

ONE DAY GIVEN TO CALIFORNIA

St. Louis World's Fair Is to Be Owned by Natives of State for Few Hours

BEARS ARE IN DEMAND

Admission Day Will Be Made Memorable to Eastern Visitors at the Exposition

BY PAUL EDWARDS.

CALL BUREAU, WORLD'S FAIR, ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Committees chosen at a gathering of Californians called by State Commissioners Filcher and Wiggins have been at work for more than a week arranging the details of California day at the exposition and all is in readiness for the celebration in this distant city of the Golden State's admission into the Union. There will be brass bands, carriages, banners, enthusiasm and all that goes to make up a successful procession and afterpart.

Captain Will Harris, chairman of the committee on parade, has used his best efforts to make bears a feature and has searched the fair grounds to find real live ones that are well behaved enough to march with the Native Sons. Harris has seen every bear he could get a trace of and endeavored to get their owners to give them an outing on September 9. He has negotiated for a set of wheels for the prairie grizzly in front of the Sacramento display. The bears have been promised a chance at the fruit to be distributed. Roy Brooke and Wesley N. Pearce are the other members of the committee on parade and they have been assisting in the bear hunt and looking up other features.

The other committees on the California celebration are: Program—Robert Furion, J. W. Erwin, L. D. Sovereign. Reception—Charles L. Wilson, Miss Bertie Gandy and George P. Dennis. Refreshments—Lloyd Childs, J. H. Willis and Frank A. Kimball. Decorations—Charles F. Weyer, G. E. Hyde and Miss Addie Mae. Printing and badges—Robert Gray, J. H. Martin and James Butler. Press—Gavin B. Brown, C. W. Merritt and C. A. Black.

The exercises following the parade are to be held in the Hall of Congresses, one of the permanent buildings of the Washington University group rented by the fair during its existence. President Francis of the exposition is to speak. He will extend a welcome to the visiting Californians. Past Grand President Lewis E. Byington of the Native Sons will deliver an introductory address. Frank J. Sullivan will speak of the "Pioneers" and Grand President C. E. McLaughlin will talk of the "Sons of California." Sister Anna Rahnhal of Notre Dame will deliver an original poem and Mrs. Ella Caminetti, grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, will speak on the "Native Daughters of California." Announcement of further numbers on the program will be made by Past Grand President H. R. Mc Noble.

After the exercises a reception and distribution of fruit brought on by the Natives will be held on California Hill, just back of the State building, where maples will give shade or protection from cloudbursts. The name was given the hill by Isaac Taylor, director of works of the fair, who said the California commission had discovered it and that they were entitled to the name.

The California and San Francisco buildings will be open to the visitors.

Extra Ferry Service to Oakland and Alameda.

The Southern Pacific will give half-hour service on both broad-gauge and narrow-gauge ferries after 6 o'clock Tuesday and Friday evenings, September 6 and 9, instead of hourly service as ordinarily.

NEVADA'S FUND IS EXHAUSTED

Silver State's Building at the St. Louis Exposition May Be Closed

NO COIN IN SIGHT

Governor Sparks Denies Commissioner Yerington's Request for Appropriation

Special Dispatch to The Call.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—The Globe-Democrat says: "Nevada's appropriation for the World's Fair has been exhausted and unless the State makes an additional appropriation immediately the State building and the State exhibit will be closed within a few days. The announcement was made yesterday by J. A. Yerington, executive commissioner for Nevada, who said that a further appropriation had virtually been denied by Governor Sparks in a telegram sent to Yerington on Monday."

Yerington appealed to President Francis, who yesterday asked Governor Sparks to rescind his action and secure a small additional appropriation to pay running expenses to the close of the fair. "Yerington says that the original $20,000 appropriation made by his State ran out six weeks ago and since that time the salaries and incidental expenses have been paid out of his own pocket."

"The action of Governor Sparks is attributed by Yerington to political motives, as part of the scheme to defeat him for Congress. Prior to his nomination for Congress, Yerington says, he received repeated assurances from Governor Sparks that an additional appropriation would be forthcoming when needed. Yerington holds that instead of discrediting him, the programme adopted by the State administration will only operate as a 'roorback' when the facts become known. He is chiefly interested at present in saving the State from withdrawing from the exposition."

"President Francis has informed Governor Sparks that the charges of money being wasted are groundless and that the State exhibit is among the best at the fair, considering the small appropriation. Charles M. Reeves, chief of domestic exploitation, will take up the subject with Governor Sparks, supplying him with figures bearing out President Francis' statement."

