Japan Determined to Crush Kuropatkin

Engagement Will Be Fought Near Mukden

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The trend of the view of the morning newspapers on the war in the Far East is that General Kuropatkin's arrival at Mukden does not solve the problem of his retreat. "Where will Kuropatkin stop?" is what is asked here.

The Daily Telegraph holds that the latest developments are merely the prelude to the "colossal conflict looming in the future."

Most of the English critics look for a repetition of the Liaoyang battle at Tielhing, or in that neighborhood. "Scarcely any London newspapers believe that Kuropatkin has brought the bulk of his forces with him to Mukden. It is pointed out that neither side is likely to risk the desperation of the imperial tombs by a pitched battle at Mukden, the cradle of all good Manchus, it is believed, will be respected from motives of policy by both the belligerents, though a comparatively pacific occupation of it by the Japanese is forecast to occur within a few days.

The Standard voices the very prevalent idea, namely, that the continued Japanese silence bodes ill for the Russians.

The Morning Post, though confessedly unable to sum up the situation, owing to the absence of Japanese official reports, believes that General Kuropatkin may have crossed the Hun River to the east of Mukden. Other critics prophesy that the Japanese will occupy Mukden or Tielhing as a winter base.

The Daily Telegraph's Seoul correspondent says there is an unconfirmed report that the Japanese have landed several fresh divisions of troops in the vicinity of Posiet Bay, cutting off the retreat of the Russians in Northeastern Korea.

CLAIMS KOREA IS FREE.

Seoul Diplomat Says Japan Acts Only In an Advisory Capacity.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Korean Charge d'Affaires here to-day said that the "malicious construction" placed in some quarters on the recently concluded agreement between Japan and Korea, to the effect that Japan was establishing a protectorate over Korea, was absolutely untrue. He said Korea welcomed the appointment of Japanese financial and diplomatic advisers, but that they are under no obligation to them as advisers, as in the case of J. M. McLeavy Brown, the chief commissioner of Korean customs.

JAPAN BUYS STEEL PLATES.

Places a Large Order With the Carnegie Company at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—Agents of the Japanese Government to-day closed a contract with the Carnegie Steel Company for an order of 7,500 tons of the finest grade nickel steel plates. The plates are for use on Japanese battleships. The order will keep the 84 and the 184 inch mills of the Homestead plant busy for three months.

China Opens Kinchou to Trade.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Chief correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that China has declared Kinchou open to foreign trade. Kinchou is the capital of the province of Liaohsi, on the main road from Newchwang to Peking.

Russians Intrenching at Tielhing.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—Chinese reports are to the effect that thousands of Chinese are being forced to construct earthworks at Tielhing, where General Kuropatkin will make his next stand.

BERKELEY, Sept. 7.—Randolph Monro, a schoolboy, saved his chum, Lloyd Bradley, from death to-day. The latter's donkey became frightened and he would have been killed but for the timely interference of Monro.

DR. PIERCE'S REMEDY.

The American Farmer the Best in the World.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. Here in the States the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $20,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shrivel up the red blood corpuscles. Its extractive, made of herbs and roots, it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—this is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity.

Dr. Pierce's "Medical Adviser" sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 21 cent stamps for book in pocket volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SUCCEEDS VON PLEHWE.

Russians Halt the Selection of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.—Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky has been selected to succeed the late Von Plehwe as Minister of the Interior.

The Prince is a military officer of the rank of general. Formerly he was Governor of Penza and Ekaterinoslav and occupied the post of chief of the gendarmes and Assistant Minister of the Interior under the late M. Siplaguine. He is 47 years old and is considered an able man. He has not been identified with harsh measures and his appointment probably will be hailed as the inauguration of a mild regime.

SELLS STEAMSHIPS TO RUSSIA.

James J. Hill Disposes of Two Monitor Vessels.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—From a trustworthy source The Call has received information that two of the biggest steam vessels ever built on this side of the Atlantic—the Minnesota and the Dakota—had been sold by J. J. Hill to the Russian Government.

