University Savant Sends Result of His Experiments to Washington Authorities

VALUABLE OF FRUIT DIET

Conclusion Reached by Scientist Regarding Wisdom of Eating State's Products

BERKELEY, April 7.—Valuable results have come from experiments conducted by Professor M. E. Jaffa during the last year, wherein he has sought to ascertain the value of a fruit and nut diet under varying conditions. Professor Jaffa has sent to Washington, D. C., to the head of the Agricultural Department of the Government, the manuscript of his report, and this will be printed at once under the title "Preliminary Studies of the Nutritive Value of Fruit and Nuts in a Mixed Diet."

University students and others have served as subjects for Professor Jaffa's unique experiments during the last year. The work which he has done is of a nature and of a sort that is rarely undertaken because of the peculiar qualities required to bring practical results from the experiments, but Professor Jaffa has succeeded during his efforts to accomplish this, and is accordingly rated as the foremost scientist in the field of nutrition study in this country.

FRUITS AND NUTS FAVORED.

"California fruits and nuts received a big boost" at Professor Jaffa's hands as one result of his latest experiments. In his report he declares that both fruits and nuts are found to have a very high nutritive value. One of the salient points in his report is that fruit, when eaten alone with a light diet, is very much more nutritious than when taken with a heavy diet. Nuts of every kind when thoroughly masticated add always to the nutritive value of a meal, he declares.

Professor Jaffa will not make public the full report he has made for the Government until the work is issued from the Government printing presses at Washington, but he issued the following statement today regarding the report:

"The results are suggestive rather than final. It will be necessary to do a great deal more before positive and definite conclusions can be drawn. The results must be verified by similar experiments upon more people. The scheme of the work was as follows:

CRITICAL TESTS MADE.

"Considerable work having already been done at this station on the fruit and nut diet with subjects thoroughly accustomed to the limited fare, it seemed that the next step in the process was to experiment with those not accustomed. These experiments showed that habit played a considerable part in the process of assimilation. Those who had been fruitarians for years assimilated a larger proportion of nutrients than those who are new to the diet. Ordinary subjects, however, surprisingly well and strong on the fare."

"In the present experiment, after first having ascertained the amount of nutrients assimilated by fruitarians and by others not accustomed to the diet, the next step in the process was to determine if possible the nutritive value of fruits and nuts in ordinary mixed diet. This was done by putting the subject first on the basal diet—that is, one to be continued during the entire series of experiments. It was determined that the subject assimilated from this diet, and then fruits and nuts were added to it in small quantities and the difference in assimilation calculated. In this way, with the individual analysis constant, any changes that took place were ascribed to the quantity of fruit and nuts which had been added."

COMPOSER MCCOY TO SPEAK OF WAGNER

BERKELEY, April 7.—Music lovers who were given the opportunity on the University campus two weeks ago to hear W. J. McCoy, the composer, lecture upon the music of the old German composer constituted the fourth symphony concert to be given a second treat, announcement being made today by the university authorities that McCoy is to deliver a lecture on the music of Wagner at the Bohemian Club's "Hamadryads," which closed last night.

Mr. McCoy, who composed the music for the Bohemian Club's "Hamadryads," which closed last night, and whose musical activities are numerous, will give in his lecture a comparison of Wagner to the music of the old German composer. The lecture will be given at 8 o'clock on Monday evening at the Bohemian Club's "Hamadryads," which closed last night.

HE IS AN INCOMPETENT

Discharge From an Asylum Is of No Avail

Sisters to Manage Affairs, Says the Court.

OAKLAND, April 7.—The petition of George A. Aldrich, who for years has been endeavoring to get possession of a fortune of $225,000 held in trust for him by his sisters, Mrs. Annie Barton and Mrs. Helen Dunning, was again decided this morning by Judge Ellsworth, who after a hearing of several days decided that though Aldrich has a certificate showing he was "discharged as cured" from the Napa State Hospital, he is not competent to manage his estate.

In giving his opinion Judge Ellsworth reviewed the testimony to a considerable extent and in summing up said:

"The petitioner in this case shows that he has received of considerable education and that his mind works logically enough along certain lines. In business matters, however, he has a strange conception of values. Less than a year ago, according to a letter from the petitioner, he asked the Pacific States Surety Company to insure him against acts of his own. It was an unheard of proposition and indicates that he was not sure of his own actions."

"Without any good reason he has also been fit to turn over to Attorney Hugh Aldrich, without any intention to reflect upon him, however, an entire stranger, stocks and bonds to the amount of $45,000 and $50,000. What he needed a trustee for these stocks for, when all he had to do was to draw the interest, is beyond me."

"His sisters, I believe, have only done their duty to an afflicted brother who has no heart for the prosecution, even here to show that he has abused their trust in any way. It is my opinion that the petitioner is not competent to handle so large a sum of money and his petition is denied."

"The petitioner, with his attorney of the same name but of no relationship, was in court and listened to the opinion without evincing any emotion and took his defeat very quietly. He was given his little colored girl, charged with him, 1892, first on parole and finally was discharged. He has brought numerous actions, both here and in San Francisco, for the purpose of taking his fortune out of the hands of his sisters."

