

BREWERY MEN WILL STRIKE

Decision Follows Closely Refusal of Employers to Give Them Increased Pay

TO QUIT WORK TO-DAY

Drivers and the Stablenmen Receive Concessions in Hours and Wage Scale

At a meeting of the Brewery Workers' Union, held last night at 1159 Mission street, it was decided to go out on a strike this morning.

This decision was the result of a refusal of the Brewers' Protective Association earlier in the day to grant the demand of the union for an increase of $2 a week in wages of men employed inside the breweries.

At the meeting of the association yesterday afternoon the troubles between the employers and their men were carefully discussed, and it was finally decided to make a number of concessions to the drivers and stablenmen, the former being granted $2 increase in pay and the stablenmen a decrease of an hour in their daily labor. The demand of the inside men was positively refused. The action of the employers was generally expected and they have already anticipated a strike in consequence by laying in a large supply of beer. It was stated last evening that the employers were prepared to close the breweries for several months.

The following officers were installed last night by the Tent and Awning Makers' Union: President, J. F. Beal; vice president, M. Anderson; recording secretary, Miss L. Lang; treasurer, T. Pemberty; trustees, E. A. M. Gilbert, John Oates and William Ralph.

MOORS FIRE UPON HOUSE OF ENGLISHMAN NEAR TANGIER

Mohammed El Torres, the Foreign Minister, Sends Guard to Protect Subject of King Edward.

TANGIER, July 18.—The isolated residence of an Englishman named Levison at Bubana, two miles outside of Tangier, was fired on ineffectually by Moors last night. Mohammed El Torres, the Foreign Minister, has sent a guard to protect Levison.

PARIS, July 18.—Foreign Minister Delcasse received Ion Perdicaris this afternoon and conferred lengthily with him on the situation in Morocco. M. Perdicaris expressed his thanks for the French efforts leading up to his release from captivity and urged the necessity for energetic action toward Morocco.

FILES SUIT TO PREVENT SALE OF HER SHARES

Woman Is Granted Temporary Injunction Against the San Jose Land Company.

SAN JOSE, July 18.—Mrs. M. V. Turney was to-day granted a temporary injunction against the San Jose Land and Exhibit Company, owner of Agri-cultural Park, from selling her stock in the corporation. She asserts that the assessment is illegal and unnecessary and is made solely to take money from the shareholders and put it into the pockets of certain directors of the company. On information and belief she asserts that the officers have conspired with J. W. Rea & Co. by which unjust claims have been allowed to the latter. She also asserts that no time books of account have been kept.

CARROTS' WOES BRING NO TEARS

Miss Barrymore Plays Boy in Naive and Graceful Fairy Tale of the Stage

ADDS TO HER LAURELS

"The Prisoner of Zenda" Wins Applause for Whittlesey and Company at Alcazar

To the error of imagining that "Carrots" preceded "Cousin Kate" last night at the Columbia, I had the pleasure of seeing through again Mr. Davis' fascinating comedy—this just to say that enjoyable as was one's first evening with "Cousin Kate," only a second gives one the full value of the wit, grace and abounding fancy of the play.

And the contrast is one to be grateful for. Miss Barrymore, charming woman of the world, as the curtain rings down on "Cousin Kate," reappears as a slim, red-headed youth in "Carrots." "Carrots," too, is different. It is a little French playlet by Jules Renard, produced first at Antoine's Theater in Paris, and transplanted here last season with amiable success by Miss Barrymore. As Miss Barrymore herself says, "nothing happens" in the play.

A child's desperate unhappiness—an unloving mother the cause, the father's discovery of his sorrow, with the father's confession to the boy of his own grief and of the mother's unhappiness, is all of it. But how charmingly the little story is told, with all the delicacies, subtle reserves, luminous suggestions of a De Maupassant. A new maid arrives at the Lepics. "Carrots" is weeding in the garden. His father has invited him to go shooting, to his deep delight. His naive directions to the maid put one then in rapport with the neglected boy's position. "Everybody cannot be an orphan," he laments. The mother, nagging and self-tormented, then appears, explaining further the situation. She wants "Carrots" to do things, run errands—anything to prevent his going shooting with his father. She further compels him to say that he does not wish to go. But almost a witness of both scenes, explains the boy's apparent caprice to the father. Then the boy timidly unfolds his sorrows—how he has twice tried to commit suicide, how he wishes to run away from home. The father's explanations follow and how the two decide to bear the thing together is then most gracefully told.

