

FRAUD CHARGE MADE IN SUIT

Estate of Chicago Capitalist Is Subject of Sensational Action by His Daughter

WIDOW IS DEFENDANT

Relict of Thomas M. Jordan Is Accused of Sending a Short Allowance to Heir

CHICAGO, June 25.—A remarkable suit at law to determine the final disposition of the $500,000 estate of the late Thomas M. Jordan of the Chicago Board of Trade has been begun before Judge Marcus Kavanaugh in the Supreme Court.

The suit comes as an entire surprise to the widow of Jordan and the other heirs. It was brought by George C. Miln of London, once pastor of Unity Church in this city and later a Shakespearean actor, jointly with his wife, Louise Jordan Miln, who is a daughter of the dead Board of Trade man. Miln was the pupil successor of the Rev. Robert Collyer. His wife has made a name as an English novelist.

During the last week the Milns, with an English barrister, Henry Wellington Wack, have been in Chicago engaged in an examination of court records relating to the management of the estate in question by Mrs. Anne J. Jordan, widow of the capitalist.

Based on this investigation, sensational charges are to follow in the courts regarding an alleged attempt to deprive the Milns of their share of the Jordan estate allotted to the daughter by the will. In substance, the plaintiffs charge that for sixteen years the income from the Jordan estate has not been rightfully distributed, and the sums of money forwarded from Chicago to the daughter in London have been insignificant compared to those to which she was rightfully entitled.

STOCK MARKET VARIES LITTLE

Slight Change Results From Stand Against Reactionary Tendency of Friday

DEALINGS INDIFFERENT

To Curtailed Demand for Money in Trade Channels Listlessness Is Ascribed

NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock market made some stand early to-day against the reactionary tendency yesterday, but yielded at the close and showed small net losses for the day. The result is to leave the week's changes quite small. The dealings today were indifferent to the point of listlessness. A fractional rise in Union and Southern Pacific and a steady tone in the Wabashes, indicating the passing effect of the remission of interest on the debenture bonds, were the encouraging factors. The bank statement contained no great surprise, but it was entirely without stimulating effect. The increase in cash reserves was nearly in accord with calculations and brought them to a new high level. The $17,000,000 loan increase wants only to be repeated to bring them to a new high level. To-day's deposits of $1,143,314,000 exceed by over $11,000,000 the previous record made early last month just previous to the withdrawal of Government deposits from the banks for the Panama canal. Greatly curtailed demand for money in the channels of trade is a deduction from this condition of the money market. But growing discussion is given to the part played by bids for deposits by the banks and trust companies in causing this condition, and the soundness and healthfulness of the policy in such a money market as that existing at present.

The total sales of bonds, par value, were $1,847,000.

STOCKS CRAWL UP.
Prices of stocks have crept upward this week, slowly and somewhat laboriously. Business has been in small volume on the Stock Exchange and the fluctuations have been exceedingly narrow, but the tone of the market has been unmistakably firm, and the sentiment in the Wall street section has been more cheerful and hopeful over the new market. The market has been almost entirely free from pressure, and the small advances met little resistance in the way of selling to realize or bear attack. The news of the market has not been important and was decidedly unfavorable to values was accepted as further development of factors long recognized in the situation and considered in the operations for some time past. There has been a general disposition to feel that the worst of these developments is over. Underlying the stability of the market is the contentment felt with the condition of the crops and a conviction that, in the absence of some change in conditions, the country may feel secure of profitable harvests.

CONDITION UNCHANGED.
Reports from mercantile sources have not revealed any marked change in condition, but, while the lower level of activity is still manifest, there seems to be no progressive shrinkage. Reports of gross earnings of railroads show improvement for June thus far, the average earnings of all roads showing a good percentage of earnings over last year. An important factor in maintaining the firm tone of the week's market was the rise in United States securities. No very definite news of improvement in that trade was received to explain the buying of the stocks, but the rise was important to the whole market. So was the relaxation of the pressure on Southern Pacific, which has been bought on all occasions of weakness since the announcement of the preferred stock issue by bankers usually trusted with financial operations by the company.

Bond prices have moved upward during the week, with the exception of some of the speculative issues. United States new 4s registered have declined 1-8 per cent on call during the week.

JAPANESE SERVANT GIRLS BRING CRUELTY CHARGE

Allege That Mrs. Mary Judge, a Millionaire Widow of Salt Lake, Beats Them With Brooms.

