

TEARS HIS SON

George A. Moore Swears Out Warrant for Young Man Expected Here From East

THREATS CAUSE ALARM Wild Youth Goes on Spree in New York and Declares He Will Slay His Family

George A. Moore, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, obtained a warrant from Police Judge Cabanis yesterday for the arrest of his son, George J. Moore, on a charge of disturbing the peace. He told the judge that his son, on August 29 last, had threatened to kill the whole family; that the father desired to place only the charge of disturbing the peace against him.

The son has been in trouble several times for annoying and threatening his parents. He was shipped on a deep-water vessel last year to get him out of the way. The vessel sailed for England, and young Moore left her there. He arrived in New York a few days ago, and there made a statement for publication that his father had him shanghaied.

Moore, who lives in Alameda, said last night that the story told by his son was absolutely false and that when he heard that the boy was in New York he at once sent him a considerable sum of money in care of a friend of that city. The latter purchased a suit of clothes for the young man and gave him the money. Later the father stated that his son had spent his money for liquor and had pawned his good clothes and then demanded that his father send him more. On failing to get what he asked he told the story of having been "shanghaied" and after threatening to settle with the members of his father's family started for this city.

Moore declares that when his son is drinking he becomes temporarily insane and for this reason he does not intend to give him any opportunity to careen in great cities. He expected young Moore to arrive from New York last night, but although the police on both sides of the bay were on the lookout for him he did not appear.

RUN OVER BY A CART.—Owen Downey, residing at 20 Polk street, was run over by a cart driven by Mrs. Charles J. Downey yesterday morning. He was taken to the City and County Hospital, where it was discovered his leg had been fractured just above the ankle.

DISTRIBUTES BEQUEST FUNDS.—The Mayor yesterday distributed $600 under the Willing bequest to some 350 widows, who each received $1 under the terms of the bequest. The Robinson bequest fund of $2500 will be parceled out to several charitable organizations for distribution.

Prevent Headache

We want you to know that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills prevent as well as relieve headache, and that they leave no bad after-effects. We assure you that if taken when you first discover indications of an attack, they will drive it away, and thus not only save you the misery and distress, but the weakening influence of pain upon your system. Used in this way the attacks become less frequent, and eventually entirely disappear. They relieve pain by strengthening the nerves and overcoming the turbulent, excited condition, which is the cause of pain.

"I cannot explain just what this impulse was. I heard it as plainly as I hear you speak now. I don't know whence it came, why it came, but for sixteen years it has been with me and has not let me rest. Several times I tried to get out, but each time it would prevent it—my health, or the welfare of my wife and two children. But finally last year I saw that I could start. I obtained a year's leave of absence from my church. I left my home in Ohio, my native town. Sixteen years ago, while walking along the street, something told me that I should go around the world, speaking in favor of and doing what little I could do to promote brotherly love throughout the earth.

"I am working now to gather money. As soon as I have enough I shall start around the globe. What I shall accomplish in the interest of human brotherhood may be little, but it will be something, and having obeyed the mysterious command given me sixteen years ago I shall be able to rest."

EVENTFUL BANQUET IS HELD AT THE BOHEMIAN CLUB

Raphael Well spreads an enchanting feast at the Bohemian Club last evening to commemorate one of the events of Colonel A. G. Hawes' career. On many occasions on several continents of the world and in the ocean the colonel has been host or guest of honor in banquets galore. In the early "fifties" after leaving Vermont to "go West," as Horace Greeley advised, to "grow up with the country," he fancied that it was at the case of the printer would be very enough for any one. After sticking type in nearly all the newspaper offices of the Mississippi Valley, from St. Paul to St. Louis, he changed his mind and enlisted in John Brown's army in Kansas, where he served until the famous General Sumner came along and "dispersed" him.

Subsequently in the Army of the Tennessee at Shiloh and in the memorable Atlanta campaign Colonel Hawes won distinction for splendid demeanor as a soldier. These events and the fact that the colonel was one of the founders of the Bohemian Club impelled Raphael Well to spread the news and put a birthday cake in the center of the table. The candles were many, so many that it would take a counting machine to count them, but the rough estimates placed the number at more than fifty and less than a score.

Bidden to the dinner were George T. Bromley, Frederick Ward, General Lucius H. Foote, Reuben H. Lloyd, Chaucey M. St. John, Ryland Wallace, Hugh M. Burke, Dr. Benjamin R. Swan, Fred Hall, Louis Rosenthal, David Bush, James G. Walker, S. D. Dravot and A. G. Hawes.

After the dinner Uncle George and Raphael Well went to the firemen's ball. The former is making preparations to visit Norwich, Conn., where he was born. The progressive citizens of the place have invited him to become their guest. In his honor eighty-eight candles will be lighted and as many bottles be opened.

PRISONER'S DEPARTURE POSTPONED. The Court of Appeal granted an alternate writ of habeas corpus yesterday in favor of C. G. Plant, who is wanted in Salt Lake City on a charge of murder. He had planned to take back their man last night, but the justices ruled otherwise. The argument in the case will be heard at the Court of Appeal on Friday morning.

MAN OF OTTI WORKS HARD AS A PLASTERER

With trowel and mortar, Rev. J. W. Van Kirk of Youngstown, Ohio, of stern stuff and practical in ideas of humanity's uplift, is helping, as one of a gang of laborers, to build a playhouse in this city. In response to a mysterious call to work for the brotherhood of man, he abandoned his pulpit to go among the people to teach them and strive with them.

Rev. J. W. Van Kirk Hears Call to Go Among People.

