CLASSES GO TO CHAMPIONS

EDITED BY R. A. SMYTH

ALL CLASSES GO TO CHAMPIONS

Judges and Spectators Fail to Agree Repeatedly

ROBERT GRESHAM. HUGH MCKINNON. THA STONE.

THREE EASTERN BOXING CHAMPIONS WHO MET DEFEAT IN MECHANICS' PAVILION LAST NIGHT AT THE HANDS OF BOYS FIGHTING THE COLORS OF THE OLYMPIC CLUB. THE VIEWS OF THE SPECTATORS AND THE JUDGES COULD NOT BE RECONCILED AT TIMES.

California boys carried off all the honors in the boxing tournament for the national championships at Mechanics' Pavilion last night, but the pity of it is the spectators did not agree with the officials in their placing of the awards.

OLYMPIC MEN CAPTURE ALL THE HONORS

105-POUND CLASS. Jimmie Carroll, Olympic Club, beat R. E. Gresham, St. Louis—Three rounds.

H. Williams, Hawthorne Club, in the third round, Williams scarcely laid a glove upon the shifty Olympian at any stage. On the other hand Baker landed almost at will and gave a wonderful exhibition of blocking and ducking.

Throughout the evening the views of the official judges and the spectators could not be reconciled. The committee in charge of the tournament, which was given under the patronage of the Olympic Club, selected two of the Olympic Club men, Phil Wand and William Cartwright, both members of the club, to pass upon the merits of the boxers in the ring.

115-POUND CLASS. Harry Baker, Olympic Club, beat Harry Williams, Hawthorne Club—Three rounds.

Frank Edwards, Olympic Club, who defeated National Champion Kirk of St. Louis in Thursday night's preliminaries, lost to M. Augusta, Brooklyn Athletic Club, in the third round. Edwards had a good lead at the end of the second round, but in the final round Augusta showed great execution with rights and lefts to the jaw. He forced the fighting and was given the decision.

The difference of opinion between spectators and judges did not develop until the first Eastern man, H. L. McKinnon, appeared to box James Ellis. From this time on the spectators differed with the judges in nearly every bout. A spirit of sportsmanship would have dictated that the visiting boxers from the East be given, in sporting preference, an even break. Judging from the expressions of disapproval from the crowd, they did not get it.

125-POUND CLASS. M. Augusta, Brooklyn Club, beat Frank Edwards, Olympic Club—Four rounds.

Both men displayed extreme cleverness throughout. Carroll displayed his man in this respect,ARRY PUTTING DOWN WILLIAMS IN THE first round. He landed several left jabs to the face and put in a right swing to the head as well as the body. Williams, on the other hand, was very fast and accurate. Carroll had an early victory in this round, but just previous to the termination Gresham thrusts to the jaw and right and left jabs to the jaw and right and left jabs to the jaw.

THESE GREAT ROUNDS. Gresham of St. Louis and Carroll of the Olympic Club went three great rounds and the decision, carrying with it the championship, went to Carroll.

135-POUND CLASS. Willie Wolf, Ariel Club, beat James Ford, Olympic Club—Three rounds.

Henry Pincke, Olympic Club, 158 pounds, was given the decision over George Murray, unattached, at the end of the fourth round. It was a stubborn contest. Pincke was practically defeated in the second round. He was sent to the floor for the count. A terrific right wallop to the jaw, upon gaining which he landed a right to the head. Murray managed to stall the round out. In the third round Pincke employed a straight left, which he landed square on the jaw. Murray fought back wildly, but Pincke kept up a constant fusillade of straight lefts to the face and right and left jabs to the body of the third and at the end of the round Pincke was given the verdict and the American championship.

Carroll did his best work in the third round, but not enough to overcome Gresham's lead. An extra round was ordered in the fight between Pincke of the Olympic Club and Murray. The judges ordered an extra round in this much to the chagrin of Referee Graney, who said that he nearly stopped the fight in the third round to give it to Murray, as he thought Pincke had no chance.

145-POUND CLASS. H. L. McKinnon, Boston, beat James Ellis, South Side Club—Four rounds.

158-POUND CLASS. Tad Rioridan, Olympic Club, beat William Heller, Chicago—Two rounds.

What was expected to prove one of the great fights of the tournament did not take place. "Rough House" McDonald, Olympic Club, won by default; H. L. McKinnon withdrew.

168-POUND CLASS. Walter Schulken, Olympic Club, beat Walter Kirchner, unattached—One round.

