

FIALA-ZIEGLER POLAR EXPEDITION RESCUED IN THE ARCTIC REGIONS

Explorer and His Men Return Safely to Norway.

Fail in Their Attempt to Reach North Pole.

Expedition Is Fruitful in Its Scientific Discoveries.

HONNINGSVAGA, Norway, Aug. 10.—The Arctic steamer Terra Nova, which went to the relief of the Fiala-Ziegler polar expedition, has rescued Anthony Fiala and all the others connected with the expedition with the exception of one Norwegian seaman who died from natural causes. The ship America, which took out the expedition, was crushed in the ice early in the winter of 1904, and was lost with a large part of her coal and provisions. The expedition reached 82 degrees and 13 minutes.

The thirty-seven members of the expedition who returned to safety are all in good health despite their deprivations and prolonged imprisonment in the Arctic. The expedition was severed from all communication with the outside world from July, 1903. Anthony Fiala of Brooklyn, N. Y., the leader of the expedition, in a brief statement says:

"The rescue was most timely. By my order the American wintered in Nepitz Bay. Early in the winter of 1904 the ship was crushed in the ice and became a total loss, together with big quantities of coal and provisions. Stores left at Franz Josef Land by several relief parties saved us very serious privations. Three attempts to reach a high altitude failed. The scientific work, however, as planned, was successfully carried out by William J. Peters of the United States Geological Survey.

"Our rescue was due to the splendid efforts of William S. Champ, secretary of the National Geographic Society, commanding the relief expedition, who, owing to the terrible weather, failed to reach us last year, and to the untiring zeal of Captain Kjetnes and his Norwegian officers and crew, who, for six weeks, persistently forced their way through solid floes of ice and finally reached us.

"Abundance of stores had been left on the Franz Josef Archipelago by the expedition commanded by the Duke of Abruzzi and the Andre relief expedition, so that we did not suffer serious difficulties on that score."

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A cablegram was delivered at the office of the Ziegler estate confirming the dispatch from Honningsvaga, and stating that three attempts northward by the present expedition were made without success. The scientific work, however, was successfully carried on.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Professor Willis L. Moore, president of the National Geographic Society, today received a telegram from W. J. Peters, dated Honningsvaga, and reading as follows: "No record, conditions unfavorable; considerable scientific work." Peters, the sender of the message, had full charge of the scientific work.

WESTERN TERMINUS FOR NEW RAILROAD

Kairn Island Selected by Grand Trunk Pacific Company.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—It is stated on unquestioned authority that Kairn Island, twenty-five miles south of Fort Simpson and facing Buckets Inlet, is to be the site of Laurier City, the western terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Confirmation of the fact is found in the grant of 10,000 acres of land, exclusive of Indian reserves, upon the island, just made by the Provincial Government to the company at a price of $1 an acre.

It is understood upon the best authority that the grant is conditional upon the selected site being made the permanent western terminus of the transcontinental road. A further stipulation is that the construction of the railway from the Pacific end shall be commenced prior to June 1, 1906, and shall be completed within two years thereafter.

FIGHTS TO END HER OWN LIFE

Unhappy Woman Struggles With Friend in Vain Attempt to Swallow Poison

Mrs. Myrtle Green, a divorced woman living at 28 Clara street, toyed with death for a moment last night, but failed to get on speaking terms with the grim destroyer. Rat poison was the agent employed. Dependancy is ascribed as the cause. Owing to the prompt action of Mrs. E. C. Belmont, with whom Mrs. Green was living, the latter's life was saved, but not until after a desperate fight between the woman who would take her own life and Mrs. Belmont.

The Belmonts were at supper when Mrs. Green, a frail woman, bent with care, appeared on the threshold of the dining-room door, holding in her hand a spoonful of rat poison. Placing it near her lips, she said, "Good-by, Annie. This life is too hard for me. Look out for little Grace. God protect her." Hardly had she done speaking, when Mrs. Belmont reached her side with a bound. Mrs. Green made a desperate attempt to swallow the poison. In the light a quantity of the powder slipped on the floor. Wrenching her hand free, the frantic woman tossed off the remaining part of the powder and sank to the floor in a swoon.

