

JUDGE CAUGHT IN POKER RAID

Policeman Foley Rounds Up Mogan and Six Friends in a Nickel Ante Game

HIS HONOR TAKES POT. Despite the Commotion the Jurist Quietly Annexes All Loose Coin on Table

The next time that Police Judge Mogan dallies with the poker chips in a nickel ante game he will not try to shroud his movements in mystery.

The Judge was caught Thursday night at the crucial moment in a friendly game in the apartments of "Curt" Richardson, once trainer for James Edward Britt. And the raid came when there was as much as $5 cents in the pot and the Judge held a full house.

Officer P. Foley led the raid. For weeks he had been watching Richardson's room on Mission street. He noticed that at night the curtains were shut and that visitors carried out late. Officer Foley was certain that he had spotted a faro layout or a roulette wheel. He had visions of thousands being lost every minute behind those curtains.

Now, when Judge Mogan plays poker sometimes as much as $5 cents changes hands in a single night, but the Judge does not let the losses or winnings go much stronger. Policeman Foley did not know this—he thought that he was up against a second Monte Carlo.

Shortly before midnight Policeman Foley and another patrolman crept up the stairway that led to Richardson's rooms. They paused on the threshold.

"Get you five," said a voice from within.

"It's five you ten," said a second voice.

"Great snakes! I won't be able to eat for a week if I lose this pot," gasped a third.

"They must be Eastern shortard men," said Policeman P. Foley. "But they can't take any chances." He drew his revolver and the other followed suit.

"Don't shed any more blood than is necessary," advised Policeman Foley just before they rushed the door.

Police Judge Mogan, who was playing with a group of men, was startled when he saw the police. He immediately threw down his cards and fled. The police searched the room and found a large amount of money and a roulette wheel. The judge was arrested and taken to the police station.

PACIFIC STATES TO BE CALLED TO ORDER

St. Petersburg Workmen Decide on Programme to Be Carried Out Red Sunday

TROOPS QUIET SIBERIA Leaders of the Insurgents Are Under Arrest and Disloyal Soldiers Disarmed

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—The Workmen's Council, after consultation with the leaders of the other proletarian organizations to-day decided that the celebration of the anniversary of January 22 (red Sunday) should take the form of a general strike for a single day. Delegates were appointed to go to France, Germany and England, as well as other places abroad, for the purpose of thanking the workers of those countries who purpose to join in a general observance of the anniversary.

A three-cornered discussion is in progress between General Martynoff, the Molva (Russ) and the Novoe Vremya over the question of personal bravery of the Jews. The controversy was precipitated by the publication of an article signed by General Martynoff, in which the Jewish soldiers were stigmatized as cowards and in which it was declared that they resorted to every conceivable ruse, even to the extent of mutilating themselves, in order to avoid service. The article said that those who actually reached Manchuria feigned sickness before every fight and that the flight of the Jews in battle was enough to shake the morale of an entire regiment. The Jews, the article said, were also guilty of constant desertion, and it was alleged that there were 250 desertions of Jewish soldiers from a single division. The article also charged that the Jews, on account of cowardice and physical weakness, was not fit to be a soldier.

DEFENDS THE JEWS.

The Molva took up the cudgel on behalf of the Jews, warmly defending their moral courage and giving them credit for bearing the brunt of the revolutionary struggle and explaining that any faults they may have shown at the front were born of their detestation of the rule of the bourgeoisie.

The Novoe Vremya sided with General Martynoff, but acknowledged the abilities of the Jews who, it said, were the real organizers of the Russian revolution. It insisted, however, that while the Jews had furnished the arms and the workmen, just as they furnished bombs to the terrorists, they had done little actual fighting.

In continuing its side of the argument the Novoe Vremya charges those foreigners in the United States and elsewhere, "who raise money to buy weapons for the defense of the poor Russian Jews, which in reality are used to fight the Government. Then the foreigners blame the Government and give them credit for quelling the rebellion."

The first advice received by the Government from Siberia of the restoration of telegraphic communication show that the most critical conditions prevailed there during the recent strike. It is now, with the arrival of reliable troops from Manchuria, the worst is over. Owing to the interruption of communication the local Governors were not aware that the revolutionaries had been conferred on them by the Emperor's ukase. The paltry military forces at their disposal were in open sympathy with the strikers and many of them were revolutionists, thus preventing energetic measures being taken to restore the law and authority, which was practically nonexistent for many days.

INSURGENTS ARE ARRESTED.

Divisions under General Sukhotin have now arrived and taken possession of Irkutsk, Omsk, Krasnoyarsk and other towns and are arresting the leaders of the insurgents and disarming the unreliable troops.

The first telegram arriving from Chikotsk was a frantic appeal from the financial agent there for some one to take over the administration of the city.

The Vice Governor, the Chief of Police and all his other superior officers have been killed or wounded during the insurrection. He reported that for several days the revolutionists were in control of the entire town, except the administration building and this was only held because of the devotion of the cadets of the military school who swore on the colors to fight to the death against the revolutionists.

