Additions to the scores of contestants since the count of votes Saturday afternoon do not change the standing of any of the contestants. Sunday is a day of rest for the contest workers, so the Monday morning score list is practically the same as that published Sunday morning, only such votes as came straggling in Saturday night having been added to the totals since the last report.

Miss Emille Hayward has had an increase of 2500, which takes her up almost even with "Jack the Newsboy" of San Jose. "Jack" was at the head of the list in the contest, but in his campaign, but Sacred Heart College, Miss Merrill and Mrs. Doherty all got the better of him in the course of time, and now it looks as though Miss Hayward was going to supersede him again.

Although the odds against him seem great he may yet finish better than fourth place.

Miss Hayward has been making rapid headway within the past week and if she keeps up the gain she has struck for the next three weeks, Mr. Emerson may have to be content with something less than a purse of $150 for his reward.

There are six active contestants in Contra Costa County and at the present time only one in Santa Clara County, so if wealth and population count for anything "Jack the Newsboy" should be able to hold his own.

Sausalito "Newsie"

Emille Iversen of Sausalito, who is an experienced newsboy himself, had the "newsie" down for a while, but lately has been losing ground and at the present occupies sixth place. He finished as No. 9 in the first period and won a prize of $60.

Miss Tillie Hartz of Danville, who is No. 7, has gained another 2000 votes and the "solid six" above her had best beware if they would hold their present places.

WATCH THE LITTLE SWISS

Miss Rose Breschini of Blanco, Monterey County, the Swiss representative, has just sent in another rush order for blanketing blanks, which is an indication that the little Swiss mächen has some great expectations. She has made a gain of 2500 since last report and is keeping Miss Hartz close company as No. 8.

Miss Klausmann, who is but eleven years old, registered a gain of over 150,000 votes on the closing day of the first period, and to the great astonishment of everybody won third prize, $300. Miss Breschini, twelve years old and lives in a very small village, but Irma Klausmann's success has fired her with a similar ambition which is not impossible of fulfillment. Keep an eye on the little Swiss.

Miss Effie Vaughn of Merced County was registered a gain of 1600 and remains in nineteenth place.

SONOMA LAD INTERESTED

George H. Angove, the Sonoma lad who is No. 21 at present, is taking a very lively interest in the contest and that is printed about it. He thinks the Call is treating all the contestants with the utmost liberality and fairness. He likes to see the pictures of the other contestants in the paper and he

WOMAN BOYS FIND BODY SEEMS HEART OF A SUICIDE

Following a dispute with her landlady, Mabel, a young woman named 1235 Steiner street, attempted to end her life last night by swallowing bichloride of mercury tablets. She was rushed to the Central Emergency Hospital, where prompt medical treatment was rendered. Late last night the surgeons were in doubt as to whether she would recover.

Miss Maddux engaged a room in the Steiner-street house a week ago, saying that she intended to go to work as a stenographer. She did not obtain the position she spoke of, however, and spent the week in her room. Her rent fell due last night and the quarrel with the landlady ensued. The young woman took the deadly drug about 10:30 p. m., several hours after she had retired to her room. Occupants of an adjoining apartment heard her as she fell moaning to the floor, and breaking in the door of her room, hastily summoned an ambulance.

Winners are not winners.

If Abe Ruef Cannot Help It Judge Dunne Will Pass Upon Demurrers Today

STATE COURT SILENT

Judge Dunne has set today for his ruling upon the demurrer filed by Mayor Schmitz and Abe Ruef to the indictments brought by the Grand Jury charging them with extortion on the French restaurant. As yet the Supreme Court has not given an opinion on the validity of the indictments. One of Ruef's attorneys is authority for the statement that there is a strong presumption that the Supreme Court will not affirm the Mayor returns from the White House.

