Threaten Pacific Mail.
Attorneys for Lee Yik Gar have issued an ultimatum to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to bring him back from China on the next steamer, or they will proceed against the company for contempt of court. It appears that the attorneys had obtained a writ of habeas corpus, which was served upon the steamship company, commanding the company to deliver the body of Lee Yik Gar into the United States District Court. The company sent Lee on his way to China on the Korea three days ago. Now his lawyers want him back.

Swedish Club Picnic.
The Swedish-American Political Club of San Francisco has completed arrangements for a day and moonlight picnic to be held at Shell Mound Park on October 16. There will be dancing in the large pavilion until 11 o'clock p. m. The following named gentlemen are officers of the club: President, A. M. Wollen; first vice president, Ch. Ramberg; second vice president, F. O. Sjogren; secretary, Alex. Olsson; treasurer, G. Peterson.

English nobility and gentry do not seem to be taking kindly to King Edward's new style in trouser creations.

EDICT CREATES QUITE A STIR

Christian Scientists Claim Mrs. Eddy's Proclamation Has Been Misunderstood

CLUBS ARE NOT BARRED Several Followers of Creed Act on Own Impulse, but Did Not Receive Orders

The recent proclamation by Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, acknowledged head of the American Christian Science Church, has created quite a stir among the followers of Christian Science throughout the State. According to J. Jacobs, who represents Frank W. Gale, the edict issued by Mrs. Eddy has been misunderstood by the general public and the facts in the case have not been stated correctly. The following communication was sent to The Call yesterday by order of Gale:

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 8, 1904.
Editor of The Call, San Francisco, Cal.
Dear Sir:—Referring to the article published in this morning's issue of your paper, in case there might be a mistaken impression regarding same, I should like you to publish the following:
The Christian Science by-law referring to members of the Christian Science Church, belonging to clubs or organizations to which both sexes are not eligible, was promulgated last May. As published by you, the by-law indicates on its face that it is not retroactive, but applies to members of the mother church who may join thereafter. It applies to the branch churches in the same way. Hence, there were no "orders" or "commands" given, which would apply to members of clubs or organizations who were Christian Science members at that time.

It is true that throughout the country many Christian Science members, both ladies and gentlemen, prominent in clubs and organizations, have seen fit to resign their memberships, believing that what applied to future Christian Science members could, with good reason, be applicable to present members. These resignations, however, were entirely voluntary on their part, and under no "orders" or "commands." Such action on their part was, possibly, because they believed they could best subserve their interests and that of their families and their own consciences, and such action was purely a matter of their own decision, without interference, commands or orders from any one.

Shortly after the adoption of the by-law referred to, Mrs. Eddy issued a card, published in the Christian Science Journal of June, 1904, reading as follows:

"Take Notice,
"Mary B. G. Eddy.
"I beg to inform my beloved members of the mother church that the by-law in article XXVI of its manual does not require members of benevolent and progressive organizations, such as the Free Masons, Odd Fellows, temperance societies and those of similar cult, to resign this membership. It specifies in plain English that after individuals become members of our church they shall not thereafter be made members of clubs or other organizations not named in its manual, and wherefore? Because our religious denomination demands the faithful attention and labor of its members in all philanthropic, therapeutic and progressive Christian work for the human race, and relies upon the adequate, scientific source and resource therefor."
Trusting you will give this space in your journal, I remain, yours sincerely,
FRANK W. GALE.

