HUNG HIMSELF ON THE HILLS BY PICKING BERRIES

Body of Despondent Man Is Found at Rope's End by Boy Picking Berries

NOTE EXPLAINS SUICIDE

Edwin Mussack, Without Work, Money, Friends or Family, Decides to End All

BERKELEY, June 10.—The dead body of Edwin Mussack was found hanging from a lone tree on the side of the quarry near La Loma Park in North Berkeley to-day by Robert Butler, and removed to the morgue. Pinned to Mussack's coat was a paper, on which had been written in ink the following words:

"My name is Edwin Mussack. I am about seven years in this country, but always had misfortune. Now I have no money, could not get any work and have neither relatives nor friends. That is why I commit suicide. God help me. Amen."

Mussack apparently was an ordinary laborer, about 40 years old. His pocket contained no valuables, nor anything to indicate where his residence had been. Life had been extinct for several days when the corpse was discovered. The man bent on suicide chose a lonely spot for his action, a scrubby where he died being apart from inhabited portions of Berkeley. Mussack found a powder keg, upon which he stood, with a rope tied tightly about his neck, and when he kicked the keg over, strangulation resulted, and death very soon after.

Robert Butler, a lad, who was picking blackberries on the hillside by the quarry, saw the hanging body at noon to-day, and a man's hat, with a bunch of faded poppies on a rock near by. He telephoned the facts to Deputy Coroner Straight, who took charge of the corpse.

Prominent Livermore Capitalist and Mrs. Jane Rogers of Sacramento Are United

OAKLAND, June 10.—William R. Thomas, aged 70 years, and Jane P. Rogers, 60, were married at Livermore to-night. It is largely through the request of Mr. Thomas' first wife that he is to give his name to Mrs. Rogers, though they were children together in Wales.

Thomas and his present bride left the mountains and the land of Glendowers and came to California about the same time and landed here in 1874. They were both married, but the families were great friends and their children were married at the same time. About three years ago Mrs. Rogers lost her husband, and shortly afterward Mrs. Thomas died. Thomas said this morning while securing his marriage license:

"My wife wanted me to promise that I would keep the home bright and cheerful and that I would ask Mrs. Rogers to take her place beside me. I could not promise her that at the time, but that was nearly three years ago. We have both been lonely ever since. I am glad Mrs. Rogers will come from Sacramento and we will be married to-night."

Thomas is a well-known resident of Livermore, where he owns considerable property and lives on the income. While in California he has had a beard, he states that his heart is still young, and that while both will remember the departed ones their memories and friendships will only serve to tie them closer together.

Jury Convicts Former Sewing Machine Agent of Issuing Bogus Contract.

OAKLAND, June 10.—W. F. Denning, formerly a local agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was convicted of forgery this afternoon by a jury in Judge Ellisworth's court despite the efforts of Mrs. Freda Thompson, who is engaged to marry the accused, to help him by testifying that she had sent a man named Hughes to have the particular sewing machine contract, which Denning was charged with having forged, filled out.

The contract forged by Denning was issued to Mrs. A. Giger in behalf of the sewing machine company and Denning received $50 on the document. Although Mrs. Thompson testified that Denning had not made out the contract, she became very badly confused when cross-examined and her testimony failed to aid the accused.

Denning was ordered to appear for sentence on Tuesday, June 13.

W. R. THOMAS ALLEGES THAT POSTOFFICE CONTRACTOR IS REMISS IN MEETING CLAIM

J. P. Maxwell Alleges That Postoffice Contractor Is Remiss in Meeting Claim

BEGINS SUIT IN COURT

No Funds Available, It Is Said, and Surety Company Is Expected to Make Good

OAKLAND, June 10.—There are no funds to pay a large number of firms that hold claims aggregating about $30,000 against Augustus E. Barrett, the builder for the new postoffice, according to the statement of J. P. Maxwell. He brought suit to-day against Barrett for $17,213 for hardware he furnished for the construction of the building. Barrett, he says, is at present in Washington where he has a big contract. A number of suits are being pressed against him in San Francisco.

According to Maxwell's complaint, Barrett entered into a contract with Secretary of the Treasury L. J. Gage, representing the United States, to build the Oakland Postoffice for the sum of $153,900. A surety company of Baltimore went on his bond to the extent of $30,000 for the faithful performance of the work and Barrett in turn secured certain amounts of hardware from Maxwell for the completion of the work amounting to the sum sued for and for which he says he has received no pay.

