

DEMOCRATS SELEGEON A PART OF THEIR TICKET ESPIE PROTESTS OF MANY, WHO ARE AGAINST SUPERVISORS

Delegates Leave Convention in a Heat.

Majority Charged With Unfair Tactics.

THE NOMINEES.

- For Mayor, FRANKLIN K. LANE.
- For Assessor, WASHINGTON DODGE
- For District Attorney, LEWIS F. BYINGTON.
- For Coroner, THOS. B. W. LELAND.
- For Recorder, EDMUND GODCHAUX.
- For Public Administrator, MICHAEL J. HYNES.

- For Supervisors, A. COMTE JR., H. M. BRANDENSTEIN, SAMUEL BRAUNHART, J. P. BOOTH, JOHN CONNOR, A. A. DANCONA, HENRY PAYOT, ROBERT J. LOUGHERY, JOHN A. LYNCH, GEO. B. McCLELLAN, T. C. FRIEDLANDER, FRANK J. GRACE, JOHN BARNETT, DR. FRED A. GRAZER, OSCAR HOCKS, EDWARD ROCK, CARL WESTERFELD, EDWARD GLEASON.

THE Democratic municipal convention has not yet reached a condition of harmony. For a time last evening it looked as though the majority and minority had butted differences and a united Democracy, for which Franklin K. Lane, the nominee for Mayor, so devoutly wished, had come, but all this was dispelled when the Committee on Supervisors submitted its report on eighteen names to be placed on the ticket at the coming municipal election. The minority submitted three names to the committee and only two were accepted. Edward Rock, Carl Westerfeld and Charles Wesley Reed were the choices of the majority and his name was stricken from the list and the name of Edward Gleason substituted.

When the minority learned of this there was a howl of indignation and in an instant the entire convention, which had been a harmonious gathering, became a turbulent one. There were cries of treachery and charges of unfair dealing. Joseph E. O'Donnell, George Gallagher and others in the minority raised their voices in indignation over the manner in which they were treated. Despite their objections the report of the committee was adopted. The minority now vows vengeance and will refuse to make the nomination of Mr. Lane unanimous. The convention broke up in disorder and some more hot battling is anticipated when the delegates meet again to-morrow evening.

Owing to the meeting of the committee of eight selected by the minority to meet a like committee from the majority, the convention did not go into session until 2:25 o'clock. The names submitted by the minority were taken under advisement and the committee on

DR. PIERCE'S REMEDIES.

OSTRICH LOGIC.

"When I can't see danger there is no danger." That's the logic of the ostrich which hides its head and exposes its body to the hunter. There are not a few people who seem to have gone to the ostrich to learn logic. The most dangerous enemies of humanity are the enemies which can't be seen, the disease breeding microbes which infect the blood. It is harder to get the microbe out of the blood than to keep it out. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and cures the eruptions which come from it.

If there are eruptions on the skin, boils, pimples, sores or other signs of impure blood, use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which will purify the blood and cure the eruptions which come from it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

Candidates for Office Are Selected by Bourbons.

Supervisors asked further time to deliberate. In the interim four or five nominations were made and the minority leaders took pleasure in not only seconding the nominations but in moving to make them unanimous.

DODGE NOMINATED.

On calling the convention to order Chairman Thomas W. Hickey announced that the first business of the evening was the reading of the report of the committee of eight. Osgood Putnam, chairman of the committee, introduced the name of Dr. Washington Dodge, incumbent of the office, before the convention. When an assessor's name was mentioned there was hearty applause. Mr. Cannon spoke as follows:

I have had a severe cough to-day, but if I can control my voice long enough I am going to make a statement in regard to the nomination of Dr. Washington Dodge. (Applause.) When Dr. Dodge was nominated for the office a gentleman whom it was supposed could not be defeated; it was supposed that Dr. Dodge, when he accepted the nomination, was to lead a forlorn hope. But he went into the fight valiantly; he went out among the people and he believed in the condition of the assessment of this city and county for years past; he promised them drainage reform and he believed in it; he elected him Assessor over his powerful opponent by a majority of 8000 votes. A year ago he was elected Assessor and he increased the assessment roll in that one year over $55,000,000. And now, after four more years of his rule, he is to be re-elected Assessor by a majority greater than the total vote of the city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct.

Joseph E. O'Donnell took the floor and in behalf of the Thirty-sixth District seconded the nomination of Dr. Dodge. John H. Muller and Messrs. Hickey and Van Wyck also added their meed of praise in seconding the nomination. Dr. Dodge being the choice of the convention, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot.