CORONER INVESTIGATES A SPUROUS DOCTOR

J. C. Heath Administers Medicines to Mrs. Mary Kruse and Is Reported to the Police.
Coroner Leland detailed Deputy Coroner Brown yesterday to investigate the conduct of J. C. Heath of 2328 Folsom street, who prescribed medicines for three weeks for Mrs. Mary Kruse of 321 Montclair street. Mrs. Kruse died yesterday morning of natural causes, presumably, but the case was sent to the coroner, because Heath, not being a physician, could not and would not sign the death certificate. Deputy Brown secured the bottles of medicine bearing labels of various drug stores, which medicines had been brought to Mrs. Kruse by Heath. The labels contain directions for taking the medicines, but are not signed, and do not purport to be prescriptions. The matter was reported to the police yesterday, and Detective Thomas Coleman was detailed on the case, the object being to ascertain whether Heath had represented himself to be a physician. Heath treated Mrs. Kruse's husband previously for corns and rheumatism.

Mrs. Kruse was 37 years old and leaves four children, the youngest 2 years and the oldest 15.

Cuts Off Water Supply.
Andrew G. Griffin filed a complaint yesterday with the Board of Supervisors to the effect that the water supply at his residence, 3020 Pacific avenue, has been cut off because the tank of the Spring Valley Water Company at Pacific avenue and Lyon street is only partly filled in order to reduce the pressure. Griffin says that this policy will make his house so unsanitary that it will be uninhabitable and he appeals to the Supervisors for relief because he has received assurance that this condition will not be immediately improved.

Peru to Reduce Postage Rates.

YOUNG MAN ACCUSES WIDOW

Sensational Charges in His Amended Contest Against Will of Old Winemaker

SEPARATES FROM BRIDE Supposed Mother Said to Have Persuaded Her Husband to Disinherit Son

George Monnier Jr. has amended his contest against the will of George Monnier, the retired wine merchant who died September 4, leaving a fortune of $200,000. He reiterates that he is the son of the deceased, notwithstanding the statement to the contrary made by his supposed mother, Anna Monnier, on the witness stand when she obtained special letters of administration upon the estate.

Apparently resenting the widow's statements regarding his parentage and domestic affairs, the young man charges her with a series of acts and plots alleged to have been conceived for the purpose of having his father disinherit him. He declares that the testament was made under the undue influence of Anna Monnier. His father, he says, at the time of making the will, in 1901, was 63 years of age and impaired in body and mind. His wife for years had exercised great influence with him and held authority over him.

George Jr. continues that on March 4, 1897, he married Violet Henry and since that time Anna Monnier has shown hatred and bitterness toward the young man's wife. Shortly after the marriage the senior Mrs. Monnier attempted, and she continues to attempt, to separate the contestant and his wife and prior to the making of the will she threatened that if they did not separate she would cause the elder Monnier to disinherit George Jr.

A week after the marriage, it is alleged, she importuned the contestant to leave his wife and by reason of her persuasions he remained away from his wife for two weeks, but returned later and then accompanied the elder woman to Europe, leaving his wife here. While he was absent, on December 18, 1897, the young wife gave birth to a child and Monnier charges that Anna Monnier caused to be published a notice that the child was dead and, though knowing that the babe was still alive, had a copy of the notice sent to the contestant in Europe.

The son accuses the widow of false representation that Violet Monnier was unfaithful to him and says that on

"When a person has been told that they are in the last stages of consumption, and that no treatment can help them, it is surely a wonderful relief, both physically and mentally, to find a condition that has curative effects. My condition was a very serious one, and all the medical treatment that I used did me no good. I heard of the success of Electro-Chemistry in various diseases, and I went to the Electro-Chemical Institute, No. 113 Grant ave., for a careful examination. This examination was free and it was so thorough that I had great hopes when the Electro-Chemical specialists told me that Electro-Chemistry would cure me. I began the treatment immediately, and in a short time my condition was greatly improved. I had a very serious cough and I expectorated a horrible looking matter from my lungs. I had fever in the afternoons and had night sweats. I had lost a great deal of flesh and was so weak that I could scarcely get about. I felt like a new woman now. I feel stronger in every way. The cough has disappeared. The night sweats and the afternoon fevers have disappeared. I do not expectorate and looking matter from my lungs, and all of this has been accomplished in a very short time. I do not expectorate and I feel it my duty to tell other sufferers of the wonderful effects of Electro-Chemistry in bad cases like my own. My name is Mrs. M. MacDougal and I live at No. 400 Oak St., San Francisco."

