

HIGHWAYMAN STRANGLES A LOVE WOMAN

Alights From a Bicycle and Brutally Attacks Mrs. H. Allen, After Relieving Her of Small Amount of Money

WARNS HIS VICTIM NOT TO MAKE NOISE

Vicious Fellow Jumps on His Wheel and Quickly Makes His Escape as Helpless Prey Regains Her Senses

A daring highwayman alighted from a bicycle and held up and robbed Mrs. H. Allen last night at Franklin and Pine streets. After choking his victim till she was nearly insensible, the man jumped on his wheel and rode rapidly away. Mrs. Allen hurried to the North End police station as soon as she had collected her scattered senses and made a report of the robbery.

Mrs. Allen resides at the corner of Bush and Franklin streets and was on her way home about 10:30 o'clock after visiting a friend. She had just passed the corner of Pine street when she was seized from behind. On turning around Mrs. Allen was confronted by a gruff-looking man at whose feet rested a bicycle.

"Hand over your purse or I'll blow your brains out," commanded the footpad in a calm voice. Seeing that resistance was useless Mrs. Allen handed the man her purse, containing $7 and several keys and trinkets.

The highwayman grabbed the purse and again cautioned the woman against making an outcry. Believing she would not act on his advice the fellow emphasized his command by clutching the helpless woman by the throat and choking her nearly into insensibility. He then jumped on his wheel and rode rapidly along Franklin street.

The police started on a hunt for the daring highwayman, but as they have no clew his chances of escape are very bright.

Besides the essays the programme will consist of vocal and instrumental music by the college boys, including the mammoth choruses, under the personal direction of Brother Hosea. Archbishop Montgomery will be present and, after presenting the graduates with their diplomas, will deliver a brief address.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. Mary Koehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six boxes and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

GOODWIN'S ART AT HIS CLIMAX

He Is Seen to Superb Advantage in "A Gilded Fool," Now at the Columbia

PLAY SUITS HIS GENIUS

Humor and Pathos Blend and Audience Beholds Great Actor in His Zenith

If only to hear Nat Goodwin say: "Oh, yes, I know the value of money," as he tells in the play how for want of it his mother died, "A Gilded Fool" is worth while. It is an exquisitely handled bit of pathos, exquisite in restraint, exquisite in truth. Then after it Mr. Goodwin has the audience choking again over the awkward sweetness and simplicities of his Chauncey Short. He runs the most attractive gamut of his art in this play and last night was in finest fettle. One realized anew what a difficult person he is to play. Even Miss Ruth Mackay—and Miss Mackay is an admirably human creature—appears slightly artificial in Mr. Goodwin's trying environment. These are the actor's appearances in the comedy and those displays of retaining the memory of Goodwin in one of the best of the genial, lovable, awkward, sterling characters he best affects. Miss Mackay has little to do, but does that little with charm and distinction in the part of Margaret Ruthen. Miss Flora Parker has the role of Nell Ruthen and is quite piquant in a rather mannered fashion therein. But why does Miss Ruthen's stage manager permit her to make love to her audience, to wile, to scold and tease them instead of the stage folk? He shouldn't. George Mendum is again clever, if a little monotonously so, in the role of the old maid.

Ellie Norwood is a villain of not too painful sort as Banister Strange. He is sincere and convincing. Best of the men outside of Mr. Goodwin is, however, Nell O'Brien, who is all but as good as Goodwin as the valet. Laughter well-earned falls also to a capital bit of eccentric comedy contributed by W. H. Post, and Norman Tharp is boyish and sincere as Duval.

The audience was large and moved to easy mirth throughout the play. It runs until Saturday night only. T. Daniel Frawley in "Ranson's Folly" comes on Monday evening.

BLANCHE PARTINGTON.

Florence Roberts has no better medium through which to demonstrate her talent than in the soul-stirring German play, "Magda," which was presented for the first time this season at the Alhambra Theater. From the moment the shapely actress appeared fresh from her triumphs of the festival until she sank in horror and despair before the spectacle of a dying father, she held her audience spellbound. At the close of her performance she herself from her terse interest enough to grant her vigorous applause, but for the most part the house was as quiet as the grave save for the people of the stage. Miss Roberts is wonderful in many parts, but in none more so than in "Magda."

William Yerrance in the part of the tottering father portrayed the rigid disciplinarian to the letter. His work was above reproach and received much justly merited applause. Lucius Henderson as the pastor was very convincing. His beatific countenance and gentle manner would remind any one of a bishop. Herschel Mayall played the part of the hypocritical Dr. von Keller in an excellent manner. The audience started to hiss him once for his villainy as other audiences used to hiss his opponents at the Central. The others of the cast furnished admirable support.

