The Clothing Store of the West

DURING the encampment of the G. A. R. we had several visitors in the store from various Eastern cities. They inspected all the departments—clothing, tailoring, hats and furnishing goods. Before leaving the store, many of them expressed opinions to the effect that they were surprised to find such a large establishment "out west." They pronounced ours not only the largest store of its kind this side of Chicago, but the finest in appearance, light, location and other features.

We further informed them of the fact that ours is the only establishment in the United States that makes all its own clothing for men, youths and boys and retails direct to wearer.

Our success is due to a large stock, low prices, good merchandise and a liberal policy.

Have YOU ever traded here?

Out-of-town residents should write for our 64-page catalogue.

THE DEFENDER RELIANCE OVER THE CHALLENGER

ward in the twelve-knot breeze, pounding fountains of spray from their bows and leaning to it until the water swirled and bubbled under their lee rails. The crews were piled up along the weather side to hold the great racing machines up.

OPENING OF CONTEST.

The first few minutes of the three to windward were watched with intense interest. Both were footing like mad. They showed yards of their underbodies and shipped a good deal of spray and some salt water forward. But after a few minutes of sailing their positions had not varied perceptibly and there was alarm among the experts. Those who had expected to see the Reliance walk away from her adversary as a result of last Thursday's rowing were disappointed. Shamrock hung and in tack after tack she seemed to be holding her own.

For thirteen miles the challenger and challenged fought out the magnificent double-reefing between two lines of excursion boats as if from the inferno. As they had been in the middle of the Atlantic. All the time the wind was increasing and the whitecaps were whitening the waves. The critical point in the race came at 1:40 p. m., a little less than two hours after the start. The mark was less than two miles away and the relative positions of the boats were about the same. Both were on the starboard tack, the Reliance ahead but to leeward.

Suddenly the wind dropped and hauled a trifle to the westward. The shift enabled the yachts to head up for the mark with the Reliance in the lead by about two hundred yards. This was the only thing which marred an otherwise truly sailed race. But from that time on the Reliance steadily increased and in the windward work until she was three-quarters of a mile ahead. As she rounded the outer mark the whistles, sirens, bands and the voices of the unnumbered thousands on the excursion fleet swelled into a vast chorus.

YANKEES SHOW SKILL.

Turning for home her spinnaker boom pined along the water and in a rest fell to port and the big sail burst out like a cloud, while at the same moment her enormous balloon jib topsail bellied out forward. The smart work of the Yankees cheered the crowds, but a moment afterward there was dismay when the guy that held the spinnaker pole started or was carried away. The enormous sail soared and tumbled over the jib topsail stay, collapsing like an empty mail sack. But the spar was soon hauled back into place, and then, with her three balloon sails setting like plates, the starting yacht sped homeward before the wind like a frightened deer.

The fleet remained to salute the Shamrock as she rounded and then, with a jingle of bells in the engine-rooms, scampered away for the finish line to be in at the finish. In setting her balloon jib the Shamrock encountered another piece of bad luck. One of the stops would not break out and the sail held for some minutes like a limp rag on the starboard side. The crew squared away for home it was seen that the Reliance was making a runaway race of it. With her crew aft to keep her head up, she skimmed along the surface of the water like a gull with outstretched wings, leaving the Shamrock far astern. The pace was that of a steamship, and tugs and not a few of the steamers were left behind.

The scene at the finish was soul-stirring. Under her towering cloud of canvas, rolling rhythmically in the swell, the Reliance bounded across the finish line like a conqueror. The spectators gathered there fairly awakened the echoes with the terrific din which they let loose. Then the immense concourse of boats waited until the Shamrock, majestic even in defeat, swept by between the stakeboats. The Reliance received what she deserved, many hearty huzzas extended to the victor.

SCENE AT THE START.

A snappy southwest wind was blowing, when, a few minutes after 10 o'clock, the Shamrock III, followed by the Reliance, reached Sandy Hook Lightship. At 10:30 the regatta committee's steamer signaled the start by firing a gun. The Shamrock III was the first to start, and the race postponed until later in the day, because of a windward course southwest would have landed the racers on the beach off Long Beach.

The cup yacht went trailing off to the eastward for about half an hour, and at 11:10 a starting line was established between the Navigator and the Unique and the committee's tug signaled a course fifteen miles to the windward and return. The wind was increasing, when, at the flash of a starting gun at 11:15, both yachts lurched across the line. The Shamrock III fourths ahead of the Reliance. The official starting time was:

Shamrock III.....11:45:17
Reliance.....11:45:21

Both got away on the starboard tack, carrying the lower sails and club topsails. The Reliance, by its compass, was following the prettiest, closest, and most hard fought fifteen-mile stretch to windward that has been witnessed in these historic waters for many a day. For nearly half an hour they held on one tack and during that time the most acute observer could not detect that their relative positions had varied more than half the length of either of them.

