Some of His Remarks Taken by His Hearers as Favoring
Russia and Are Met
With an Ominous Silence

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Lord Lansdowne, in the absence of Premier Balfour, at the historic Lord Mayor's banquet, held to-night, made a strong plea for peace and arbitration on behalf of the British Government. Lord Lansdowne pointed out to a large audience that arbitration was the only way in which the North Sea dispute with Russia could have been equitably settled, and almost in the same breath drew a vivid picture of the horrors of the struggle now proceeding in the Far East. Between the lines of his speech the Foreign Minister made an urgent plea, amounting almost to a demand, that the Russo-Japanese quarrel might be settled by arbitration. It was a carefully prepared statement made before what is conceded the most representative gathering of leading men of Great Britain, and what is generally interpreted a bolder bid for intervention than has yet emanated from any neutral power. America was very largely in this speech, for which Great Britain has been waiting for many days.

The Foreign Minister prefaced all his remarks by saying: "That great statesman, John Hay, recently remarked that war was the most futile and fallacious of human follies." Then came an impassioned review of the North Sea affair. Although Lord Lansdowne was unable to announce the signing of the convention, he emphatically confirmed statements made in these dispatches, namely, that Great Britain had found "no difficulty in arriving at a solution in principle of the dispute," and on the subject of arbitration he is already known by the statement that Russia has guaranteed the punishment of any other officers in addition to those already detached from Admiral Rojstevsky's squadron, who might be proven to have been implicated.

By most of his hearers, who to-night had their first opportunity of hearing the Foreign Office's views and who, hitherto, had based their ideas on Mr. Balfour's much-quoted editorial articles in the newspapers, Lord Lansdowne's utterances were regarded almost as a plea for Russia. A good faith greeted him, as after yesterday and that the two Governments in a dead faith believe in contradictory statements of facts, he asked: "Could we have done better than set fault and compensation and save the peace of the world by an international tribunal with a guarantee of punishment of any who may be found guilty?" Lord Lansdowne, in connection with the question of arbitration, mentioned the audience that Great Britain as the greatest naval power might some day be the greatest sufferer by a restriction of belligerent rights on the high seas.

After referring to "the widely prevalent desire" that arbitration might be resorted to, in the case of the present war in the Far East, Lord Lansdowne added: "Mr. Choate walked into my room yesterday and said that he would sign an arbitration treaty with the United States. Simultaneously I received from President Roosevelt, whom all must congratulate (cheers), a message inviting us to participate in a second international conference at The Hague. It was needless to say that the invitation has not been refused, only we have reserved to ourselves the right to consider the subjects that should be discussed. We hesitated not a moment in informing America that we were ready to participate and in wishing President Roosevelt Godspeed in this undertaking. Arbitration," concluded Lord Lansdowne, after a sympathetic reference to France and to the North Sea dispute, "has become the fashion."

BRITAIN AND MEXICO
FAVOR ARBITRATION

Satisfactory Assurances Received by Secretary Hay From Both Representatives of Governments. WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Secretary Hay has received assurances from Great Britain and Mexico that they stand prepared to negotiate arbitration treaties on the lines of that recently concluded between France and the United States. Consequently the State Department will proceed at once to complete the whole fabric of treaties so as to have them ready for submission to the Senate when it meets again December 5.

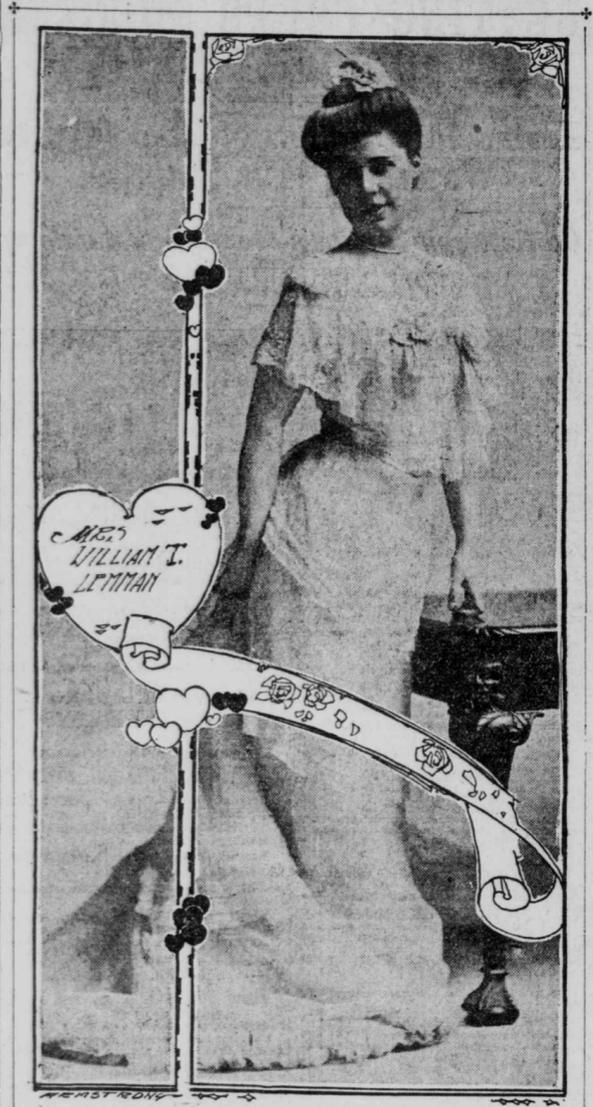

FIVE MORE INCORPORATIONS.—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by five more Nevada mining companies, the directors varying but little in each corporation and in the names of the officers. C. H. Hirsch, G. C. Sneider, William F. Henry, W. C. Ralston, A. P. Carroll, E. P. Barrett, E. W. Elliott, Ed. Jacobs, William Bannan, J. Stoddard and B. F. Shaw. The companies and capital stock are: Alpha Consolidated, $25,000; Excelsior, $25,000; Silver, $25,000; New York, $25,000; Silver Consolidated, $50,000; Bullion Gold and Silver, $50,000.