"Without a note for $4500 as his attorney, which he maintains was on a contingency, but nothing to this effect is mentioned in the note, and while he is not a party to the note, he is the holder of the note propose to collect the money."

THINKS YOUNG GIRL IS NOT A CRIMINAL

OAKLAND, April 7.—"I would resign my position rather than prosecute a girl of tender years," declared Prosecuting Attorney Abe P. Leach this morning when the case of Irene Rutherford, a little colored girl, charged with burglary upon Annie Patterson, a white child, was called in the Police Court.

"I am sure that this court would send an 11-year-old girl to jail for this offense," he continued, "and could have no heart for the prosecution, even if I could be persuaded to undertake it."

Police Judge Smith called attention to the fact that the father of the child who was beaten was a victim of the Valencia shipwreck and that the family was practically destitute. He suggested that the parents of Irene Rutherford pay the doctor's bill, which would amount to $100. Attorney J. A. Johnson, who represented the colored girl, said he would pay the bill. Judge Smith then declared that the Patterson girl was not so badly injured as had been represented. Judge Smith therefore continued the case for two weeks to ascertain the extent of the child's injuries.

PROFESSOR'S PROTEST.

BERKELEY, April 7.—Professor Clifton Price of the Latin department of the University of California has filed with the Town Trustees a protest against the assessments made by the commissioners appointed to open Prince street, between College and Claremont avenues. Professor Price declares that lots he has contracted to purchase from Eric and Clark Clark and J. P. Ford, the assessment district are assessed twice as much as a lot across the street, twice the size of his property. He alleges that the realty owners in the district who were instrumental in having the opening proceedings started escape taxation, and hints that it is not merely the mistake of an official which is responsible for this. The trustees will hear the professor's protest next Monday evening.

MASTER BAKERS WILL MEET.

OAKLAND, April 7.—Arrangements are complete for the quarterly convention of the Master Bakers' Association of the Pacific Coast, which will be held in this city tomorrow. The visiting master bakers will be met as they arrive in Oakland by members of the reception committee of the local branch of the association, and will be escorted to their headquarters. The banquet will be followed by the regular business meeting of the convention. The visitors will be accompanied by a committee from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

CHAMPIONS THE LADIES.

BERKELEY, April 7.—The Berkeley Parlor of Native Sons last night adopted resolutions congratulating the Berkeley Parlor of Native Daughters upon its organization, promising it support and the Native Sons' Hall rent free.

The action is regarded as significant because of the alleged rivalry between the two Native Daughters parlors of Berkeley, both recently organized, and both regarded as competitors for the patronage and assistance of the Native Sons.

Jack London and his bride were the guests of honor at a brilliant affair tendered by the Ruskin Club Friday evening. Eighty-two guests partook of the banquet and the "feast of reason and flow of soul" that followed, the usual round table discussion being led by Jack London, some of his Eastern experiences furnishing a timely and entertaining topic.

"Blackstone Hill" was the scene of a pleasant affair Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Guy C. Earl entertaining a whist club, whose membership list includes the names of Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. A. M. Rosebrough, Mrs. William H. Creed, Mrs. Charles Yale, Mrs. W. H. Whitcomb, Mrs. J. Kenna, Mrs. J. Hamilton Todd, Mrs. Earl, Mrs. McChesney of Alameda, Mrs. S. A. O'Neil and several others.

Cards and music furnished the evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with smilax, ferns and electric lights.

STEAL ALL THEY FIND.

OAKLAND, April 7.—The thieves that ransacked the premises at 116 Lawson street, owned by Louis Ferrero, proved that they cared little about their loot so long as they found something to steal. The thieves, who were seen entering and leaving the house in the middle of the night, and Ferrero's inventory of stolen goods includes four dozen eggs, two rabbits, six chickens, six pigeons, two sheets and two pillow cases.

J. A. North, who has apartments at 228 East Seventeenth street, reported to the police today that he had been robbed of a diamond stud, valued at $25, E. Reynolds of the jewelry store, a transient guest at the lodging house.

E. J. Rodgers of 124 Buena Vista avenue reported the theft of a watch and fob from his room.

As a result of the articles of George W. McCarty, management there is no town debt and the treasury contains $7000.

DEAN SECURES DOG.

OAKLAND, April 7.—The custody of a valuable setter dog that was right by P. M. Dean from Poundmaster Zeller for $50 was awarded to Dean by Police Judge Samuel this morning, and Leo Herbold, the original owner, will appeal from the decision. Herbold lost the dog after several months Dean visited the pound and purchased the canine. When Herbold learned the whereabouts of the setter he retained Attorney T. M. Bradley to recover the animal by habeas corpus proceedings, but failed. Now Bradley will appeal to the Superior Court.

JUDGE REBUKES DETECTIVE.

OAKLAND, April 7.—P. J. Curtin, a private detective employed at the Boole shipyard during the recent labor troubles there, was severely rebuked by Police Judge Smith, who this morning found him guilty of battery. The magistrate declared that he was not a fit person to have police authority. The battery consisted of kicking William Earl, who was also tried and found guilty of disturbing the peace. Both will be sentenced Tuesday. Curtin will be tried for threatening to shoot one of the strikers on April 2.

