

Poor Show for The Dyspeptic

Poisoned Stomach, Clogged Brain, Wasting Ambition, Failure—Unless He Seizes His Opportunity.

There's no good reason for any man's remaining a dyspeptic—a burden to himself and family, when he should be a producer.

There's only one reason why he has been a dyspeptic and that is because he has overworked his stomach so that it cannot secrete the juices and work the muscles necessary to digest the food.

Failure Staring Him in the Face.

What the dyspeptic must do is to help the stomach out. It is full of a poisonous pile of fermenting, undigested food. Instead of being assimilated and carried by the blood to make nerve and muscle and rebuild the waste tissues, it lies there inactive.

First, take an unbranded cathartic and get rid of this food.

Second, get a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from any druggist and take one at each meal and at bed time. The tablet will do the digesting while the stomach is regaining its forces. Before the box is gone, your stomach will be vastly relieved. It is cured. Why? Because Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the very elements which your stomach possessed when it was healthy—pepsin, diastase, golden seal and others. It was because your stomach kept losing its supply of these digestive ferments that you became dyspeptic.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work simply, surely, and without injury. They are not a medicine, but the working out of a scientific principle upon the food you eat.

Hundreds of sufferers in far worse condition than you have been positively cured of dyspepsia by these wonderful little tablets. Forty thousand physicians in the United States and Canada recommend them.

If you are uncertain and wish further proof send your name and address today for a free trial package, which we will gladly mail you at once. Write to Stuart Co., 74 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

LABORS OF THE WORLD

EDITED BY O. M. BOYLE

Painters' Union No. 18 met Monday night

Shelton M. Workers' Hall with Vice President Drummond in the chair. The committee from Electrical Workers' Union No. 6 appeared and made a statement. After hearing the argument advanced it was decided to stand. The position taken by the Building Trades Council in its controversy with No. 6. No. 18 decided not to be a party to appointing a committee to bring about disension in the ranks of the building trades. Several candidates were obligated and ten members were admitted on traveling cards. The entertainment committee reported that a most elaborate program was being prepared for the annual ball to be given on April 6 in Puckett's Hall on Church street near Market.

The Iron Trades Council held a special meeting Monday night at the Council Temple and many important matters were discussed. The council entered a strong protest against the Government repairing the transport Sheridan at the Mare Island navy yard, which would employ many of the recently formed union of theatrical employees. It was announced at the last meeting that T. J. Hepp had been appointed by the American Federation of Labor as an organizer for San Jose and its vicinity.

The notorious strike breaker, Farley, is in more trouble

W. H. Cole, who appears in the manner of a strike breaker in Farley's New York office, has been arrested on the charge of grand larceny and attempted blackmail. Cole, it is said, threatens to lay bare certain facts concerning the noted strike breaker which may be interesting reading to organized labor.

The waitresses of Phoenix, Ariz., are on strike for a ten-hour day

They have been working eleven and twelve hours.

Frank Harzbecher, general secretary of the Bakers' International Union, recently in New York City, at which Vice Presidents Duncan and O'Connell and Secretary Morrison of the International Union of Manhattan were present

The meeting was called to adjust the differences between the National Brotherhood of Painters and the Amalgamated Alliance of Painters, the brotherhood having national jurisdiction while the amalgamated is limited to New York and vicinity. The decision arrived at guarantees the autonomy of the amalgamated for a year, when it will be merged into the brotherhood. It was also decided that the demand for an advance of 50 cents a day should go into effect next Friday, and that the agreements must be ratified by the unions by that date. There are nearly 17,000 painters in New York City. The conference reinstated the Actors' Union No. 14 Stage Hands' Union and the Musicians' Union into the Federated Union. The Amalgamated Bluestone Cutters' Union was ordered to join the Granite Cutters' International Union of the Broom and the Union and the Iron Chippers' Union were instructed to join American Federation of Labor unions in their respective trades, and the Bridgetenders' Union was ordered to apply for an American Federation of Labor charter.

The International Association of Machinists will inaugurate the eight-hour day on May 1 in Brooklyn and Jersey City. The machinists now work nine hours, except in the navy yard.

Teamsters' Union No. 668 of Monterey at its last meeting discussed a proposition that the organization should start a union transfer company in that city and Pacific Grove to be composed entirely of union men

The matter will be discussed more fully at the next meeting.

President Hennessy presided at Monday's meeting of Retail Shoe Clerks' Union No. 419 at 1422 Steiner street

The application for a boycott against the Brockton shoe store, 1915 Fillmore street, which had been boycotted, has agreed to close Sundays and holidays and has signed the union agreement and has asked for the store card. The union has decided to prosecute the boycott against the Brockton shoe store in Fillmore street. The Labor Council will lend its assistance in this boycott. It was reported that there is now a greater demand for the store card than ever before. The union's picnic will be held at Martinez on June 9. J. J. Byrnes has been elected first vice president to fill a vacancy. He was installed by Max E. List, first vice president of the International. Tonight a joint meeting will be held with Retail Clerks' Union No. 423 at 1422 Steiner street to further the early-closing movement in the Mission.