SALT LAKE, June 25.—Mrs. Mary Judge, a millionaire widow of Salt Lake, is defendant in habeas corpus proceedings brought in the interest of two Japanese girls, servants in her household. The girls were brought from Japan by Mrs. Judge last year. At that time Mrs. Judge was detained by the customs officials at San Francisco, her baggage searched and the collection of duty on several thousand dollars' worth of silks enforced. The Japanese girls assert they are held virtually as slaves in the Judge home, are slapped repeatedly and without cause by members of the family and are beaten on the head with brooms. They are not permitted to receive visits from their countrymen and are not, they claim, allowed to leave the house.

One of them succeeded in throwing a note to a Japanese cook in a neighboring house two days ago and he caused the legal action to be taken. Mrs. Judge refuses to discuss the matter and permits no one to see the girls. A messenger with a note for the girls was forcibly ejected from the house and a special delivery letter was returned.

The case will be heard in the District Court Monday. Mrs. Judge is a heavy stockholder in the Silver King mine and owns much valuable Salt Lake real estate.

PERSONS AND ANIMALS
PROSTRATED BY HEAT

Four Spectators of Circus Parade and Twelve Horses in Pageant Succumb to Sun's Rays.

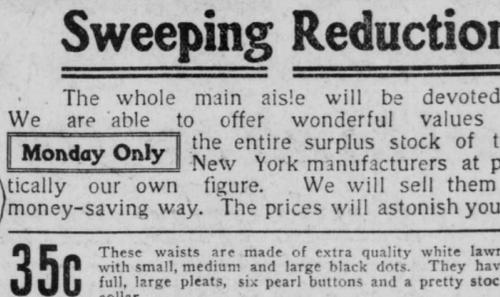

FINDLAY, Ohio, June 25.—During the parade of a circus here to-day, four spectators were prostrated by the heat.

Twelve horses in the procession fell and seven of the animals died.

Immense Summer Shirt Waist Carnival

Sweeping Reductions Made

The whole main aisle will be devoted to this Great Sale. We are able to offer wonderful values because we bought the entire surplus stock of three New York manufacturers at practically our own figure. We will sell them to you in the same money-saving way. The prices will astonish you, they are so very low.

Lot 2, 69c. These waists are made of extra quality white lawn; yoke effect, with three rows Mexican stitching; box pleats down the front has one row of Mexican stitching; the front has four large pleats, with cluster of sixteen tucks; has a pretty, fancy stock collar and extra large sleeves. The regular price is $1.25.

Lot 3, 79c. We show many styles at this price. This waist is made of the very best quality of white lawn with ten pleats in the front and four in the back. It has medallions and six fine pearl buttons; new crushed collar and very pretty sleeves and cuffs. Regular selling price is $1.50.

Lot 4, 89c. Most exquisite styles, made with yoke effect; has forty-two tucks, three rows of pleats and embroidery down the front; fancy stock collar and large sleeves; there are eight tucks in the back. The regular price is $1.75.

Lot 5, 98c. This is one of the handsomest styles shown; it has front yoke of thirty-two clusters of tucks, six pleats, three rows of embroidery and fancy collar; two pleats on each sleeve and four in the back. The regular price is $2.00.

Lot 6, $1.25. The drawing of these waists does not do them justice. They are so dainty and pretty as any ever shown. They are made of very finest lawn and the embroidery is of the choicest and most select patterns.

Lot 7, $1.45. Lot 8, $1.75. Lot 9, $1.95. Regular price $4.25. Among the styles and makes shown in this great sale are the popular Marquis, Knickerbocker, Griffon and Royal.

There are five beautiful styles at this price; the quality of materials and workmanship is extraordinarily good. The regular selling price is $2.75. There are about 500 waists in this lot, including four very new styles. They are patterned after the most expensive waists and are now the fad in the Eastern cities. These waists sell ordinarily for $3.25. Space will not permit description of the many styles to be found under this price. They can be depended upon to be absolutely correct and up-to-date in every particular. The waists in this lot cannot be bought for less than $3.75.

PARDEE AND HIS WIFE GUESTS OF LADY MANAGERS

Distinguished Californians Tendered Reception at House of Board on Exposition Grounds.

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—Governor and Mrs. Pardee of California were guests of honor yesterday afternoon at a reception given by the board of lady managers of the World's Fair in the board's house on the exposition grounds. The two distinguished Californians were received by Mrs. Daniel Manning, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Ernest, Mrs. Moores and Miss Egan, the only members of the board who are in the city. The other distinguished guests included Governor and Mrs. Odell of New York and General Bates and members of his staff, with all of whom the Californians exchanged warm greetings. A feature of the reception was the singing and playing of the University of California Glee and Mandolin Club.