The Shamrock III held the lead under the lee bow of the Reliance, but could not add an inch to it. The Reliance, however, got past the leader. If Captain Wringe luffed Captain Barr luffed also and one seemed to be as good as the other at this tricky business. If Captain Wringe gave his craft a hard full and tried to run away from the Reliance Captain Barr also did. The American boat a bit and went after him. Boats and skippers were evenly matched.

BOATS BOW AND BOW.

Just about an hour after the start, when the yachts had covered nearly half the distance to the outer mark, opportunity was afforded to note how close the contest really was. The Reliance and Shamrock III were approaching each other with the former on the starboard tack and having the right of way. As they neared one another it was a question which would win. The Shamrock III was forced to go about to avoid a collision. One hour's work had given neither the advantage. They held that tack for twenty minutes. The Shamrock III suddenly went about and the Reliance followed suit, only to the Shamrock III to turn to her former course. Plainly it was Captain Wringe's trick to shake off the defender, which must have been threatening to blanket the British boat. As soon as the Shamrock III got about the Reliance she laid a parallel course.

The wind began to moderate a bit, and wise observers asserted that the Reliance had half a minute advantage. When both yachts were about a quarter of a mile apart and a mile and a half from the turning mark the Reliance was ahead, but considerably to leeward of the Shamrock. They were southwest of the mark and heading toward the Jersey coast, when the wind suddenly shifted from south-southwest to south by west, three points. This placed the Reliance in a windward position. It was clear luck and gave the defender a distinct advantage.

The Shamrock III held on in advance toward the Jersey shore, and the Reliance crossed her bow a quarter of a mile to windward of her. Both boats then made short hitches to the turning mark and when the Reliance rounded it three minutes and twenty seconds in advance of the challenger the whistles of the fleet acknowledged her luck and her lead. This with the four seconds less at the start gave the Reliance three minutes and twenty-four seconds clear gain.

FEARS IN THE FLEET.

Once around the mark the Reliance broke out her balloon jib topsail, swung out her spinnaker pole and broke out her spinnaker for a run dead before the wind to the finish line. Whether her spinnaker sheet parted or slipped from its fastening at the boom lifted was not clear, the pole swung out ahead of her high into the air and the big sail hung in loose folds across her jib topsail stay. For a minute it looked as though she were in serious difficulty. The pole was hauled out to its proper position and her spinnaker began to do its work.

The Reliance was three-quarters of a mile away when the Shamrock III turned the mark and broke out her balloon jib topsail. The upper part of it refused to break out and still hung in stows, but only for a few minutes. As with the Reliance, her spinnaker, too, swung across her jib topsail stay and hung empty of wind for a minute or more. When it was sheeted back into position there was a good sized rip in the leach of it near her masthead, and during all the run home it belled out loosely, as though Captain Wringe would not give it a good full for fear that he might lose it altogether.

During all the rest of the race the yachts covered at a twelve knot clip the Reliance steadily and persistently crawled away from the now hopelessly beaten challenger. The smoke of the scurrying fleet almost hid them from the shore as the Reliance swept across the line. The Shamrock III, however, was the first to see the finish and to acknowledge her victory. Eight minutes and fifty-six seconds later the plucky challenger followed her across the line and received the salute of the entire fleet.

The summary (official):
Elapsed Time.
Start. Turn. Finish. Time.
Reliance.....1:45:21 1:55:10 3:17:28 3:31:17
Shamrock III.....1:45:17 1:58:30 3:26:34 3:41:17
Giving Shamrock III an allowance of one minute fifty-seven seconds according to the measurement, acknowledged to have been incorrect, Reliance would have beaten her by seven minutes three seconds.

The net result of the race shows that, barring the fluke Shamrock III had held her own in the windward work and had beaten more than five and a half minutes to leeward.

It is expected that the next race will be sailed on Tuesday.

MUST BE REMEASURED.

Shamrock's Anchor and Chain Not on Board Before.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Shamrock III will be remeasured in Erie basin Monday morning by C. D. Mower, official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, in the presence of a representative of the Reliance. Lewis Cass Ledyard, chairman of the racing committee of the New York Yacht Club, notified Sherman Crawford, vice commodore of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, to that effect in the following telegram:

"Mr. Iselin reports that you informed him, just before starting on yesterday's race, that Shamrock III, when measured, did not have the anchor and chain aboard before starting. You reported it also to the regatta committee. This, if true, would require a new measurement under the agreement before starting another race. I appreciate that it would be impossible now for you to procure a measurement before starting to-morrow, and understand that the regatta committee has requested that Shamrock III be remeasured on Monday. Under the circumstances, knowing that the error arose from an oversight, our committee are willing that your boat shall start to-morrow, but subject to the new measurement to be taken on Monday next. The vessel on such measurement is to be exactly in the same trim as when sailing Saturday, which fact will be established by your own statement."