At the Central Emergency Hospital Dr. Reuben C. Hill operated the stomach pump with such vigor that Mrs. Green was able to think rationally in a comparatively short space of time. She deplored her rash action, and buoyed up by the kind words and goodly advice of Dr. Hill, went home with a promise never to repeat the act, but to live for her little girl, who is yet in her infancy.

POLICEMAN SHOOTS FOE AND BYSTANDER

One Victim Dead, the Other Dying and Murderer Commits Suicide.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Oscar Benson, a policeman, this afternoon shot and killed his brother-in-law, Matthew Mamer, 50 years old, fatally wounded Mamer's neck, placed the revolver against Mamer's head and killed him. Nicholas Ketten, who was in another part of the store, the only known witness of the murder, was shot in the abdomen when he attempted to run out of the store. When the police reached the place Benson was still living, but he died after a few minutes. He placed the revolver in his mouth, the bullet passing through his brain.

QUIET FUNERAL FOR ARCHBISHOP

Services for Mgr. Chapelle in New Orleans To-Day Are to Be of Private Nature

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10.—In order that no unnecessary risks might be taken it was announced today both by Surgeon White and by Father Scotti that the funeral of the late Archbishop Chapelle, which will take place on Saturday at 9 o'clock in the morning, would be private. Dr. White said it was a fact accepted by the scientists that yellow fever could not be transmitted by a corpse, but it is considered that there would be some element of danger in attracting to the cathedral on immense assemblage of people from all sections of the city. The cathedral is located within the originally infected district within a stone's throw of the French market and there has been fever on all sides of it.

To-day a solemn requiem mass was said in honor of the dead Archbishop. The services lasted for two hours with a large attendance of people residing on the lower side of Canal street. Thirty priests participated and the church was profusely decorated in white, black and purple. The body rested on a bier in the main aisle and it was found that the remains were sufficiently preserved to permit the removal of the metallic covering. Many viewed the remains through the glass. After the services ended and the congregation was dismissed, further visits to the church were discouraged.

During the day, Cardinal Gibbons telegraphed his condolence. Messages came from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries.

WILKESBARE, Pa., Aug. 10.—Cardinal Gibbons was informed of the death of Archbishop Chapelle when he arrived in this city last night. He said: "The news is a great shock to me. Before leaving Baltimore yesterday morning I received a dispatch from him commending himself to my prayers and this was the first knowledge I had that his illness was so serious or that his end was near. I need not say how greatly I am shocked and grieved at the news of his death."

CHANCE TO BEAT LIFE INSURANCE GAME LOST

Man Drops Dead After Refusing to Take Out a Policy.

APPLETON, Wis., Aug. 10.—Henry Pauls dropped dead at Lawrence University today after a two hours' session with the local agent of a life insurance company and after refusing to take out a policy, explaining that he came from a long-lived family and expected to live at least half a century longer. Pauls deprecated a man's action in taking out life insurance, saying that nearly every man was better fitted to invest his money than were insurance companies. Pauls left a wife and six children. His wife was at his side when he collapsed.

FRENCH NAVAL MEN IN LONDON

Vice Admiral Caillard and the Officers of His Fleet Guests of Lord Mayor

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Vice Admiral Caillard, commander-in-chief of the French fleet, and eight of his officers arrived in London this afternoon. The weather was ideal and animated crowds thronged the route from the Victoria station through the main streets to Guildhall, where the visitors were guests of the Lord Mayor and Corporation at luncheon. Forty open carriages conveyed the officers and the procession was headed by three royal coaches bearing Admiral Caillard, Sir John Fisher and other admirals, Sir Francis Bertie, the British Ambassador to France, and Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador to Great Britain.

At the Guildhall, which was reached at about 1 o'clock, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen, in full state robes, welcomed the guests. Eight hundred sat down to luncheon. The toasts were full of cordiality.

After luncheon, the procession was reformed and proceeded to the French Embassy, where Admiral Caillard gave a reception to members of the French colony.

The passage of the procession across Trafalgar Square was marked by an incident that met with hearty cheers from the spectators. As Admiral Caillard and the other chief French officers came abreast of the Nelson column, they slightly turned toward it and, looking at the bas relief depicting the death of Great Britain's naval hero, raised their hands to the salute.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Mayor Edward F. Dunne's residence was looted by burglars last night a few hours after his return from his visit to the East. ## MRS. TAGGART DISPLAYS RAGE

Threatens to Horsewhip a Detective Who Appears as Witness Against Her

HUSBAND ON THE STAND

Army Man Merely Details His Military Career and Does Not Accuse His Wife

Special Dispatch to The Call.

