

King Leopold is not the only one who proposes to make a colossal fortune out of rubber. Read the story of a rubber deal stretching around the world in
The Sunday Call

THE CALL

Fashion has decreed a striking change in the female form. The new ideal is shown in photographs and described by a writer in
The Sunday Call

VOLUME CL.—NO. 42.

SAN FRANCISCO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Archbishop Montgomery's Eventful Life Comes to End

DORA BENNIS IS SAFE; MYSTERY DISAPPEARS

Schooner Rover Arrives at San Pedro With Girl and the Crew Unharmed

SHOW RETICENCE IN RELATING DETAILS

Prosecution of the Alleged Kidnap, Captain Hall, May Not Be Enforced

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL WHO WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE MET WITH POUL PLAY AT HANDS OF CAPTAIN HALL.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.
SAN PEDRO, Jan. 10.—The mystery of the disappearance several weeks ago of Dora Bennis, the 14-year-old San Diego girl, who was alleged by her father to have been kidnaped by Captain Hall on the schooner Rover, was solved today when the Rover came into San Pedro Bay and dropped anchor. The girl was on board and unharmed. With her was James Howerton and wife and Captain Leslie. The letter said he had marooned Captain Hall on the lonely Southern California coast at Manuella Laguna, where the letter was found several weeks ago. He did not explain why he had marooned Hall. Hall is now held at Ensenada, Mexico, awaiting extradition on the charge of kidnaping. The people on the Rover were greatly surprised at the apprehension over their absence, but were reticent in explaining details.
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 10.—The chance of kidnaping Dora Bennis hangs on the story the girl may tell of the alleged attacks made on her by Hall. The captain has been in all sorts of trouble in times past, so that when he was accused of stealing a girl and carrying her off to Lower California the story was quite generally believed. Varying narratives, however, have since been told tending to cast doubt on the first story.
On November 7 Dora Bennis left here on the schooner Rover. Captain Hall claimed he had been marooned by Mrs. Emma Howerton, wife of the engineer on board. On November 24 Marco Bennis, father of Dora, received a letter from her in which she said she had been kidnaped and was in the power of Hall. The next day Bennis swore to a complaint charging Hall with securing possession of his daughter by misrepresentation.
District Attorney Carter asked Governor Pardee for requisition papers, and friends of the Bennis family petitioned the State Department to send an American war vessel to search for the Rover. The State Department then asked the Mexican Government to honor a requisition from California for Hall. On December 7 Hall was found at Santa Domingo landing by Bob Israel, an American fisherman, who had gone south in search of the girl. Hall not want him until they could get the girl as a witness. Hall denied the kidnaping charges and made complaints in Mexico against the four who ran off with the schooner.
Marco Bennis left for San Pedro tonight to bring his daughter back home, and District Attorney Kirby will await her story before forcing the charge against Hall. The case has become one of almost international importance, but it bids fair to narrow down to almost nothing.

INDEX OF THE SAN FRANCISCO CALL'S NEWS TODAY

TELEPHONE TEMPORARY 86
FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1907

WEATHER CONDITIONS
YESTERDAY—Cloudy; east wind; maximum temperature, 54; minimum temperature, 45.
FORECAST FOR TODAY—Partly cloudy, with showers; light northwest wind. Page 11

EDITORIAL
Legislation affecting the harbor interests of California will occupy a large share of attention during the present session of the Legislature. P. 8
Appointment of Honner to the Superior bench is Governor Pardee's best legacy. Page 9
Governor Gillett's cautious pronouncement upon the direct primary movement. Page 9

LEGISLATURE
Governor Gillett announces that he will lead his assistance in promotion of the direct primary law campaign. Page 1
Effort will be made early in session to create three new places on Superior bench in San Francisco and a similar number in Alameda County. Page 2
Assembly puts through the attaché outrage, even the Democratic members voting "aye." Page 2

CITY
Archbishop George Montgomery passes away at the Adler Sanatorium after a brief illness. Page 1
Teasing up of streets by railroads and dereliction of city officials compel draymen to take steps to make thoroughfare passable. Page 2
Police Commissioner Hagerly is accused of using his office to protect strikers in commission of assaults. Page 11
Charles H. Fairall, attorney for Schmitz, loses his temper in court and threatens to pull Francis J. Henry's nose. Page 16
Jury finds John Siemen guilty of murder in first degree after twelve minutes' deliberation. Page 16
Dr. Franz Kuehn, leader of the local German colony, dies after operation for appendicitis. Page 5
Police redouble efforts to locate man with penchant for slashing clothes of young women who ride on street cars. Page 15

