

MANY BALLOTS SHOW ERRORS

House Committee Struggling With Mistakes of Voters in San Francisco Election

FOURTH DISTRICT CONTEST Arguments on the Scope of California's Law Will Be Presented by Counsel To-Day

Special Dispatch to The Call.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Journal has the following from Washington: The contest of Julius Kahn for Congressman Livernash's seat is soon to be considered. Mr. Kahn seeks to have rejected certain ballots on which his successor was voted for in both the Union Labor and Democratic columns and counted as one vote by instruction of election officials of San Francisco. The ballots have been segregated by the Election Committee of the House of Representatives. Under technical rulings Kahn's attorney has not succeeded in having enough Livernash votes thrown out to overcome the latter's plurality. Kahn's contest now rests upon the rejection of 627 ballots on which Livernash was voted for in the Union Labor and the Democratic columns.

This afternoon the Election Committee completed the preliminary segregation of all ballots with this result: Livernash ballots rejected, 1078; Kahn ballots rejected, 1030.

The rejected ballots represent illegal votes which were within the court rulings of California, by which votes are excluded for improper marking by voters. By this process of elimination Kahn, on the face of these figures, obtained a rejection of 49 more votes than Livernash.

This, however, does not complete the recount. The committee has 2941 Kahn ballots which were, in self-defense, attacked by the contestee. There are 637 Livernash ballots withheld to be passed upon later by the committee.

The Election Committee of the House will hear argument to-morrow on the law governing the rejection of ballots in California. Congressman Livernash will argue his own case.

A CONTINUAL DRAG.

The Exact Term.

Only those who have experienced the pain and suffering incident to Piles or Hemorrhoids can know what a drag and handicap this complaint is; how even the mildest forms hinder the patient from putting forth his or her best efforts, while those afflicted with bleeding and protruding piles realize all the tortures of the Inquisition.

It may surprise the reader to know that there is a sure, permanent cure for this disease, as the following testimony from Mr. E. A. Leonard, an American resident in the City of Mexico, will show:

"For twenty years I suffered with piles, sometimes being confined to my bed for days at a time. The relief received from doctors, both in the United States and Mexico, was temporary, and more frequently I received no relief; other medicines had no effect. It was a continual drag. I was fit for nothing. I finally tried Pyramid Pile Cure; first application was magical; I could not believe I was awake next morning; I experienced a relief that I had not known for twenty years. One box cured me; but not believing myself cured, I bought two more, but they are still in my trunk. I first used the remedy in July, 1902; HAVE HAD NO OCCASION TO USE IT SINCE. The world should know of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have no words to express its merits."

Pyramid Pile Cure is in the form of a suppository, which is admitted by all physicians to be the best preparation for treating piles; it comes in direct contact with the painful tumors and does so quickly and painlessly. It is sold by druggists, generally for 50 cents a package, and there is no other remedy "just as good."

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the causes and cure of piles, which is sent free for the asking.

CANNON VISITS SOEDER IN JAIL

Identifies Prisoner as the Man Who Wanted Him to Burn the House Miss Flatley Lived In

RING EXISTS IN THIS CITY Companies Notify Chief Wittman That Insurance Swindling Gang Is Operating Here

The first identification of Soeder that has been made was obtained yesterday from Frank Cannon, the man Soeder wanted to hire to burn down Miss Flatley's house. Cannon was taken to the prison by a Call representative and stated that Soeder was the man who had made the proposition to him to follow Miss Flatley. "I am positive that he is the man," said Cannon, "and I should like to see him fully dressed. Then I would swear to it."

The police for some unknown reason have not as yet had the accused man identified by any of the people who have given damaging evidence against him.

Two new witnesses were discovered yesterday by the police. They are girls employed in the O. K. saloon dance hall. One is named Rosa Kirk and the other goes by the name of Elsie. Both when shown the picture of Soeder positively verified the statement made by Teresa King that Soeder was in the saloon drinking with her an hour after the time the murder is supposed to have been committed.

The King woman has not yet been brought face to face with Soeder, and says that she never knew him by that name. None of the girls knew him as Soeder. Teresa King introduced Cannon to Soeder at the latter's request for some one to do something for him.

ALIBI BOBBING UP.

Soeder's friends have already begun to form his line of defense. Yesterday evening two men called at the office of Attorney Salomon, in the Parrott building, and said they would be ready when the time came to swear that Soeder was elsewhere than in the neighborhood in which the crime was committed at the time that Blaise is supposed to have been killed.