Perhaps Miss Barrymore does not altogether realize "Carrots" for one. As a picture, gray-bloused and auburn-haired, she is perfect, the Boutel de Monvel sort of thing. Ah, yes! It is something of the Boutel de Monvel sort of thing one gets in the acting—the flat tint, the simple line, the decorative quality. One is not impressed by Carrots' sorrows as living sorrows, but rather as by a lovely tale of sorrow. One gets almost a Yeats' witness of footness from every-day life in the play. It is as a fairy tale read, and exquisitely illustrated, that it impresses, and Miss Barrymore's elusive and poetic handling of the part enforces the illusion. In the same carefully unemotional vein is the rest of the acting. Fanny Addison Pitt is the mother, and a very stonemother of fairy tale in her conception of acting. Bruce McCrae in his acting of the father is quietly sufficient, and Miss Agnew is a charming little maid. Those who do not see "Carrots" will miss very much a peculiar and delightful pastel.

BLANCHE PARTINGTON.

ALCAZAR

"The Prisoner of Zenda," a dramatization of Anthony Hope's famous novel, was presented at the Alcazar last night with White Whittlesey in the star part. The production was splendidly staged and the Alcazar stock company showed itself at its best. Although it was the first night the performance carried through without a hitch, and the repeated rounds of applause and curtain calls attested the audience's appreciation of the work and the players. Whittlesey, in his double role of the King of Ruritania and the young Englishman, had an excellent opportunity to display his talents, and he made the most of it. Howard Scott as usual was cast as the villain and carried out his part in a manner which would have won him rounds of hisses and jeers on the other side of Market street. As the Princess Flavia Juliet Crosby won considerable applause, and after the second act was presented with many flowers. The quartet, which rendered a number of choice melodies during the evening, is one of the features of the performance that deserves special mention. All the members of the company do well and the play should have a good run. "Rupert of Hentzau" will follow.

Central.

The Central scored a tremendous hit last night with the Irish historical drama of "Robert Emmet." The house was a record-breaker in point of attendance and there was never a more enthusiastic audience than the one that thundered its applause at the close of the thrillingly patriotic scenes, or made the big theater ring with its plaudits when the dancers went through the lively, rollicking movements of the exhilarating Irish jigs and reels. The play is elaborately mounted and the cast a strong one. Herschel Mayall has never read lines better than he did those of the title role. He had the full sympathy of the house. George P. Webster, as Father Driscoll, made the most of a strongly effective part, and Elmer Booth as Barney McGinn furnished a treat in the line of Irish comedy. Eugene Thais Lawton had the tearful role of the daughter of Curran and Edna Ellmers appeared as an Irish maiden and sang an Irish melody very sweetly. Lawrence Griffith had the thankless part of a cruel British officer, and Ernest Howell carried down the wrath of the gallery by his faithful impersonation of a hated Irish informer. But the dancing in the Irish

CHUTES

Emma Cotrelly and Antonio van Goffe, a strong woman and man who present feats of balancing and a number of beautiful poses, were at the Chutes yesterday and made hits at both performances. Fred Leslie's trained pigs showed what could be accomplished by a little patience with an ordinary "porker." Belle and Lotta Tobin, the accomplished instrumentalists, changed their selections. Brandon and Wiley, the clever colored couple, varied their act, and Hershel Stein, the convoyous barytone, was heard in new illustrated songs. Belle Gordon, the expert bag puncher, and the animatroscope, showing some very interesting moving pictures, including the Russian troops on march through Manchuria, completed a capital programme. The amateurs will appear on Thursday night.

HEAT CAUSING MANY DEATHS

Great Suffering Continues. Prostrations Are Numerous in Cities of the East

HOPE OF PEACE GONE

Vatican Realizes That Dissolution of the Concordat Is Now Absolutely Certain

CHICAGO, July 18.—This was the third day of the present heated term and while the mercury only reached 92, two degrees less than yesterday, the number of prostrations was greater. There were six deaths during the day and twenty prostrations.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—The hot wave continues in this section. Four prostrations were reported to the police to-day. The mercury hovered between 90 and 95 degrees. Otto Menges, a Milwaukee architect, died at Fredonia, Wis., from sunstroke and an unknown man died in this city after being overcome by the heat.

DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—A number of cases of heat prostration were reported here to-day. The case of A. T. Smith, a well known contractor, resulted fatally. The maximum temperature was 95 degrees.

