THE INCREASE OF LYNCHING. THE lynching of negroes is on the increase. The country begins to appreciate that it has a race problem on hand, the most serious that has faced any nation.

There are things in human relations that law cannot regulate. As the negro race gets further away from slavery it loses the discipline of that institution, which had many beneficial features, and does not acquire the restraint that should take its place.

SCOTTISH STUDENTS. SCOTLAND has been taking a second thought of the Carnegie gift of $10,000,000 to her universities and has found the subject a perplexing one.

THE RIGHT OF WAY. MAYOR OLNEY of Oakland has suggested that the people of that city resume their right of way over the sidewalks. In all cities there is a constant tendency to permanently encroach on the sidewalks.

THE GENIAL KAISER. WHATEVER ill-feeling may have existed between American and German naval men at Manila, and later on in the West Indies, has been washed away at Kiel in copious floods of sparkling wine.

HUMAN NATURE AND MORMONISM.

WE have had occasion to tell the sectaries who attack Mormonism, and even assume that a professor of that faith is without civil rights, that the peculiar institution of Utah will be more likely to wane if let alone.

No one persecuted Abraham out of the notion of making a mud man and worshipping the thing as a god. He had a streak of common sense and human nature in him, and perhaps of humor, too, and he saw how idiotic it was to endow with supernatural power that which he had made with his own hands.

It may be truthfully said that the legends of man's origin differ mostly in the diction in which they are told by the different races. Each bears traces of an attempt to account for something by pure invention.

There are things in human relations that law cannot regulate. As the negro race gets further away from slavery it loses the discipline of that institution, which had many beneficial features, and does not acquire the restraint that should take its place.

been prompt to take advantage of it. The Scottish professors look upon the development of that spirit as an evil and are deploring it. Thus Professor Story is quoted as saying: "The eleemosynary system seemed to grow in attraction for ingenious youth, and it could not go on long and yet leave the honor of students untarnished and their independence unshaken."

The entertainment of such views will strike Americans as curious. We have in this country an abundance of colleges, universities and schools where free education is provided for various classes of young men and young women, and we have observed no tarnishing of honor nor sapping of independence.

Australia has agreed to contribute about $1,000,000 a year to the maintenance of the British fleet that guards Australian waters, but as the full cost of maintenance is upward of $5,000,000, the British taxpayer finds that colonial loyalty and liberality fall far short of meeting Australia's proper share of the cost of empire.

THE GENIAL KAISER.

WHATEVER ill-feeling may have existed between American and German naval men at Manila, and later on in the West Indies, has been washed away at Kiel in copious floods of sparkling wine. The Kaiser has been a most genial as well as a most generous host.

The geniality of the Kaiser is the more notable because he happens to be having a bad time at home just now. It is only a short time ago that he bade his people beware of socialism, saying to them that socialists are "fellows without a country."

Such a vote after such a speech can hardly be deemed anything less than what the French term "lese majeste." The Kaiser's law has a sterner name for it, one that is hard enough to frighten horses, the offense being known in Germany as "Majestaets-beleidigung."

Whether the good humor will survive in the imperial breast and shine forth on the imperial face when he returns to his home affairs and makes his next speech on socialism remains to be seen. That, however, is none of our business.

A New Hampshire man who recently died at the good old age of 103 stated just before his death that he had lived "a good plain life, eating little pie and cake and taking rum moderately."

THE RIGHT OF WAY.

MAYOR OLNEY of Oakland has suggested that the people of that city resume their right of way over the sidewalks. In all cities there is a constant tendency to permanently encroach on the sidewalks.

In Chicago it has been the practice to permit the projection of bay windows and even the encroachment of house walls over the sidewalks, and the city has derived revenue from such permits.

When one citizen monopolizes to himself the exclusive occupancy of any portion of this public space, for the use of his wall or window, he is doing something which, if its right be conceded, means that he may, in the same manner and on the same terms, monopolize the use of the whole sidewalk or all of the street.

