Appraiser Dunsmuir Estate Shows Large Amount of Shoddy Goods

BAD AND GOOD MIXED

Furnishings for Which Many Thousands Were Paid Are Placed on List at $12,000

OAKLAND, Sept. 24.—That among the bric-a-brac purchased by the late Josephine Dunsmuir and stored in her beautiful country home near San Leandro much that is of little value and not what it was represented to be is shown by the filed inventory of the estate in which expensive glassware and china are lumped at a nominal figure, while her library that cost over $50,000 has a valuation placed upon it of $30,000. The books, however, belong to expensive editions in which many were especially printed with the monogram of the deceased on the opening pages.

Thousands of dollars were spent on the wares that went into this home, now the property of Edna Wallace Hooper, the actress. The entire estate has a valuation placed upon it of $157,875 and of this amount the petty with its 200 cases of fruit trees and lawns is appraised at $125,000 leaving the furnishings in the house and about the grounds a value of $32,875 which cost nearly $50,000.

A second appraisal made by J. B. Lamtree, J. A. Munro and Paul Goldsmith shows that it was necessary to list every article on the place and much valueless rubbish was discovered. The home itself is one of the most beautiful in Alameda County and at the present time is rented to I. W. Hellman Jr. of San Francisco at a monthly rental of $250. There is an electric plant that alone cost $35,000 to install, and tiny bulbs light up the rooms.

The installation of a waterplant was another improvement upon which thousands were spent. A supply said to be sufficient to furnish the town of San Leandro was installed.

Within the home the same lavishness is displayed. There is a stamp collection valued at $300. The library contains books in expensive bindings and includes such works as "The Martyrdom of an Angel" by White Umbrella in Mexico, "Billy Baxter's Letters," etc.

It is claimed that all an agent had to do was to tell Mrs. Dunsmuir that Mrs. Vanderbilt or Rockefeller had purchased just such an old structure in Oakland and she immediately made the purchase, and paid prices many times the worth of the articles bought.

An effort is now to be made to sell off the old structure in Oakland in order to pay debts amounting to about $12,000. A week ago petition was made to the court to mortgage it for $12,000 in order to pay the outstanding claims, but Judge Ogden held that he would rather consent to a part of the property than allow a mortgage to be placed upon it.

MASONS' NEW QUARTERS.

OAKLAND, Sept. 23.—The entire second floor of the Masonic Temple at the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets has been rented by the local Commandery, Knights Templars, and the lodge room and hall will hereafter be occupied exclusively as the headquarters of the members of the commandery. The main lodgeroom, which will be used by the knights, has recently been completely furnished by the Masonic Temple Association and is now one of the finest halls of its kind on the Pacific Coast.

The enlargement of the main lodgeroom, which was made necessary by the large increase in membership, being at the present time 335 members in the commandery.

The demolition of the old furniture was made at the expense of the commandery and Harrison streets, to make way for the new cathedral to be erected by the building association of the Scottish Rite, has been commenced and as soon as the old structure is out of the way the work on the new cathedral will be started. The new building will have a frontage of 100 feet in each street and will be three stories in height. It will be thoroughly modern with every respect and will be completely fireproof.

Youth Reads Government Messages

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—Intercepting Government wireless dispatches, not for the purpose of making use of any information thus obtained, but with the object of further perfecting a wireless telegraph plant of his own construction, is the scientific pastime of Fred G. Mudgett of 297 Santa Clara avenue, who has installed in a basement room in his house a complete and practical station for the reception and transmission of the electric waves.

Mudgett often sits alone for hours with his apparatus and listens to what the Government operators at the wireless posts on Yerba Buena Island, Mare Island and the Farallone Islands are communicating to each other, or perhaps to some navy vessel far out at sea. Mudgett occasionally takes part in the long distance "talk" and has a "wireless" acquaintance with nearly all of the operators at the Government land stations. These "chats" through the ether are often as entertaining as the ordinary telephone "joshing" and are more interesting and fascinating to Mudgett because of their scientific value and use.

