

Schmitz's Share of Boodle Reaches Enormous Total Mayor's Known Graft Aggregates $662,000

This Is Only a Portion of the Bribe Money He Actually Received

Schmitz's Share of Boodle
Trolley franchise.....	$182,000
Home Telephone franchise.....	75,000
Fight Trust.....	5,000
Building graft.....	75,000
Saloon graft.....	50,000
Gambling and disorderly houses	100,000
Theater graft.....	75,000
Tips on stocks from millionaires.....	100,000
Total.....	$662,000

Although no indictments have been returned against Mayor Schmitz in connection with the latest boodling exposures, it is not because the prosecution has not abundant evidence upon which to base true bills against him. District Attorney Langdon considers it the part of wisdom to refrain from the present from a general onslaught upon Schmitz. Ruef, the Supervisors and the bribe-givers will occupy the center of the stage temporarily. Schmitz's turn will come later.

That the Mayor was not a silent spectator of the boodling operations of Ruef and the Supervisors is revealed by evidence in the hands of Special Agent William J. Burns. This evidence shows that Schmitz prospered to the extent of more than $500,000 on some of the more important boodling deals. Of course, Schmitz received far more than this, but these figures represent his profit in a few large deals.

From the United Railroads Schmitz received $182,000, from the Home Telephone Company $75,000, from the fight trust $5000, from the building graft at least $75,000, from the saloons $50,000, from the gambling dens and disorderly houses $100,000, from the theaters $75,000, making a total of $562,000 for the man who posed as the friend of the poor. Adding to this the $100,000 which the Mayor picked up on stock tips from his millionaire friends brings his total up to $662,000.

The bribery money which was paid by the corporations to Ruef was divided with Schmitz. The evidence on this point is positive. Before long the Grand Jury will expose the part played by the Mayor in the boodling operations.

SAILOR SAYS UNION MEN DID NOT VIOLATE LAWS Waged Their Strike Without Violence

Edward Gullixsen, a member of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, was the only witness examined yesterday before Referee Clement Bennett in the proceedings brought by the Hammond Lumber Company against the union for alleged contempt of the injunction issued last summer by United States Circuit Judge W. W. Morrow.

The witness proved to be a typical Scandinavian sailor of only average intelligence, but he baffled all of Attorney J. W. Dorsey's efforts to make him admit that the Sailors' Union had either counseled or winked at violence on the part of its members during the strike.

After Harry Hutton, attorney for the union, had obtained Gullixsen's story, Attorney Dorsey asked: "Why did you strike?" Gullixsen replied: "We considered ourselves the smallest-paid men among the working people on the coast. We were doing the hardest kind of work in steam schooners in outside ports in all kinds of bad weather and we did this work so often that we became crippled with rheumatism and pneumonia. Ferguson never advised the strikers what to do, except at some of our meetings he said he thought that these acts of violence were not done by our men at all but by outsiders. I have heard our members curse and swear and fight among themselves, but never with nonunion men. I never knew of union men attacking nonunion sailors and never heard of sailors interfering with nonunion vessels during the strike. I often heard rumors of such disturbances, but always on the next day I found that they were false. I never saw a union sailor carry a gun, but I saw many nonunion sailors armed. One day I asked a nonunion man for a few minutes' conversation and he poked a gun into my face and said if I wanted any of it he would give it to me.

"Don't you think that a nonunion man has a right to work for whatever wages he chooses to work for?" asked Dorsey.

"Yes," replied Gullixsen, "but when a nonunion man doesn't understand the true situation the union teaches us to educate him how he can have a better time and better wages."

MATCH COMPANY YIELDS INCREASED DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK, March 26.—Upon the report of the Diamond Match Company for the year ending December 31 it is shown that profits increased $211,461, dividends increased $50,000, and the final surplus amounted to $1,231,917, an increase of $231,917. In his statement to stockholders O. C. Barber, president of the company, says in part: "Earnings for 1906 were greater than for any year since 1901. This result has been accomplished against some very heavy advances in raw material and labor, but without any increase in the selling price of matches. The trade in lumber, saw, doors, blinds, etc., in California rapidly increased during the year, and that branch of the company's business is now earning about $30,000 per month.

RAILWAY TELEGRAPHERS FINISH THEIR EVIDENCE

Southern Pacific Company to Give Data Against Wage Demands

Yesterday was the last day allowed the Order of Railway Telegraphers to put in their evidence before Johnson, Perham and Ingham, sitting as a board of arbitration in the courtroom of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The line of evidence was similar to that taken on the preceding day, namely, a comparison of the wages paid to telegraphers and those paid to telegraphers.