Making World Tour in Great Cause of Humanity.

Rev. J. W. Van Kirk, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Youngstown, Ohio, D.D., B.A., graduate of Union College, Boston University, and Harvard, is in town. But you look for him in one of the respectable, fashionable hotels, if you look for him as a man in sober, black-frock garb, clerical spectacles teetering upon his Roman nose, you will in all probability not find him there. He is Rev. J. W. Van Kirk, D.D., B.A., Boston and Harvard graduate, is working as a plasterer on the upper floor of the Empire Theater (that he is willing to plaster the walls of a theater shows him, surely to be theologically broad) at 1257 Market street. There you can find him, eight hours a day, busy with trowel and plaster, dressed in white trousers and a white jumper, a French-check cap a-tilt upon his curly, iron-gray locks. It was here in the City reporter found him yesterday afternoon. He is a handsome man, this reverend pastor and plasterer. The white garments of his present toil set off picturesquely his lithe, elegant figure. He has fine, wide-open, gray eyes, the nose, wide as a Roman nose; square, strong jaws, and curly black hair, ennobled with a sprinkle of gray, crowns the whole.

HEARS MYSTERIOUS CALL. The story of his life and transformation is told with a simplicity that is a story to him. It is merely a repetition of something that has often happened, the story of a mysterious and compelling "call." While walking along the street, sixteen years ago, something told Rev. Mr. Van Kirk that he should tour the world in the interest of the brotherhood of man. For sixteen years the idea remained with him and would not let him rest, and now he is obeying it. He is going around the world for the sake of the brotherhood of man. Only, as he is poor, he is working his way by the trade he learned when a boy. He works as a plasterer from city to city, and this seems to him quite a natural and simple thing to do.

This is the way he tells it: "When 27 years old I left my trade and determined to become a preacher. I was married then, and we had a little baby. I went to Union college, then to Boston University, then to Harvard. I was 36 years old when I was through with my studies, and was made pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Youngstown, Ohio, my native town. Sixteen years ago, while walking along the street, something told me that I should go around the world, speaking in favor of and doing what little I could do to promote brotherly love throughout the earth.

TIVOLI SHOWS WELL SWEET OF EXCEPTIONS

"The Isle of Spice" Is an Ambitious Production, but Much of It Is Very Dull

GIRLS ARE CHARMING CHANGES SUGGESTED

Some of the Songs Are Good and a Few of the Jokes Are Less Sad Than Others

There are many ways of not writing musical comedy: "The Isle of Spice" illustrates most of them. It would perhaps be kinder to say first that there is one good way of presenting musical comedy, and that the Tivoli has gone that way in its production—"The Isle of Spice." So far has it gone, indeed, that the "show" contains delights with its sheer prettiness. It is by far and away the most ambitious production ever attempted by the Tivoli. It is by much the most beautiful. The costumes are charming, the settings new and handsome, and the girl troupes prettier than ever. Mr. Gus Sohike, stage manager, specially imported for the production, looms especially large; the ensembles, dances, groupings, showing the master hand. He saves the place in fact, and most of the time. The libretto is evidently been doctored, conspicuously to advantage. The local hits introduced were all hits. One imagines that, given the run of the piece for a day or two, Webb and Kunkel might even make it go from the humorous side. They certainly could if they had Ferris Hartman to give it a "leg up" as the King. Gilbert Gregory, now here, does the King. Mr. Gregory's humor is very dry—in fact, it dries up before it reaches the stage. It is not the humor that could hardly make out. But his cannibal king was much more like a Downeast grocer, and Mr. Gregory sings almost as well as Ferris Hartman. The other new man, Bert Young, is a voiceless, but very nice, sprightly, boyish young gentleman withal.

Miss Cecilia Rhoda renews the pleasant impression she made in "The Gethse." Her delicate, distinguished prettiness is in charming contrast with Miss Cecilia. All the can for her tiny role. Miss Kerwin is also wasted upon a small part, but has the song of the piece in "Peggy O'Grady," that is chorused in truly beautiful fashion. Cora Tracy and Beattie Tamchill have their bits, and coming to the end of the show, the music is not to be missed. A large attendance of members belonging to Painters' Union No. 19 was present to attend the funeral of a deceased brother, David Michael, last Sunday. The deceased was interred in the painters' lot at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

A social and high jinks entertainment will be given tonight in Social Hall, Alcazar building, by the Boxmakers' and Sawyers' Union. This union, formed only five years, is strong in membership and well united. Therefore a splendid time is assured by all who are invited.

At the last meeting of the Picture Frame Workers' Union the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, H. Gabel; vice president, E. Johnson; financial secretary, O. Schultz; recording secretary, R. Rothsch; treasurer, W. Gertz; warden, W. Bryant; conductor, J. G. Hardy; trustees, W. Bryan, D. Walsh and H. Haberlein.

Alexander Djeau, who was recently expelled from the Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, in which he was a powerful member, is called upon to answer charges in the local joint executive committee of team drivers; of which he is third vice president of the International Union. There are ten charges against him, any one of which, if proved, will retire him from his place in the tax collector's office as well as from the place as vice president.

A committee of three waited on the executive committee of the Carriage Owners' and Stablemen's Association and demanded a new schedule of $2.50 per day and twelve hours' work to take effect on the first of next month. The demand has been taken under consideration by the employers' association.

A new schedule of wages is now in the course of preparation by the Steam Laundry Workers' Union, which, after it receives the indorsement of the Labor Council, will be submitted to the employers for adoption.
