The regimental loss cannot yet be estimated. The building was damaged to the extent of $3000 to $4000. It is owned by the Dr. J. C. Tucker estate.

ACTS LIKE A MADMAN WHILE IN PRISON CELL Paolo Angelo, Awaiting Trial on Charge of Horse Stealing, Shows Signs of Violent Insanity

OAKLAND, Oct. 9.—With his clothing torn to shreds, stark naked and moaning like an animal in pain, Paolo Angelo, awaiting trial on a charge of horse stealing, was found in his cell at the County Jail this morning evidently insane. Jailers Harry Clark and Percy White watched Angelo closely, but after hours of vigil saw no signs of recovery...

Angelo was arrested and taken to the County Jail August 28 from Livermore. He appeared to be rationally sane until a few days ago, when his conversation became erratic. It was at 3 o'clock this morning that the prisoner broke out in his wildness. Through the night he climbed up and down the grated doors with the agility of a monkey. Angelo is 38 years old. Jailers Clark and White have been thrice an inmate of State hospitals. He will be given into the care of the Lunacy Commissioners.