Although he graduated from the Alameda High School only last December, Mudgett has been a close and enthusiastic student of matters electrical since he was 14 years of age. Marconi, Arco, Braun, Tesla, Slaby, DeForrest, Pessen-der, and other experts on wireless telegraphy have all been read and studied by the youthful genius. It was three years ago that he took up the sending of dispatches without the means of wires and it was three months ago that he installed his wireless plant at his residence. Mudgett is of a quiet and studious disposition and is not inclined to regard his achievements with his wireless station as extraordinary. Speaking of his work he said:

"When a boy I was always taken up with electrical toys and that wonderful power attracted me. I began the study of electricity about eight years ago as a pastime. I have made it a point to read the works of the inventors and the writers on wireless telegraphy and three months ago constructed a wireless plant in the basement of my home. My aerial wire runs to the top of the flagpole on the roof of the house and is connected with the highest point in Alameda. All of the apparatus used in my situation was made and installed by me. It is not as perfect yet as I desire, and while I have not devised any new patents, I believe that there are many chances for improvement in the plant.

"I communicate regularly with the wireless stations on Yerba Buena Island, Mare Island, and the Farallone Islands. The other night I happened for three hours to test the works of the United States ship Solace was making of her wireless plant while communicating with Mare Island and Yerba Buena Island. I ascertained with my own instruments that the vessel was at that time eight miles off Point Reyes.

"Whenever the electric waves are sent out from other stations the messages are registered in my station. I have arranged a paper tape in connection with the plant, so that if I should not be present the dispatch will be indicated by the usual dot and dash method common in telegraph offices. My plant was installed without assistance from any one else.

"I am now a student in the mining department of the University of California and the study of wireless is somewhat of a pastime for me. Should it develop that the position of City Clerk and member of the Building, Loan and Savings Bank of that city. He has a family still residing in Portland.

OAKLAND, Sept. 24.—Karl H. Nickel, one of the best known real estate men in Alameda County, has just established branches of his Oakland office at Goldfield, Nev., and at Butte, Mont., and he is now arranging for the establishment of branches at Pasadena and Los Angeles. Competent agents have been placed in charge, and it is the intention of Mr. Nickel to make the new offices a means of advertising Oakland real estate in the outside market.

His agents have been provided with diagrams and schedules of prices of tracts of choice Alameda County property, and also with complete sets of plans for all kinds of houses. The work of Mr. Nickel's agents will be to find prospective emigrants before they leave the cities where the branch offices are established. He will continue to maintain his principal office in this city.

One of the largest real estate deals of the last week was the sale of a new tract, consisting of forty acres of choice property on Claremont avenue, in Berkeley. The sale was effected by Macdermott & Batchelder of Berkeley, and the purchasers are the Birdsall-Craig Land Company. The price paid for the tract was $75,000.

W. C. Moran, a pioneer real estate dealer of Berkeley, has found it necessary to enlarge his business, and he has just entered into partnership with A. M. Rowley of Berkeley. Mr. Quakenbush is a recent arrival from the East, and expresses himself well satisfied with the college town as a business center. The new firm will be known as W. C. Moran & Co.

Hedemerk & Bradford, at Lorin, have just moved their offices into the new Hodge building, which has just been completed. The new building, which is in the hands of Hedemerk & Bradford, is a two-story brick structure. The first floor is divided into six stores, and the second floor is devoted to handsome flats.

The Alameda Land Company has completed plans for the erection of a new business block on the east side of Park street, next to the Tucker block, where they will establish their headquarters. The offices now occupied by the company are to be at once remodeled as a bank, and their new building is completed. The Alameda Land Company will establish their office in a portable building, which will be near the site of the new structure. The new building will be constructed of concrete and steel and will be thoroughly modern in every detail.

The market has been so bright as at present. He declares that great credit is due to Secretary Hartog of the Alameda Advancement Association for the excellent work he has done in behalf of the progress of Alameda.

The Fruitvale Board of Trade has received a report from F. W. Howe, who is numbering the houses of Fruitvale, to the effect that nearly a hundred new buildings have been placed on business houses and residences since the work was begun, and that the work is progressing favorably.