Those in the District Attorney's office do not believe that the Supreme Court will await the pleasure of the Mayor before passing upon the qualifications of the Grand Jury. Assistant District Attorney Heney would not say last evening what steps would be taken in the event that Ruef should use the Mayor's absence as a reason for the postponement of his day of trial. Since Ruef and Schmitz have punctiliously kept themselves as well apart as they could in the legal proceedings growing out of the French restaurant graft, it is a matter for conjecture whether Ruef will have the picture restored. Some of the attorneys of the Mayor's office believe that the court's ruling will be postponed because his companion in alleged crime is holding a powwow with the Great White Chief over the yellow race problem.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HONOR LINCOLN

The school children of San Francisco propose to repeat tomorrow a lesson to their elders in patriotism and devotion to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. The children will observe the anniversary of his birth. As heretofore the exercises in the various schools will be witnessed by delegations from the various Grand Army posts of this city.

Every school in the public schools will be visited by the veterans, who will take an active part in the informal ceremonies. This day is a favorite one with the children, for the grizzled veterans who fought with Meade at Gettysburg or Grant at Vicksburg, or marched with Sherman to the sea, tell the story of their days of battle, march and hardship. The children sing songs of patriotism and recitations are enjoyed.

Through the efforts of the Grand Army Lincoln's birthday is rapidly becoming recognized. John H. Roberts, adjutant general of the department of California and Nevada, said yesterday that plans are well under way looking to a State celebration of the hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth, two years hence. For the thousands who cannot journey on that day to Hardin County, Ky., where Lincoln was born, and listen to the speech which Roosevelt will deliver and the other ceremonies of the occasion, the State is planning a great celebration which will be held in San Francisco and attended by lovers of Lincoln's name from all over California.

THOUSANDS ENJOY PARK SUNDAY

Golden Gate Park was thronged yesterday from the panhandle to the ocean shore by many thousands of men, women and children, the bright sunshine and clear, crisp air luring the people from their homes.

The rains recently brought out the early spring blossoms and freshened the verdure of greenwood and shrubbery, and the park presented a most inviting appearance. The acacias and the daffodils were in bloom and nature smiled everywhere.

The crowd at the bandstand was the largest since the fire. Every one who had an automobile was out, and many who had none raised the price and hired one. Two chauffeurs, Leslie J. Travis and Max Ester, by the way, the exhilaration of the atmosphere that got the better of their caution and were arrested by a mounted policeman on the south drive for speeding beyond the limit of the city.

Across the bay the Berkeley and Marin hills, wearing their early spring garms of fresh green, were the scenes of many picnic parties. The ferry-boats were taxed to accommodate the throngs.

The United Railroads reported the biggest day's business for many months, and from the appearance of the cars between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening the report was quite correct. The only disaster of the day's outing was the struggle to get a handhold or a foothold on the overcrowded cars, but in all save a few instances the tired crowds took the inconvenience of the poor service good naturedly.

DENOUNCE THE MURDER OF PATERNON JUSTICE

New Jersey Italians Ask That Reward Be Offered for the Capture of the Assassins

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 10.—Several hundred persons, mostly Italian, met today to consider the murder of Justice of the Peace Robert Cortez, who was killed by an infernal machine in his office Friday evening.

Resolutions to be presented later, besides expressing regret at the death of Justice Cortez, will call upon the Federal, State and County governments to offer rewards for the arrest and conviction of the manufacturers and sellers of the bomb. Business men generally will be asked to contribute toward a fund to be used as a reward which will bring about the arrest of the murderers.

To Restore Famous Painting Artists Plan Traveling Gallery

By Hanna Astrup Larsen

Among the pictures at Mark Hopkins which were saved at the cost of being mutilated by being cut out of their frames at the time of the fire last April was the Constance de Beverly, by Toby Rosenthal. The famous painting was one of the best works of the artist. It was painted many years ago to the order of Irving M. Scott. The subject is the scene from "Marmion," in which occurs the trial of Constance. Irving Scott had a particular fancy for the scene, and not only suggested the same, but also many of the details. The painter spent about six years over his picture, laboring with painstaking faithfulness to make every detail perfect in historical accuracy.

An interesting insurance question arises in connection with the picture, which is now the property of Mrs. Scott. Being extremely valuable it was naturally very heavily insured. The terms were that in case it sustained any injury whatever the full insurance could be collected, the picture then being returned to its owner. The Scott family, however, refused to part with the picture, which, though injured, is still of great intrinsic value, besides being dear to them for sentimental reasons, having been a favorite of Mr. Scott's and being first hung in his house on Rincon Hill. They have therefore accepted the partial settlement offered by the insurance company and they will have the picture restored. Some of the artists of the most well-known artists of California.

The plan of a traveling gallery has been tried with great success in Chicago by the Illinois Federation. The California Club hopes to have its gallery before autumn.

The Art Association hopes to have the school of design in working order by April so that one month of the spring term may be given. Then in June there will be a complete reorganization with election of a board of directors. It is not yet given out who will constitute the faculty. Mathews severed his connection with the school some time ago. Stanton is reported to be too busy painting pictures, and Dr. Alderson, former teacher and artist, has a growing practice to attend to. Meyer will not go back, and indeed it is known that he has approached some of the former pupils of the school with questions as to whether they would transfer their allegiance to him in the event of his starting a school of his own. So the institute, besides losing most of its old teachers, may find itself with a rival to compete with.

A very interesting collection of photographs is on exhibition at the Sequoia Club rooms. They are the work of E. S. Curtis, who has made a special study of the American Indian and is remarkably successful in catching the noble red man with his characteristic dignity and grace. A number of compositions that really lift them, though produced by mechanical means, into the realm of art. One of the most beautiful is that called "A Vanishing Race" and pictures a group of Indians riding away from the light into the darkness.

Curtis is engaged in writing a history of the American Indian to be illustrated by the photographs he has taken during his sojourn among the Indians of Arizona, New Mexico and the Dakotas. President Roosevelt has interested himself in the work and has written a letter to be used as a foreword in the first volume, which is to be issued this summer. J. Pierpont Morgan has contributed $75,000 for the field work in connection with the book. It is to be gotten out "regardless of expense," and will be within the reach of no one but millionaires among private persons, and, in fact, of but few libraries.

PRESS CLUB DEAN DIES SUDDENLY NO RELIEF MONEY FOR THE PARKS

William Maitland, popularly known as the "dean of the Press Club," died on Saturday night of pneumonia at the Brevort Hotel. His death was sudden, and his demise was recalled by his son, Louis W. Maitland, yesterday. He was a well known mining man and vineyardist, owning much valuable property in this State, in which he had lived since October, 1844. Maitland was born in Scotland about 62 years ago. He went from his native country at an early age to Liverpool, where he became a merchant. He was sent by his firm from Liverpool to Bombay for a period and returned to England, where he was married when 30 years of age. Late in 1874 he returned to India, where he became the Sheriff of Bombay. He left India in 1882. He leaves two children, a son and a daughter, Helen Maitland, now in the East.

It was while on his way to England to attend to some business for the Trinity Gold Mining Company in the State that he was suddenly taken ill in New York. While the final disposal of his body had not been definitely planned, it is believed that it will be sent directly to Scotland. The Press Club of this city telegraphed to New York an order for a suitable floral tribute.

Maitland was a classical scholar and a brilliant writer, his contributions appearing frequently in British periodicals. He came of a family that for generations had been prominent in the official and commercial life of Scotland. On terms of intimacy with the titled aristocracy of the United Kingdom, he preferred the quiet life of a country gentleman in the land of gold and sunshine.

DRENKS THROUGH SNOW BLOCCADE

MISSOULA, Mont., Feb. 10.—The first train from Wallace, Idaho, to Missoula for two weeks arrived today. The snow blockade on the Couer d'Alene branch of the Northern Pacific has been the worst ever experienced. In many places the roads were covered by forty feet of snow, particularly in the Bitter Root Mountains. The train which arrived today had four feet of snow on top of the cars.

