By Bob Shand

With the exception of the vociferation of the populace the association football league tourney may be considered settled and the Albion Rovers are open to congratulation. The Thistles undoubtedly will hold on to second place and derive what consolation they can from the fact that the Vampires appear to have the "peep" position secure.

The success of the Rovers is popular in all quarters, and is but a fitting reward for a season's consistent work. The Albion Rovers have been in the league since the institution of that body in 1902-03, and this is the first appearance of the club at the head of the table. That the eleven has been consistent is apparent from the fact that it has never been headed throughout the race, having jumped into first position the first week of the season. Jesse Moore, the secretary and manager of the team, has been behind the club for five years, and it is mainly due to his efforts that the team has risen to such prominence. The Rovers still have three games to play, against the Robert Burns, Hornets and Thistles. The Burns and Hornets games are virtually as good as won, and even should the Thistles beat them the Rovers will still finish with a total of 24 points.

The Hornets appear to be getting into trim for the cup games, and the Vampires do not seem to have such a snap as would appear on paper. In drawing with the Burns the "Insects" secured a third point to their total in the league table, and in view of their severe defeats in previous matches their performance of last week was a vast improvement. The Burns team never was a formidable combination, but it was regarded as good enough to account for the tallenders. Pomeroy has been scourging the country for talent, and the recruits he has engaged have improved the team immensely. Phillips and Selton are both good men and will be seen in the cup games.

The game at the stadium between the Burns and Hornets will live long in the memory of those who were unfortunate enough to be present. There were several fights, but the referee used his authority to ignore them until close on time, when Phillips of the Hornets and McFarlane of the Burns engaged in a furious mixup and both players were ordered off the field. Had the referee used his full powers several others would have been sent to the dressing room, and the leniency he displayed will not do the game any good. It is up to the association to put a stop to slugging exhibitions on the field.

The San Francisco team is about the most erratic bunch in the game. One week it beats a team considered its superior and the following week falls when it should be expected to win. Several new men were introduced into the eleven last Sunday, but the Albion Rovers had little difficulty in garnering the spoils. Burns was an absentee from the local team and states that he will not play again. At present constituted the San Francisco team is entirely English, Burns having been the only Scot in the eleven.

The prosperity enjoyed by the association has caused the league to sit up and take notice. Secretary Birdsall received a communication from the league officials requesting 75 per cent of the receipts of the cup games. Birdsall is reported to be resting easily, but is not yet out of danger. Those to whom the news was broken are wondering at the audacity of some persons. Many are inclined to believe that the request is only a little joke of the silly season. In any case the association is to hold a special meeting to consider the matter and it may be that a donation will be given the league to fatten its depleted exchequer.

The first round of the cup ties is to be decided February 3 and the teams are in training for the event. One game will be played at Freeman's park, Oakland, and the other at Recreation park, this city. The Vampires and Hornets proceed to decide their differences across the bay and the Thistles and San Francisco at Jack Gleason's ballfield. After the first round has been decided there will be games every Saturday afternoon, until the destination of the trophy is decided.

Following are the teams for today and the referees who will handle the games: Vampires—McFarlane, Middleton, Peterson, Hunter, Lee, Scott, Bernard, J. McKenzie, Robertson, Singer and A. McKenzie. Thistles—McRitchie, Zorn, Edmondson, Turke, Townes, Shanks, Brown, Scott, Mill and Pennington. Referee, F. H. Fawcett.

Albion Rovers—Marston, McFarlane, McFay, Cockburn, McKenna, Milne, Donohue, Fisher, Pike and Beahm. Referee, C. W. W. Robert. Burns—Farmer, Harrower, Black, Cameron, Harris, Doig, Inella, McFarlane, Moore, Gray and Buchanan. Referee, C. W. W. Hornets—McRitchie, Lynch, Wesber, Massey, Phillips, Williams, Pomeroy, Edwards, Cullen, Sharp and Selton.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR STANFORD TRACK TEAM

Record Breaking Squad Signs the Training List and Prospects are Bright

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 18.—At an enthusiastic track rally held Thursday night in the clubroom of Encina hall, the men's dormitory, 154 athletes signed the training list and vied for the coveted varsity "S" upon the cinder path. This is the largest squad of trackmen that has ever signified its intention of trying out, and the outlook is considered bright by Trainer Dad Moulton. The men will begin work at once and will prepare for the first track meet of the season, which is to be held with the Olympic club of San Francisco in five or six weeks. BERKELEY, Jan. 18.—More than 100 trackmen gathered in California hall yesterday afternoon at an enthusiastic meeting at which the track season of the university was formally opened. Captain Forrest Stanton of the team, Trainer Walter Christie and Manager Snedigar made speeches outlining the work for the year. Tomorrow the men will clean up the oval for track work, which begins on Monday.

