TRADES COUNCIL MAY BE HELED INTO COURT

Investigation of Finances to Be Continued by Committee

TO TRY ZANT CASE

Delegate Will Attack the Sufficiency of Charge Against Him

The building trades council of this city, at its meeting tomorrow night, will receive another visit from the special committee that has been appointed to examine the books, with a view to discovering what it became of the money that it is charged was diverted from the council treasury for campaign purposes.

At the last meeting the committee which had been told that it could examine the books during session made a demand for the same, and according to the committee it was shown one book, an ordinary blotter, which does not show what is required. What the committee wants is the financial statement of three meetings that did not appear in the printed minutes, and if such is not furnished it is probable that legal steps will be taken for an accounting.

The case of Thomas Edward Zant, a delegate who is charged with "acts detrimental to the council and unionism," will be called for trial. He declares that the accusation is not specific and that from the charge he cannot determine what he may have done that is detrimental to unionism.

When the state federation of labor meets in Vallejo, January 8, there will be a theater party at the Novelty with a specially prepared vaudeville program; a trip to St. Helena on the electric road, with luncheon at the terminal; a banquet in San Pablo hall, a public meeting, at which Francis J. Heney and Walter Macarthur will be the principal speakers.

Carpenters' union 433 at its meeting Monday elected the following as delegates to the district council: J. P. Scott, E. E. Phillips, J. McDonald, W. R. Gibson, McLeod, Peter McCarthy, O. M. V. Roberts, T. P. Curran, E. W. Moore, T. E. Zant, H. W. Scott.

The following were elected as delegates to the building trades council: C. H. Peterson, A. E. Cline, Thomas McElwain, D. J. Kempton, R. Ross, T. E. Zant, C. C. Lindstead, Thomas Dimmett, J. McDonald, E. D. Marlett, J. P. Scott, J. P. Greenwood, A. Lockwood, W. A. Schenkel, A. Richardson, Guy Lathrop, J. M. Mayer, V. Jaccard, W. E. Gore, E. E. Phillips, T. S. Palmer and Edward McKenzie. The union admitted five members on clearance cards and will have a large attendance at its next meeting. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

The election of officers of the steam laundry workers Monday night resulted in the choice of the following: George Black, president; Nellie Victor, vice president; Carrie Parmar, secretary; Charles Linegar, treasurer; James Linegar and James Farren, sergeants at arms; J. J. Brown, F. Thurber, Frederick Graham, Oliver Peyre, G. F. Thurber, Nellie Victor, Annie Brown, William Chard, J. Olsen, George McGrath, James Linegar and James Farren, executive board; Tillie Olsen, Frederick Graham, Guy F. Thurber, George Black, Carrie Parmar, A. Finlayson, Robert Ewing, Annie Brown and Harry Clunie, delegates to the San Francisco labor council. These officers will be installed at the first meeting next month.

Bar tenders' union, local No. 41, at its meeting Monday night pledged its moral and financial support to a member of a sister local who is in distress in New York city. The union has secured grounds for a picnic in Alameda county next April. Three applications for membership were presented and two elected candidates obligated.

Carpenters' union No. 1082 has appointed J. B. Dennis, F. E. Maxwell, W. W. Hobron, A. E. Lindstrom, A. Calderwood, F. C. Drosch and M. Johnson a committee to arrange for a smoker on the last Friday in the month.

The waitresses' union had a pleasant social in its hall in Jefferson square building last Monday afternoon after the installation of five candidates by initiation.

Janitors' union has elected the following officers: J. R. Matheson, president; C. Erickson, vice president; H. Brockway, recording secretary; B. Stone, financial secretary; J. Spencer, treasurer; J. B. Percival, trustee; G. Shuttleworth, C. Erickson, delegates to labor council; G. F. Turnerman, guardian; H. Watson, guide; P. H. Meyer and C. Erickson, delegates to Japanese-Korean league.

Golden West lodge machinists' auxiliary, junior branch, elected the following officers last night: F. Dyson, president; A. Benson, vice president; A. E. Deidrich, financial secretary; H. Hooper, recording secretary; H. Park, treasurer; M. Kelly, conductor; P. McDonald, sentinel; G. Patterson, A. Jess, J. Hooper, B. Harrington, A. J. Leady and R. Tuck, trustees; F. Dyson, H. Park and A. Jess, delegates to labor council; F. Dyson, A. Jess and A. Lindberger, delegates to Japanese-Korean league.

Millmen's union 423 will install its officers January 7.

Gossip of the Railroads

"Is the report true that W. H. Bancroft is going to resign?" asked the new reporter of the clerk in the ante room to the general manager's office at Salt Lake City yesterday.

"He is in there; you can step in and ask him," was the answer.

A few minutes afterward the man came out of Bancroft's room and passed his hand across his brows in a dazed condition.

"Did he say anything?" inquired the clerk.

"Did he say anything? Well, what he did say I am afraid the law will not allow me to print."

"The railroad hospital," remarked Dr. A. W. Morton, chief surgeon of the Santa Fe, yesterday, "is more victimized than any other department of a transportation company. I discharged a man today who, after inquiry, I learn has been victimized many railroad hospitals in the country. We were short of men near Bakersfield and this man was taken on without any examination. He paid his hospital dues promptly, 50 cents, and a day after he began work he applied for admission to the hospital. He has a bad leg, and there was no recourse but to send him there. He had been in the hospital 90 days for 50 cents. This trick he has played on us twice and once on the Southern Pacific. It is the cheapest kind of board and he appreciates that fact."

