon the graduates from each of the different colleges to arise, and then made a few remarks to the students. He announced Miss Mary McGrew as the medalist for the term.

ADVICE TO COLLEGIANS.

Chief Executive speaks of the roads to success. President Wheeler, Fellow Members of the University (Applause). Last night, in speaking to one of my new friends in California, he told me that he thought enough had been said to me about the fruits and flowers, that enough had been said to me about California's being an Eden, that he thought I would pay some attention to Adam as well as to the Eden (laughter and applause), and much though I have been interested in the life of the President of this wonderful State, I have been infinitely more interested in its citizenship, and perhaps most in its citizenship, I have been infinitely more interested in its citizenship, and perhaps most in its citizenship.

DUTY OF COLLEGE MEN.

Each one of us who has obtained an education has obtained something for which he or she has not personally paid. No matter what the nature of the education, every American who has a school training, a college training, a university training, has obtained something which he or she has not personally paid for. It is the duty of every man who has obtained an education to use it for the benefit of his fellow men.

SACRIFICE OF TAFT.

Taft has gone to the Philippines to stay there, not only forgetting thereby the certainty of a brilliant rise in his profession on the part of the Government, but also forgetting that at imminent risk to his own health, because he felt that his duty as an American made him do so, that as President McKinley told me of him, he had been drafted into the service of the country, and he could not honorably refuse.

EXAMPLES OF WORTH.

Now, Taft and Wood I have chosen simply as examples, simply as instances, where men by the hundred have done, Americans who have graduated from no college, Americans who have graduated from our own colleges, and especially by practically all those Americans who have graduated from the two typical American institutions, learning, West Point and Annapolis. (Applause.) Taft and Wood and their fellows are spending or have spent the years of their education in doing a work which means to them pecuniary loss, at the best a bare livelihood, while they are doing it, and are doing it gladly because they realize the truth, that the highest privilege that can be given to any man is the privilege of serving the public in his own country, his fellow man. (Applause.)

STURDY AND COMFORTABLE, $13.50

The celebrated Morris Chair, originated by the English designer, Wm. Morris, has been vastly improved by American ideas in construction and design. It is a strong, durable chair and certainly the most comfortable that can be had for the money. The cushions, big, soft and reversible, are covered with pretty velours, corduroys or tapestries. The chair shown here is one that we can safely recommend both as to quality and appearance. It is not stuck together hurriedly nor is the frame an imitation of genuine oak. Built of genuine oak, finished a rich golden color. Price $13.50.

might be, but not as much as from you; because your possession is more valuable than his (applause), and if you envy him I think poorly of you. (Laughter and applause.) Easy is merely the meager form of admiration (laughter), and the man who envies another admires thereby. (Applause.) And we have the right to expect from the college-bred man, the college-bred woman, a proper sense of proportion, a proper sense of perspective which will enable him or her to see things in their right relation, one to the other. We have the right to expect from the man who has a proper place, a just place, as an instrument for achieving happiness and power, for enjoying happiness and power, will not stand as high as much else in our national life.

CITIZENS MUST SERVE.

Now, I ask you to take that, not as a conventional statement from the university platform, but to test it by thinking of the men who you admire, the men who you respect, the men who you love, the men who you wish to emulate. What are the qualities which have made you admire them? What are the services they have rendered to their country? What have they done for their country? What have they done for their country? What have they done for their country?
