

JAPANESE DESERTERS SAVED FROM DROWNING

Try to Swim Ashore From Vessel After Arrival Here From Japan

PUT CLOTHES IN TUB

Fishermen Returning to City Hear Cry in Dark and Rescue Victims

Japanese quarter masters who tried to swim from steamship to shore, and the tub in which they carried their clothing.

A cry in the dark in an unknown tongue, but evidently from a human being in distress, attracted the attention of two Italian fishermen near Blossom rock about 2 o'clock yesterday morning as they moved along in their power boat on the way from Point Richmond to Melggs wharf. The tide was swift and the wind blew cold, and the seafarers in the boat knew that if the cry came from somebody in the water there was no time to be lost. The cry was continued at intervals, and after a few minutes the boat's nose bumped against a heavy tub, to which two naked men were clinging. The swimmers were helped into the boat and in compliance with their insistent gestures the tub was hoisted on board. The fishermen were G. Carmiglia and Giovanni Grosso and they were bound to market with a load of fish. The men they rescued were Sadakichi Matsumoto and Kiseku Fukamachi, quartermasters of the Japanese steamer Koan Maru, which had arrived a few hours before from Japan and was lying in the quarantine anchorage.

The voyage of the Koan Maru had been long and stormy and the two quartermasters decided to desert and remain in the land of opportunity. They packed their clothes in a tub shortly after the steamer anchored. When their shipmates had turned in for a few hours' sleep the two little brown mariners lowered the tub over the side and followed it into the water, intending to swim to the shore.

The men soon found, however, that the direction of their flight would be governed by the will of the tide. Each with one arm of the tub and the other madly stroking the water, they twisted and twisted on the bosom of the rushing current, which was carrying them away from the lights of the city. When the fishermen found the Japanese they were nearly paralyzed with cold and worn out with the struggle.

The rescuers turned the Japanese over to James Black, night lookout for the Merchants' exchange, who notified the police. The shivering deserters were taken in a patrol boat to the harbor hospital, where they remained under police guard until the immigration authorities took charge of them and escorted them back to the Koan Maru.

REMOVE JUDGE WILFLEY ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO

Shanghai Lawyer to Appeal Directly to President to Change Head of Consular Court

Lorin Andrews, attorney general for the territory of Hawaii under the Doole and Carter regimes and now practicing law at Shanghai, arrived here yesterday from the orient on the liner Manchuria, and is on his way to Washington to appeal directly to President Roosevelt for the impeachment of United States Judge Leobius Wilfley of the consular court at Shanghai. Incidentally Andrews accuses Secretary Taft of having failed to carry out his promise to remove Wilfley. Wilfley is the first incumbent of the consular court and has kept things warm in Shanghai. One of his first acts was to order that all American lawyers who intended to practice in his court must submit to an examination, and nearly every Yankee lawyer in Shanghai, including Andrews, was disqualified. While the others howled Andrews hurried to Washington, where he secured an order for his reinstatement.

I saw Secretary Taft," said Andrews yesterday, "and showed him how Wilfley was hurting American interests in Shanghai, and received Taft's assurance that Wilfley would be sent back to Manila. I took the good news to Shanghai, from where it drifted to Manila. Wilfley has not been transferred to Manila and Governor General Smith said that when the commission heard the rumor they called a protest to Washington in which they declared that the entire Philippine commission would resign if Wilfley was sent to Manila."

CARPENTER LOSES LIFE IN TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Aleis Franks Is Fatally Injured in a Collision Between Car and a Lumber Wagon

A collision between an electric car and a lumber wagon in Mission street yesterday morning resulted in the death of Aleis Franks, a carpenter. Franks was riding on a wagon driven by J. S. Bartow of 1843 Mission street and when near the crossing of Thirteenth and Mission streets car No. 1564 of the Mission and Polk streets line struck the team. Both men were thrown from the driver's seat. Franks landed in front of the car and a blow from the fender fractured his skull. Franks was removed to St. Luke's hospital, where he died shortly after being placed on the operating table. Bartow escaped with several bruises and a bad shaking up.

DIVORCE COMPLAINTS FILED

Three divorce complaints were filed with the county clerk yesterday. They were: Blanche Beville against Thomas Beville, willful neglect; C. W. Turner against Margaret Turner, desertion; Caroline Conlon against John Conlon, cruelty, the wife charging that her husband struck her in the face and pinched her arm until it was black and blue.

SOUTHERN FORGER PAROLED

Samuel Crutcher, who forged the name of Mrs. Fred J. Lutz to a check and who pleaded guilty in Judge Cook's court, was paroled yesterday for two years. One of the terms of the probation was that Crutcher would return to his parents' home in Nashville, Tenn., and report to Probation Officer Montgomery once a month by letter.

MORE HINDUS ARRIVE ON LINER MANCHURIA

Some of Them Are Victims of Trachoma and May Be Refused Landing

Sixty-one Hindus arrived yesterday from the far east on the Pacific liner Manchuria. Some of them are victims of trachoma and may be refused landing, but the majority will come ashore and join the steadily growing army of turbaned aliens that is prowling about this and other coast states in search of work. The destination of this latest contingent is Vancouver, B. C., but recent developments in British Columbia are likely to lead to a change in their plans. If they go on to their destination it will be only a matter of weeks before these dark skinned subjects of King Edward will be back in California, where the sun shines a more kindly welcome than the winter skies of the northern territory. The Manchuria brought also 110 Chinese and one Japanese.