The men did not see Salomon, but left word with his clerk that they would return in the morning and tell their story. The men are believed to be Joseph Rose and Thomas Thompson, whom Alexander Campbell, who is acting with Salomon for Soeder, has been depending in the Police Court. Yesterday their cases, the nature of which is not known, came up for hearing in Judge Cabaniss' court and a continuance was granted for ten days at the request of Campbell. The continuance papers merely stated that for good and sufficient reasons the case would go over. The papers were signed by John Greif, County Clerk.

Campbell made the statement that Rose and Thompson were needed for the defense in the Soeder hearing, which comes off a week from to-day. It is believed that the attorneys expect to disprove by Rose and Thompson some of the evidence that has been gathered against Soeder by the police.

KNOWN IN THE DIVES.

Soeder was well known among the people who infest the low dives, dance halls and saloons along Barbary Coast. Kate Edington, known as "Spanish Kitty," proprietress of the Strassburg dance hall at 90 1/2 Kearny street, has known Soeder for fourteen years. She told yesterday of his pulling a revolver on her in her dance hall about a week before the murder of Blaise was committed.

"I know the man well and immediately recognized him by the pictures published in the papers," she said. "I have known him for fourteen years. He used to go with a woman whom the girls in the dance halls knew by the name of 'Spot.' He was always to be found around the saloons and halls in this part of town."

"About a week before the murder Soeder, Blaise and another man came into the dance hall. They got three of the girls and proceeded to order drinks. They had been here but a few minutes when Soeder wanted the girls to go out with them. When I refused to allow this he became very angry and used the vilest language. I ordered him out of the house and as he backed up the stairs I followed him to see that he left. While he was on the stairs he drew a gun and pointing it at me said 'I've a good mind to kill you.' I ran back into the dance hall and got a couple of men. When they went out to get Soeder he was gone. I did not complain to the police because the drawing of a gun is of frequent occurrence here."

"That was the last I saw of Soeder," BLAISE HAD NO MONEY.

"I know that Blaise was with him. For I recognized his picture which was shown me after he was dead. I have a very good memory of faces. Blaise seemed to be frightened at the actions of Soeder and did not utter a word. He had come into the hall before with Soeder, but never bought a drink. I never saw him display any money and do not believe the poor fellow had a cent."

"Spot," with whom Soeder used to go, was found in the Cascade saloon and dance hall at 513 Pacific street. She said her name was Maria McDonald, and she professed not to remember Soeder.

The police are still working along the lines that a conspiracy existed between Soeder and others to kill Blaise after they had taken out all the insurance on his life that they were able. Chief Wittman has received more telegrams and cablegrams from insurance companies in the East and Europe. These messages tell of the existence of an insurance swindling ring in this city.

THE HUMOROUS SIDE OF A REVOLUTION

Colombian General Needed Milk to Screw His Courage Up to the Fighting Point.

The latest revolution in Colombia had many farcical features. One of the funniest of these was the incident of the general who would not fight without his milk. General Perez was in command of the Government troops at Cali. One day news arrived that the Liberals had captured a neighboring town. Perez was ordered to start with his army at 7 o'clock next morning to attack them. He went to the barracks, made a patriotic speech to the soldiers and told them to parade at the appointed hour. Then he sauntered into the Hotel America, Cali's finest restaurant, and ordered coffee for $20 in the morning.

The troops were lined up at that hour outside the hotel and the general strutted to and fro, waiting for his coffee and telling everybody what terrible things he was going to do to the enemy. But a complication arose.

Perez had not been a general long, but he wanted milk in his coffee, whereas nine Colombians out of ten are content with black coffee. There was no milk. The cows are kept three or four hours' journey out of town, and, of course, milk cannot be kept over night in that tropical climate. The hotel folk figured that the milk could not arrive before 11 o'clock.

The general fumed and fretted. Some of his officers suggested that he had better start without the milk or the enemy would escape, but he said it was impossible to fight on black coffee. He sent a soldier post haste to fetch the milk and then another after him to hurry him up. Meanwhile the army stood in the broiling sun for hours, awaiting the order to march. It was nearly noon when the messengers returned.

"No milk," they reported.

"Caramba! Then I won't march till to-morrow."

"An general dismissed his men and would not go until next morning after his coffee au lait. Of course, when he reached his destination the Liberals had flown and he was deprived of his glorious victory by a miserable spoonful of milk.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

LEGAL INFORMATION FOR THE PEOPLE

Cicero's Exposition of the Distinction Between the Science and the Practice of Law.