PITTSBURG, July 18.—The excessive heat of the past forty-eight hours was broken to-day by a heavy thunderstorm, which prevailed throughout Pittsburg and nearby towns. During the extreme heated period many prostrations and five deaths were reported.

CLEVELAND, July 18.—One death and four prostrations had been reported to the police up to midnight as a result of the heat to-day. Two of the latter are serious. The maximum temperature recorded by the Government thermometer was 89 degrees.

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—Two deaths and another serious prostration resulted to-day from the heat.

OTHER CRIMES ARE CHARGED TO KENDALL

Alleged Diamond Thief Arrested at Stockton Is Taken East, but Companion Remains.

STOCKTON, July 18.—To-night Sheriff H. H. Whitlock rushed Henry J. Kendall aboard the overland train and left for Danville, Ill., where the prisoner will have to answer two or three charges of robbery and embezzlement. He has been making a determined fight to secure his release but failed to have his case dismissed before the Eastern officer arrived. Mrs. Sabin-Brown, who claims Kendall is her husband, is still in the city. The pair are accused of stealing many valuable diamonds and a large sum of money.

Kendall was brought back from the East to Indianapolis by Whitlock. He then jumped his bail and came to Stockton. Mrs. Sabin was identified by Mrs. Fannie Moal, of a Chicago company bearing her name. Mrs. Moal declares that Mrs. Sabin embezzled the diamonds from her as well as from other Chicago women.

MEN ARE PUT ON HALF TIME.

Lack of Demand for Coal Causes Idleness in Ohio Collieries.

CLEVELAND, O., July 18.—Owing to the lack of demand at the coal mines in the Eighth Ohio District, which are largely owned by Cleveland operators, the men have been put on half time. Eight thousand are affected by the curtailment of operations.

The action of the operators in cutting in half their production is the result of an almost unprecedented stagnation in business. Shutdowns are not confined to this district alone, but are extending to other districts of the State. In no district does there appear to be a demand for coal. The bins are full at the mines and a complete suspension of operations is said to be almost inevitable unless the market receives an early stimulation.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS GET INCREASE OF PAY

New Salary Schedule Just Put Into Effect Applies From the First of July.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The new salary schedule for rural mail carriers has been completed. The new schedule applies from July 1. The last Congress recommended the maximum salary to be increased to $700 a year, from $600. It was found that the maximum route was twenty-four miles long and that carriers on routes of this length, numbering about 12,000, the maximum salary will be paid. The salaries of carriers on routes shorter than the maximum was fixed by deducting $18 for each mile less than twenty-four.

kitchen, to the music of Irish bagpipes and fiddles, caught the audience better than all else. The Central has the champion Gaelic dancers of the coast in this part of the programme, and they responded to half a dozen encores. Messrs. Kelleher and O'Connell, the three Allen sisters and Miss Coyne are exponents of the art of Irish dancing whose equals it were difficult to find.

WANTS DAMAGES FOR SON'S DEATH.

REDDING, July 18.—John H. Hixon has brought suit in the Superior Court of this county against Lamoine Lumber and Trading Company, at the head of which is State Senator Clifford Coggin, for $10,000 damages, for the death of his son, who was killed on October 13 last, while in the employ of the defendant corporation. The son, John Hixon Jr. who was twenty years of age, was employed as fireman on the donkey engine when one of the cables broke and struck the boy, causing injuries that proved fatal the next day.

FIRM ATTITUDE TOWARD FRANCE

Pope Pius Is Determined to Compel the Obedience of the Bishop of Laval

NEED RECALLS SAD TRAGEDY

Story of Brutal Deed of Twenty-Nine Years Ago Retold Through Poverty

ROME, July 18.—From the highest source it is learned that the Vatican's view of the situation between the Holy See and France is as follows: The Pope regards the dissolution of the concordat by France as absolutely certain. The pretext is that the Holy See, before the visit of President Loubet to Rome, called upon Bishop Gray of Laval to resign. He refused and was summoned to Rome to answer the gravest charges. The Bishop appealed to the French Government, which claimed that the Holy See was infringing on the concordat, but as the Bishop had not been punished, Foreign Minister Delcasse acknowledged that the Vatican was within its rights.

The Pontiff is firmly decided to proceed with the case of the Bishop, who, if he is not in Rome on the 28th instant, will be suspended.

MAKE WISH PLAIN.