START TOO LATE FOR AID TO SAVE LIFE OF CHILD

Burns Cause Death of Little One En Route From Ranch for Medical Treatment.

MONTEREY, Sept. 8.—Clara Soyer, the 6-year-old daughter of Frank Soyer, a rancher, residing about twenty-five miles south of Monterey, died this morning while being brought into town for medical treatment. Yesterday morning the child was playing about a fire in the yard which her mother had lighted to burn some rubbish. The mother stepped out of sight for a moment and on her return found the little girl's clothes ablaze. The flames were quickly extinguished, but not before the child had been severely burned about the body. It was thought she would recover easily, but she became worse this morning, and her parents, becoming alarmed, decided to bring her into town for treatment. They had come but a short distance when the child died.

DISAPPOINTED DOG MAY HAVE TAKEN OWN LIFE

Found Dead With Its Nose Against Open Jet in a Gas Stove.

PORTLAND, Sept. 8.—Brown Boy, a thoroughbred spaniel, owned by W. H. Boyer, the musical director, is dead. Boyer thinks he committed suicide. The dog was a marvel of intelligence. He accompanied his master and mistress on almost every occasion. Last evening he was shut up in the kitchen against his most earnest protest and when the family returned the strong odor of gas directed attention to the kitchen. There lay Brown Boy dead, with his nose against an open gas jet in the kitchen stove.

CHARGED WITH LIBEL—G. D. Kotta, a barber, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Police Judge Cabanis, charging him with libel. He was released on $10 cash bail. The complaining witness against him is Jose de la Fuente, 1109 1/2 California street. An article reflecting upon Fuente's character and accusing him among other things of being a "Fountain of Satan."

VISITING KNIGHT TEMPLAR IS PLUNDERED AND BEATEN

Leo Demar, a Wine Merchant of Boston, Falls Among Thieves in a Saloon, and After They Have Blackened One of His Eyes and Robbed Him He Is Arrested

There is one visiting Knight Templar who will need no material souvenir to remind him of his stay in San Francisco. He is Leo Demar, a wine merchant of Boston. Yesterday morning he underwent the memorable experience of being beaten, robbed and arrested. One of his eyes was badly battered and he lost $650 cash and a watch valued at $250. Then he was run in for disturbing the peace, but the prison officials released him when they found on his person $95 which the thieves had overlooked. When the evidence was heard by Police Judge Mogan he dismissed the case and expressed sympathy for the defendant.

It was in a saloon somewhere near the intersection of Sixth and Market streets that Mr. Demar met his fortune. He had spent the greater portion of the night in a Mason street restaurant with some friends, three women and two men, and when the party broke up they left him at Sixth and Market streets, his intention being to go to his apartment at 32 Golden Gate avenue. Fate, however, prompted him to take a drink before retiring, and he went into a saloon for that purpose. He carried a bouquet which his friends had given him, and as he stood at the bar some men who were present began to help themselves to the flowers. When he objected to the larceny, one of the men struck him on the eye and Demar ran from the place, engaged a hack and was driven to the Emergency Hospital, where the injured optic was attended to. Then he re-entered the carriage and rode back to the saloon. He called for a drink, he avers, and does not remember exactly what happened after that, although he has a dim recollection of having been dragged into a rear room. It was at 6:30 o'clock that Special Policeman Donohue found him fighting with the attaches of a restaurant on Sixth street, near Stevenson. His coat was off, and he was apparently crazed.

"This is a most unfortunate occurrence," said Judge Mogan, after Mr. Demar's story had been told. "It is apparent that this gentleman was drugged and robbed, and I hope the police will leave nothing undone that may lead to the recovery of his property and the punishment of those who robbed him."

Mr. Demar's tale was repeated to the chief of detectives, and some of the best talent in that official's corps was put to work on the case. Judge Cabanis ordered Eugene H. Bruce, a laborer, to pay his divorced wife $8 a month for the support of their six-year-old daughter. When the Bruce were separated by the Superior Court the parents of the little one were instructed that they could alternate in taking care of her, the father to have her for six months and the mother to be the child's custodian the remainder of the year. The father remarried, while the mother remained single and supported herself and the child by doing housework, earning about $30 a month. As she found her salary inadequate to provide the little girl with food, clothing and necessary medical attendance, she enlisted the aid of Mrs. John Pettie, president of the Universal Service Society, to compel the father to contribute to the maintenance, as he was earning $350 a day and had only his second wife to provide for.