Our Oakland neighbors seem to be deriving from their street fair a bundle of fun as big as their mammoth balloon. It is to be hoped the profits will also be as large, but infinitely heavier, since the object of the fair is a worthy one.

New York is at present experiencing "cold November rains," while here the summer is trying to outdo its unexcelled reputation by giving us more than usual for our money.

NANCE O'NEIL TO ACT UNDER NEW AUSPICES.

ACTRESS WHO HAS PLACED HERSELF IN THE HANDS OF NEW MANAGER.

Frank Perley Will Direct Actress' Affairs.

MISS NANCE O'NEIL has come pretty nearly having her ambition gratified by the news which she received yesterday from New York, that it had been finally arranged for Frank Perley to undertake the responsibilities of her management.

A. L. Erlanger, of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger, wired McKee Rankin yesterday that the contract between Perley and Miss O'Neil was deemed quite satisfactory and as Perley is pretty close to the syndicate, the approval of Erlanger means that the California tragedienne enters into a new era under the best auspices.

Speaking of the new management yesterday Rankin said this hope had now been realized. He himself will be relieved of a double duty, that of manager and stage director, and will henceforth devote himself solely to the stage part of the productions, which duty, alone, carries with it a great and onerous responsibility.

PRELATE WILL DECIDE DEMAND FOR REHEARING. Report That Courts Will Now Consider Bishop Moreland Case Is Untime.

VALLEJO, June 30.—The Rev. William Ballard of this city, who has taken a conspicuous part in the proceedings regarding the administration of church affairs by Bishop Moreland of this diocese, was seen to-night in relation to the report that the matter may be taken into the civil courts. The Rev. Mr. Ballard said: "A demand for a rehearing of our charges against the Right Rev. William H. Moreland is now in the hands of the Rev. T. D. Dudley of Kentucky, the assessor to the presiding Bishop, the Right Rev. Thomas M. Clark of Rhode Island. We will insist upon the church doing its own work, which it has not done up to this time, as we have abundantly shown. That is all that is to be said at this time, as we could not resort to the civil courts until all the resources available in the church had been exhausted. We have shown that there has not been thus far a proper hearing held by the church authorities of the charges preferred against Bishop William H. Moreland."

SANTA ANA SALOON MEN LOCK DOORS AND RETIRE.

Prohibition Ordinance Goes Into Effect and a Mighty Dryness Prevails.

SANTA ANA, June 30.—By the provisions of the new prohibition ordinance, all of the saloons in Santa Ana closed their doors at midnight to-night, so that this will be a dry town commencing July 1. The proprietors of the saloons were all preparing to-day to quit business without any demonstration. Some of them held auction sales of whisky and beer.

Narcotile a New Anaesthetic.

Dr. T. Eastman in a paper recently read before the International Medical Society in England described his experience with a new anaesthetic, a bichloride of methylethylene called narcotile, which he believes has some important advantages over those now in use, for short anaesthetics, it acts rapidly and effectually, and produces no troublesome after effects. In its administration the narcotile is placed in a bottle, and air forced through it to an inhaler which is held over the mouth and nose. The narcotile is very volatile and the air in its passage becomes saturated with the vapor. It is also necessary for the same reason to keep the bottle in tepid water to maintain the requisite warmth. It resembles ether in its physiological action, but is rarely followed by the distressing sickness which accompanies and follows the administration of the latter. Owing to its extreme volatility the patient rapidly recovers from it.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

DOLE IGNORES RETIREMENT OF HIS PARTY.

Special Correspondence of The Call.

HONOLULU, June 14.—Governor Dole and the Legislature are somewhat at odds during the closing days of the extra session. One of the daily papers recently announced that the Governor would send a veto message to the Legislature, as he was opposed to some of the items in the appropriation bill. With one exception the items specified were correct, showing that the information must have originally come from the Governor's office. Before the message was received by the House, Representative Vida introduced the following resolution, which passed by a vote of 15 to 9, as follows: Resolved, That the Clerk of this House of Representatives be instructed to address a communication to Sanford B. Dole, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, asking him if the unprecedented appearance in the Auditor's office of this date of the purported salient points in his message on the unpaid bills act, not yet before the Legislature, is authentic; and if so, by whom such information was given out to one section of the press of the city and under whose authority.