Krasnoyarsk was also for several days in the hands of insurgents who elected a revolutionary government and exacted an oath of allegiance from all citizens.

REVEALS INTERESTING FACTS.

Russian Budget Throws Light on Cost of the Recent War.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—An examination of the budget statement, which was issued last night, reveals many interesting facts. Although the impact of gold in the State Bank and abroad at the opening and close of the war increased from $31,000,000 to $72,000,000, the gold circulation in the country in the same period decreased $500,000,000. The paper circulation increased $24,000,000. The statement explains that all the payments in Manchuria were in paper, the entire proceeds of the foreign loans being employed to pay foreign war obligations and the interest on the public debt.

Exclusive of the loans being negotiated to balance the budget of 1906, the war resulted in an increase in the interest charges to $11,500,000.

No details are given of the lump sum of $32,500,000 allotted for the liquidation of the war expenses.

Summarizing the budget, the statement points out that one of the good features of the outlook is the exceptionally fine condition of the public debt.

This is the last budget which will not be subject to revision of the National Assembly.

GRIPMAN KNOCKS ABUSIVE PASSENGER FROM THE CAR

John Gillespie Is Seriously Injured in Altercation With Carmen and May Die.

John Gillespie, a laborer, living at 3315 Polson street, was knocked from a Washington-street car last night by Gripman D. C. Carson. The trouble occurred at Polk and Washington streets about 6:45 o'clock. Carson was booked at the North End station on a charge of battery.

According to the gripman's story, Gillespie was drunk and insisted on standing on the steps of the car. Fearing his passenger would fall, Carson commanded him to sit down. Gillespie, he says, cursed him roundly and made as if to strike him. Then the gripman struck the intoxicated man, knocking him to the street.

Gillespie was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital by Policeman Luke Livingston and there he was attended by Dr. M. E. Magnus. Dr. Magnus found his patient much intoxicated and bleeding from the ears. It is feared his skull may be fractured, although Gillespie has not as yet evidenced any severe symptoms.

SCOTT SUCCEEDS JOHN I. SABIN

Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company Elects a New President

Henry T. Scott has been elected president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company. The selection by the directors' committee of the company took place yesterday. The position carries a salary of $25,000 a year, and is desirable in many respects. Since the death of John I. Sabin there had been no president of the corporation, difficulty being experienced in finding a suitable man who would accept the place.

Henry T. Scott, the new president, has been connected with large enterprises. He was the president of the Union Iron Works during the construction of the battleship Oregon and the cruiser Olympia and other United States naval vessels, and also occupied the same position for a time under the reorganization. He has been president of the Pacific Mutual Insurance Company. He is a director and member of the finance committee of the Mercantile Trust Company and a director of the Crocker-Woolworth National Bank. His Goodman and Marvin Smith of Los Angeles, made his escape in the crowd, only to be recaptured immediately.

Mason, who was sentenced for grand larceny for three years, was handcuffed to M. Patterson, another prisoner, who is to serve one year for forgery. Just as the party was going on the boat Mason slipped his handcuff, made a dash for liberty, and for a moment was lost to sight in the crowd.

Deputy Sheriff Smith jumped after the escaping prisoner, but Harry Southard, a collector at the ferry, caught Mason. Southard, however, refused to turn him over to his guards unless he was paid $25, being under the impression that a standing reward is offered for the capture of any escaping prisoner. Deputy Sheriff Goodman agreed to submit the point to Sheriff O'Neill and then took his two prisoners to San Quentin. At the Sheriff's office Southard finally agreed to accept $5 for his capture of Mason, which amount Goodman cheerfully paid.

Mason felt much chagrined at his capture and said Southard: "Fard, I am not guilty, and neither is the other fellow."

Patterson will serve one year for forgery and Mason will serve three years for grand larceny. Mason created a scene in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County last Wednesday when he appeared for sentence by claiming to be innocent and the victim of jobbery on the part of his wife and others. He said that his wife wanted to get rid of him so she could get married again.

ECUADOR REVOLT

President Garcia of Southern Republic Cables That the Revolution Is Crushed

ARMY REMAINS LOYAL One Battalion Joins Rebel Leader and Is Defeated Without Firing a Shot

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Maximilian Marin, Consul General of Ecuador, received the following cable yesterday from L. Garcia, President of the Republic:

"QUITO, Jan. 9.—Tell the colony in New York that the revolution is over."

The revolution which has just ended, according to Consul General Marin, had its inception in the desire of General Alfaro, a former President of the republic, once more to occupy the Presidential chair. General Alfaro hoped to get control of the army and with the assistance of the soldiery to overthrow President Garcia, the present ruler, and establish a military government.

Marin said that according to his advice, a battalion of 700 soldiers joined General Alfaro on New Year's day thinking that the remainder of the army, numbering 400, would follow them. The revolutionists took possession of Rio Esmeraldas. When the remainder of the army marched on the revolutionary capital, however, Marin said, the insurgents capitulated without firing a shot.