He was before Police Judge Samuel this morning, and at his request the hearing was continued till Tuesday. He holds that the law's intent is to provide a sufficiency of lights and does not deal with their character.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ARE CHOSEN IN THE MANY DISTRICTS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN

ONE WOMAN DEFEATED

NOVATO VOTERS UNGALLANTLY CAST THEIR BALLOTS AGAINST ONLY LADY ON THE TICKET

MILL VALLEY, April 7.—The Citizens' party dealt the People's League a hard blow at the school election yesterday. Clinton Folger, a well-known San Francisco insurance man, defeated George F. Roux, a San Francisco merchant, for Trustee, receiving 185 votes to Roux's 126. The vote was the heaviest ever polled here.

Yesterday's result has increased the confidence of the Citizens' party in the ability of its candidates to carry the municipal election on Monday by a handsome majority. The Citizens' party ticket is as follows: Trustees—W. J. Thomas and Bernard Grethel; Clerk, S. H. Roberts; Marshal, Melvin Staples; Treasurer, A. L. House. The People's League indorses the following: For Trustees, William T. Price and John W. Ames; Clerk, Lewis T. Price; Marshal, Harry Ashe; Treasurer, August Muntz.

NOVATO, April 7.—This village is not ready for a woman's suffrage party. This was evidenced yesterday when the voters re-elected Louis Devoto School Trustee. The opponent was Mrs. R. Hartz. Mrs. Hartz made a very thorough house-to-house canvass, but could not shake the confidence of the voters in Devoto. The vote stood 2 to 14.

SAN RAFAEL, April 7.—School Trustees were elected in the school districts throughout the county yesterday. A partial list of the districts and the Trustees elected is as follows: Burdell, James H. Rogers; Black Point, John G. Guth; Bay (Bolinas), Wallace Sayers; Louis Peter and Hiram J. Nott; Lick (St. Vincent), Modesto Lamperti and Charles A. Clancy; San Quentin, W. J. Duffy; Tiburon, Wade H. Vaughan; Sausalito, Otto Johnson.

CORTE MADERA, April 7.—The Larkspurites were defeated by the Corte Maderas at the election for School Trustee yesterday. The candidates were Burtchell, a prominent Larkspur merchant, who was defeated by James Fay of this place. The Corte Madera school district includes Larkspur, and there is a strong rivalry between the Trustees.

BRAVE WOMAN SAVES HER HOME FROM FIRE.

BERKELEY, April 7.—Regardless of her own safety, thinking only of preventing the destruction of her pretty home, Mrs. C. Schneider, residing at Dwight way and Benvenue avenue, this afternoon clambered upon the blazing roof of her house and, with buckets of water passed to her by a neighbor, bravely held the flames at bay, gaining control of them by the time the firemen reached the scene. Had it not been for the prompt action of Mrs. Schneider the house and its contents would have been a complete loss.

Mrs. Schneider, on discovering that the rear of her home was ablaze, dispatched a messenger to turn in an alarm of fire, but knowing well that much precious time would be lost if she awaited the arrival of the apparatus she secured a ladder and, climbing to the burning roof, gave battle to the flames. The fire had gained considerable headway by the time Mrs. Schneider reached the roof, but she gave no heed to the clouds of smoke and showers of sparks, and after a hard fight subdued the blaze just as the firemen reached the house.

POLICE USE "AUTO" IN HUNT FOR FORGER.

BERKELEY, April 7.—A big automobile, driven by Detective Kite of Oakland and Chief Vollmer of Berkeley, was pressed into service yesterday in the hunt for a forger, who was on the trail of Herman Kasten, an alleged crook, who is wanted for negotiating bogus checks in the various bay cities. Kasten was said to have been seen headed for Point Richmond, and the Oakland detective promptly procured an automobile and gave chase. Chief Vollmer consented to act as guide along the route, though his interest in the chase was indirect.

En route to Point Richmond the automobile stuck in the mud, the machinery broke down and the police officers were visibly embarrassed.

Kasten made his escape, if it really was he who had been observed on the road to Richmond. The police later investigated the matter and now say that the original report of Kasten's presence in the vicinity was probably incorrect, as he is believed to be in New York.

SAVED BY INTERSTATE LAW.

OAKLAND, April 7.—Police Judge Samuel today held that the interstate commerce law protected J. D. Wakefield, who was arrested for soliciting without a license. OLYMPIC ATHLETES WIN

TAKE EIGHT FIRST PLACES TO SIX CAPTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA REPRESENTATIVES

The speedy athletes who sport the wings of the Olympic oval to witness a high school track meet was in evidence yesterday afternoon at the twelfth semi-annual field day of the Academic Athletic League, composed of high school teams around the bay. Vall's height today was 11 feet 3 1/2 inches, an inch and a quarter better than Munn's record. Unfortunately the record of Vall today cannot stand as official, as he scored this height in his seventh attempt, and the rules forbid the making of more than six attempts.