The special season thus far has been so profitable that Miss Roberts at the California has decided to add two more weeks to the original engagement of six weeks, which will bring the close of her engagement to the middle of July.

On Sunday night and all of next week, with the exception of the Wednesday matinee, Miss Roberts will be seen in her most brilliant play, the part of the hypocritical "Magda." At the Wednesday matinee she will give one special performance of Ibsen's fascinating psychical story, "A Doll's House," which will be of special interest from the fact that it will be the first San Francisco appearance of Miss Roberts in the leading role of Nora. She will be supported by Herschel Mayall as Krogstad; Lucius Henderson as Dr. Rank; William Yerrance as Thorwald; and Edna Louise Royce as Mrs. Linden, and others.

The remaining two weeks of the Roberts season will be devoted to revivals of her two greatest triumphs, "Tess of the d'Urbervilles" and "Zaza."

AGED MRS. ELLEN LOCKIE PROBABLY FATALLY BURNED

Firemen Hurry to the Rescue of Old Woman, Whose Clothing Is in Clutch of Flames.

With her clothing in flames, Mrs. Ellen Lockie, 70 years old, ran shrieking through the home of her daughter at 1308 Jackson street yesterday. Some firemen who were burning grass in a vacant lot heard her cries and rushed into the house. Wrapping her in blankets, they extinguished the flames. She was terribly injured, however, and Dr. Eagan, who is treating her, fears she may not recover.

Mrs. Lockie has been living with her daughter, Mrs. William Flemming. Yesterday morning, while she was burning rubbish in the kitchen stove, her dress caught fire. Mrs. Flemming heard her cries for help and tried to wrap her in a blanket. In her agony the old lady twisted away from her and might have been burned to death had not the firemen hurried to her rescue.

Sites for Children's Playground.

President Roncovieri of the Board of Education yesterday forwarded to the Board of Supervisors a communication from S. J. Rossi, in which the latter favors the block bounded by Powell, Mason, Union and Filbert streets or the block bounded by Mason, Taylor, Union and Filbert streets as a site for the children's playground at North Beach. Rossi claims that the block bounded by Powell, Mason, Lombard and Chestnut would not benefit the pupils of the Washington, Hancock, Cooper, Jean Parker, Lafayette, Garfield or Irving schools and Roncovieri says there is merit in Rossi's contention.

Gray hairs won't come ten years ahead of regular schedule if you solve your little worries in "the want ad way."

WILL GIVE BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT. The ladies of the Robert Emmet Booth will give an entertainment and dance to-morrow evening at Mission Street Hall, 1215 Mission street near Valencia, for the benefit of St. John's Church. The programme of entertainment is a varied one and contains the names of some of the best local talent. At the conclusion of the entertainment there will be dancing.

Shattered nerves, weak stomach, impaired digestion and inability to sleep all disappear when Lash's Bitters are used.

HOW THE TIME OF TAFT WILL BE SPENT HERE

The letter sent by Secretary of War Taft to Colonel George H. Pippy, president of the Union League Club, declining a proffered reception by that organization, does not contain a declination of other honors to be tendered him, as it was at first supposed to. The letter is as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, 1905. My Dear Pippy: I have your kind note of the 19th of May and in reply inform you that I am unable to accept of the honor of the Union League Club to attend reception at the club on any evening that I may select to visit California.

In reply I beg to say that my time is so filled during my short stay in San Francisco that I fear I cannot accept of the honor of the Bohemian camp and attend the commercial banquet in the evening; on the 7th there is a meeting of President Wheeler's, a meeting at the Greek Theater in Berkeley and a reception in the evening at Mrs. Martin's, and the morning visit Angel Island and sail the morning of July 8.

Afternoon Spent in Recreation by Visitors as the Guests of Local Unions

The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union met in convention yesterday morning. The members spent the afternoon on the bay, viewing the points of interest adjacent to San Francisco. In the evening a dinner was enjoyed at the Russ House, where the delegates, their wives and families were present and made merry until early morning. To-day is scheduled as the last of the convention, but the unfinished business before the body may necessitate holding a session to-morrow.

At the dinner many distinguished guests were present, including the Mayor. A simple repast was served, after which the speechmaking began. Among the speakers were Mayor Schmitz, who complimented the organization on its work; President Martin P. Higgins, who dwelt upon the work of the convention, and Toastmaster Jennings Phillips, who confined his remarks to the local unions of San Francisco. The other speakers were Hamilton Wright of the California Promotion Committee, William J. French of the San Francisco Labor Council; W. MacArthur, "The Labor Movement"; E. J. Howland, "The Press"; James H. Barry, George Norton and Delegate T. F. Galokowsky.

