

LAST DAYS OF ENCAMPMENT PRESENT BUSY SCENES

YOUTHFUL SOLDIERS' REUNION
Spanish-American War Heroes Gather.
Evening Is Spent in Pleasant Manner.

REUNION of all the veterans of the Spanish war now in the city was held last night at the Ellis-street armory under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary Corps of Camp Richter. Mrs. G. Hollister and Mrs. G. R. Hamilton, assisted by the ladies of the corps, received the guests. After the formal portion of the reception was concluded dancing became the feature of the evening's enjoyment.

A fine supper was served, accompanied by a hot cup of champagne punch. The festivities lasted until a late hour.

The annual meeting of the Department of California, Spanish-American War Veterans, was held Tuesday evening and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Department commander, Colonel T. F. O'Neil; senior vice commander, F. H. Heiter; junior vice commander, T. J. Hay; assistant adjutant general, A. J. Nicholson; quartermaster general, Captain O. F. Huber; counsel of administration, J. Murray; J. Crawford; E. Jones and J. Alexander; surgeon general, Dr. Prentice; chaplain, Rev. Joseph P. McQuade; inspector general, Captain L. C. Beers, and judge advocate, F. Schriber.

At the reunion of the Spanish-American War Veterans, held at the armory of the First Battalion of Artillery on Wednesday evening, Colonel Owen Summers, commander in chief of the order, presented to Captain T. W. Costello, commander of Camp Richter, this city, a handsome standard of colors.

ARMORY OF THE FIRST BATTALION OF ARTILLERY, N. G. C., IS TURNED INTO A BALLROOM BY THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR VETERANS IN HONOR OF THE VISITING DELEGATES AND MEMBERS OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

HOLD INQUEST OVER LAFFERTY

Coroner's Jury Holds Henley Responsible for Death.

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—An inquest was held to-night by Coroner Mehrmann in the case of William H. Lafferty, who was shot on August 11 at Point Richmond by George Henley, his son-in-law, and who died Wednesday at the Berkeley Sanitarium. William Lindsay, a notary public of Point Richmond, read a dying statement made by Lafferty, who said Henley drew a pistol during a quarrel and Lafferty, to protect himself, grabbed what he thought was a steel bar, but which proved to be a rifle. In the struggle that followed Lafferty said his son-in-law shot him. Constable Joseph Montana explained about Henley's arrest and his surrender of the pistol. Other witnesses were Charles L. Winchell of Vallejo, another son-in-law of Lafferty; Dr. C. R. Blake of Point Richmond; and George W. Davis of Berkeley. Mrs. Henley was present at the inquest, but she was not called as a witness. The verdict was that death was caused by hemorrhage due to a shotgun wound inflicted by George C. Henley.

The accused man is in jail at Martinez. His story, corroborated by his wife on the night of the shooting, was that Lafferty tried to kill him and that, after a fierce struggle, the son-in-law was compelled to shoot in self-defense.

Resolution Praising Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles for His Soldierly Qualities Adopted.

to measure the greatness of our cause by our daily lives.

Comrades, this encampment has gone to its end. Let us in its closing hour devote one moment to the memory of our mighty dead. I call on the encampment to rise in honor of Lincoln, Grant, Sherman, Meade, Hancock, McKinley and the whole illustrious role of soldiers and officers who in the great struggle represented the idea that the Union must and should live forever.

The members of the encampment rose to their feet and remained standing for several moments.

Under the head of resolutions a number of important ones were adopted. The following resolution relating to Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles was introduced by Captain P. H. Coney of Kansas and was adopted with cheer:

GENERAL MILES LAUDED.

"Resolved, That we congratulate that splendid soldier, exemplary commander and patriotic citizen, General Nelson A. Miles, upon his attainment of a distinguished and honorable retirement after a matchless record as a soldier of over forty-two years' service, without just criticism of his official conduct, which began as a lieutenant in the Twenty-second Massachusetts Infantry, progressing by the brightest grade of heroic patriotism from Massachusetts to Appomattox, during the greatest of all civil wars from 1861 to 1865, and illuminating this record by his great military achievements as a successful Indian fighter, and again as a gallant and judicious military disciplinarian and organizer."

General Arthur MacArthur was introduced by Mr. Buckley of Alabama and the famous soldier was received with three hearty cheers. When the enthusiasm had subsided General MacArthur spoke as follows:

MACARTHUR IS CHEERED.

Mr. Commander and Comrades. I would be glad to express precisely the emotions which arise in me in consequence of such a cordial greeting. Such warmth, from such a body I appreciate more than any other compliment which I could possibly receive, and such warmth overflows, for the moment, my capacity for concentration and co-ordination of thought. You will therefore have to accept in a spirit of generosity whatever I may be able to say in return for this great privilege in the inspiring presence. However, in the midst of such surroundings one can never be entirely at a loss for something to say, as no other relation of friendship is so strong, so lasting, as that which exists among American soldiers and sailors. This great confidence, this mutual appreciation, does not arise entirely from the fact that we have shared together the perils of fields and waves; it arises from the still stronger reach that it is from the justice of the cause rather than from the successes of our battles that American soldiers and sailors expect the honor of a triumph from their fellow men. In this connection I want to repeat a remark that I have made on many occasions before less sympathetic audiences; the remark is pregnant for the future as it has been true in the past—that American guns have never been fired in war without contributing materially and substantially to the welfare and hopes of mankind.

This great republic has had a classical past and is enjoying an unexampled present and is undoubtedly to have a heroic future. Therefore, my comrades, in leaving this grand encampment let us all renew our devotions to the flag, the flag which in our hands expanded to such ample scope that under its beneficent folds justice and oppression are imposed; the flag which is the visible symbol of daily inspirations of the American people; the flag which is the one focus in which we all unite in reverential devotion.

We differ in politics, we differ in religion, we enter into violent disputes in respect to the true meaning of the constitution; we even challenge some of the provisions of that sacred instrument; we inject largely our selfish desires and cupidly into all the transactions of our daily lives, but from the sanctified folds of the flag, the collective intelligence of the nation rises superior to any of its parts and thereby insures the perpetuity of the republic.

Again I thank you for this magnificent reception.

VICE COMMANDER INSTALLED.

C. Mason Kinne was installed as senior vice commander and spoke in part as follows:

Comrades of the Thirty-seventh National Encampment. It is useless for me to say that I appreciate the honor you have conferred upon me; but I do wish to say that I appreciate the fact that in selecting me you have evidenced your desire to honor the Department of California. When those who know me best unanimously indorse me for this position, those that have been with me in the field for thirty-six years in California, I felt sure could be the greatest of all civil wars from 1861 to 1865, and illuminating this record by his great military achievements as a successful Indian fighter, and again as a gallant and judicious military disciplinarian and organizer."

The following were appointed the national council of administration:
