BERKELEY BOARD RE-ELECTS

BERKELEY BOARD RE-ELECTS—Berkeley, Nov. 16.—The Chamber of Commerce has re-elected F. W. Ross president, Duncan McDuffie vice president, N. W. Wick secretary, and the Berkeley National Bank treasurer.

JUDGE WELLS of Martinez yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Gurnee case to the wife.

Gurnee Allows His Wife to Secure a Divorce.

MRS. LILLIAN K. GURNEE. WIFE OF ALLEN GURNEE, BRIDE OF A FEW WEEKS, WHO HAS BEEN GRANTED AN INTERLOCUTORY DECREE OF DIVORCE ON THE GROUND OF CRUELTY, AND HER MOTHER, WHO CAME FROM THE EAST TO GIVE TESTIMONY AGAINST SON-IN-LAW.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 16.—Superior Judge Wells took forty-eight minutes today to conclude the last chapter in the Gurnee divorce case and grant the fair defendant an interlocutory decree.

When court opened Attorney Asa V. Mendenhall, who represented Mrs. Gurnee, read the deposition of Miss Geraldine Wakeman of Chicago, a society belle, who witnessed the intoxication of Gurnee the day following his marriage in New York.

"He began drinking," declared the wife, "just as soon as he got on the train and kept it up until we reached Chicago. While in that city he continued to drink to such an extent that when he again got on board the train he was perfectly helpless.

"I believe in his secretary, and kissing her several times as we were going down in the elevator. When I told him to stop he said that she loved him and he would do as he pleased.

"Again in the Forum Cafe he became angered because of some fancied slight and threw a wineglass in my face and called me vile names. One evening in Stege he took me into a saloon and made me eat supper with him.

"I always objected to him as president of the Suburban Realty company of Stege, testified along the same lines and corroborated the story of the glass throwing episode in the Forum, when the bride was addressed in the most vile language.

"Mrs. Gurnee's mother, Mrs. Kleinhaus, who came from New York to be with her daughter during the trial of the suit, was the last witness called. She told of a conversation held with Gurnee before his marriage, at which time he said he never touched a drop of wine, and only in New York at the instance of his friends.

"I had to be of a mean disposition and intensely selfish I thought that perhaps he might forget all that in his happiness."

"Judge Wells immediately signed a decree in favor of Mrs. Gurnee and she hurriedly left the courtroom.

When seen afterward she declared that she had not perfected any plans for the future, but would probably leave for Chicago on Monday.

have inadvertently come upon that aggregation of humanity, packed like sardines in a can, would surely have been forgiven for being very much amused at the feature of the whole sickening business was that they were, almost without exception, well-appearing women otherwise.

When the court adjourned at 5 o'clock to again take up the hearing Tuesday afternoon, the 300 persons in the room, joining 1000 less fortunate curiosity seekers in the street around the waiting patrol wagon, blocked traffic for an entire square, fought and scrambled for viewpoints, until the police were compelled to draw their clubs to clear a narrow alley to the wagon, down which the prisoners passed.

The prosecution's case was conducted by Louis Ward, assisted by Bernard Flood. The prisoners' defense is in the hands of John Greeley, formerly of the District Attorney's office. The witnesses examined yesterday were Police Sergeant George M. Russel, Dr. C. F. Miller, chief surgeon at the Emergency Hospital; Autopsy Surgeon Kusich; I. Watanabe, bookkeeper at the Japanese bank, and H. Bischoff, the salesman, who claims he saw Siemsen and Dabner leaving the bank at almost identical time the hour of the crime, and who yesterday positively identified them as the men whom he described to the police on October 4.

OFFICIAL COUNT IN A BAD TANGLE

Neglect of Clerks to Make Record of Votes Is the Cause of Much Difficulty

CONTEST UNDER WAY

Should the Board of Election Commissioners adhere to its decision to throw out the entire vote of every precinct where the precinct officers failed to enter the results on the official tally sheets, serious complications may arise. Plans were set on foot yesterday to appeal to the courts to straighten out the tangle, but nothing definite was accomplished. The number of votes already thrown out as a result of the ruling approximates 1400.

STANFORD MEN IN A FIERCE RUSH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 16.—In one of the fiercest rushes on record the 1906 and 1905 classes of Stanford University met tonight in the annual junior plug-up. Following the customary show the upper classmen fought for over an hour. When the fight was over honors were even. The juniors marched about the arcades of the inner quadrangle, but failed to take possession of the steps of the university post-office, the other objective point.

GARDENER AT I. O. O. F. CEMETERY KILLED BY LIMITED

William Bell Becomes Confused on Crossing at Colma as Train Bears Down

COLMA, Nov. 16.—William Bell, a gardener working in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, was struck by the locomotive of the second section of the Overland Limited last evening and instantly killed at the crossing just a few feet from the depot. The body was carried into the depot by the train crew and after the coroner's jury had viewed the remains they were turned over to Thomas Leeper, a relative, living at 709 Sanchez street, San Francisco.

Bell was returning home from work last evening and did not notice the approach of the train. As it rounded the curve and came into full view from behind a lot of boxcars the man seemed to become confused and instead of stepping back off the track he attempted to gain a point of safety on the other side.

The crossing at which Bell was killed is deemed one of the most dangerous on the road.

LOUIS SELBY DEAD

OAKLAND, Nov. 16.—After a brief illness Louis Selby, for thirty years a resident of this city, died today at his home at 1449 West street. He was recovering from an attack of pneumonia, when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from which he had not the strength to recover. Mr. Selby was the father of L. P. and D. F. Selby, the well known candy manufacturers. He was possessed of large properties scattered about the city and at the time of his death was sixty-eight years of age. The funeral services will be held Sunday in St. Francis de Sales Church.

A Fillmore-Street Piano Store

ATTENTION, PLEASE, Messrs. Painters, Paper-Hangers, Decorators, Electricians, Contractors, Store-Fixture Men

In order to accommodate an ever-growing business we have decided on a new Fillmore-street Piano Store. It will be in the Fillmore Arcade Building, between Eddy and Turk Streets. It will be the second biggest piano shop in town, our Van Ness-Avenue store being the largest. The lease for the new store was signed last night. We want to get this establishment ready in a big hurry; will give a good piano to a responsible contractor, paper hanger, decorator, electric-light man and store-fixture man who can help us get this store under way within the next few days.