Bruce offered to relieve the mother of the child's care entirely, but the mere suggestion of being separated from her daughter made the woman burst into hysterical weeping. Her equanimity was restored by the Judge's order.

While the amateur boxing exhibition was in progress at Woodward's Pavilion last Wednesday evening, Henry Woest, about 16 years of age, burst open a side door of the big structure and thus obtained free admittance for himself and a number of companions.

"Was the main event much of a fight?" inquired Judge Mogan, before whom Master Woest was charged with malicious mischief. "Now," was the answer; "Wolf didn't show and his subtlety wuz punched out in de third."

"I think you have been sufficiently punished by witnessing such a no account scrap," said the Judge, and Master Woest went free.

Alfred Zollner of 2204 Steiner street complained that Theodore Frank of San Diego was neglecting his 2-year-old son, Basil, but Mrs. Alfreda C. Frank, wife of the accused, wrote from San Diego to notify Judge Mogan that she would like to have the charge dismissed, as she had personally investigated the matter and found that Basil was very well taken care of by his male parent. Dismissal ordered accordingly.

Alfred Schwartz, boiler-maker, lives in the 100 block on Fairmont street and so does Miss Gertrude Johnson and her mother. To make the coincidence even more remarkable, both Mr. Schwartz and Miss Johnson are pigeon fanciers and maintain rival coops. When fourteen of the Schwartz pigeons abandoned their home and took up residence with the Johnson birds Mrs. Schwartz hotly accused Miss Johnson of having exercised siren arts to lure away his property, and when the young lady and her mother warmly resented the imputation Mr. Schwartz exploded some language that good breeding prohibits in the presence of the gentler sex. That happened last Saturday afternoon.

David Lynch, car repairer, called to visit Miss Johnson last Sunday afternoon.

WANT TO BE GUARDIANS OF WEALTHY PETER DONOHUE. Relatives Seek to Take Charge of the Affairs of Cousin of Baroness Von Schroeder.

A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday for letters of guardianship over the estate of Peter Donohue, who is now in London, by his cousin, James P. Donohue, and his brother-in-law, James P. Burke, who lives in Ireland. Peter J. Donohue was adjudged incompetent in 1903 by the master of the Lunacy Court of Chancery of England and Archbishop Vaughan was appointed his guardian. Donohue left this State for England in 1896 and has been living there ever since. He is a legal resident of this State. He is a nephew of Peter Donohue, who built the California Northwestern Railroad. He had been in London some time before he was adjudged an incompetent.

Donohue is said to be worth $1,000,000, having property in this State that yields an income of about $12,000 per year.

A petition for guardianship of Peter Donohue was filed some time ago by the Baroness von Schroeder.

Sues Lodging-House Keepers.

Mrs. W. G. Howard has sued Mrs. I. E. Russell and H. M. Russell for the recovery of $6850. The plaintiff alleges in her complaint that she rented a room for herself and daughter in a lodging-house belonging to the defendants at 825 Mason street. Mrs. Howard left shortly afterward for an outing in the country. She says that during her absence the furnishings in the room were removed and filthy and unsanitary furnishings were substituted therefor.

Down at San Diego the principal topic of conversation is the mix-up over the yacht races held last week for the Sir Thomas Lipton cup. The racing rules were wrong and the Corinthian Yacht Club, custodian of the cup, held the race as a "free-for-all," though their deed of gift from Sir Thomas called for thirty-footers only. The race ought to have been held at San Francisco and then the yachtmen could have been served with good meals cooked on a gas range purchased of the S. F. Gas and Electric Co., 415 Post street.

TOTS SUFFER FROM "NERVES"

One Child in Every Three in the Chicago Schools Found to Be Affected

CAUSES ARE NUMEROUS

Strenuous City Life, Late Hours and Impure Atmosphere Destroying Health

Special Dispatch to The Call.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—One in every three school children in Chicago, it is estimated, is a victim of some form of nervousness, mild or aggravated. This is the finding of public school pedagogues after observations extending more than a year. The prevalence of nervous disorders among children is attributed to the following causes: Strenuous city life. Impure city atmosphere. The bringing up of children in flat buildings. No relief from noise, day or night. Lack of proper nutrition. Late hours permitted by parents. Residence along cable and trolley car lines.

The finding is based on statistics collected in every part of the city. Of 300 pupils examined by the child study department of the School Board during the last year, a large majority of defects were found to be sufferers from diseases of the nerves. According to the assistant supervisor of the child study department the nervous affections usually took one of two forms—sluggishness and mental depression with tendencies toward melancholia, or uncontrollable nervous twitchings.