It is cures like these that is making the Electro-Chemical treatment famous, and it is because of such cures that less than three years' time the Electro-Chemical practice in San Francisco has become the largest and most successful in the West. Electro-Chemistry is curative in all long-standing and chronic diseases and is the most successful treatment yet discovered for the cure of Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Deafness, Ringing Ears, Discharging Ears, Painful Menstruation, Rheumatism, Gout, Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, Weak Heart, Palpitation, Shortness of Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Nervousness, Insomnia, Epilepsy, Falling Sickness, Constipation, Piles, Fistula, Prostatitis, Stricture, Blood Poison, Specific Contagious Diseases, Blood and Skin Diseases, Eczema, Gout, Swollen Joints, Weak Back, Kidney Diseases, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Inflammation of the Bladder, Special Diseases of Women—Irregularities, Displacements, Ovarian Pains, Tumors, Abscesses, Ulcers, etc., etc.

The Electro-Chemical X-Ray Examination is the most reliable examination that any sufferer can have and it is absolutely free to all. Patients living at a distance should try to come to the office for this examination. In most cases the patient can have the course of Electro-Chemical home treatment and return home the same day. An expensive Electro-Chemical apparatus is loaned to outside patients free of charge. The Institute is provided with separate and private apartments for its male and female patients, and every treatment is quiet and pleasant. All classes are now taking the Electro-Chemical course. There are lawyers, ministers, priests, physicians, merchants, mechanics, laborers, and there are society ladies and there are housewives, all receiving the same careful conscientious treatment at the hands of the Electro-Chemical specialists. The Electro-Chemical Institute is centrally located at No. 113 Grant ave., corner of Post St., and the office hours are from nine to five and seven to eight daily, and on Sunday from ten to one.

January 14, 1898, she persuaded Monnier Sr. to begin an action in behalf of the young man to annul the marriage. Contrary to the wishes of George Jr. the case was prosecuted and on May 12, 1898, a judgment was rendered in favor of Violet. He declares that Anna Monnier employed the attorneys and directed the prosecution. She also caused the case to be appealed to the Supreme Court and lost it.
Once more, it is said, she threatened that if he resumed his relations with his wife she would cause him to be disinherited, but, pending the appeal, he went back to Violet and lived with her until August, 1901.
In order to carry out her threats to influence the making of the will, Anna Monnier, it is said, represented to her husband that George Jr. was not the father of Violet's child and if he left any portion of his estate to his son it would be enjoyed by Violet and her kindred. Thus the will was made, leaving Anna Monnier all the fortune. The young man declares that the charges against the character of his wife were false.

On Monday evening the members of the Holy Name Society will hold their usual monthly meeting. A literary and musical programme will conclude the meeting.

INDEPENDENT FORESTERS ENTERTAIN THE DELEGATES

Reception to the Supreme Chief and High Officers on Eve of the High Court Session.
The board of San Francisco deputies of the Independent Order of Foresters tendered a reception last night to Supreme Chief Ranger Oronhyetka, Past High Chief Ranger O. S. Cooper, High Vice Chief Ranger G. Q. Stewart, High Treasurer Edward N. Cameron, High Counselor Hoyle and to the delegates who were on their way to the High Court of the order, which is to meet this week in San Diego.
At this reception in the western hall of the Shields building, at which the ladies of Companion Court Diana acted as the reception committee, those of Court Yerba Buena on the collation and refreshment committee and those of Court Golden Gate on the committee of arrangements, there was an address of welcome by the president of the board, a pleasing programme of musical and literary numbers, addresses by the supreme chief and the high officers and then the serving of light refreshments.
The addresses were on the progress of the order in this State and upon the work that is to be carried out at the session of the High Court.