WOOSTER, Ohio, Aug. 10.—"I'll horsewhip you, you cur!" shouted Mrs. Grace Taggart in the courtroom this afternoon where her husband, Major Taggart, is trying to obtain a divorce, to C. R. Mayber, a detective who is expected to give evidence on the alleged Silver Lake episode.

Judge Easton had announced that his decision as to the admissibility of Mayber's evidence was to go over till tomorrow. Judge Smyser said:

"We knew all about this evidence that is to be given by this man and for two hours yesterday afternoon I debated with my client as to the advisability of letting him go ahead, for the perjury charge that is to come."

"Is that so?" chimed in Mayber. "Why can't you have him arrested?" asked Sterling.

"Humph. Did try it once—got left," said Mayber, from the stand, so that all could hear.

"But we're not through with you yet. This gentleman may never again after this trial see the light of the outside world," said Smyser.

Judge Easton called a recess and Mayber stepped from the stand.

"You may be wanted to-morrow and you may not," said Judge Easton, as Mayber stepped down into the crowd.

Mrs. Taggart then shouted her threat at the detective.

Major Taggart took the stand at 3 o'clock. In answer to questions by Attorney Sterling, Major Taggart gave a detailed account of his army career. He recited his triumphs in the army and told of his important commands, and of the commendations he received. He told of his service in Cuba and of having been on the San Juan firing line for two days. Taggart's testimony was lacking in sensational features.

COLLINS GETS ANOTHER STAY

Physician's Certificate Is Filed in Court to Show That the Defendant Is Ill

PROSECUTION SKEPTICAL

Officials Believe That Fugitive Is Feigning in the Hope of Gaining Time

Special Dispatch to The Call.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 10.—George D. Collins of San Francisco, who is fighting extradition on a charge of perjury, is believed by the police and lawyers engaged in the case to be feigning illness in a hopeless endeavor to postpone the hour when he will be handed over to the California authorities. To a call representative Attorney Higgins said to-night:

"I shall to-morrow insist that Collins be examined by two physicians as to his condition. We are confident he is shamming illness. The fact of the matter is he has played his last card and lost. He has exhausted all the arts of the professional juggler in legal technicalities and has, so to speak, got to the end of his rope. He is afraid to take the stand and give evidence. Let him should try to escape from the police the guards have been doubled. Judge Lammman will surely commit him. If he applies for habeas corpus before a Judge of the Supreme Court he can hardly hope for success, as two Supreme Court Judges have already turned him down. About the only thing left open to him is to apply to the full court. But I think he has completely exhausted himself."

When the case was resumed this morning by Judge Lammman, his counsel H. D. Helmsken, produced a certificate from Dr. R. L. Frash, a well known local practitioner, which stated that he had examined Collins and had found him to be threatened with a nervous breakdown.

Higgins said his information was that accused was not ill and he wished that an opportunity would be given to have Collins examined by two physicians. Collins had been working all the previous day and the police were convinced he was not ill. A person could easily feign sickness so that the best physicians would be deceived. He would like, he said, to have two physicians make an examination of Collins. Of course this

ISTHMIAN RAIL TARIFFS FALL

Heavy Reductions Already Made and a Further Decrease Is Contemplated

FLAT RATE IS FAVORED

Transportation Business Is Now Open to All Established Lines of Steamships

Special Dispatch to The Call.