In Cicero's "Treatise on the Laws" Marcus is asked by Atticus his opinion respecting the nature of law, and part of the answer is as follows: "We have had many great men in Rome, who have made it their profession to expound it to the people, and explain its doctrines and practice. But though they professed to be acquainted with its majestic theory, they were rather familiar with its minute technicalities. What can be grander or nobler than jurisprudence? or what can be more insignificant or quibbling than the practice of lawyers?—necessary as it is for the people. Not that I think that those who profess this profession are altogether ignorant of the principles of universal legislation; but they are far more attentive to civil law, which gives them a hold on the interest of the people. Are then the sublime and recondite principles of jurisprudence less necessary or less useful?"

Certainly not. . . . You ask me not to write treatises on the rights of common sewers and partition walls (stillicidium ac parietum), and to compose forms of stipulations and judgments. These have been already most diligently prepared by clerks in office, and are decidedly lower than the topics which you expect me to discuss. This is an eloquent expose of the distinction between law as a science and law as a practice. It would appear to many observers after a visit to our courts of to-day that our jurists are spending more time over the practice than the science of law, and hence that much of the moral grandeur and intellectual harmony of the latter is lost. Should we not be careful not to degrade the practice of law into a "mere art of casuistry and chicanery," which our lawyers elaborate, as Blackstone says, "With a skill the most amazingly artificial, but which serves no other purpose than to show the vast powers of the human intellect, however vainly or preposterously employed?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

Killed Eagle With Hoe.

Mrs. Matthew Stricker, wife of a Codding County farmer, killed a large eagle with a hoe. The bird attempted to steal a chicken and in striving to escape a dog it became entangled in a wire fence, where it was killed by the farmer's wife. The eagle was one of the largest ever captured in South Dakota, measuring about seven feet from tip to tip. It will be mounted and given a place of honor in the Stricker household.—Sioux Falls Tribune.

BLAIR FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Superintendent in New York Department of Charities Is Accused of Sharp Practice

AGED MAN IS THE VICTIM Official Is Declared to Have Swindled Robert Walmsey, a Former Merchant of This City

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Suit for restitution of property was brought today against George Blair, superintendent of the Bureau of Dependent Adults of the Department of Charities. In a bill of equity filed to-day in the United States Circuit Court it is alleged that Blair while superintendent, prior to his dismissal some months ago by former Commissioner Homer Folks, secured the transfer of cash and property amounting to about $25,000 from Robert Walmsey, an aged and mentally irresponsible man, to him, with an understanding that Blair should provide for Walmsey for the remainder of his life.

The bill further alleges that Blair, on getting this amount, failed to live up to the stipulation and that Walmsey, who was formerly a merchant of San Francisco, is now a pauper in Cincinnati, having been sent there by Blair.

Blair was dismissed by former Commissioner Folks, but the Court of Appeals decided that inasmuch as he was a veteran the dismissal was illegal. He took office again under the McClellan administration.

Delaware Pastor to Be Tried on Charge That He Incited a Mob to Lynch a Negro

DOVER, Del., Jan. 19.—The Newcastle Presbyterian decided to-day to try Rev. R. A. Elwood of Wilmington, Del., on charges in connection with the preaching of a sermon by him last June entitled "Should the Murderer of Helen Bishop Be Lynched?" The trial will take place in the Presbyterian church at Newcastle on February 2.

The complaint against Mr. Elwood is that the sermon so aroused the populace that the next night a mob gathered, stormed the Workhouse, took out George White, a negro, who confessed to having brutally murdered beautiful Helen Bishop, and burned him to death at the stake.

The new Springfield rifle is probably the most effective military arm in the world. At a distance of fifty feet it penetrates fifty-five one-inch pine boards placed one inch apart.

RESTORES GOOD FEELING PRESBYTERY TAKES ACTION

Colonial Secretary's Reference to Alaskan Boundary Decision Has Disturbing Effect

Sequel to the Burning at the Stake of the Fiend Who Murdered Miss Helen Bishop

LONDON, Jan. 19.—At the annual dinner to-night of the Canada Club, at which Lord Strathcona presided and where the guests included Sir James Ritchie, Lord Mayor of London; Lords Duncannon, Hillingdon and Litchfield, Sir Rivers Wilson and others, Colonial Secretary Lyttelton ruffled the feelings of the Canadians present by upholding in a speech Lord Chief Justice Alverstone's recent ruling in the Alaska boundary case.

The Duke of Marlborough, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, spoke a little later, and succeeded in restoring a better feeling. He recalled his visit to Canada, paid a tribute to the Canadians for the love of the late Queen Victoria and mentioned his personal experiences in South Africa, where, he said, he witnessed the bravery and resourcefulness of the Canadian troops.