Samuel Holmes, the well known shipbuilder, is said to have received a commission of $25,000 for conducting the sale. He admitted as much to-night, although Hill made a denial.

KUROPATKIN REACHES MUKDEN.

There is little news from the Far East, either from Russian or Japanese sources. For the world watchers of the great tragedy the curtain has been dropped and all is conjecture. Not even an expression of opinion comes from Japanese sources, but from St. Petersburg it is indicated that the authorities are confident the critical stage of the Russian retreat is past and that Kuropatkin no longer is in danger of losing any part of his forces to the pursuing Japanese. The Russian commander has arrived at Mukden, and it is given out in St. Petersburg that the bulk of his army is near there, while a dispatch from Mukden, filed on Thursday, says that the main Russian army is pushing northward and evacuating that place. It is indicated that the Japanese are still harassing the Russian rear. Further than this nothing is known. An absolute news silence prevails.

Russian General Staff Confident That the Manchurian Army Is Out of Danger.

ST. PETERSBURG, Thursday, Sept. 8, 2:02 a. m.—The General Staff is not displaying great anxiety over the alarmist reports that General Kuropatkin is in serious danger of being cut off, but if they had any information from the front on Wednesday they have not revealed it. The members also decline to say, even if they know, whether General Kuropatkin proposes taking his army north of Mukden. An officer of the General Staff said last night:

"I believe it is safe to say that General Kuropatkin's army is now out of danger. Our advice since Monday indicate that the fighting is of an insignificant character and I do not believe that the tired Japanese troops are capable of seriously threatening the line of retreat. The greatest difficulty our army is now having to contend with is the terrible roads, owing to the rain of Monday and Tuesday.

"Our information is that the bulk of the baggage has already passed through Mukden. This is the usual procedure in case of any retreat."

Kuropatkin's movements, after all, must depend chiefly on the tactics of the Japanese, with whom lies the initiative. If the Japanese continue to press northward in the hope of cutting off the Russians and bringing them to bay, then Kuropatkin will be obliged to move northward to circumvent them. But both armies already are terribly exhausted and if they again come into grip the result will depend largely upon which of them is able to throw the most fresh reserves into the fight.

If there is a race northward it is apparent that the greatest danger will come at the narrow defile of Tielhing, north of Mukden, but the authorities seem fairly well satisfied with the situation and are confident of its ultimate outcome.

RECOVERING FROM FRIGHT.

St. Petersburg Press Cheered by Latest News From the Front.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.—As the Russian newspapers begin to realize more fully the catastrophe which General Kuropatkin averted in Liaoyang and the skillful manner in which he upset Field Marshal Oyama's plan to surround the Russian army, they take a more cheerful view of the result and are beginning to bestow upon Kuropatkin great praise.

It is now apparent that Oyama's purpose in pressing the Russian positions in front of Liaoyang was to hold Kuropatkin's attention while the Japanese right wing was thrust around the Russian rear to block the Russian line of retreat. But Kuropatkin, at its very inception, had his eyes upon this flanking movement, and countered by early withdrawing his main army to the right bank of the Taite River, changing his front to meet and hold General Kuropatkin in check while General Zaroubaieff's corps at Liaoyang crossed, burning the bridges behind him and placing the river between him and General Oku.

Both the Russian and Japanese accounts seem to agree in saying that until the withdrawal of the main Russian army from Liaoyang commenced, Kuropatkin had beaten off the Japanese assaults in front of Liaoyang and that the Russian commander-in-chief's first movement against Kuroki also was measurably successful.

No further details of the losses suffered by the Russians during the ten days' fighting have been received. How long the roll of casualties ultimately will be can be estimated by the official report of the number of officers killed or wounded between August 26 and August 31 in a single division. This division, that of General Kondratsvitch, which is under General Zaroubaieff, and which formed part of the Russian right below Liaoyang, lost twelve officers killed, thirty-five wounded and one missing.