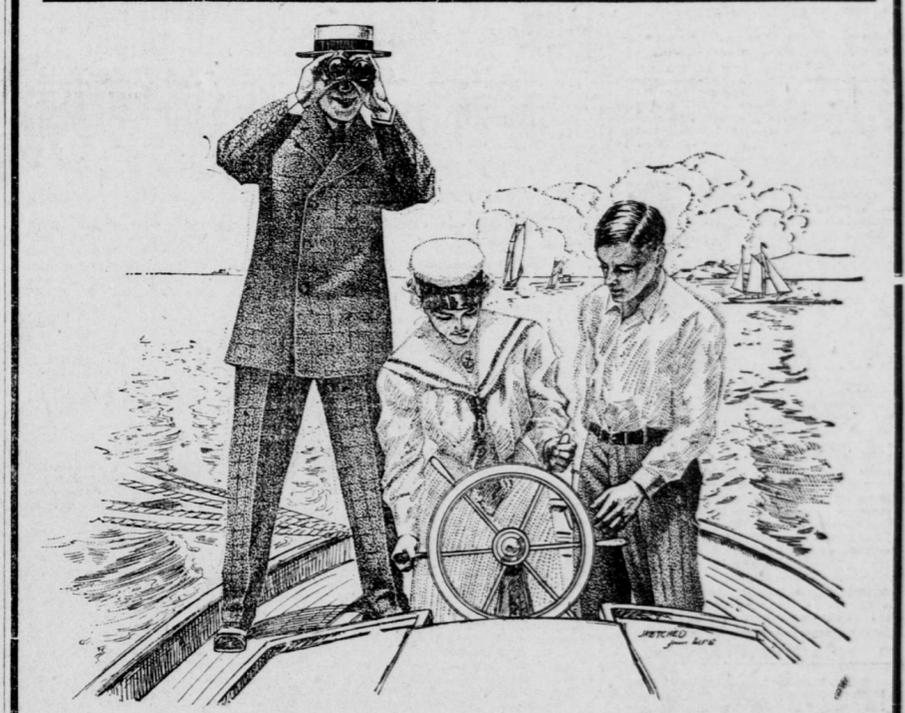

CALL BUREAU, POST BUILDING, WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Senator J. B. Calve, Minister of Costa Rica at Washington, who was influential in the movement by which the republics of South America several months ago urged Mr. Taft to reduce the transportation rates on the Panama Railroad, in order that the products of South and Central American countries might be brought cheaply to the American market, has been officially advised that the desired measures have been in part effected. Senator Calve has received a letter from Mr. Adey, acting Secretary of the Department of State, stating that local rates across the isthmus have been reduced and an investigation is now under way looking to the establishment of a flat rate across the isthmus.

Rates from New York to Panama have been reduced approximately 50 per cent. With reference to the exclusive agreement which formerly existed between the Panama Railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, whereby through bills of lading between New York and Panama on the western coast between Panama and San Francisco could be issued only in conjunction with those two lines, Calve was informed that a six months' notice was required to terminate such agreement.

Such notice was given, and on July 12, the exclusive privilege of the Pacific Mail lapsed. Therefore this business is now open to all established lines of steamships having regular sailings.

could only be done with his consent, but if he was not shamming his consent would not be withheld. Judge Lammman thought Dr. Frash's certificate settled the matter and granted an adjournment until to-morrow morning.

Suit Sale $10

WE KNOW, Mr. Reader, that you are thinking of getting your next suit of us, otherwise you would not be interested in reading this advertisement.

Now don't think that these are like the $10 suits you have seen before, sold at this price. Don't judge these suits by their sale price. Look at their value and consider the method by which they are sold. Picture in your mind the $15 suits you see about town—those are the suits we sell for $10.

We manufacture clothing and wholesale it to the trade all over the United States except in California. Here we sell direct to the public through our own stores, but the prices are the same as we ask the dealer when he calls at our manufacturing establishment. We retail here in San Francisco at wholesale prices. You see, we make our profit on the manufacture of the suit and not on the retailing of it.

Other local dealers buy from manufacturers and then add their profit to that of the manufacturers. The suit reaches you plus two profits—the manufacturer's and the retailer's. Our suit reaches you plus but one profit. The suit you see elsewhere for $15 is the suit we sell for $10.

This one profit principle has made two stores necessary to handle our fast-growing business. The proof of all this rests with the suit itself. Come in one of our stores—buy a suit—examine it carefully at home. If it is not as good as the $15 suit sold elsewhere, return the garment and get your money back.

If you want a good pair of pants at a medium price, for everyday wear, just to tone up that worn coat and vest, we have them from $2.25 up to $4.00 a pair.

Free Concert in the Ari Reception Room of our Powell and Ellis Store every afternoon at 2 o'clock, also Saturday evenings. Ladies are cordially invited.