Lieutenant Bruno Vanzi, the noted horseman and instructor of the Italian army, formerly a San Francisco boy and the son of a local editor.

FAMOUS RIDER A SAN FRANCISCAN

Lieutenant Bruno Vanzi of the Italian Army Is Son of a City Editor

Remarkable Feats of Horsemanship Attract World Wide Attention

Among the photographs depicting the crack cavalrymen of the world which President Roosevelt has recently collected was that of Bruno Vanzi, a lieutenant in the Italian cavalry and formerly a San Francisco boy. Vanzi is the son of Cavalier Lenotta, Vanzi, city editor of the Daily L'Italia of San Francisco, and a brother of Max Vanzi, the well known cartoonist.

President Roosevelt, who for some time past has been an ardent advocate for the improvement of the horsemanship of the United States army officers, collected photographs of cavalrymen of the other nations for the purpose of finding out the standing of the army officers of this country as compared to those of others in regard to riding. Among them he received one depicting Lieutenant Vanzi riding down a steep incline and immediately recognized the excellent seat of the young Italian officer.

Lieutenant Vanzi is known as one of the most accomplished cavalrymen of the world, and is an instructor in the military riding school at Tor di Quinto. As only the very pick of the Italian cavalrymen are allowed to attend that institution, the position of instructor there is a marked recognition of ability and horsemanship.

He is attached to the Saluzzo regiment, which gives an annual exhibition of horsemanship before the representatives of the different nations. In this year his work received the highest praise of the German emperor, who intends to form a school similar to that at Tor di Quinto.

Lieutenant Vanzi was well known in San Francisco, and the success which he is winning in his profession in Italy is causing great pleasure in Italian circles here.

INTERNATIONAL PROBE FOLLOWS GARY RIOT

Hungarian Embassy Prosecutes Police Who Slew Subjects of Nation in Cold Blood

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Prosecution by the Austro-Hungarian monarchy threatens the police force of Gary, Ind., as a result of the battle in the sand dunes last Wednesday night, in which two subjects of Emperor Franz Josef were killed. Under instructions from the embassy at Washington, an agent was sent yesterday to the steel city to investigate the affray and see if the rights of the Hungarians had been respected.

Henry A. Boeche, a Chicago attorney, conducted the inquiry and announced that he would today swear out federal warrants in the office of United States Commissioner Charles L. Surpise at Hammond. The cases eventually are expected to come before Judge Anderson of Indianapolis, who has been presiding at the Walsh trial in Chicago. According to Boeche, the Hungarians were shot down wantonly and ruthlessly by the police. It is not denied that one of the alien laborers fired one shot first, but it is contended that there was no provocation for an indiscriminate volley and that the Hungarians were shot down wantonly and ruthlessly by the police. The police, on their part, said they were in danger, facing an ignorant horde, reckless with firearms, and defiant of all laws. They had to fire, they said, to protect themselves.

BRYAN VOLUNTEERS ARE ORGANIZING EVERYWHERE

Democratic Manager Says They Will Be Looked To for Campaign Funds

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 18.—Mayor James C. Dahlman, democratic national committee man for Nebraska, will have a word to say for the movement to organize the Bryan volunteers. He said today that steps were being taken to organize Bryan men in every precinct in the United States. He believes that by the middle of July the campaign will be ready to take up the organization all over the country and make an active canvass in every state.

Dahlman added that the Bryan managers would depend to a large extent on this organization to provide a campaign fund to be used by the national committee.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 18.—William J. Bryan will leave tomorrow on an extended tour, visiting Chicago, Covington, Ky.; Nashville, Tenn.; Birmingham, Ala.; Washington, Philadelphia, several cities in Delaware, New Jersey and New York. Then he will continue on to Toronto and Montreal. He will be gone a month.

PRESIDENT PROTECTS THE PINNACLE PEAKS

Proclaims San Benito County's Natural Wonder a National Monument

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The president has signed a proclamation making a national monument of the jagged peaks known as the "Pinnacles," situated in the western part of San Benito county.

The area of the monument is about 2,080 acres. This natural wonder is nine miles east of the Southern Pacific station at Soledad. The jagged formation is of much scientific interest. The Pinnacles are located within the Pinnacles national forest. The movement to give the peaks permanent protection and preserve them for their scientific interest was started in 1904 by Representative Needham and other influential Californians. The creation of the Pinnacles national monument is the final outcome of this movement. In this way the peaks will be protected from unsightly exploitation.