A man in Elgin, Ill., says: "My attention was first called to Grape-Nuts some time ago, when Brother, who is an editor in Chicago, broke down from overwork and nervous prostration set in and then paralysis. The expert specialist (the physician in charge) gave special instructions as to the food to put him on Grape-Nuts and cream. "He began to recuperate quickly and there was a very marked showing of the strength and value of the food. He soon got well and has been at his work ever since, and never shows any further signs of breaking down, although he works harder than he did before; but he is well and properly fed and his brain and nerves kept nourished with the right kind of food—that is Grape-Nuts and cream." MAN AND MAID PLIGHT TROTH
MISS PETTIGREW BECOMES A BRIDE

CHARMING BRIDE, WHO, AS MISS HELEN PETTIGREW, HELD ONE BRIEF YEAR'S REIGN IN BELLEWOOD, AND WHO WILL ASSUME LEADERSHIP AMONG DEVIY OF YOUNG MATRONS.

No fairer bride e'er plighted her troth to fond lover than pretty Helen Pettigrew, who was wedded last night to William T. Lemman, thus bringing to an exquisite climax just a brief year of bellehood.

The ceremony was celebrated at the Pacific avenue home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Stanford Pettigrew, and was witnessed by one hundred and fifty relatives and friends.

Glady had the gardens round about given of their treasures, making of the home a bower of beauty.

In the drawing room, between pillars of bride roses, an altar had been reared, upon which were banked the fairest roses that grow; candles gleamed from glittering sconces, while the happy pair plighted their pledges upon a white satin predella at the altar's rail, the Rev. Charles Ramm reading the service.

A fascinating picture was the bride in her nuptial robes of ivory satin, the corsage hung with roses point lace. Upon her yellow hair she wore a

JUDGE DE HAVEN PAYS HIS OFFICIAL RESPECTS

Singular Fatality Connected With West Side of the Third Floor of the Appraiser's Building.

Assistant United States District Attorney Ben L. McKinley made a motion yesterday in the United States District Court to adjourn the court out of respect to the memory of George E. Morse, clerk of the court, who died last Tuesday night. Mr. McKinley paid a feeling tribute to the decedent and Judge de Haven granted the motion and took an adjournment until this morning.

This is the third office on the third floor of the appraiser's building that has lost a Government employe by death within the last few years. Shelley Monckton, a Deputy United States Marshal, was the first. He was accidentally suffocated by illuminating gas. William P. Gamble, another Deputy Marshal, killed himself a little more than a year ago. The next was Assistant United States District Attorney Edward J. Banning, who was taken ill suddenly with ptomaine poisoning and died within a few days. The first deaths began in the Marshal's office, the next to the office immediately north of that, and the last in the next office north, all on the west side of the corridor.

Considerable speculation is being indulged in as to Clerk Morse's successor. Chief Deputy James S. Manley stands in the line of promotion should the vacancy be filled in that way. Then Deputy John A. Fouga, Milton Green and George Hatton are prominently mentioned.

JUDGE DE HAVEN HAS THE APPOINTING POWER.

WILL REVIEW LIFE WORK OF LATE FATHER MCKINNON

Open Meeting of Local Memorial Committee to Be Held This Evening.

The free open meeting of the McKinnon memorial committee takes place this evening at Steinway Hall, Sutter street and Grant avenue. The object of the meeting is to place before the public the aims and objects of the committee and to review the life and work of Father McKinnon. The meeting is under the auspices of the McKinnon committee and the United Spanish War Veterans and their lady auxiliaries. On the committee are Colonel O'Neill, Colonel Macdonald, Colonel Barry, Miss Stein, Miss Cain, Miss Riordan, Miss Conyns, Mrs. Richardson and Messrs. O'Brien, Hagan and Curtis. Representing the veterans are Major Hugh Sime, Captain and Mrs. McCalla and Mrs. Hamilton. The president of the evening will be Judge Murasky, who, with Colonel Barry and General Woodruff, will address the meeting.

New Schedule Soon to Be Put Into Effect From the North to Points in Idaho EFFECT ON JOBBERS

Put Portland Merchants on a Parity With Those of San Francisco and Utah

PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—The Oregonian will to-morrow make an announcement affecting the jobbing interests of San Francisco and Salt Lake merchants in competition with Portland dealers. It is to the effect that on December 1 the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company will put into operation reduced rates between Portland and Southern Idaho points, ranging from 9 to 48 cents a hundred pounds, according to the class of goods shipped.

This rate will put the Portland merchants on a parity with San Francisco and Salt Lake merchants, who for four years have been granted rates to Southern Idaho points which have since been dominated that country. San Francisco shippers were granted rates permitting them to ship into Idaho cheaper than the Portland merchant could import goods from that city and reship to Idaho from this point.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Don't Blame Your Mirror. Many ladies compel their mirrors to bear silent witness to needless hair destruction. Day after day they see beauty and attractiveness despoiled by the removal of great quantities of slightly discolored hair that could be saved. If your mirror could talk it would plead with you to "save your hair" from the combings that can be done with Newbro's Herpicide which kills the microbe that causes dull, brittle and lusterless hair, also dandruff and falling hair. Destroy the germ and the hair's natural luster and abundance will return. Marvelous results. An exquisite hair dressing.