SUBURBAN
Joseph Hoelcher, in answer to wife's divorce complaint, denies having forced her to milk cows, declaring that he could not dissuade her from doing the work. Page 4
Man blown to atoms in explosion at Vigor Powder Works near Berkeley. Page 4
Oakland Board of Health examining food ducts for impurities. Page 4

COAST
Paymaster Martin Luksab of Mare Island will probably be dropped from navy service. Page 3
Freight train runs away on Tehachas grade and ends in scrap heap at curve. Traffic over pass is stopped by storm. Page 7
Schooner Rover arrives at San Pedro port with Dora Bennis and kidnaping mystery is cleared. Page 1

DOMESTIC
Fawcett States and Europe feel slight shocks of earthquake. Page 7
Suits are filed by stockholders in New Jersey to prevent formation of the great leather merger. Page 3
Between fifteen and twenty men were incited by molten metal in furnace explosion in Pittsburgh steel plant. Page 7
Interstate Commerce Commission will probably summon William Rockefeller, Harriman others to file about transfer of thirty million dollars' worth of Southern Pacific stock. Page 10
District Attorney Jerome says other arrests will be made in connection with New York Life investigation. Page 1

WASHINGTON
United States Senate passes bill limiting working hours of men handling railway trains. P. 5
Congressmen almost engage in physical encounter on the floor of House. Page 5
House passes army appropriation bill, abolishing grade of lieutenant general. Page 3

FOREIGN
Hawaiian volcano, Mouna Loa, presents eruption spectacle that is visible for 100 miles at sea. Page 1
Court at Toulon rules that masses held without making declaration do not constitute violation of law of 1881. Page 3
Honduran revolutionists are routed by loyal troops. Page 7

SPORTS
Jockey Williams pilots four winners at Emeryville track and breaks the season's record for winning mounts in one day. Page 8
Tommy Magray, the conqueror of Young Corbett, challenges all of the lightweights with the exception of Joe Gans. Page 7
Joe Long may not meet Ted Riordan tonight in the principal bout on the Central Club's program. Page 7
Britt and Manager Jim Coffroth will make a tour of the principal mining camps in Nevada to advertise championship fight. Page 7

MARINE
Revenue cutter McCulloch goes to Mare Island to receive needed repairs. Page 11

MINING
Sales of Southern Nevada mining stocks in one day amount to 1,100,000 shares, breaking all records. Page 10

SOCIAL
Friday Cotillon Club will give bal poudre this evening in the Palace Hotel. Page 8
Wedding of George Willard and Miss Helen Nelson of Oakland to take place Wednesday, January 16. Page 4

LABOR
Building Trades Council votes to suspend Electrical Workers' Union No. 6 for striking for wages of $6 a day. Page 5
George A. Tracy is nominated for president of the State Federation of Labor. Page 9

HAND OF LAW TO FALL UPON OTHERS

Jerome Says More Arrests Will Be Made in Connection With New York Life

REFUSES INSPECTION OF JURY MINUTES

Perkins' Counsel Demands to See Them and Is Opposed by District Attorney

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—More arrests may be made in connection with the investigation of the affairs of the New York Life Insurance Company, according to an announcement made today by District Attorney Jerome, while opposing an appeal of counsel for G. W. Perkins, under indictment in the New York Life case, for an inspection of the entire minutes of the December Grand Jury.

Jerome said that it would be in defiance of his policy to grant such a request, as there were persons mentioned in the evidence who had not yet been arrested, but who might be at some future time. No decision was reached today, the court directing counsel for both sides to submit briefs in duplicate of the verbal arguments.

Lewis L. DeLafield, speaking for Perkins, said a terrible mistake had been made in that the Grand Jury has misapprehended the evidence. The attorney declared that there was no evidence that a crime had been committed. He said that the facts generally surrounding the case were such as to cause the court to probe into the sufficiency of the evidence on which the indictments had been found. DeLafield said that his client had not been subpoenaed and that he had been warned of his constitutional rights.

Jerome answered that a mere trial was not sufficient to gain the inspection of the minutes of the Grand Jury. He said he would consent to Perkins examining a transcript of his own testimony, but that the other proceedings before the jury must remain secret.

"I must say to your Honor," the District Attorney continued, "that the evidence given before the Grand Jury refers to a number of persons who have not been arrested as yet, but who may be subsequently arrested. Public policy demands that this evidence should not be spread abroad. I heard all the evidence in this case and I concurred in the truth of the presentment, but not in its wisdom. The motives of the men indicted were undoubtedly, to my way of thinking, altruistic, but there is a vast difference between motive and intent."

RUSS ARMY CHIEF SHOT TO DEATH

LODZ, Russian Poland, Jan. 10.—Colonel Patko Andreiff, chief of the gendarmes of the Lodz district, was shot and killed this morning in Poludniowa street. A passing infantry patrol fired a volley at the assassin, but only wounded several innocent persons. The assassin escaped.

Poludniowa street was closed by troops and the police began making a strict search of all the houses fronting upon the thoroughfare.

YEKATERINOSLAV, Jan. 10.—The Governor General has ordered that all houseowners on whose premises bombs or infernal machines are found be tried by court-martial and sentenced to death if shown to have had knowledge, or to pay a fine of $750 if they established their ignorance of the presence of the bombs or infernal machines in their house. Three Cossack officers and a policeman were killed January 5 while examining a bomb found in a house in the Amur suburb.

WARSAW, Jan. 5.—Nearly 100 terrorists were arrested here today by the police, who seized also many rifles and revolvers. Five terrorists were tried by drumhead court-martial and condemned to death.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—The murderer of Lieutenant Governor Vladimir Pavloff, the military procurator, who was killed yesterday, was tried by court-martial today and sentenced to be hanged tonight.

GIANT WARSHIPS FOR RUSSIA.
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—The new budget will contain continuing appropriations for two 21,000-ton warships, to have a speed of twenty-one knots an hour, and ten 12,000-ton war vessels. They will all be built in Russia, but it has not yet been decided whether they will be fitted with the turbine or with horizontal engines.

ARCHBISHOP GEORGE MONTGOMERY passed away yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. He was operated on for appendicitis on Saturday. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's Cathedral on Monday morning

RECALLS SON FOR ESCAPADE

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Dr. Raoul Amador, Consul General in New York for the Republic of Panama, and youngest son of Dr. Manuel Amador, President of that country, has resigned his post and returned home in secret.

Dr. Amador's resignation came fast upon the heels of the publication of the Consul General's fervid love letters to Mrs. Bertha K. Gresham, the beautiful young widow of Lieutenant Gresham, U. S. N. Those letters revealed many diplomatic secrets and exposed the influence of William Nelson Cromwell, the New York lawyer, in the canal zone.

According to a reliable source of information, the appearance in Panama of the published account of Dr. Amador's disastrous love affair caused a Cabinet commotion and it is said the matter was immediately put before President Amador and the President cabled his son to resign and return. The last few weeks of Dr. Amador's stay in New York revealed his estrangement from his wife and his love for Mrs. Gresham. The remarkable story was brought to light by the arrest of the Consul General on complaint of Mrs. Gresham, who said tonight:

"Dr. Amador's fatal mistake was his attack upon me with a riding whip. His father, the President, must have seen that such a representative was impossible."

THIS MAN NEVER HAD A STOMACH

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—Cincinnati has just contributed to medical literature perhaps the most wonderful case of physiological aberration in the history of science in America. It is that of Wylie Temeugh, aged 38 years, a singer, who died in the branch hospital a few days ago. When Dr. Albert Fallier presented the facts before the Academy of Medicine last night there was a sensation among the physicians. The phenomenal part of Temeugh's case is this: He had absolutely no stomach where there should have been one. He had a freakish, four-cornered pouch in his chest, back of his heart. The esophagus, or food pipe, connected with this pouch, so the pouch may have acted as a pseudo stomach. His food pipe, through some unheard of freak of nature, connected with the heart, or rather, the sac in which the heart lies. When Temeugh died his heart was full of food. He had always enjoyed good health.

Continued on Page 5, Column 5

GILLETT TO AID PRIMARY LAW CAMPAIGN

Gives Assurance to People of His Help to Have Amendment Submitted

SAYS PARTY MUST KEEP ITS PLEDGE

Safeguards Suggested Are Unnecessary, as Has Been Proven in Other States

By George A. Van Smith

CALL HEADQUARTERS, 1007 EIGHTH STREET, SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Governor Gillett declares that the people of California may rely upon him to assist them in securing the submission of a constitutional amendment that will permit of the enactment of an adequate and proper direct primary law. A renewal of the assurances made in his inaugural message was given to The Call this afternoon.

Governor Gillett does not wish to be understood as promising that he will attempt to coerce the Legislature into submitting a proposition for a direct primary amendment to the constitution, or, for that matter, for any other law. He says very frankly that he would be very reluctant to interfere in any way with the legislative branch of government. But he adds that he is committed to the direct primary idea, which he believes in and which he advocated during his campaign, and that he feels that it is up to the Legislature to redeem the pledge made by the Republican State convention.