"LEWIS CASS LEDYARD."
Mr. Crawford's answer was: "Thanks for telegrams. We were measured without anchor and chain aboard. We had not an anchor or chain on board during the first race, and we find they are required by the rules. We propose, with your permission, to sail to-morrow."

DR. PIERCE'S REMEDIES.

"He Won't Die"

Of consumption is a remark often made of a fleshy man. The remark expresses the popular recognition of the fact that the sign of consumption is emaciation, loss of flesh. On the other hand, a gain in flesh is a sure sign that wasting diseases are being cured.

Emaciated people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night-sweats and weakness, have been perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The several steps of the cure were recorded in ounces and pounds of increasing weight.

When there is gain in flesh the wasting disease is being surely cured.

Mr. Will H. Whitmore, of Arlinton, Rockingham Co., Va., writes: "Our son contracted a terrible cough. We called a doctor and he pronounced it irritation of the bronchial tubes, with asthmatic trouble, and he informed me that my son was liable to die at any time. He told me that if we could keep the bronchial tubes open, he might cure him. I tried the best I could, but he grew worse all the time. I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Syrup. I had seen several bottles of Golden Medical Discovery at home and one of the 'Pilllets,' and was then well enough to go to West Virginia, taking a supply with me. I am just in receipt of a letter from him from which I quote: 'I am well and hardy and getting very fleshy.'"

DANGEROUS KIDNEY DISEASES CURED.

Pe-ru-na Creating a National Sensation in the Cure of Chronic Ailments of the Kidneys.

Fred R. Pennell, pianist, Grand Opera House, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: "Two years ago I came to Hot Springs to take the baths and be treated for bladder and kidney trouble. After spending two months here under the care of one of the most prominent physicians and receiving little or no benefit, I was persuaded to try Peruna. I had little faith in it, but after using one bottle I noticed a marked improvement. Three bottles entirely cured me. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to any one afflicted as I was."—Fred R. Pennell.

Thomas M. Hicks, 131 Thirteenth Street, Louisville, Ky., writes: "Neglected colds, irregular habits and overwork brought on serious kidney and bladder trouble. My blood seemed inflamed with poison, my stomach became entirely demoralized, a bad odor emanated from my urine, and I realized I was a sick man. The doctors dosed me to their heart's content, but I kept growing worse. Then fortune brought Peruna to my notice and I at once began to mend. It took five months before my blood was completely cured. I feel now that I owe my life to Peruna, and will never cease to be grateful."—Thomas M. Hicks.

S. L. Earle, Superintendent of Streets, Jacksonville, Fla., writes: "I am a firm believer in Peruna. I find that it has been of practical benefit to a number of the men employed in the Street Cleaning Department in the city of Jacksonville. They are especially exposed to the inclemency of the weather, and a number who caught cold, which later developed into pneumonia, kidney or liver trouble, were cured through the use of Peruna."—S. L. Earle, Superintendent of Streets.

Mr. J. Brake of Petrolia, Ont., Canada, writes: "Four years ago I had a severe attack of Bright's disease, which brought me so low the doctor said nothing more could be done for me. I began to take Peruna and Manalin, and in three months I was a well man, and have continued so ever since."—J. Brake.

At the appearance of the first symptom of kidney trouble Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once the very root of the disease. It at once relieves the catarrhal kidneys of the stagnant blood, preventing the escape of serum from the blood. Peruna stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison, and thus prevents the complications which are sure to follow if the poisons are allowed to remain. It gives great vigor to the heart's action and digestive system, both of which are apt to fall rapidly in this disease.

Peruna cures catarrh of the kidneys simply because it cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

CLEVELAND WOMAN KILLED BY RUNAWAY AUTOMOBILE

Unmanageable Machine Backs Down Hill and Upsets, Throwing Out Its Occupants.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—While climbing a hill toward Little Mountain, a summer resort twenty-five miles east of here, today, an automobile containing four people suddenly became unmanageable and started backward down the hill. At the bottom it was upset and the four people thrown out. When picked up it was found that Mrs. W. H. Kirkpatrick, residing on Highside avenue, this city, was dead and the other occupants injured.