Resolved, That the Clerk of this House of Representatives be further instructed to ask Sanford B. Dole, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, in said communication, in such giving out of his purported message on the unpaid bills act, or anything pertaining thereto, previous to sending the same to the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, was an act of courtesy to such legislators as were present at the time, and if so, by whom such information was given out to one section of the press of the city and under whose authority.

And now it appears that Cooper may remain in office after all, as he has withdrawn his resignation. This will avoid the necessity of filling a vacancy till after the Legislature adjourns, as the Governor is very doubtful as to the confirmation by the Senate of any nominee whom he may send to that body. Governor Dole this morning counter to the wishes of his own Cabinet Council. This body has no legal existence, but meets twice a week. The Governor apparently seeks the advice of the fellow members of his council and then acts independently of their wishes. Every member of the council is opposed to letting Cooper retain office after he has resigned, secretary of the Territory Carter being particularly pronounced in his opinion. A stormy session of the conference of the "Kitchen Cabinet," as Dole's council is termed, is said to have been held.

SAIL TO THE ISLANDS UNDER ASSUMED NAMES.

HONOLULU, June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Bertolan are joining the Honolulu in Hawaii. Mrs. Bertolan is the daughter of Cornelius Shea of Santa Rosa, Cal. She was formerly Mrs. Vernon Tukey, but secured her freedom from the courts before wedding Fred Bertolan, who now runs a business as a fisher. They were quietly married in Stockton, June 3, leaving San Francisco on the following day by the steamship Ventura for Honolulu under the names of C. R. Gray and wife. Since writing here they have given the right names and talk of remaining on the islands for a year. At present they are staying at the Ingleside, but have already made one sightseeing trip to the islands. Mrs. Bertolan has some handsome bric-a-brac and is well known on the Pacific Slope.

AGED TUTOR RETIRES FROM ACTIVE WORK.

EDUCATOR WHO HAS RETIRED FROM ACTIVE WORK AT UNIVERSITY.

Professor Paget Is Overcome by Years.

BERKELEY, June 30.—Professor Felicien V. Paget of the chair of the Romance languages and literatures will not be in his accustomed place when the University of California opens its doors for the fall semester in August, for he has just been appointed professor emeritus in the department he has led for so many years.

In fact, Professor Paget has not been the active head of the Romance languages department for the last year, a very severe illness having prevented him from engaging in pursuits of any kind. Of this illness he is now about cured, though he is still weak and unfit for the least labor. The infirmities of old age, too, have had their effect. Professor Paget is 70 years of age and only Saturday celebrated his last birthday.

Early realizing that he could never again plunge into active affairs with his old-time vigor, Professor Paget recently applied to President Wheeler to be relieved of the duties of the department upon the position of head of the department of languages. President Wheeler acquiesced immediately and afterward recommended that Professor Paget be appointed professor emeritus, a recommendation that the Board of Regents unanimously adopted in consideration of Professor Paget's long and faithful service. Now he will give only a few hours a week to the university, leaving the more active duties to the young members of the department.

There will be no successor to Professor Paget for at least a year. The work will go on under the direction of Professor F. Lange, dean of the department of letters, and in time a selection will be made.

Professor Paget has been head of the department of Romance languages for sixteen years. The first few years after his attachment to the university he was the only member of the department. It has grown rapidly, however, and is now one of the largest.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTONISHING RESULTS.

Follow Each New Discovery of Science. The great strides that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it in a few years it will be rare to find a bald-headed man or woman. The falling out of hair is due to a dandruff germ, and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Herpicide. Its success has been marked. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is also a delightful hairdressing, free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists.