In the afternoon the delegates and their families were guests of the local unions on a trip around the bay on the steamer H. J. Corcoran. The start was made from the Clay-street wharf at 2 o'clock and the boat circled the bay slowly, passing points of interest. During the trip several of the committees were in session, while the younger members and ladies of the party were being entertained by a special orchestra.

Yesterday morning the delegates continued the regular sessions of the convention in session, while the younger members and ladies of the party were being entertained by a special orchestra. The resolution passed by the convention asked support for the local unions of San Francisco in their approaching fight against the return by employers to a nine-hour day. A section of the resolution asked the presence of the executive board in the city to consider the question at the next meeting of the convention. This request was also granted.

Another question that called forth debate and occupied much time was that of abandoning the present policy of sending organizers through the country. The resolution in relation to the question was framed with the intention of doing away with the special organizers employed by the international. The committee on laws reported unfavorably on it and for the reason looked as if the committee's report would be overruled and the post of organizer abolished.

At the conclusion of a speech in favor of the proposed change, President Higgins, the committee's report was sustained and the organizers will be used during the coming year.

Several other resolutions affecting the policy of the various branches of the international were passed upon. Principal among them was an addition to the constitution requiring that all organizations, when applying for a charter, shall pay an additional fee of $10 to the secretary-treasurer, who shall supply them with a seal, working cards and stationery.

LABOR COUNCIL DECIDES IN FAVOR OF PLASTERERS

Cement Frame Setting Workers Will Get Half Holiday and the Same Wages as Carpenters.

The Labor Council at its meeting last night decided the controversy between the plasterers and tilesetters in favor of the plasterers. The council decided by a majority vote that hereafter the cement frame setting workers receive the same wages as carpenters, which means 50 cents a day more than they have been getting in the past with the half-holiday privilege accorded to other unions. It was decided by the council that

NORWAY'S SECESSION CAUSES DISCONTENT

Chamber May Refuse to Vote Authority to Carry Out Negotiations.

STOCKHOLM, June 22.—The Aftonbladet declares that discontent over the Government's proposal to agree to the secession of Norway is so strong that the First Chamber probably will refuse to vote the necessary authority to carry out the proposed negotiations. It says the Second Chamber will agree to the main proposals, but will severely censure the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Formal announcement of the creation of the new nation of Norway reached the State Department to-day in a report from the American Consul General at Christiania, Norway, transmitting a note from the Norwegian Minister for Foreign Affairs, in which the Minister says: "I have the honor to request you directly or through the Ministry with which you are corresponding to acquaint the Government of your country with the contents of the enclosed documents, of which a translation is submitted."

The documents include the letter to King Oscar and the resolution of dissolution and other resolutions setting forth the details of the separation of the two countries.

No action has yet been taken by this Government toward recognizing the new nation and it is understood that Washington will await the initiative of the European powers directly interested.

CLUBMEN GATHER AT AN INFORMAL DINNER

Members of Union League Spend Pleasant Evening at Festal Board.

At the Union League Club last night about 150 members gathered at an informal dinner in the banquet hall. An elaborate dinner was served and good fellowship reigned throughout the evening. Music songs and toasts kept those assembled in good humor throughout the evening. It was the first affair of this kind given since the club moved into its new quarters and it was a popular success.

Professor Yank with his stringed orchestra furnished music and several vocal numbers by S. J. Sandy kept the clubmen in good spirits.

Colonel George H. Pippy, president of the club, was toastmaster. Uncle George Bromley was there as witty as ever, and he could not escape without making a little talk. In a speech sprinkled with humor he kept the crowd in good cheer. A speech appropriate to the occasion. After the dinner the members spent the remainder of the evening about the club renewing old acquaintanceship.

LOCAL BREVITIES

The executive committee must prepare a more liberal scale for the regulations governing the employment of apprentices in the various trades in which they are about to seek employment.

The Labor day committee will hold its next meeting Saturday night, July 1, at the Building Trades Council Hall on Mission street.

At the last meeting of the Sailors' Union a committee was appointed, consisting of Andrew Faruseth, E. A. Erickson, Walter MacArthur, C. Goldin and J. Kean, to confer with the Ship Owners' Association with the object of arranging conditions under which the members of the union shall continue in service with the association.

There is nothing new to be advanced on either side of this conference but a renewal of existing conditions. Reports from sub-agents along the coast show no material change in previous conditions.

After a spirited contest W. E. Hagarty was elected alternate. The union will give its annual ball at Native Sons' Hall on July 15 and its annual picnic at Fernbrook Park on August 6. The sugar workers elected the following officers: President, Henry Seger; vice president, Albert Rees; secretary, C. W. Peck; conductor, Albert Young; guard, Hans Christensen. It was decided to hold the annual picnic of this union on July 2 at Fairfax Park.