BYINGTON IS NAMED.

District Attorney Lewis F. Byington was placed in nomination for the position by J. C. Sims. Mr. Sims paid Byington some fine tributes. He spoke at length and when he said that his candidate was wiser than Solomon the convention burst into a laugh. Mr. Sims spoke as follows:

I congratulate this convention on its having placed at the head of the Democratic municipal ticket in this campaign as able, as patriotic, as intelligent and as energetic a party's or a people's cause. Undoubtedly he will uphold the standard of Democracy and will govern the city and county with an advance which the elephant tramps in the distant dust bearing Uncle Sam's postoffice and the other officials on their backs. His voice will be heard amid the plaudits and the acclamations of his fellow citizens when the former State of the Republic march will play his fiddle to listless audiences and with that discord and lack of harmony which is the characteristic of the Republican party, its present and greatest adversary.

The man for whose cause I speak is a Democrat in the highest sense of the word. He cherishes the traditions of the party and is attached to its theories, principles and policies. Among the people of California Lewis F. Byington stands preeminent. No one is more favorably known throughout this state than he. He has taken great pride in his grandeur and greatness, and greater happiness in the giant trend of human activities from the East to the land of the rising sun. If he is nominated you may reckon with absolute certainty that he will be the District Attorney of the city and county with hope or reason look outside of the District Attorney's office for any part of his power, influence, conscience or integrity.

There were no further nominations and Mr. Byington was nominated by a unanimous vote of the convention. There was loud cheering for Byington and the delegates and spectators called for the popular official, but Chairman Hickey brought his hammer down on the anvil and declared that nominations for Coroner were in order.

Candidates for Office Are Selected by Bourbons.

Supervisors asked further time to deliberate. In the interim four or five nominations were made and the minority leaders took pleasure in not only seconding the nominations but in moving to make them unanimous.

DODGE NOMINATED.

On calling the convention to order Chairman Thomas W. Hickey announced that the first business of the evening was the reading of the report of the committee of eight. Osgood Putnam, chairman of the committee, introduced the name of Dr. Washington Dodge, incumbent of the office, before the convention. When an assessor's name was mentioned there was hearty applause. Mr. Cannon spoke as follows:

I have had a severe cough to-day, but if I can control my voice long enough I am going to make a statement in regard to the nomination of Dr. Washington Dodge. (Applause.) When Dr. Dodge was nominated for the office a gentleman whom it was supposed could not be defeated; it was supposed that Dr. Dodge, when he accepted the nomination, was to lead a forlorn hope. But he went into the fight valiantly; he went out among the people and he believed in the condition of the assessment of this city and county for years past; he promised them drainage reform and he believed in it; he elected him Assessor over his powerful opponent by a majority of 8000 votes. A year ago he was elected Assessor and he increased the assessment roll in that one year over $55,000,000. And now, after four more years of his rule, he is to be re-elected Assessor by a majority greater than the total vote of the city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct.

Joseph E. O'Donnell took the floor and in behalf of the Thirty-sixth District seconded the nomination of Dr. Dodge. John H. Muller and Messrs. Hickey and Van Wyck also added their meed of praise in seconding the nomination. Dr. Dodge being the choice of the convention, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot.

BYINGTON IS NAMED.

District Attorney Lewis F. Byington was placed in nomination for the position by J. C. Sims. Mr. Sims paid Byington some fine tributes. He spoke at length and when he said that his candidate was wiser than Solomon the convention burst into a laugh. Mr. Sims spoke as follows:

I congratulate this convention on its having placed at the head of the Democratic municipal ticket in this campaign as able, as patriotic, as intelligent and as energetic a party's or a people's cause. Undoubtedly he will uphold the standard of Democracy and will govern the city and county with an advance which the elephant tramps in the distant dust bearing Uncle Sam's postoffice and the other officials on their backs. His voice will be heard amid the plaudits and the acclamations of his fellow citizens when the former State of the Republic march will play his fiddle to listless audiences and with that discord and lack of harmony which is the characteristic of the Republican party, its present and greatest adversary.

The man for whose cause I speak is a Democrat in the highest sense of the word. He cherishes the traditions of the party and is attached to its theories, principles and policies. Among the people of California Lewis F. Byington stands preeminent. No one is more favorably known throughout this state than he. He has taken great pride in his grandeur and greatness, and greater happiness in the giant trend of human activities from the East to the land of the rising sun. If he is nominated you may reckon with absolute certainty that he will be the District Attorney of the city and county with hope or reason look outside of the District Attorney's office for any part of his power, influence, conscience or integrity.

There were no further nominations and Mr. Byington was nominated by a unanimous vote of the convention. There was loud cheering for Byington and the delegates and spectators called for the popular official, but Chairman Hickey brought his hammer down on the anvil and declared that nominations for Coroner were in order.

Candidates for Office Are Selected by Bourbons.

Supervisors asked further time to deliberate. In the interim four or five nominations were made and the minority leaders took pleasure in not only seconding the nominations but in moving to make them unanimous.

DODGE NOMINATED.

On calling the convention to order Chairman Thomas W. Hickey announced that the first business of the evening was the reading of the report of the committee of eight. Osgood Putnam, chairman of the committee, introduced the name of Dr. Washington Dodge, incumbent of the office, before the convention. When an assessor's name was mentioned there was hearty applause. Mr. Cannon spoke as follows:

I have had a severe cough to-day, but if I can control my voice long enough I am going to make a statement in regard to the nomination of Dr. Washington Dodge. (Applause.) When Dr. Dodge was nominated for the office a gentleman whom it was supposed could not be defeated; it was supposed that Dr. Dodge, when he accepted the nomination, was to lead a forlorn hope. But he went into the fight valiantly; he went out among the people and he believed in the condition of the assessment of this city and county for years past; he promised them drainage reform and he believed in it; he elected him Assessor over his powerful opponent by a majority of 8000 votes. A year ago he was elected Assessor and he increased the assessment roll in that one year over $55,000,000. And now, after four more years of his rule, he is to be re-elected Assessor by a majority greater than the total vote of the city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct.

Joseph E. O'Donnell took the floor and in behalf of the Thirty-sixth District seconded the nomination of Dr. Dodge. John H. Muller and Messrs. Hickey and Van Wyck also added their meed of praise in seconding the nomination. Dr. Dodge being the choice of the convention, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot.

BYINGTON IS NAMED.

District Attorney Lewis F. Byington was placed in nomination for the position by J. C. Sims. Mr. Sims paid Byington some fine tributes. He spoke at length and when he said that his candidate was wiser than Solomon the convention burst into a laugh. Mr. Sims spoke as follows:

I congratulate this convention on its having placed at the head of the Democratic municipal ticket in this campaign as able, as patriotic, as intelligent and as energetic a party's or a people's cause. Undoubtedly he will uphold the standard of Democracy and will govern the city and county with an advance which the elephant tramps in the distant dust bearing Uncle Sam's postoffice and the other officials on their backs. His voice will be heard amid the plaudits and the acclamations of his fellow citizens when the former State of the Republic march will play his fiddle to listless audiences and with that discord and lack of harmony which is the characteristic of the Republican party, its present and greatest adversary.

The man for whose cause I speak is a Democrat in the highest sense of the word. He cherishes the traditions of the party and is attached to its theories, principles and policies. Among the people of California Lewis F. Byington stands preeminent. No one is more favorably known throughout this state than he. He has taken great pride in his grandeur and greatness, and greater happiness in the giant trend of human activities from the East to the land of the rising sun. If he is nominated you may reckon with absolute certainty that he will be the District Attorney of the city and county with hope or reason look outside of the District Attorney's office for any part of his power, influence, conscience or integrity.

There were no further nominations and Mr. Byington was nominated by a unanimous vote of the convention. There was loud cheering for Byington and the delegates and spectators called for the popular official, but Chairman Hickey brought his hammer down on the anvil and declared that nominations for Coroner were in order.

Candidates for Office Are Selected by Bourbons.

Supervisors asked further time to deliberate. In the interim four or five nominations were made and the minority leaders took pleasure in not only seconding the nominations but in moving to make them unanimous.

DODGE NOMINATED.

On calling the convention to order Chairman Thomas W. Hickey announced that the first business of the evening was the reading of the report of the committee of eight. Osgood Putnam, chairman of the committee, introduced the name of Dr. Washington Dodge, incumbent of the office, before the convention. When an assessor's name was mentioned there was hearty applause. Mr. Cannon spoke as follows:

I have had a severe cough to-day, but if I can control my voice long enough I am going to make a statement in regard to the nomination of Dr. Washington Dodge. (Applause.) When Dr. Dodge was nominated for the office a gentleman whom it was supposed could not be defeated; it was supposed that Dr. Dodge, when he accepted the nomination, was to lead a forlorn hope. But he went into the fight valiantly; he went out among the people and he believed in the condition of the assessment of this city and county for years past; he promised them drainage reform and he believed in it; he elected him Assessor over his powerful opponent by a majority of 8000 votes. A year ago he was elected Assessor and he increased the assessment roll in that one year over $55,000,000. And now, after four more years of his rule, he is to be re-elected Assessor by a majority greater than the total vote of the city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct. He has never received by any other candidate in this city and county, carrying, as he did, every ward and every precinct.

Joseph E. O'Donnell took the floor and in behalf of the Thirty-sixth District seconded the nomination of Dr. Dodge. John H. Muller and Messrs. Hickey and Van Wyck also added their meed of praise in seconding the nomination. Dr. Dodge being the choice of the convention, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot.

BYINGTON IS NAMED.

District Attorney Lewis F. Byington was placed in nomination for the position by J. C. Sims. Mr. Sims paid Byington some fine tributes. He spoke at length and when he said that his candidate was wiser than Solomon the convention burst into a laugh. Mr. Sims spoke as follows:

I congratulate this convention on its having placed at the head of the Democratic municipal ticket in this campaign as able, as patriotic, as intelligent and as energetic a party's or a people's cause. Undoubtedly he will uphold the standard of Democracy and will govern the city and county with an advance which the elephant tramps in the distant dust bearing Uncle Sam's postoffice and the other officials on their backs. His voice will be heard amid the plaudits and the acclamations of his fellow citizens when the former State of the Republic march will play his fiddle to listless audiences and with that discord and lack of harmony which is the characteristic of the Republican party, its present and greatest adversary.

The man for whose cause I speak is a Democrat in the highest sense of the word. He cherishes the traditions of the party and is attached to its theories, principles and policies. Among the people of California Lewis F. Byington stands preeminent. No one is more favorably known throughout this state than he. He has taken great pride in his grandeur and greatness, and greater happiness in the giant trend of human activities from the East to the land of the rising sun. If he is nominated you may reckon with absolute certainty that he will be the District Attorney of the city and county with hope or reason look outside of the District Attorney's office for any part of his power, influence, conscience or integrity.

There were no further nominations and Mr. Byington was nominated by a unanimous vote of the convention. There was loud cheering for Byington and the delegates and spectators called for the popular official, but Chairman Hickey brought his hammer down on the anvil and declared that nominations for Coroner were in order.

Charles W. Reed Turned Down by McNab.

Exciting Scenes Enacted at Session.

were in favor of the report of the committee. John H. Mullen of the Thirty-sixth, a strong minority man, appealed for a vote. He reiterated what had been said by the previous speakers and he appealed to the delegates to vote for the amendment. Mullen was interrupted time and again, and despite the opposition to his remarks, finished his speech. The amendment was lost by a vote of 24 to 105.

When the vote on the original question—the adoption of the report—was called for, Delegate Edward J. Scully of the Forty-third moved that the chairman of the convention cast the vote of the entire convention for the eighteen. Chairman Hickey became indignant and said it was an insult for a delegate to make such a motion. George E. Gallagher arose and said the minority had received a fair roll call and acknowledged defeat. The secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for the eighteen, and this was done.

A motion to adjourn was carried. The delegates will meet in the Alhambra Theater to-morrow night. As the delegates moved out of the hall angry words were heard. The lie was frequently passed, but no blows were struck. Members of the minority refused to leave and the party was split wide open, and Franklin K. Lane would not receive the unanimous vote for Mayor, which he so desires.

INDIANS MAKE GRAVE CHARGES

Accuse Members of the Dawes Commission of Fraud.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Justice Anderson of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia rendered an opinion today in the injunction proceeding of the Delaware Indians against Secretary Hitchcock and the Dawes Indian Commission, dissolving the temporary injunction heretofore granted. The case involved the right of the Secretary to pass on the 157,000 acres of land in the Cherokee nation segregated for the use of the Delawares.

The Indians claimed that the Secretary was without authority to approve or disapprove of the segregation as it had been approved by the Indians interested, and asked that he be enjoined against taking such action pending the adjudication of the same question by the Court of Claims. Soon after the case was filed the court granted a temporary injunction, but Judge Anderson to-day dissolved it.

The Secretary's action was rendered Attorney Walter S. Legan filed a petition in the Court of Claims on behalf of the Delawares against the United States asking that damages be awarded in the sum of $1,000,000 because of expenses of the Indians. The Indians have been subjected because of the necessity of defending title to their lands.

In this petition the Indians make some sensational statements. One of these accusations is to the effect that members of the Dawes Commission are interested in oil leases and companies holding leases made upon their lands by Cherokee claimants. Mentioning the members of the committee, the complaint alleges that "notwithstanding that the lands have been properly segregated the Dawes Commission, disregarding their official duties as agents of the United States toward your petitioners, have conspired, confederated, and are conspiring and confederating, together with said companies, to cheat and defraud your petitioners so as to gain possession of their lands for themselves or for their said companies, under pretense of allotting said lands in their official capacity as said Dawes Commission, to divers persons who are willing to enter into contracts of lease and sale with representatives of said trust and land companies, in which the members of said Dawes Commission are interested."

The Secretary of the Interior is charged with unlawful acts to defraud the Indians, such as that of encouraging white men who have married squaws to make claim to Delaware lands.

Gomez Receives a Heavy Sentence.

MANILA, Sept. 28.—Dominado Gomez was to-day sentenced to four years and two months' imprisonment and fined $300. Maximum bail was refused pending an appeal. The Filipino Assessors dissented from the decision. Gomez, who was a former Spanish officer, was charged with founding the Union Obrera, an organization, which was inciting the natives to rebellion.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

At KELLER'S Tuesday

Men's Fur Suits. A HOSEY SPECIAL.

The new gray effects, in fancy stripes and of excellent quality. 12 1/2 price, per pair.

Another line of worsted ribs in fancy stripes—lavender and white, pink and white; heavyweight, finished seams, reinforced crotch and drawers. Shirts self-faced. Per garment $1.00

UNDERWEAR. Fine worsted ribbed shirts and drawers, medium heavyweight, all-fashion seams, in blue and natural colors. Per garment $1.00

NECKWEAR. Wide-end Imperials and French Four-in-Hands, in the new dark and medium shades of grays, browns and olives; splendid silks. 50c

Wm. J. Keller & Co.

1028-1030 Market street, SAN FRANCISCO. 1137-1139 Washington street, OAKLAND.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

SURRENDERS GAVEL.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE WHO WERE NOMINATED FOR PLACES ON THE TICKET BY THE DEMOCRATIC MUNICIPAL CONVENTION LAST NIGHT AND SOME OF THE DELEGATES WHO TOOK A PROMINENT PART IN THE PROCEEDINGS.

from the Thirty-third Assembly District, placed Thomas B. W. Leland in nomination for Coroner. He made a clever speech and his earnestness was noticeable to the delegates, who received his speech with a great deal of good nature. Ferrarri spoke as follows:

The Democratic party of San Francisco will be proud of the men who have placed in office during the past six years. Since the introduction of our charter no scandal, no misconduct in office has marred the record of a single Democratic official. It is not only just that this convention should renominate those men who have built the reputation of the Democratic party for placing honest public servants in office, and it is only justice that the people of San Francisco should recognize the good that these men have done to our municipality should re-elect them. I feel proud, therefore, at this time to be able to offer as a candidate for the office of Coroner the incumbent, Dr. Thomas B. W. Leland. When Dr. Leland first entered upon his duty as Coroner his office was far from the requirements of a large and growing city, and in his hands it has become a model of efficiency and improvement. He has done for the office of Coroner what no other man has done for any office in the United States.

In the conduct of his investigations fearlessly, fully and fairly, with a view to place the responsibility where it belongs, he has done for the office of Coroner what no other man has done for any office in the United States. He has done for the office of Coroner what no other man has done for any office in the United States. He has done for the office of Coroner what no other man has done for any office in the United States.

GODCHAUX FAVORED.

When nominations were closed Dr. Leland received the unanimous vote of the convention. Chairman Hickey then called for nominations for Recorder, and Osgood Putnam, chairman of the committee, introduced the name of Edmund Godchaux before the delegates. He spoke as follows:

Fortunately, we have to present to you this evening a gentleman whose record speaks for itself, a gentleman who is unpretentious, unostentatious, whose record stands before you with a clear conscience, and who is a man of a high character, a man of a high character, a man of a high character.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

SURRENDERS GAVEL.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.

Startling Statements Are Made During the Debate.

Chairman Hickey thought it was time for him to take a hand in the debate, and he handed over his gavel to Walter de Martini and in a dramatic manner delivered a speech in which he tried to put it up to Gallagher, but the latter would not have it. Hickey was fervent in his remarks and was loudly cheered by the friends of the McNab crowd. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: In the name of the Democrats of San Francisco I resent the last remark made by the speaker who preceded me when he said that so long as one name was left off that ticket let those who leave it off shoulder the responsibility, and the ticket suffer. Who is the man whose name it is insisted shall go on the ticket? A name greater than the man whose name they have omitted from that ticket, and I further say that, while his name is off the ticket, let those who shoulder the responsibility.