The telegraphers sought to establish their contention that the telegraphers received much higher pay than the operators in proportion to the hours of work, arduous labors and remote places of work.

James A. Smith, an attorney at law, who was a yard dispatcher at West Oakland up to a few years ago, said that in 1902 the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen received a 12 1/2 per cent increase after they had made a demand for a 15 per cent increase in pay. At present, he said, the company had under consideration a proposition for a further increase. Yardmen received $75 a month. On November 1 of last year their wages were increased 4 cents an hour, the working day being ten hours.

The Southern Pacific Company will be allowed six days in which to put in its case.

Illegal Appointee Retires From Police Commission

Alexander Is Out and Place Goes to T. F. Finn

After having attended one meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, H. M. Alexander, who was appointed by Mayor Schmitz as George H. Umbsen's successor, retired to private life. His resignation was announced in a communication from the Mayor which was read yesterday at the meeting of the board. The same letter contained the name of Thomas F. Finn as Alexander's successor. Alexander, states the Mayor's message, was ineligible. He had not lived here as a voter for the required five years; in fact, had voted in Stockton during that period. Since the appointment there has been much discussion of the violation of the charter in Alexander's appointment and his resignation followed.

Thomas F. Finn leaves the post of under sheriff and a salary of $200 a month to accept the position on the Board of Police Commissioners, which pays $100. He was a former Fire Commissioner and was president of that body; he is a former Supervisor, former Assessor and member of the Twentieth district and has been an "administration man" ever since Schmitz was projected into politics. Finn is president of the Stabblers' Union and prominent as a labor leader. He has the distinction of being the only labor candidate elected as Supervisor during Schmitz's second campaign for the mayoralty. He is 34 years old.

Sheriff O'Neil says he will take his turn in appointing another chief clerk in Finn's place.

MARTIN MAKES BIG HIT IN ROLE OF MANRICO

Nordica, Conti-Borlinetto and Galperini Also Win Plaudits

It was a great night for Signor Martin as Manrico at the Chutes Theater last evening and the "Il Trovatore" performance was a large gainer thereby. When he sang the "Dark Scaffold" song the entire audience went wild over him. Even the orchestra, in large part, stood and applauded, and the tuneless bowed and bowed in evident gratification. Galperini, too, as the Count de Luna, when he sang the "Il Ballo," was a prime favorite, and there was a sound of hand-clapping and cheers that told the story of satisfaction eloquently.

Of course the crowning moment was when "Miserere" was on, with Nordica and Martin, and that had to be repeated before the audience would be satisfied to let the performance go on. Conti-Borlinetto, in a more favorable impression later in the evening than at first. She is hampered by a tremolo, but her voice came out strong and clear in the prison scene, of good quality and full quantity. The male chorus was particularly good, rich in tones and strong in volume.

CONSIDINE'S POSITION Not Backing San Carlo Opera Company, but Business Manager

A rumor has been abroad that John Considine, the well-known sporting man of Seattle, was financing the San Carlo Opera Company and had a part in the management of the project as an owner.

Harry Russell, director of the San Carlo Opera Company, when interviewed on the subject last night said: "There is nothing in it. I have made Mr. Considine my business manager. He is a personal friend of mine and I have great faith in him as a keen business man. It is not true, however, that he is financially interested in the venture."

AMERICAN THEATER CLOSED

There was no performance of "The Bohemian Girl" at the American Theater last night, nor will there be any tonight, as Aida Hemmi, the prima donna of the San Francisco Opera Company, after vainly striving to ward off a threatened attack of la grippe finally found it necessary to take a rest of two days. Miss Hemmi was quite ill Monday night, and it was only her grit that enabled her to sing. She was seized with a fainting spell after the performance, and Dr. Goodfellow, who was summoned, ordered a rest of two days for the singer. The management, rather than give a performance other than an artistic one, decided to close the theater for two nights. Thursday night Miss Hemmi and the company will repeat "The Bohemian Girl," which also will be the bill Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

WOMAN SUES MAN FOR $1000 ON BROKEN PACT

Says He Ejected Her From Home After Agreeing to Care for Her

A somewhat unique suit for damages was begun yesterday by Miss Eva Ruthven against Percy W. Marsh. She asks for $1000 as damages for ejectment last month from her occupancy of Marsh's property on Silliman street, near Holyoke.

In her complaint Miss Ruthven declares that in November, 1903, she entered into an oral agreement with Marsh by which she was to act as his housekeeper, nurse him in sickness and care for him at all times, and that in return he was to provide her with a living and "keep her in a style suitable to her condition in life." Furthermore, they were to have and own in common any property acquired, and were to divide the products of their joint labors. The property from which the woman was ejected is said to be part of the community property under the oral contract.

After the tedious strain of winter which thins the blood and lowers the vitality, March, with its raw, rough winds and weather, is a most trying month, especially to those who have allowed their blood to become thin and their systems run down.

Invigorate the body and brain with the world's greatest tonic-stimulant, DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, which enriches the blood and makes it course more quickly through the veins. It builds new tissue, quickens the heart's action, prevents decay and fortifies the system against disease germs.

Although 75 years old, I am hale and hearty, due to the judicious use of DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY."—W. A. SEAGG, 1068 Pacific street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Spring Tonic and Appetizer.

"I wish to tell you that last winter I had a very severe time. I have bronchial asthma of long standing, and as a result a very bad heart. I had also a very severe attack of the grip in January; it left me in very poor condition. My stomach and bowels were badly out of order. I could not eat—my stomach would not retain the food. The doctor tried to relieve me, but did not seem to succeed. I commenced to take DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY in April and am now very much better. I can eat all that I need and it does not hurt me. I have been gaining ever since I commenced taking it, and I shall continue to take it as long as I seem to receive benefit from its use."—Capt. J. H. WARREN, Wolfborough Falls, N. H., July 20, 1905.

Night Sweats and Chills.

"I have taken DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY for three months for lung troubles. When I first commenced I was bedfast, and now I am able to work. Now, the doctor of our town said that nothing would help me, but DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY did what the doctors could not do. I had night sweats and chills and weighed 85 pounds. I weigh 100 pounds now, the chills have left me, and the sweats are also gone. I am looking for great results."—Mr. JOHN BENTLEY, Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 15, 1906.

Weak and Nervous.

"I can certainly say your tonic-stimulant, DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, has been a great benefit to me. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep and was troubled with loss of appetite. I was recommended to take DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, which I did, and the result is that I am stronger and better in every way, can sleep nights and my appetite is much improved. I write you this, as I thought it was my duty to let you know what your great medicinal Malt Whiskey has done for me."—Years very truly, Mrs. P. R. SOUTHWARD, Woodmere, L. I., Jan. 8, 1907.

A Temperance Doctor.

"I endorse DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY as a medicine and for medical use, and for nothing else. I oppose intemperance and favor all laws that tend toward the suppression of drunkenness."—T. F. PALMER, M. D., Rives, Tenn., Aug. 9, 1904.

Strong at 94.

"It is true I have used your whiskey and like it the best of all I have ever used. I was 94 on June 27th. Among my other pleasures was some of your Malt Whiskey from my nephew. I know that I would not be alive today did I not take it regularly in moderate quantities, as I do not have much appetite."—MARSHALL PIERCE, Boston, Vt., Aug. 7, 1906.

Tonic for the Old.

"I have used your Whiskey as a tonic-stimulant for several years and have been greatly benefited by it. I have always recommended it to others and shall continue to do so. I believe that it is the best tonic for old age on the market."—JOSEPH FIELD, Bergen, N. Y., August 11th, 1906.

A Spring Medicine.

"Last April I took a sudden cold and I was laid up with neuritis in my shoulder, which brought on fever and took away my appetite, but by using DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY I came out all right. And on Memorial Day I was leading my band and playing, as well. I think your MALT WHISKEY is just the medicine to tone up and keep up the strength of old people. "Hoping your medicine will prove beneficial to others, I can truly recommend it as a valuable help."—G. L. PARTRIDGE, Franklin, Mass., Sept. 1, 1906.

Left Lung Almost Gone.

"As I am a member of the Hull House Women's Club, I was called out many times when the weather was very bad, and so caught a very bad cough, and doctors claimed that my lungs were affected; in fact, the left lung was almost gone, but since I have taken your valuable DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY I feel better, and would not do without it. I have not been taking it very long, but I am sure of good results. I have good color in my face and feel that I can work with a great deal more ambition. I cannot praise it too much. I have recommended it to several of my friends, and they, too, are thankful for the benefit they have already derived from it."—Mrs. VICTOR A. BRAUCAIRE, 205 Ogden ave., Chicago, Ill.
