

PUZZLED ABOUT WOMAN BURGLAR

Judge Cook Will Apply Probationary Methods in the Case of Mrs. Grace Squires

FAILS TO FIND MOTIVE

Medical Experts Testify That She Is Sane and a Friend Gives Her Good Character

Judge Cook has decided to allow Mrs. Grace Squires to go on probation. He ordered yesterday that the necessary papers be prepared by Thursday when he would sign them and she would be set free.

Mrs. Squires committed a number of burglaries last October. She was arrested on October 31, for having entered the room of Mrs. Verlie Campbell, 123 Turk street. Mrs. Campbell surprised her and she fled, but was kept in sight until arrested by a policeman. On her person when searched a large number of articles of jewelry and other articles were found which were later identified by the owners. She was booked on two charges of burglary, one for entering Mrs. Campbell's apartments and the other for entering the residence of Peter Hoy, 114 1/2 Laguna street.

She was tried by the Campbell burglary and convicted. When she appeared for sentence her attorney, Walter Gallagher, made a plea that she was mentally irresponsible, and the Judge decided to send her to the insane ward at Central Emergency Hospital for examination.

Yesterday Drs. Lustig and Wadsworth were called and testified that in their opinion the woman was sane. A friend of the defendant, Mrs. Fye, testified that she had known her for the past seven years, ever since she had been married to her present husband, a well-to-do miner near Watsonville. She had always found her to be a good woman and a good wife and mother. The defendant had been on the stage prior to her marriage with Squires.

The Judge said it was one of the most perplexing cases that had ever come before him. There was no need for the defendant to be tried and there seemed an utter lack of motive. He thought under all the circumstances it was a case calling for probationary methods, as suggested by her attorney, and when the papers were prepared he would sign them. The case was continued till Thursday.

CORPORAL LAKE PASSES AWAY AT HOSPITAL

CORPORAL OF POLICE GEORGE W. LAKE WHO DIED ON SUNDAY NIGHT.

Popular Policeman's Career Is Closed Quite Suddenly.

Corporal George W. Lake of the Police Department died at the Mount Zion Hospital late on Sunday night. His death came as a shock to members of the department and numerous personal friends, for although it was known that he was ill, it was not believed that death would result. About a year ago he had an attack of pneumonia and was always complaining of not feeling just right. He went to Mount Zion Hospital about two weeks ago and after his case had been diagnosed as kidney trouble an operation was performed from which he did not rally.

Lake joined the force on December 19, 1888, when he was 26 years of age. He was promoted to corporal on January 1, 1904, and assigned to Captain Gleason's district. He was transferred to the office of the License Department last year, where his unflinching courtesy and genial manner made him many friends. He was a prominent Mason, having been past master of King Solomon Lodge. He was also a member of Godfrey De St. Omar Council, Knights Kadosh, Yerba Buena Chapter, Knights Rose Croix and Yerba Buena Lodge of Perfection. A guard of honor will be furnished from the Police Department at the funeral.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED CHAMPION OF ABOLITION

GROTON, Mass., Feb. 27.—After an illness of a few days George S. Boutwell, former Governor of Massachusetts and former United States Secretary of the Treasury, died at his home here to-day, aged 87 years. He was stricken with pneumonia last Friday, and owing to his extreme age was unable to rally.

For more than sixty years Boutwell has been in public life, beginning his career as a lecturer at the age of 19. At 24 he was elected to the Massachusetts Legislature and at 33 he was chosen Governor of the State. Although elected to these offices as a Democrat, Boutwell became active in the organization of the Republican party. He was a personal friend of President Lincoln.

Boutwell was an outspoken abolitionist. He served in the National House of Representatives from 1862 to 1868 inclusive, and was a member of the commission which reported the fourteenth amendment and conducted the debate in the House. He was Secretary of the Treasury in President Grant's first Cabinet. In 1878 Boutwell was elected to the United States Senate, where he served for six years. Boutwell was among the most prominent opponents of the Spanish war. In fact so strong was his conviction that after war was declared he left the Republican party and with the formation of the Anti-Imperialist League became its president, which office he held at the time of his death.

Boutwell was the author of books on politics and finances.

PREST PLEADS HIS PLEDGE

Father Calzia Declines to Say Whether or Not He Was Yoell's Confessor

PIONEERS ON STAND

Old-Timers Express Opinion That Dead Lawyer Was Unsound in His Mind

The proponents in the Yoell contest are digging into the past and following up the lead for proof of James Alexander Yoell's mental competency on pioneer days until the time of his death. The witnesses called by Mr. Delmas yesterday were nothing if not impressive.

After Mr. Hoefler, for the contestants, had finished tangling Mrs. Mary A. Welch Scully, who did not remember the financial transactions of her husband except that she paid Scully's debts and believed John Yoell had robbed her, the proponents went on with their case.