GET ONLY ONE PRISONER AFTER 3,000 MILE TRIP

Minnesota Authorities Are Too Show, and Lose Three Fugitives

VALLEJO, Jan. 18.—After coming over 3,000 miles for four men accused in Duluth, Minn., of election frauds committed on December 17 last, Sheriff Bates and Assistant District Attorney Cunningham of St. Louis county, in that state, found that all but one of their men wanted had fled. M. T. Kane, the fourth member of the party of alleged repeaters, was at the marine barracks on Mare Island and was taken into custody. He will be taken east for trial.

Kane admits that he and his companions voted several times for politicians who wanted to take the lid off the northeastern Minnesota territory, and that the four men then enlisted in the marine corps and were sent here. The other three accused are John Carver, Oscar Dougan and Ernest Morgan. They learned of the hunt being made for them and deserted from the service several days ago.

The men were promised good positions under a wide open town administration if that ticket won, and it is alleged that after voting many times at different precincts they found that the good government people had issued warrants for them, so their political friends got them in the marine corps and shipped them out of town.

The Minnesota authorities bungled their case, or they would have captured all of the men. Three weeks ago they wired to Colonel Lincoln Karmody, in command of the marine corps, and asked about the men wanted. Karmody answered that they were here. Days went by and when no answer came from the east the marine officers called the men into the office to discover what the charges were. The accused marines confessed and a short time later three of them fled.

Uses Borrowed License

VALLEJO, Jan. 18.—The first arrest under the new hunting license law made in this county was that of Joseph Curry, a young man of this city, who was taken into custody by Deputy Game Commissioner Armstrong on a charge of hunting without a license. Curry was fined $10.

Curry was out hunting with a license issued to W. L. Tucker, a well known resident of this city, who claimed that the young man went to his house while he was away and borrowed his gun and the game license from his wife. Tucker was released by Judge Fitzgerald, as it was evident that he had no knowledge of the act of the youngster.

BEST TEACHERS MEN, SAYS JORDAN

Women in Schools Are Good, but Are Better Married, College Head Believes

Organization of Equal Suffrage Branch Follows Talk of Educator

That men make better teachers than women was the statement made by David Starr Jordan in an address delivered before a number of college and professional women at the rooms of the Century club yesterday afternoon.

"Women do not make good pioneers," said Jordan, "but if the trail be blazed for them they can follow patiently and faithfully, often doing as effective work as men, in their own way."

Dr. Jordan went on to show that men and women had the same economic relations, but that one of the reasons men made better teachers than women was because the former possessed more natural executive ability than women. It was also because they were trained from the outset to specialize. He commended the work of the women in the elementary and grammar schools, but asserted that the training of boys in the high school could only be given by men.

"One of the best things a big hearted, clean minded woman can do," said he, "is to fill a teacher's position, but a work already done."

still better thing for her is for some big hearted, clean minded man to come along and take her out of it."

During his address the head of Stanford university touched upon the subject of overwork, and said that nervous prostration was "woman's form of delirium tremens."

Dr. Jordan was followed by Mrs. Alexander Morrison, who read a paper on the duties which college students owe to the pioneers of college days, and Mrs. Charles Park, who spoke briefly on the eastern organizations for equal suffrage.

At the executive meeting of the college women at 2 o'clock an organization to be known as the northern California branch of the equal suffrage league was formed. The constitution was read by Mrs. Charles Park of Boston, to whose efforts and interest in the cause the branch owes its inception. Then the articles and amendments were voted upon and the constitution was adopted.

An election of officers for the new branch followed, which resulted in the installation of Miss Frances McLean, Berkeley, for president; Miss Kate Ames, Stanford, vice president; Miss Caroline Jackson, Cornell, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Starr, Berkeley, secretary. Eight directors—Miss Helen Cooper, Dr. Adelaide Brown, Mrs. Alexander Morrison, Mrs. Frank Deering, Miss Helen Peckham, Mrs. A. E. Grauner, Miss Vivien Bayley and Mrs. Elwyn Stebbins—were chosen. Eighty-eight charter members signed the roll and paid dues.

At present there is no central organization, but the California branch, in common with the eastern branches, is considered an auxiliary to the National American Woman Suffrage association. There will not be many meetings, as the organization is planned chiefly with the idea of proselyting among graduates of colleges, to collect statistics and further the cause by awakening interest among college students by endeavoring to post them on the work already done.

BOYS FIND ALMOST STARTS GOLD RUSH

Ore Running Thousands to Ton Discovered by Youngsters in Rubbish Heap

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Jan. 18.—The investigations of three small boys intent on discovering something of value in a pile of debris in the rear of the premises occupied by the Hotelling banking company of this city yesterday afternoon nearly caused a riot call for the police, sent the prices of produce and merchandising soaring for the time being and incidentally established a premium on the small boy population throughout this city.

Graham McPhail, the 10 year old son of a local liverman, in company with two other boys, brought to the father's premises yesterday specimens of gold quartz assaying thousands of dollars to the ton and representing some $20 in free gold in the half pound of quartz they had secured. The boys, on being questioned regarding their find, stated that the quartz had been secured by them at a distance not exceeding six miles from San Rafael.

The purchase of a portion of the free gold by a local jeweler at a good figure immediately roused old stories of forgotten mines here and McPhail's stables were all day the center of interest to men who had heard of the find. McPhail himself considered securing immediate options on the property where the gold was found, and heavily interested in the three small boys were crowded with parties seeking information concerning state mining laws.

The boom was assuming real and most interesting proportions when the management of the Hotelling banking company announced that an overzealous janitor, in his desire to make a thorough cleaning of the vault, had thrown out a quantity of gold quartz specimens brought from a mine in Merced county in which Richard Hotelling heavily interested in Hawaii and three small boys are each the better off by some $6 or $7 and San Rafael has regained its equilibrium.

FARMERS BEG HUNTERS TO DESTROY FOXES

Take Down Trespass Signs and Welcome the Sportsmen With Open Arms

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Instead of threatening to shoot or to prosecute members of the hunting clubs who, with horses and hounds, chase foxes from time to time on Long Island, farmers there have turned to welcoming the sportsmen with open arms. Trespass on their property is in fact invited by the Long Island agriculturists, who for months have suffered serious losses in poultry through frequent raids by the foxes, which appear to have increased amazingly in number recently. The farmers are now beseeching hunters to turn their hounds loose in hope of having some of the marauding animals rounded up.

Sutton Wins Third Game

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—George Sutton of Chicago won tonight's game, the third of a series of 10, at 18.2 ballkline billiards, from George E. Slosson of this city, by a score of 400 to 168. In the three games of 400 points which have been played Sutton has scored 935 points to Slosson's 968.

HOSPITAL GRAFT IS NOT CHECKED

Superintendent and Supervisors Are Accused of Sharing in Profits

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL

STOCKTON, Jan. 18.—A climax was reached today in connection with the charges of corruption and graft made against Dr. J. D. Dameron, superintendent of the San Joaquin county hospital, and members of the board of supervisors. Notwithstanding the fact that the grand jury and supervisors have concluded the alleged investigation into county affairs without obtaining any other result than that "things are all right," it is apparent that some action must be taken by the public to either remove the accused officials, prosecute them or provide a warrant for the arrest of Dr. Dameron, charging him with battery upon a woman patient at the hospital. The warrant was refused, whereupon Giovanni presented a number of affidavits setting forth numerous alleged gross irregularities in the conduct of the hospital.

He gave the names and residence of 24 different persons of means who were treated by Dameron at the hospital. All of them were financially able to pay the county for treatment and operations, but instead availed themselves of the $1 a day rate provided for poor persons and presented Dameron with sums ranging from $10 to $100, none of which, it is alleged, was turned into the county treasury.

One instance is cited in particular—that of H. C. Sherrill, San Francisco, admitted in March, 1906, and operated upon by Dameron. The Masonic relief committee paid the county $80 and Dameron $80, but Dameron presented the county with a bill for $150.

The supervisors are charged with conniving with Dameron and taking advantage of the low hospital rates. The supervisors are charged with conniving with Dameron and taking advantage of the low hospital rates.

DRUCE CASE AFTERMATH TO BE PERJURY TRIALS

"Spinster" Is Charged With Being Married as One Thread in Falsehood Tissue

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Druce case promises to bring an aftermath of sensational charges of perjury in the spring against several persons who were connected with the hearings. A witness in the case who calls herself Miss Robinson was brought into the police court today. The chief detective of Scotland Yard asserted that instead of being a spinster, the daughter of a Virginia planter, she was really the daughter of a London policeman. On the stand this woman testified that she had been brought from America by Charles Dickens to act as secretary to the duke of Portland and T. C. Druce. The inspector declared that Miss Robinson spent her earlier years here and that she married a butcher, with whom she went to New Zealand. The prosecutor said he expected to prove that Miss Robinson's entire story was a tissue of falsehoods. The prisoner was remanded.

PHYSICIAN REQUIRES POPE TO STAY IN ROOM

Doctor Declares Pontiff Is Not Seriously Ill, but Audiences Are Canceled

ROME, Jan. 18.—Pope Pius X was visited this morning by his private physician, Dr. Petrucci, who found him in better health, but the physician insisted that the pope continue to rest. Because of this audiences arranged for today were suspended and the pope only received the papal secretary, Cardinal Merry del Val, and Monsignor Bisletti, major domo of the Vatican. The reception took place in Pope Pius' bedroom. Professor Marchisafava, consulting physician to the pope, also visited the patient today. The professor declared that the pope's illness was not serious.