Orange County Republicans Emphasize Indorsement of Bard.

SANTA ANA, July 18.—In view of the controversy that has arisen as to the action of the Orange County Republican Convention held in this city last Saturday, with reference to the candidacy of Senator Thomas R. Bard, whether it did or did not indorse, the exact wording of the resolution adopted was to-night given to the Associated Press. It reads: "Resolved, That, speaking in the name of the Republicans of Orange County, this convention declares its choice for United States Senator to be Hon. Thomas R. Bard, the distinguished incumbent. His high character, long and useful career in public and private pursuits, his tried integrity, his proved Republicanism, his present advantageous official position, his stronghold upon the popular heart makes him, in our judgment, the most available candidate of the south and of the State."

Sierra County Elects Delegates.

DOWNIEVILLE, July 18.—The Republican County Committee to-day elected the following delegates to State and district conventions: J. W. Finley, W. F. Eschbacher, Elias Squier, John W. Keyes. The candidacy of Hon. John B. Irish for State Senator was endorsed and the delegates instructed for him.

COLORED TROOPERS CAUSE A SENSATION

Cavalrymen Chagrined at Being Ruled Off at Maneuvers Charge the Infantry.

TACOMA, July 18.—During the army maneuvers at Stellacoom, after Troop E, Ninth Cavalry (colored), had been ruled out of action by the umpires, they charged on the Washington troops and Nineteenth Infantry in their front and with drawn sabers slashed right and left among the infantry, creating a reign of terror for a few minutes. During the melee three members of the Second Washington and one regular were more or less seriously injured. The victims of the charge are only slightly cut.

WANT NO DYNAMITE UNLOADED IN TOWN

Auburn Officials Object to the Careless Handling of Explosives in City Limits.

AUBURN, July 18.—Railroad officials were here to-day to look into the matter of the protest of Mayor Morgan against the unloading of dynamite powder within the city limits. On Saturday last a car containing fifteen tons of dynamite blasting powder was put on the switch and let drop down on another car, and the whole end of the car was smashed in. As dynamite is exploded by concussion it is the greatest miracle that it did not go off. Had this occurred there would be little left of the town.

RAISE ASSESSMENT ON PARKER WHITNEY'S LANDS

Placer County's Supervisors Make an Exception of the Millionaire's Grazing Property.

AUBURN, July 18.—The Supervisors to-day, sitting as a Board of Equalization, stood by County Assessor Mitchell and refused to make any reductions in his assessments. They did, however, raise the assessment of J. Parker Whitney, the multi-millionaire, $20,000 on his sheep lands. Whitney's attorney entered vigorous protest, but Whitney had refused to pay his sheep license and was therefore not in very high favor with the board. Placer's total assessment is $9,927,000, an increase of $250,000 over last year.

A LIFE OF SUFFERING

Relief of Ex-Rev. Thomas Crossley Lies Ill and Seeks Aid of Friends

A sad case of distress, brought before the Congregational Ministers' Association yesterday, reopens one of the most sensational tragedies that have ever taken place in San Francisco.

The story of the illness and the need of Mrs. E. J. Nelson of 526 Natoma street came before the clergymen and it was remembered that she was formerly the wife of the ex-Rev. Thomas Crossley of the Congregational denomination, who twenty-nine years ago, after shooting her down, shot and took his own life.

Mrs. Nelson's life has been one of almost perpetual gloom, for scarcely from the time of the tragedy has a rift occurred in the clouds which would allow a ray of sunshine to warm or cheer her moments.

There are many in the city to-day familiar with the dread details of the crime. The ex-minister coaxed his wife, who had separated from him, to visit him at his apartments on Howard street on the pretense that he wished to see his child. His conduct had been such that a perfect reconciliation was impossible. However, Crossley implored his young wife to return to him, although he realized and admitted the enormity of the offense which caused the parting between them.

She told him that reconciliation was out of the question in view of the circumstances. Again he pleaded, but so humiliated and distressed was the suffering woman that again she rejected any offer of remaining under the same roof with him, upon which Crossley drew a revolver, and aiming it directly at his wife, shot her in the temple, and to-day part of the bullet remains imbedded in her forehead, and the hand with which she protected her head is crippled.

With her at the time of the tragedy was the infant, and when the neighbors and police broke into the room they found the child on the floor near the lifeless body of its father, playing with the watch he had placed in its hand prior to doing the shooting. The child died some years after the occurrence.