185-POUND CLASS. M. Augusta, Brooklyn Athletic Club, met in the 125-pound class and Leonard received the decision at the end of the fourth round. In the case of all the preceding final events, the extra round was ordered to determine the winner. Augustus was the victor in the second round, but he received considerable punishment in the third round. In the fourth Leonard sent his antagonist to the floor for the count and battered him all around the ring when he regained his feet. He was given the decision.

ONE FIGHT OMITTED. What was expected to prove one of the great fights of the tournament did not take place. "Rough House" McDonald, Olympic Club, won by default; H. L. McKinnon withdrew.

190-POUND CLASS. M. Augusta, Brooklyn Athletic Club, met in the 125-pound class and Leonard received the decision at the end of the fourth round. In the case of all the preceding final events, the extra round was ordered to determine the winner. Augustus was the victor in the second round, but he received considerable punishment in the third round. In the fourth Leonard sent his antagonist to the floor for the count and battered him all around the ring when he regained his feet. He was given the decision.

GRANEY ACTS PROMPTLY. What promised to be one of the sensational bouts of the tournament, that between Lew Powell of the Olympic Club and Willie Wolf of Ariel Club, was brought to an abrupt termination. Stone is thinking Powell did the holding and that the referee disqualified the wrong man.

200-POUND CLASS. M. Augusta, Brooklyn Athletic Club, met in the 125-pound class and Leonard received the decision at the end of the fourth round. In the case of all the preceding final events, the extra round was ordered to determine the winner. Augustus was the victor in the second round, but he received considerable punishment in the third round. In the fourth Leonard sent his antagonist to the floor for the count and battered him all around the ring when he regained his feet. He was given the decision.

BOUNDS ARE FAST AND CLOSE. Extra Rounds Are Ordered in a Match Between Willie Wolf and James Ford.

210-POUND CLASS. M. Augusta, Brooklyn Athletic Club, met in the 125-pound class and Leonard received the decision at the end of the fourth round. In the case of all the preceding final events, the extra round was ordered to determine the winner. Augustus was the victor in the second round, but he received considerable punishment in the third round. In the fourth Leonard sent his antagonist to the floor for the count and battered him all around the ring when he regained his feet. He was given the decision.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 6.—The National Executive Committee of Women closed a five days' session today and adjourned. Chicago was selected for the next place of meeting.

CHIEF WITTMAN DEFEATS ALMA GARDIA, RACEY PLAYED FOR "KILLING"

Barney Schreiber's Dewey Takes a Purse. Montana Peeres Wins at 15 to 1.

Twenty-nine innocent-looking little bookmakers breathed an awful sigh of relief when Alma Gardia finished second for the introductory five and a half furlong scramble at Oakland track yesterday. The stable folks had the Texas-bred filly cocked and primed for a "killing" and that the coup misad fire was no fault of theirs. One or two layers stuck up 15 to 1 and were almost mobbed. The ticker showed 5 and 6 to be the actual market price. When the horses were summoned to the post it took a pull to get on at 2 to 1.

Little Preston had the mount on the mellow one, and he succeeded in getting into some sort of a fracas down in the locality of the half-mile pole. This threw his mount back several positions, coming next Monday. Beginning Tuesday and continuing until the close of the season the card will consist of seven events each day. This necessitates calling the horses to the post for the first race at 1:40 p. m. instead of as formerly.

Wally Stuart, who formerly rode for C. W. Chappell, and two exercise boys departed on a steamer for Peru yesterday. The boys go under contract to a South American turfman and expect to return with some money.

Wally Brinkley will bid the Oakland game good-by and start for Memphis tomorrow. Wally has Silverskin and several other useful performers in training at the Southern track.

Joekey Patsy Phillips has been restored to good standing.

George Rose, who has only been booking at Oakland about a week, is more than $10,000 to the good.

Among other big winners at Oakland are Billy Engstrom, who has laid away $28,000, and "Plunger" McManus, who has $34,000 as the result of his season's labor. On a short lay Sam Shaen has cleaned up $6500.

J. J. Walsh rode an excellent race on the 100 to 1 shot, J. W. Dahney, which finished second to Epicure. The services of Billy Cahill's rider are now in big demand. Walsh also landed Viona, another long-priced one, in the place.

It often happens if a horse receives a poor start and closes very strong as the leader in the race, he falls in for a cursing, and everybody is telling his neighbor how far the horse would have won with a decent send off. Watercure got away nicely yesterday, held a proposition in the stretch and then followed the fireworks.

The half length separating Chief Wittman and Alma Gardia at the finish of the first race meant a loss of $12,000 to H. S. Newman, owner of the latter. The Texas owner and his friends were a fine thing when getting $4000 on at an average of 3 to 1. It was only a fluke that they did not cash and Alma will have to go back into the pickle vat again.