The three other occupants were W. H. Kirkpatrick, his mother, 70 years of age, and a man named Cavanaugh. The older Mrs. Kirkpatrick was seriously injured, but it is thought she will recover. The other two were not seriously injured.

David N. Selig, who has just died at Northport, Mass., though blind since childhood, made a fortune as a business man and inventor. In 1851 he began in a small way the manufacture of mattresses. The business growing, he began to make furniture. He invented new styles of chairs and furniture and went so far as to design and carry out machinery for their manufacture. His sense of touch was so wonderful that he could detect the slightest flaws in articles made in his factory.

ACTOR BARLOW HURRIES EAST

Leaves Chicago to Escape Charge of Bigamy.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Reginald Barlow, whom three women claim as husband, left Chicago Friday night, pursued by Clarence Merkel, brother of the Milwaukee actress who Barlow married in Los Angeles after a short courtship on the train. When Barlow heard that Miss Florence Hamilton, an actress at the Academy, one of the three women who claim him as husband, had written to her attorney at Houghton, Mich., where she says she was married, to obtain her marriage certificate and intended upon its arrival to have him arrested on a charge of bigamy, he became much agitated and with Mrs. Bertha Barlow, his latest wife, hurriedly left for Buffalo.

Mrs. Barlow's brother arrived in Chicago to-day and on learning that the man he was pursuing had left for Buffalo Merkel called on Miss Hamilton, compared some of Barlow's writing with some letters which Miss Hamilton had in her possession, secured what information he could as to the movements of his sister and the man who claimed her as his bride and left on the first train for the East.

When asked as to his plans after arriving in Buffalo, he said: "I have no definite plans. I want to see my sister first and after I talk to her I can tell better what I shall do. Of course, I expect to take her away from Barlow."

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 22.—"Reginald Barlow either will prove his right to woo and marry my daughter, unhindered by any previous matrimonial alliances, or he will be prosecuted," declared Mrs. W. J. Merkel, mother of Mrs. Bertha Barlow, the Milwaukee girl who was wedded on August 16 in Los Angeles, Cal., to an actor, who, it has been alleged, had engaged in other matrimonial ventures, not as yet dissolved by law. Mrs. Merkel said:

Although Bertha is old enough to be able to take care of herself, I will not allow her to be duped by an unscrupulous adventurer without legal redress at least. But I cannot believe without proof that Mr. Barlow is guilty of undissolved alliances with other women.

In several respects the Albanians are the most interesting people in Europe. They commit no crimes but murder. Among them human life has an even smaller value than in Sicily, and the vendetta prevails even more rigidly. The old law of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and a life for a life is strictly enforced, but the laws of hospitality are equally respected, and when once a man has broken bread or tasted salt with Albanians his life is safe against all others as long as he remains their guest.

Figures have just been published which the Canadian press claims as an indication of the military spirit which animates young Canada. The State of New York has a population of nearly 2,000,000 more than the entire Dominion of Canada, yet its national guard has an enrollment of only 14,468 men. Canada, on the other hand, has 35,999 men in its active militia, and thousands of others who have gone through militia training and are now on the retired list.

"Might doesn't always make right," observed the Wise Guy. "No, but it generally makes good," murmured the Simple Mug.

SIGHT RESTORED TO BLIND GIRL

Radium and X Rays in Combination Give Success.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Lizale Spitznadel, a pretty Austrian child 11 years of age who has been totally blind since she was 3 years old, has been made to see slightly as the result of an experiment in using in combination radium and X rays. The experiment was tried only last Wednesday night, and at the time of application it gave little or no promise of being even moderately successful. The child's sight has not been restored, but she has in three days emerged from a condition of total blindness to one in which she can distinguish moving objects and can plainly discern ordinary electric lights at night.

Dr. Amos Jenkins of this city, who is connected with the marine hospital service and whose patient the child is, and Mr. J. Hammer, a well known electrical engineer and an expert in radiation, conducted the experiment on the blind child.

A few years ago, when Czar Alexander III was alive, and his family included three sons, it almost seemed beyond a doubt that the successor to the throne was secured to his descendants, and that it could hardly pass to his brother or nephew. However, the eldest son, now reigning as Nicholas II, though married, is the father of daughters only; the second son is dead, and the third son, now 25 years of age, is unmarried and apparently content to remain so.

He was granted a fair and impartial trial by his peers. He was given every right and privilege accorded by the constitution he had obligated himself to conform to and support. During the progress of the trial the evidence that he had outrageously violated his obligations was so convincing and overwhelming that he was denounced as unfit for membership in an organization composed of self-respecting men, and they expelled him therefrom.

They also deny as untrue the claim made by Miller that he has increased the output of his division at reduced cost.