A subsequent marriage to E. J. Nelson did not turn out quite happy for the unfortunate woman. By that marriage she had a daughter, Miss Grace Nelson, who, although in very delicate health, strives to maintain the neat little home on Natoma street.

Mrs. Nelson has been doing fancy needlework and has also been occupied as a canvasser, but never having recovered from the shooting, she has at last broken down completely, although with nutrition, rest and freedom from the fear of losing their home she may recover her strength.

Miss Carrie Hodge, a deaconess of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been doing all in her power to sustain the stricken woman. Yesterday two members of the Central Methodist Church, Mrs. A. H. Staubridge and Mrs. E. Metcalf, were the good Samaritans who called and sat by Mrs. Nelson's bedside.

The Congregational ministers appointed the Rev. John A. Hollars, pastor of the Bethlehem Congregational Church, to act in the matter without delay.

HEAD OF A GREAT STATE HOSPITAL

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Own Family As a Catarrhal Tonic.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Dr. J. F. Ensor, Postmaster of Columbia, S. C., late Superintendent and Physician in charge of State Insane Asylum at Columbia, S. C., writes: "After using your Peru-na myself for a short period, and my family having used and are now using the same with good results, and upon the information of others who have been benefited by it as a cure for catarrh and an invigorating tonic, I can cheerfully recommend it to all persons requiring so effective a remedy."—Dr. J. F. Ensor.

Hon. C. W. Butts, ex-Member of Congress from North Dakota, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says: "That Peru-na is not only a vigorous, as well as an effective tonic, but also a cure of catarrh is beyond controversy. It is already established by its use by the thousands who have been benefited by it. I cannot too highly express my appreciation of its excellence."—C. W. Butts.

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes: "Peru-na is the best medicine I know of for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Beside prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to prescribe your Peru-na. I hope you may live long to do good to the sick and suffering.

Only the weak need a tonic. People are never weak except from some good cause. One of the obscure causes of weakness and the one oftentimes overlooked is catarrh.

Catarrh inflames the mucous membrane and causes the blood plasma to escape through the mucous membrane in the form of mucus. This discharge of mucus is the same as the loss of blood. It produces weakness.

Peru-na stops the catarrh and prevents the discharge of mucus. This is why Peru-na is called a tonic. Peru-na does not give strength by stimulating the nervous system a little.

It gives strength by preserving the mucous membranes against leakage.

It gives strength by converting the blood fluids and preventing their draining away in mucous discharges.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Peru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peru-na is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peru-na does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peru-na has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peru-na contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

CALIFORNIA MUST SUPPLY THE EAST WITH PRUNES

Crop in Washington and Oregon Reported by Experts to Be a Total Failure.

TACOMA, Wash., July 18.—Washington's prune crop this year is destined to be almost a total failure, according to advices reaching the trade. P. F. Kelley, an expert, estimates the crop at about one-tenth of what it was last season. Several statements have been made during the past month that the season was an exceptionally poor one for the prune growers, but the extent of the depreciation in the output was not definitely known until within a few days.

The condition of the fruit at this time, however, is claimed to make a one-tenth estimate a conservative one. Kelley says: "In Clarke County, where last year the output was between 150 and 160 cars, it is probably that the evaporators will not even be operated this season. The shortage, so far as we are able to tell, applies to the entire State and to Oregon. When the trees first blossomed the pollen fell off prematurely for some unknown reason and to this cause is assigned the failure of the crop."

Heretofore whole trainloads of Clarke County prunes have been shipped each season to the Eastern markets, which must this year depend almost wholly on California for their supply.

British Government Assures Russia That No Attempt Will Be Made to Obtain Control of Land.

LONDON, July 18.—War Secretary Brodrick said in the House of Commons to-day that, with a view of preventing a misunderstanding, the Government informed Russia at the beginning of June of its policy in regard to Tibet, and, so long as no other powers attempted to intervene in the affairs of Tibet, Great Britain would not attempt either to annex Tibet or to establish a protectorate over that country for the control of its internal administration.

BRIDGE ALMOST BURNS

REDDING, July 18.—As J. W. Shoonover, head accountant at Captain de Lamar's mining and smelting plant at Bully Hill, and wife started to cross the bridge that spans the Sacramento River at this place they found the structure on fire. The flames had not got very great headway when they were extinguished and an expensive bridge saved. The cause of the fire is unknown.