Father Bartholomew Calzia, formerly of the college at San Jose, where he was parish priest, but now of St. Ignatius Church in this city, told of his long acquaintance with Yoell and his belief in the soundness of the old lawyer's mind. Mr. Hoefler, on cross-examination, asked the priest whether he was ever Yoell's confessor. Father Calzia declined to answer and Judge Kerrigan ruled in favor of his privilege. Then Mr. Hoefler asked whether the priest intended to swear that Yoell was not possessed of insane delusions about his family; that William had tried to poison him and that John had sought his life. Said the witness: "I mean to say what I have said; that his mind was not unsound." The ecclesiast said that he had never "meddled" in Yoell's "family affairs."

Mr. Delmas called Mr. Colquhoun, assistant in the Mechanics' Institute Library, who told of Yoell's frequent visits and conversations about books, their contents and qualities, indicative of his shrewdness and soundness of mind.

Another witness was Henry L. Davis, a Sheriff of San Francisco forty years ago and an acquaintance of Yoell for more than fifty years. He was a believer in the intelligence and soundness of mind of Yoell.

James W. Short, a Sheriff of Santa Clara County fourteen years ago, was also called. He vouched for Yoell's soundness of mind and on cross-examination admitted that he man was excited and eccentric. He had advised him to sell his Santa Clara realty, Mr. Delmas, on redirect examination, asked:

"Was he right in his advice?"

"He was, replied the witness.

"Have you followed that advice?" queried the attorney.

"Well, I've tried to," said Swigert, with a tone of satisfaction.

FIGHTS DUEL WITH ROBBERS

Safe Crackers Return Fire of Watchman, Who Catches Them at Their Work

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—Having detected two safe blowers in the act of robbing the safe in the office of Small Brothers' warehouse before daylight this morning, E. J. Barrett, a night watchman, engaged in a running pistol fight with the burglars, the chase extending nearly a mile.

Barrett heard the explosion which wrecked the safe and started to investigate. He came upon the men unexpectedly and seeing his star they opened fire upon him, but without effect. As soon as he could get his own gun into action Barrett returned the fire and the burglars fled. First one and then the other of the burglars would stop and shoot deliberately at the officer, although the other bullets passed through his clothing he was not wounded.

Emptying his revolver Barrett reloaded and continued the battle. One of his last shots struck one of the men, for he was heard to cry out and this morning in the willow which a river a bundle of bloody rags was found, showing where some person had dressed a wound.

The robbers secured about $100 from the safe. A number of other burglaries were committed here last night, supposedly by the same men.

SCHOONER SAFE AT INVERNESS

AN ITALIAN fisherman named Berose, who landed at Inverness this morning, said that he had seen the schooner sink at the entrance to the bay. A search was being made for the vessel when she put in an appearance. The Mary C piles between San Francisco, Bodega and Inverness.

Sister Opposes Distribution. Josephine Koenig, sister of the late George Koenig and claiming to be his sole heir and only surviving residuary legatee under his will, yesterday filed an opposition to the petition of others named in his will for a distribution of the estate. Koenig left a bank account of $51,495, and in his will he made specific bequests of $3000 each to Fred, William and Charles Holzheiser. Those who have asked, as heirs at law, for a distribution of the remainder of the estate are Ferdinand Reils, Helene Bilabel, Jacob Wenzler, Jacob and Caroline Harten, Anna M. Rieter, Elizabeth Ommerson and Joseph Kraner. Koenig died in May last. His sister says that none of the petitioners are entitled to any of the estate.

KOLB & DILL TO BRING OUT NEW TALENT

Divorce Is Granted to Man Who Looked Upon Married Life as Service in Hell

SAYS SHE CLAWED HIM

Waits for Permission to Retire and Then Suffers the Consequences of Her Anger

Judge Graham yesterday beat a hasty retreat from his proffered services as a reconciler in the case of Joseph against Johanna Hearnie and Joseph was presented with an interlocutory decree of divorce. On the former hearing of the case Joseph told the Judge that he had been in hell for more than four years, and after explaining the details asked the court how he would like it himself. Yesterday Hearnie gave more details, including his wanderings in the kitchen of his home attired in a night gown and awaiting his wife's permission to retire. After she gave the permission she clawed him in the face with "her long nails" and spoiled his appearance in "good society."

Judge Murasky granted a divorce to Charles F. Gibney from Adelaide Gibney on the grounds of cruelty and desertion. Gibney, it seems, became ill and took to his bed on the advice of his physician. While he was away Mrs. Gibney sold his business and furniture and went on the stage. He knew nothing of the change until he met her in Spokane, when she told him that she would not let him go again.