CHINESE GROW RESTLESS.

Become More Anti-Russian as the Japanese Advance.

MUKDEN, Sept. 7.—A correspondent has just arrived here after a journey covering a distance of 120 miles, from Sintsintin, east of Mukden, and says that during the latter part of his journey he could hear the fighting at Liaoyang. The correspondent says:

"The whole country is aflame with the wildest and most contradictory rumors. The principal interest in the situation is in the fact that the Chinese population is becoming more anti-Russian with the advance of the Japanese army.

"Mukden itself is overcrowded and it is almost impossible to get food or a place to sleep. Everywhere there is the greatest uproar and confusion and many families are leaving in the direction of Harbin. The soldiers, however, are not at all disheartened as the result of the fight and they say that the Japanese losses are so tremendous as to seriously weaken them. They declare that they have made the Japanese pay infinitely more for Liaoyang than it was worth."

"The Mikado has congratulated the forces on their brilliant victory in the face of tremendous difficulties, adding that the end of the war is still in the distant future and exhorting care and patience.

RETREATING SLAVS IN PERIL.

Part of Kuropatkin's Army May Be Cut Off by Pursuers.

MUKDEN, Tuesday, Sept. 6.—Part of the Russian army which is coming to Mukden by the wagon road is in danger of being cut off. All day and night on Monday the Japanese in the hills on the east road shelled the Russian troops. In one instance the Japanese infantry attacked a large force of Russian infantry and artillery which had taken to the hills, running parallel to the Japanese in protecting the flank of the retreating army.

Troops, guns and transports are pouring into Mukden by train and road. Considerable transport was left behind.

The roads are in a frightful condition, owing to the heavy rain Monday. The main Russian army, pushing northward, evacuating Mukden.

Brave Port Arthur Garrison Again Victorious.

Japanese Driven From Captured Positions.

CHEFU, Sept. 7.—It is now apparent that the heavy fighting reported by numerous Chinese refugees as having occurred before Port Arthur between August 27 and 31 occurred chiefly on the first two days mentioned, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fighting in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. As has been previously reported in these dispatches, the Japanese troops retired from nearly all points on the morning of August 31.

The Novi Krai of August 31 devotes considerable space to an account of a small Russian reconnaissance which started from Palungshan and reached a point near Shushiyen without encountering any Japanese. Returning to their own lines on the night of the 29th, this party came upon a trench in an open field garrisoned by a solitary Japanese soldier, who abandoned his rifle and fled upon seeing the Russians. The Russians captured some trenching tools, but they discovered the Japanese in force behind a barrier thrown across the Mandarin road and returned swiftly to the fortress.

Another reconnoitering party found the Japanese vanguard trenches at Shushiyen to be unoccupied. The Russians remained in the trenches a while and presently discovered a company of Japanese troops. There was an exchange of rifle fire, during which a number of the Japanese, who had been surprised, were killed. The remainder retired.

On the evening of the 29th the Japanese opened a heavy fire from Fort No. 3 and other points, directing their larger guns chiefly at the Russian positions on a hill called the Small Eagle's Nest. At Shushiyen the Japanese removed the roofs from a number of Chinese houses, strongly constructed of mud and stone, and converted them into excellent redoubts.

At 9 o'clock of the evening of the 29th a Russian regiment made a sudden onslaught on the Japanese trenches and at the point of the bayonet the Japanese were forced back to redoubt No. 2. The Russians were unable to proceed farther than this redoubt because of the fierce fire poured in upon them by the Japanese. According to the comment by the Novi Krai this redoubt had evidently been greatly strengthened during the previous night. On the east flank the remainder of the night of the 29th was quiet. Nothing occurred on the west flank during the night of the 29th.

On the morning of August 30 Russian artillery dispersed a small body of Japanese cavalry.

A Japanese torpedo-boat recently fired on the Tiger's Tail fort. She was found by searchlights and repulsed by Russian batteries. She appeared to be somewhat damaged.