SCHMITZ CASES CONTINUED

Eugene E. Schmitz was in Judge Dunne's court yesterday. There were four extortion cases against him on the calendar for trial, but by consent of both sides it was ordered that the continuance was granted.

DR. PIERCE'S REMEDIES

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are clouded, and many an evil deed or impure thought is directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Equal impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist does not happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

CONVICT EUGENE SCHMITZ APPLIES FOR NEW TRIAL

Pleads No Threat in French Restaurant Extortion Case

ATTACKS THE ELISOR

Judge Dunne Is Accused of Bias in Petition to Appeal Court

Eugene E. Schmitz, San Francisco's convict ex-mayor, yesterday afternoon applied to the district court of appeal for a new trial in the French restaurant extortion case on the main grounds that there was no threat of any kind made against Malfanti, Kleb and La Frenz, the restaurateurs he was convicted of having extorted money from, and that there was no property liable injury or that might have been injured by any threat. The petition was filed by Charles Fairall, attorney for the hoodler. "The petition sets forth that a motion was made to set aside the indictments and that this was overruled. The defendant then demurred to the indictment, which was disallowed by the court, and a plea of not guilty was promptly entered. "The papers set forth that the trial commenced on May 29 and that a motion was made to have the scene shifted to some other court besides Judge Dunne's on the ground that the latter was biased. The motion was also overruled, the trial proceeded with and Schmitz was duly convicted. The petition raised the following points: That the indictment failed to state any public offense; that the court made many errors in its rulings; that the court allowed a peremptory challenge to a juror after he had been sworn without any cause and that the court refused to allow the defendant any additional peremptory challenges. "The point of an elisor is also raised. In long terms the petition alleges that the jury was given in charge of a hostile elisor. It is alleged in the petition that this was contrary to the law, for the reason that there was no ground upon which an elisor should have been appointed to take charge of the jury.

GROVELS IN VAIN FOR MERCY FROM COURT

Meyer Boog, Who Violated Probation, Given Ten Year Sentence

WARNING TO OTHERS

Youth, Who Forged Check and Stole While on Parole, Is Punished

Sobering as if his heart would break, almost groveling in his urgent plea for mercy, Meyer Boog, a boy of 18, who had violated the terms of his probation, heard Judge Carroll Cook pronounce a sentence upon him of 10 years' imprisonment in San Quentin yesterday morning. On August 29 Boog, who had pleaded guilty to two charges of forgery, was paroled on probation for two years, he having at that time spent about six months in the county jail. Five or six weeks ago he went to work for A. John & Co., wholesale clothiers. He forged the name of the firm to a check and stole money collected for his employers. To the charge of forgery he pleaded guilty. "Boog," said Judge Cook to the young man yesterday morning, "your record shows that practically within a month of the time I paroled you you recommenced your career of crime. When a young man of immature years comes here charged with his first offense I always try to give him an opportunity to reform and make a man of himself. I have, I suppose, 50 or 60 young men out on parole now whom I am trying to save from state prison. If I failed to punish severely a young man who violates his promise to me I would be doing an absolute injury to every one of those who are on probation, because they would believe they could break their promise to me with impunity. I am forced to the conclusion that the sooner the community is rid of you the better, and the longer the community is rid of you the better."

Boog interrupted with a request to be allowed to make a statement. Trembling on the verge of tears, the young man begged for mercy. "Just give me one more chance, Judge," he pleaded. "I don't know why I did it. I am only a young man. I am made of the same stuff and blood as others. But there are times when a person will do a thing—"

Getting thus far, Boog collapsed on the seat in a tempest of tears, which increased in intensity as the judge went on to pass sentence, saying: "The sentence is that you be given five years' imprisonment on the charge to which you have now pleaded guilty and an additional five years on the charge upon which you were paroled in August." This is only the third time upon which Judge Cook has had occasion to punish a first offender for violation of the terms of his probation.

The Value of First Impression

DO you know what's the first thing an employer judges in a man?

It's his personality! Most important, of course, is the character appearance—

But almost equally important is the Attire—the man from the shoulders down.

A man may have a magnificent Personality—yet he can discount it materially by wearing ill-shaped clothes.

And it's mighty easy to have the discount clothes—for fully 80 per cent of all clothes are improperly cut and tailored, and a temporary shape resemblance is merely pressed into them by the Hot Flat Iron—(Old Doctor Goose)—to come out after brief wear—and make a fellow appear ill-clad and freakish.

But it's just about as easy to get the right kind of clothes—that add to and do not detract from a man's personality.

All you have to do is to see that the label "Sincerity Clothes" is in the suit or overcoat you buy.

Style book sent on request. Kuh, Nathan & Fischer Co., Chicago.

You see, the "Sincerity Clothes" makers insured their clothes against loss of style or shape.

They cut and tailor Style-shape and Fit in each "Sincerity" Suit or Overcoat. They don't "dope" them in temporarily by the Hot Flat Iron—Old Doctor Goose.

And no matter how long a man may wear a "Sincerity" Suit or Overcoat, it will look right—be stylish, and create a Good Impression.

That's why "Sincerity Clothes" are worn by men who value a neat, smart appearance—who are Good Dressers.

See "Sincerity Clothes" at your high grade Clothes shop—Look for the label in the next garment you buy.