As made plain in his message, Governor Gillett believes that a constitutional amendment is prerequisite to the enactment of a proper direct primary election law. In this view he is unquestionably correct, and while it might be possible to correct some of the minor evils of the present primary system by amendments to the law, nothing in the way of real direct primary reform can be accomplished until after the constitution is amended. The constitution empowers the Legislature to enact laws favoring the election of delegates to conventions of political parties. There it stops. And there it not only commits the State to the convention system, but makes direct primary election legislation impossible.

PARTY MUST KEEP PLEDGE

Governor Gillett today said: "You may say to the people of California that they may rely upon me to assist them in securing a constitutional amendment that will permit of the enactment of a proper and adequate direct primary election law. I advocated the direct primary election law in my campaign. I have recommended to the Legislature that it submit a constitutional amendment, and while I do not wish to be understood as disposed to attempt to coerce the Legislature in this or any other matter, I feel that it is up to the Legislature to redeem the party pledge.

"As to the framing of a proper law after a constitutional amendment—that is a subject that must receive the most careful consideration. There should be some provision that will preserve party integrity without assuming the risk of a judicial repudiation on the ground of disfranchisement of the voter. There must also be found a way to prevent the capture of all the offices by the machine under the direct primary system, which seems to offer unusual advantages for the burial of unknown men."

The fears expressed by Governor Gillett are the fears entertained by many perfectly honest men unacquainted with the practical workings of direct primary election systems. The first involves a real objection to one of the best direct primary systems enacted and in force—the Wisconsin system.

In Wisconsin a straight-laced party preservation feature was omitted from the law, because La Follette was in

Continued on Page 3, Column 1

ERRED IN TAKING RUSSIA'S PART

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Robert S. McCormick, Ambassador at Paris, who will leave the diplomatic service within two months, will do so because his conduct at St. Petersburg during the Russian-Japanese war met with the disapproval of President Roosevelt and not because of any activity on his part in marrying Miss Patterson, his niece, to a Polish nobleman. Miss Patterson is the daughter of the owner of a Chicago newspaper, and her marriage three years ago to Count Gyztski was approved by her parents. This match had nothing to do with the retirement of Ambassador McCormick.

While stationed at St. Petersburg Ambassador McCormick espoused the cause of Russia in its war with Japan. During hostilities he was granted leave of absence and returned to the United States. Upon landing at New York he found the sympathy of the country was with Japan. This displeased the Ambassador, and in an interview he reprimanded the American people, who, he declared, were ungrateful. This interview was disapproved by President Roosevelt.

The slow tolling of bells yesterday afternoon sent word throughout the city of the death of Archbishop George Montgomery. The end came at 1:45 o'clock at the Adler Sanatorium at Broadway and Franklin streets, where the Archbishop underwent an operation for appendicitis on Saturday. Until Wednesday afternoon the condition of the patient was deemed favorable, but complications brought on by diabetes set in and convinced the physicians in attendance that death was inevitable. The Archbishop passed into a state of coma Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and never regained consciousness, entering peacefully into the shadow of death.

The body of the Archbishop was removed last night from the sanatorium to the chapel of St. Mary's Cathedral, where it will lay in the dimly lighted room, watched over by the members of the Knights of Columbus. The remains will lie in state in the chapel until Sunday, when they will be transferred to the cathedral proper. The funeral will take place on Monday morning, to be followed by the interment at Holy Cross Cemetery.

PAIN COMES SUDDENLY

Grief was general throughout the city yesterday when it became known that Archbishop Montgomery had passed away. The Archbishop was not only beloved by the clergy and laity of his own faith, but Protestants and Hebrews delighted to do him honor. His loss is most keenly felt by Archbishop Riordan, whom he aided as coadjutor. A strong bond of love and sympathy had grown up between them.

Archbishop Montgomery had devoted himself to the cause of temperance and Christian education. He was the founder of the League of the Cross, which

DRIVER RUN OVER BY OWN TEAM

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.
RED BLUFF, Jan. 10.—William H. Cummings, an employe of the Tuscan Springs stables, met death in a strange manner three miles east of this city. Cummings left here last night about 5 o'clock with a four-horse team and this morning he was found lying by the roadside with an ugly gash in the side of his head, about a hundred feet from where his team was standing. It was snowing heavily when Cummings left town and the supposition is that he started to climb from the wagon and was thrown under the front wheel, which passed directly over his head.

MAUNA LOA LIGHTS OCEAN 100 MILES

HONOLULU, Jan. 10.—The crater on the summit of the volcano Mauna Loa broke out at midnight. The eruption formed a magnificent spectacle which is visible for 100 miles at sea.