The punishment which will be meted out to the revolutionists, according to Marin, will be unique. "It would be impossible to punish a whole battalion individually," he said, "so only one man in every ten will be sent to prison for two or three years each. The others will be punished by lot."

Marin said that General Alfaro probably will be sent to prison for fifteen years.

Wagoner's Appeal to President Roosevelt Is Looked Upon as a Play for Sympathy.

DENVER, Jan. 12.—Since Governor McDonnell received a letter from President Roosevelt asking the State's executive to look into the case of Curtis C. Wagoner the opinion has been growing that Wagoner invented the harrowing story in the President. Investigation leads to belief that Wagoner is serving a just sentence. He pleaded guilty of horse stealing.

Judge Northcutt, who sentenced him, comes forward with an emphatic "no" to a pardon. He thinks that Wagoner is getting all he deserves. According to the evidence Wagoner drove for three days after he secured the horse and buggy of a neighbor.

Ollie Cooper Will Appear in Dual Role

Time has failed to detract one bit from Mark Twain's romance of the sixteenth century, "The Prince and the Pauper," and the play is always received with great acclaim by theater-goers. So great was the demand for seats at the Alcazar Theater last month that thousands were turned away. In response to the popular demand Belasco & Mayer will again place "The Prince and the Pauper" before the public at the Alhambra Theater, commencing to-morrow and continuing for one week.

Little Ollie Cooper will be again seen in the dual role in which she achieved a notable success, and all of the Alhambra favorites will appear in the cast. All of the original scenery, costumes and music will be used.

Special souvenir matinees will be given Saturday and Sunday and a handsome souvenir of the "Little Actress" will be distributed. Herschel Mayall in his dual role of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde in the celebrated play of that name is billed to follow the "Prince and the Pauper."

FARMER VICTIMIZED OUT OF A FORTUNE

Gripman Davis and Wife Steal $12,000 From John Robinson.

John Robinson, a wealthy farmer of Humboldt County, is mourning the loss of $12,000 which he was forced out of by one Davis, a gripman on a Haigh-street car. Davis and his wife, who aided him, have disappeared with the money and the police are looking for them.

Robinson is an elderly man and came to this city some time ago from Humboldt where he was a prosperous farmer. He made the acquaintance of Davis and the two became very friendly. Finally the gripman learned of the wealth of his newly made friend and induced him to come and live with him.

The couple took advantage of their friend's innocence and by means of liquor induced him to put $12,000 in a local bank in the name of Mrs. Davis.

Robinson was kept in a state of intoxication and while his brain was in a befuddled state he consented to place the amount in the name of Mrs. Davis for safe keeping.

This he did one day last week and on last Saturday the couple drew the money from the bank and disappeared. Robinson finally came to his senses and realized that he had been victimized. He reported the affair to the police and Detective Tim Bailey is now working on the case.

REORGANIZERS ARE IN CONTROL

Boss Durham of Philadelphia and His Followers Meet With Unexpected Defeat

PENROSE IS CONFIDENT Believes That He Is in Position to Name Republican Nominee for Governor

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—The regular Republicans of Philadelphia held a convention to-day. To-night the forty-three ward committees met for their annual organization and each chose a man to represent it in the Republican City Committee.

In many of the wards Republicans who were prominent in the reform movement were enlisted in the fight, with the result that the "reorganizers" are now in control and the old city organization, of which Israel W. Durham was the leader, is practically out of existence. The city committee selected to-night will meet next Monday, name a new city chairman and otherwise organize the committee. The old committee was led by Durham for ten years.

Of equal importance with the fight for control of the city committee was the election of delegates to represent Philadelphia in the State Committee, which meets in Harrisburg on June 16. This committee will select candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs and Auditor General.

Of the 114 delegates elected it is claimed that the United States Senator Penrose and his friends will control between seventy and eighty. Recently it has been intimated that Mayor Weaver will, as a result of his fight for reform, be urged as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, and the statement has been made that the delegation from Philadelphia will support his candidacy.

The surprising result of to-day's convention is stated, means that Mayor Weaver is eliminated from consideration for the Republican nomination for Governor. A close friend of Senator Penrose stated to-night that John M. B. Mack, who had been hailed as the new leader of the local Republican organization to succeed former Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, failed in his effort to elect a delegation from Philadelphia favorable to the candidacy of Mayor Weaver.

Durham and other friends of Senator Penrose claim that with Mayor Weaver out of the contest for the Governorship the Philadelphia delegation will without doubt be unanimous in the State convention for the candidate Senator Penrose will favor. On the other hand, those opposed to Senator Penrose and the State Republican organization claim the delegation elected to-day will be against the nomination of Senator Penrose and his friends. They assert that more than 100 of the 114 delegates are not in sympathy with the Penrose wing of the party.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

A DIFFERENCE IN LUNGS.

In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.

One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.