The United States of America is made a plaintiff with Maxwell in the complaint and it is expected that if a judgment can be had against Barrett the surety company can be made to pay the bill.

HILL PLAYS TENNIS IN CLEVER STYLE

Defeats Dr. McChesney in a Three-Set Match at Cali- fornia Club.

Despite the fact that many of the tennis players are out of town for the summer, the courts of the California Club were by no means deserted yesterday. The most interesting match was played between Dr. George McChesney and Dr. Harold Hill. The latter was in rare form and beat McChesney in a three-set match. Hill was effective at the net and found his opponent's speedy drives easy to handle. The match was fast from start to finish. The score was 6-1, 3-6, 6-4. Harold Gabriel and Melville Long also furnished a close and interesting match in singles. Gabriel proved to be the stronger of his opponent and took two sets, both of which were close.

Herbert Long played fast tennis when he won three straight sets from E. F. Nourse. The latter's steady game did not prove effective against Long, who drove past his opponent at will. Nourse played a good uphill game in the second set, but Long outfinished him.

Among the lower class men Major Ducat of the Presidio carried off the honors. He took William Murphy, the fourth class champion, into camp in clever style. The major won by a small margin, taking three sets out of five.

W. G. Knowlton had an off day, which accounts in a measure for the poor showing he made against George Cutler. Knowlton won only one game in the first two sets. He almost won the third.

Only one match was played in doubles. The contestants were Dr. Younger and Moulton Warner and Dr. Lovegrove and W. G. Knowlton. The former won two sets out of three. Warner and Moulton were the victors in the fourth and were accorded good support by his partner. The team work of the losers was not as good as usual.

The scores follow: Harold Gabriel beat Melville Long, 7-5, 6-4; Ed Bacon beat William Johnson, 6-4, 4-6; George Cutler beat W. G. Knowlton, 6-0, 6-1, 7-5; Major Ducat beat William Murphy, 6-2, 7-5, 4-6, 3-6, 7-5; Dr. Younger and Moulton Warner beat Knowlton and Dr. Lovegrove, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Dr. Herbert Long beat E. F. Nourse, 6-2, 8-6, 6-2; T. D. Black beat Blanchard, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; Warner beat Johnson and Bacon, 6-4, 6-3, 9-11.

The delegates to the Pacific States Lawn Tennis Association will meet Monday afternoon and will appoint a committee to handle the Fourth of July tournament at San Rafael. The meeting will be held at Dr. Hardy's office at 5 o'clock.

RICHARDS CASE TO BE OPENED AGAIN

Army Officer Accused of Dupli- cating Accounts to Be Retried.

The second trial of Lieutenant George S. Richards Jr., accused of duplicating his pay accounts, will probably begin at the Presidio this week. Testimony that Richards desires from the Philippines is expected to arrive on the transport Thomas, which is due in San Francisco early Wednesday morning.

If the testimony is forthcoming the case will be taken up at once. It is now over a year since the charges were preferred against the young army officer. The first trial advanced to the Presidio early last year and dragged through the summer months until fall, when he was acquitted on the ground of insanity. Richards was then ordered before a board to be examined as to his sanity. This board, at the head of which sat Colonel George H. Torney of the United States medical department, made a long and careful examination of Lieutenant Richards. The result was that it could not find any evidence of insanity. He was consequently ordered to return to duty.

The Government then ordered the case to be tried over again. The following officers are detailed for the new court martial: Lieutenant Colonel William H. C. Bowen, Thirteenth Infantry; Major Arthur C. Ducat, Seventh Infantry; Major William Lassiter, Fifteenth Infantry; Major James Lockett, Fourth Cavalry; Captain Charles H. Hunter, Artillery Corps; Captain Willis Ulme, Fifteenth Infantry; Captain Arthur S. Conkling, Artillery Corps; Captain Frank M. Savage, Fifteenth Infantry; Captain Joseph B. Douglas, Artillery Corps; Captain Hudson T. Patten, Artillery Corps; Captain Edgar A. Fry, Thirteenth Infantry, and Captain Robert S. Abernethy, Artillery Corps, judge advocates.

The new directory of the officers of the United States army on duty in this city was issued yesterday. It has been carefully compiled by Major S. W. Dunington, the military secretary of the department. In the list are included the names and addresses of retired officers, and also the names and addresses of the wives and families of deceased officers.

The horse became frightened at an imaginary danger and leaped clear over the top of a meat wagon belonging to Hammond Bros. Unfortunately the animal slipped on alighting and broke one of its legs. Mounted Officer Henry ended its suffering with a shot.