A divorce was granted by Judge Hebbard to Emma Busk from W. L. Busk on a cross-complaint. Busk sued on the ground of cruelty, charging, among other things, that his wife had thrown a hatchet at him. She made a counter charge of desertion, which he failed to answer and she won the decree.

Other divorces were granted thus: By Judge Goswell to George Blessing from Flora Blessing, desertion; to Thomas H. Erwin from Maggie Erwin, intemperance; by Judge Hunt to Tillie Debaugue from Paul Debaugue, convicted of manslaughter; by Judge Trout to Katherine Short from James W. Short, cruelty; to Sadie A. McCoy from James H. McCoy, desertion; by Judge Graham to Dale Warford from George H. Warford, a warlord officer in the naval service, desertion.

Mary E. Green sued for divorce from George W. Green. They were married in June, 1902, and among other charges, she says that he tried to stab her at that time and was saved by the steel in her corset. Frances Mangiaracina asks for divorce from her husband, Natalia, on the ground of cruelty. Besides charging him with staying out nights, she says that he ate all the victuals, she ate only the "scraps and bones" until, in her hunger, she had to go to her mother for food. Actions for separation were begun by Stephen Szegedy against Mary Szegedy, infidelity with Arthur Potak; Arthur C. Casey against Maty Casey, desertion; Ellen Tobin against John Tobin, cruelty and neglect; James A. Clark against Mary E. Clark, desertion; Isabella V. Soule against Charles S. Soule, maintenance, $60 a month.

Maude Kelley Is a Promising Soprano.

Kolb and Dill, the famous "Dutch" comedians, will make their first appearance in this city since their return from the Antipodes next Sunday afternoon at the Grand Opera-house, where they will begin a brief engagement. They will be supported by a strong company of their own selection, which will include several old favorites and some very clever new people who have arrived direct from the East. Among the latter is Maude Alice Kelley, a handsome, graceful and dashing actress and the possessor of a soprano voice of culture, sweetness and range, and Lillie Sutherland, a vivacious and engaging soubrette, who sings sweetly and dances with grace and agility.

The piece selected for the opening is Judson C. Brusse's musical absurdity, "I. O. U.," which has been thoroughly revised and brought up to date and which is the best vehicle Kolb and Dill ever had for the display of their talent.

DECLARES DENTIST SAID SHE SHOULD BE SPANKED

Sadie Harris Files Suit Alleging Tooth-Puller Injured Her Jaws and Her Feelings.

"She ought to be spanked. The toothache is all in her imagination. If her mother will not spank her, I'll do it myself."

Miss Sadie Harris affirms that this assertion led her to bring suit against George H. Harris, a dentist. Besides uttering these words, Miss Harris declares the interior of her mouth, the lining in her jaws and the wound to her feelings she estimates at $2398 and has filed suit for that amount.

Miss Sadie alleges that in December of last year she employed Harris to treat a certain tooth, in which an obstreperous nerve was making trouble. Harris, the lady declares, jiu jitsued the nerve, but the ache remained. When she complained, Miss Sadie alleged, the dentist recommended that she be spanked.

Duncan E. McKinlay Resigns. Congressman Duncan E. McKinlay has resigned his position as assistant United States attorney, and after four years' service in that office will resume the practice of the law next Saturday. Among those most prominently mentioned for the vacancy are John A. L. Hart and Thomas W. Brezee of this city. Luther Brown of Los Angeles and Assemblyman Duryea of Placer, Mr. Brown appears to be the "organizational" candidate.

SISTER AGAINST SISTER IN CONTEST OF WILL

Mrs. McTamney Left Estate to One Daughter and Other Charges.

Undue Influence. Mary McTamney died the latter part of October, 1902, leaving an estate worth more than $8000, and a will which caused a disagreement between her daughters. Mrs. Plant and Mrs. Flowers were daughters of the deceased, but when the mother died it was found that she will left all of her estate to Mrs. Plant. Mrs. Flowers alleges that herself, a brother and another sister were left out of the testament because of Mrs. Plant's exercise of an undue influence upon her mother. It is set forth that Mother McTamney was bodily sick and bedridden for months and that in that time Mrs. Plant made her mother believe that she was the "only real and good daughter," and that the other children had refused to visit their mother in her last sickness. It is even said that Mrs. Plant employed others to convey the idea that the remaining children were unconcerned about their mother's welfare and thereby induced Mrs. Plant to make the will. When the time came for making the contested will, it is said that Mrs. Plant told her mother that the testament which had been drawn for her signature, divided the estate, share and share alike, among all of the children.

VALLANCE-KNIGHTS.—On Thursday, 16th February, 1905, at San Francisco, Cal., by the Reverend Father Prendergast, V. G., Aymer Lois, daughter of the late William H.
