TURNING BACK RUSSIAN JEWS

New York Immigration Officials Order Wholesale Deportations of Foreigners

ALIENS' PITIFUL PLIGHT

Fear Murder or Army Conscription When They Return to the Fatherland

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The fall of Port Arthur and the likelihood of extensive military conscription in Russia have served to drive a horde of Russian Hebrews to the United States. Reports received by Commissioner General Sargent from New York show unprecedented immigration from Russia for the month of December and January. The new arrivals are of a most undesirable class and are being turned back by hundreds.

Official reports for the month of January have not been received, but unofficial statements indicate that the total number of immigrants debarred at New York during that month was several times greater than in any other month in years. Nine-tenths of the persons to be refused admission were Russian Jews. They told pitiful stories to the immigration authorities and pleaded not to be sent back to Russia. They all make practically the same statement, which is that if they are compelled to return to Russia they will be murdered. They say they will be either conscripted and sent to the front or mistreated and starved to death in the big cities. Some distressing stories are contained in the numerous appeals that are being made to Secretary Metcalf in behalf of the unfortunate foreigners.

For the most part the aliens are practically destitute. The total earth possessions of the men and the women range from 25 cents to a few dollars each. They invariably are in poor health on arrival, due to the long and trying sea voyage. Some of them are fit subjects for hospitals on reaching New York. In view of the lack of money and the poor prospects for obtaining employment, the authorities feel compelled to order the deportation of most of the Jews on the ground that they will become public charges.

The Washington officials have directed the New York immigration officers to adhere strictly to the letter of the law and not permit their sympathies to be worked upon to the detriment of the public interest.

The Hebrew Society of New York is doing everything it can to aid the unfortunate foreigners. It has provided attorneys to see that Hebrews are accorded fair treatment and that their appeals to the department are drawn in proper shape. But the administration authorities believe there is a national menace in the tremendous influx of Russians, and while in many cases it seems absolute cruelty to send them back, there is no other course that can be followed.

COLONEL O'NEIL IS BANQUETED

Officers of First Infantry Regiment Say Official Farewell to Former Commander

The officers of the First Infantry Regiment of the National Guard gave a banquet last night in the Merchants' Club to Colonel Thomas F. O'Neil who recently retired from the command of that organization. There were at the tables as special guests, Brigadier General J. B. Lauck, Adjutant General of the State; Colonel William McDonald, who was the first commander of the regiment; Colonel Hugh T. Sime, a former member of the regiment and a major in the First California Volunteers; Lieutenant John F. Connolly and Captain J. J. West.

There were also present Colonel George Filmer, the new regimental commander; Lieutenant T. J. McCreegh, Major J. F. Eggert, Major T. Rethers, Captain J. P. McQuaide, chaplain of the regiment; Captain H. Choyinski, Captain A. G. Adler, Captain Beasley, Captain Warren, Captain H. G. M. Mathewson, Captain Bentley, Lieutenant Swift, Lieutenant Peckham, Lieutenant Behrend, Lieutenant O'Harra, Lieutenant O'Keefe, Lieutenant Corcoran, Lieutenant Stoenwald, Lieutenant Varney, Lieutenant Gould, Captain Weiser, Lieutenant Dower, Lieutenant Stend, Captain Wall, Lieutenant Graham, Lieutenant Hammond and Lieutenant Walters.

An excellent supper was served and after the cigars were brought on Colonel Filmer, as toastmaster, called upon those present to contribute something for the entertainment of all. Those whose names are given above responded and told of the guard in the old days, of the guard in the recent past, and of the guard of the present time, also of the possible changes that may be brought about through legislative action. Those who served with the First California during the Spanish-American war told of events along the firing line in the Philippines.

During the evening the regimental officers, wishing to show the esteem in which they hold the retiring colonel, O'Neil, presented him as a token of remembrance a beautiful gold watch having upon the back case the badge of the Eighth Army Corps of the Spanish-American War. In the presentation speech the services of Colonel O'Neil as a private in the guard, as an officer and regimental commander as well as his gallant service with the First California was extolled, and he was classed as a good citizen, a loyal guardsman and an excellent commander. The colonel responded modestly to all that had been said of him and declared although he had applied to be placed on the retired list he will not lose his interest in the State organization and closed by thanking those who were officers under him and expressing the hope that the guard of California will crown itself with glory as a State organization.