Although the road is now clear of snow there is still grave danger of bridges and to the line in the mountains from snow slides, which may be expected when a thaw comes. The main line was cleared of snow some time since.

Ex-City Attorney Wellington C. Burnett Succumbs to Stroke of Paralysis

PIONEER OF STATE

Another of the veterans of the Mexican war has passed away. Wellington C. Burnett, who for five consecutive terms was City Attorney of San Francisco, and at one time a State Senator, died Saturday evening at the St. Luke Hospital.

Few men were better known in this city than Burnett. As City Attorney from the years 1869 to 1873 much important litigation was fought by him to a successful termination. He waged the fight for the possession of public square and school property against squatters and the suits were fought up and down the courts of the State.

Burnett was born in Hampton, Conn., September 21, 1828, and was a direct descendant of Roger Conant, who built the first house in Salem, Mass. At the age of 17 he enlisted in the Fifteenth Regiment, Regular United States Infantry, and fought with Scott through the Mexican war. He was a member of the storming party that reduced the Castle of Chapultepec, and before entering the City of Mexico he was given a commission as second lieutenant. He was then only 18 years old.

After the war he studied law at Harvard and was admitted to practice. Then he came to California. He was State Senator from Yuba and Sutter counties, and in 1859 came to this city, where he practiced law for some years. Two years ago he was struck by a Polk street car and it is believed that the injuries then received were the indirect cause of his death. About a week ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he did not rally. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, where he died.

He leaves a wife, three sons, Isaac, Lester and Marus Burnett, and two daughters, Olive and Gertrude Burnett. He was president of the Associated Veterans of the Mexican War for some years, and was also president of the Yountville Home in Napa County. He was a charter member of the San Francisco Art Association and a trustee of the Academy of Sciences. While not a very wealthy man, he died possessed of an ample fortune. The funeral will take place Wednesday from the family home, 126 Broadway. Interment will be in Presidio Cemetery.

GROUND IS BROKEN BY OLYMPIANS

With impressive ceremonies, William Greer Harrison, veteran president of the Olympic Club and one of the founders of the organization, broke the ground on Post street yesterday morning on which the new home of the club is to be erected. Fully 800 Olympians and others were present to witness the ceremony, which they regard as the birth of the new Olympic Club of Greater San Francisco. After a brief speech Harrison, whose hair has grown gray since first he became identified with the club, removed one shovelful of earth from the lot and immediately set to work removing the dirt by machinery was begun.

The Olympic Club's new home will be built on the site of the old one, which was destroyed by the April fire. Work on the excavation has been going on for a month, but not until Saturday night was the debris of the old building removed and the ground on which the new one will be constructed laid bare.

When completed the club's new home will be among the finest structures of its kind in the world. The basement, which will be 170 by 137 1/2 feet, will contain the salt water plunge, shower baths and rubbing tables. The plunge alone will be connected direct with the ocean, will extend 135 feet one way and 35 feet the other. The greatest depth of the water will be eleven feet and the lowest about five. The plans for the building have not yet been completed, but a six-story, classical structure has been decided upon.

In order to complete the work with all possible dispatch, Thompson & Starr, the contractors, have put on two shifts of men and work is going on day and night. Each shift is made up of fifty men and forty teams. The excavating is being done with a steam shovel and derrick, according to the contractors. The work on the basement will be completed inside of three months.

TIDAL WAVE REFUGEES AIDED

NAPLES, Feb. 10.—The Government has sent troops and assistance to Marina de Catanzaro, the fishing village on the Calabria coast where a tidal wave yesterday destroyed 123 houses and rendered the population homeless and destitute. The storm did serious damage in the province of Cosenza, numerous villages being flooded.