There was an investigation some time ago by the interstate commerce commission in a nonofficial way regarding tank car shortage for fuel oil in the Bakersfield district. With the exception of the tank cars that has been secured by both lines, tank car conditions have been so much relieved that all commercial business is being taken care of, and now is the time for the concerns needing fuel oil to lay in supplies, because after a short while the railroad companies will have to begin to fill their tanks along the line for their locomotives, and that is likely to create a stringency in cars. There are about 2,000 tank cars on the coast, of which half probably are used in taking care of the business of the railroad companies when needed, and at other times are put into commercial service.

"The practice of giving tips," observed W. C. Donnelly of the Santa Fe, "is un-American, and I for one resolutely refuse to be imposed upon. I give a tip only when a service is performed which is not within a man's duty or, in other words, for which he is not paid."

"You will be the only man in the whole world that escapes paying tips in a Chicago hotel if you adhere to that idea," replied an old railroad man.

Donnelly kept his resolution and was the object of much criticism on the part of every bellboy at the Auditorium. On leaving the hotel he was surrounded by a group of men, and he was told that he was being followed.

"Mr. Donnelly, sah, it is just pouring down with rain, sah, and, sah, I will take you across to the annex, sah, under my umbrella, sah," said a porter.

Donnelly went with him and presented the man with a $1 bill for the service.

Then he said things which are not printable.

It was not raining.

Epes Randolph, who is building the Harriman lines in Mexico, has opened for traffic a branch road to Alamos, 162 miles from Guaymas and 40 miles from Navajo, on the main line. This branch enters a rich mineral country and will do a big business in the transportation of ore. It is part of the Cananea, Yaqui and Pacific, which is heading for Guadalupe. Grading has been completed as far as San Blas, an interior town in the state of Sonora, and track laying will be commenced shortly. Another important piece of railroad work is the line from Del Rio toward Nogales, which describes an arc and passes through a territory rich in minerals.

Four carloads of celery are going out of Antioch and Holt every day over the Santa Fe lines to eastern points and it is expected that the movement will be increased considerably within the next few weeks. It is expected that fully 350 carloads will be sent to New York and Chicago this season.

There is a slight curtailment in the orange orders from the east, due to the fact that the holiday trade has been supplied. Growers are waiting for a superior condition of fruit on the trees and the resumption of a heavy export movement will not begin till after January 1, when shipments will reach 200 carloads a day.

It is estimated by the colonization agent, L. G. Sinnard, of the Southern Pacific that fully 2,000 acres of land will be put into oranges this season in the neighborhood of Lindsay and Porterville. The capital for this enterprise is coming from southern California.

Scandinavians to the number of 1,028 left Chicago a week ago last Wednesday in four special trains bound for New York to spend the Christmas holidays in the old country.

The Santa Fe's new tug E. P. Ripley is receiving her machinery and will go into service about the first of the new year.

C. A. Rutherford of the Rock Island lines has left for the east to spend the holiday season at his old home.

Edward Chambers, assistant freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe, is in Los Angeles.

There is trouble between the Massie and the United Wireless Telegraph companies. Yesterday W. W. ENJOINS THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

District of Columbia Justice Prevents Boycotting of St. Louis Firm

QUOTES JUDGE TAFT

Holds That Designation of Company as "Unfair" Is Unlawful

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—In the case of the Buck stove and range company of St. Louis against the American federation of labor, involving the right of labor to boycott business houses which labor organizations regarded as "unfair" to them, Justice Gould of the district of Columbia equity court granted a temporary injunction today to prohibit the federation from continuing to boycott the company, pending a final settlement of the case.

A bill in equity was filed by the company last August for a permanent injunction restraining the federation from boycotting and putting the company on the "unfair" list in the federation's official organ and a supplemental bill was filed later charging that, notwithstanding the pending proceedings, the federation was still actively engaged in pressing the boycott and a temporary injunction was asked for.

The court made numerous citations of decisions in cases involving similar issues, including references to rulings by Judge Taft, the present secretary of war, then judge of the circuit court, in the action of the Toledo Electric railway against the Pennsylvania company, and proceedings brought in various states.

Judge Gould declared that it was not surprising that there was so little difference of opinion among the courts upon the question involved and that the conclusion that such combinations as that disclosed by the affidavits filed by the Buck stove company in this case were held to be unlawful was based upon appreciation of the fundamental rights of free men in a free country. He said there was little room for arguing or discussion of the question whether the plaintiff company had shown the existence of an unlawful combination and conspiracy to destroy its business and that the record left no doubt that the plaintiff had been and still was the object of a boycott using the term "unfair" in the most obnoxious sense, viz., an unlawful conspiracy to destroy its business, such a conspiracy as has received the condemnation of every federal and state court in the country before which it has been brought for criminal action, legal redress or equitable injunction.

The American federation of labor is also a defendant in this case, and also president Gompers and Secretary Morrison, individually, as well as nine others of the executive council of the federation and also the electors, molders and finishers' union No. 17, together with certain individuals comprising its officers and executive board.

Gompers contended that the "unfair" list had been in use almost from the federation's organization and that it imputed simply inequitable or discriminatory treatment against organized labor.

President Van Cleave of the stove company, it was charged, had discharged as an employe the president of a St. Louis local union and threatened to discharge all other members of the union and of employes that sought to deal with him.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Samuel Gompers of the American federation of labor, who is in this city, declined to give any comment on the action of the court in granting a temporary injunction against the federation on behalf of the Buck stove and range company.