Web Press Men's Union No. 4 had a housewarming Monday night at the Labor Council Temple, it being the first meeting the union has held in the temple

One travel card was accepted. The union has every web press man in the city within its ranks. It numbers ninety-six members in good standing and meets every fourth Monday in the month. There were delegations from the Bookbinders' Union, the Printing Pressmen and the Press Assistants' Union. Resolutions condemning the action of the executive council of the International in surrendering to the United Typothetae were passed. After the business of the evening had been transacted an excellent programme of songs and speeches was rendered.

The results of a labor conference now being held in Cleveland are being looked forward with considerable interest by the various international organizations of building trades throughout the country

The meeting is between the international executive officers of the Lathers' Union and those of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, whose headquarters is in Indianapolis. Upon the outcome of the conference will depend whether or not the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers will join the Structural Building Trades Alliance, which is composed of various international unions of structural building trades. This international association voted some time ago to affiliate with the Structural Building Trades Alliance, but there were two obstacles in the way. One was in the form of a jurisdiction dispute with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the other was a controversy with the Lathers' International Union. Both the lathers and carpenters are affiliated with the alliance, and it was necessary that the structural iron workers should adjust their disputes with the two organizations before they could join the

REMOERSE COMES WHEN MOTHER LIES ON BIER

In His Prison Cell James Quinn Thrice Attempts Suicide

Life of Misdeeds

Vision of Dead Parent's Face Breaks Hardened Criminal

James Quinn, man of many aliases and possessor of a lengthy prison record, overcome by the guilty knowledge that his crimes had caused his aged mother's death, thrice attempted suicide in his cell at the City prison yesterday. Each time his attempt was frustrated by the vigilance of "trusties."

Quinn's mother died on last Sunday and her last illness was attributed to a broken heart, caused by grieving over her son's misdeeds. Monday night the son, handcuffed and in charge of two detectives, was led from his cell and taken to the bier to view the remains of his mother. On returning to confinement, he refused to eat and in the night broke down altogether, crying like a child. He continued to grow worse and his preliminary hearing, which was to have been begun in the police court yesterday morning, was continued one week on account of his condition.

The first attempt at suicide was made at 9 o'clock, when Quinn tied his neck tightly about his neck and would have strangled if left alone but a few minutes more. A short time afterward he butted his head again and again against the iron bars in front of his cell but was again stopped by the trusties who had been set to guard him. His final attempt was nipped in the bud when some particles of glass on the floor of his cell and which he was preparing to swallow were taken away from him. Following this, the prisoner was handcuffed and taken to the Central Detention Hospital, where he was put in a cell in the insane ward.

Lest Quinn, who had already tried to commit suicide by slipping out of court during his preliminary hearing, be shaming for the purpose of obtaining a chance to escape, two policemen were detailed to stand guard over his cell door when ever it was opened to give him food.

Young Chauffeur Is Admitted to Probation

Robert Hunter, Convicted of Assault, Is Given His Liberty

The friends of Robert E. Hunter, who was convicted of an assault on 14-year-old Idel du Jardin, succeeded in obtaining an order from Judge Lawlor yesterday admitting the lad to bail until the terms of probation could be fixed. The next regular probation day is March 15, and until that time Hunter will remain at liberty under $200 bail, which was furnished yesterday.

The charge on which Hunter was convicted grew out of an unusual case. Idel du Jardin and a young girl companion were arrested last September after three days of degrading experiences in local saloons and resorts, which culminated in an attempted rape on a beach by the boy and his companion who had secured a revolver. The case was taken into the Police Court and also before the Police Commission, where it resulted in the revocation of several liquor licenses.

At the hearing in the Police Court the fact was divulged that Hunter, who is but 20 years of age and a chauffeur, was in part responsible for the downfall of the girls. He was arrested on a criminal charge and convicted a short time ago by a jury in Judge Lawlor's court.

When the petition for probation came up yesterday for hearing, 100 character witnesses were present to testify in Hunter's behalf, but only ten of them were called to the stand. The members of the jury which convicted the youth also signed a petition in his favor.

Gould Road Wins Suit

Enforces Condemnation at Value Far Under Original Offer

A condemnation suit brought by the Western Pacific Railway Company against Catherine Himmelman for a strip of property at Twenty-fourth and New York streets was settled yesterday by Judge Hunt, the company being ordered to pay $500 for the property in question. The strip of land is located on the right of way from Islais Creek and is ten feet under water at high tide.

It was shown during the course of the suit that the company had made an offer of $1600 for the property, which the owner had rejected, and alleged that an attempt was being made to secure an amount of $2000 for the property. Judge Hunt held that even the $1600 was too much, and reduced it to $500.
