

WIFE OF SUTTER'S SON PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Van Gulpen, Well Known as Singer in Early Days, Dies, Aged 72

Woman of Great Force of Character and Loved by All Who Knew Her

A prominent and well known singer of early days, whose first husband was the son of General Sutter, the owner of the mill where gold was first discovered in California, passed away last Monday of acute pneumonia at her home, 142 Fourth avenue, aged 72 years. Pauline Van Gulpen arrived in San Francisco in 1851 and shortly afterward married Sutter, who died two years after their marriage. Five years later Mrs. Sutter became Mrs. Van Gulpen and together with her husband, a professor of music, gave a series of notable concerts which were attended by all the music lovers of those days. Mrs. Van Gulpen leaves two sons, one by each marriage, both of whom are still living and unmarried. She was a woman of remarkable force of character and loved by all who knew her for her unvarying cheerfulness of disposition and the pluck and energy she displayed in all vicissitudes of life. The funeral will take place today at 1:30 o'clock from the house and the interment will be in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Rev. S. J. Lee of St. James' Episcopal church will conduct the burial services.

Mrs. Pauline Van Gulpin, former wife of son of General Sutter, who died, aged 72.

TRY CONDUCTOR ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Charles V. Brown, Accused of Slaying Passenger, Is Defended by Ashe

The trial of Charles V. Brown, a United Railroads conductor, on a murder charge was begun yesterday in Judge Carroll Cook's court. He is alleged to have shot and killed O. E. Obermeier, a passenger on a Polk and Larkin street car October 15. Brown is being defended by R. Porter Ashe, one of the United Railroads attorneys. In the prosecution Assistant District Attorney James M. Hainley had the assistance of Attorney Hugh McIsaac. "We do not ask for the death penalty," said McIsaac, "but we say this is a malignant crime, meriting a verdict of murder in the first degree with life imprisonment. We have evidence to show that when Brown went out in the morning he said, 'All I want is to see somebody start something.'" Evidence in support of McIsaac's statement was given by John Mongan and Charles J. Hanson. The latter testified that he saw Brown whip a revolver from his trousers pocket and fire at Obermeier, who, with another man, was attempting to quiet the conductor.

RENEW FIGHT ON PRISON PRODUCTS

Labor Council Will Join Vigorous National Crusade Against Convict Competition

Deep Interest Stirred by Forthcoming Report on Use of Injunctions

It is probable that the San Francisco labor council and state federation of labor soon will take up the subject of convict labor and resume their campaign on the ground that the sale of prison products interferes with the opportunity of the free wage earner to obtain a living.

During a discussion in the San Francisco labor council a short time ago on the proposition to recommend to the California representatives in congress that they support an act prohibiting the shipment of prison goods from one state to another, it was shown that the trades most affected by convict labor are the shoe, clothing, furniture, household goods, grain bagging, broom and stove trades.

It is said that these unions through their law and legislative committees will go before the next legislature and demand that convict competition with free labor be discontinued in the state prisons. The wage earners declare that as each has to pay a share toward the maintenance of those who commit wrongs against the commonwealth, it is not just that the criminals should be permitted to compete industrially with those who lead them.

The American federation of labor, so the local unions have been advised, intends to make a strong campaign against convict products in every state.

The promised report of the San Francisco labor council committee on injunctions and supreme court decisions has attracted a great deal of attention, and a number of persons not identified with the labor movement have inquired of Secretary Gallagher to ascertain if they would be permitted to attend the next meeting of the council to hear the report. One of those who inquired is a member of the judiciary. He wanted to know if he could be permitted to speak on the subject. He was told he would be welcome, and that if he asked for the floor the privilege undoubtedly would be granted.

A number of persons have asked for advance copy of the report of the committee, but this, in each instance, has been denied.

In connection with this report it is possible that the council will take action toward securing an inquiry into the constitution of the supreme court.

The cigar makers have received information from cigar makers' union No. 129 of Denver, Colorado, to draw more attention to union made cigars. The plan is to have the union join with the manufacturers' home industry league in distributing cards presenting interesting and instructive information to the consumers of home made cigars. The union asserts that the weekly consumption of home made cigars in Denver is 120,000 as against 400,000 not made there. It is estimated that $2,000,000 is sent out of the city yearly to pay for cigars, most of which, with the assistance of labor people, could be kept at home. If the plan is carried into effect and it is productive of good results to the local union will be asked to adopt the plan.

The subject of prohibition is one that is attracting the attention of many of the labor unions in view of the appeal of all over the United States by the united brewery workers' union of America, representing 45,000 workmen. This is to the effect that if prohibition gains ground this number of men will be thrown out of employment and that it will affect at least 125,000 who depend on the earnings of the workers. The matter is to be taken up by the unions, on the request that each place be put on record as opposed to prohibition or in favor of it, with no interference with personal liberty. As a result of the agitation it is probable that at the next session of the American federation of labor that body will be asked to take a decided stand on the question.

Electrical workers' union No. 537 will hold a special meeting Monday night to consider several propositions of great importance to the union. The bill given recently by this organization for the benefit of its fund for the relief of the sick and distressed netted $125.

The meeting of the waitresses' union Monday in Jefferson Square will be addressed by A. Lewis on sanitation and political economy. He was followed by Lillian Harris Coffin, who spoke on woman suffrage. The members are taking a deep interest in the work of the Equal Suffrage league. During the session the union initiated four candidates.

The laundry workers at their meeting Monday night had a large attendance, and after receiving several applications initiated 12 candidates. All the members of the union are employed. The book binders have been advised officially by the international secretary that there is now more than 1,000 members of the craft who have not been granted the eight hour day, and that these are still out on strike. All the others are now enjoying the benefits of the shorter work day.

Branch No. 6 of the amalgamated carpenters and joiners at its meeting last night elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Donald Morrison president, Sidney Wearie vice president, Arthur Manser check steward, W. Ogilvy and Alexander McCrea sick stewards, Thomas Hooper door keeper, George Jamison and Colin McInnes auditors. These officers will be installed at the next meeting.

Millmen's union No. 423 at a meeting held last night in Sheet Metal Workers' hall decided to hold a summoned meeting next Tuesday night to discuss several trade questions. The union initiated one candidate and admitted two members from other locals by card. The report of conditions of the craft were of a satisfactory character.

The following named have been appointed a committee to secure ground for a plant to be given on June 26 by the plumbers' union: Joseph Beliner, William Mooney, Joseph Gallagher, William Schmidt, John Jessup, H. O. Barnett and William O'Donnell. The committee will endeavor to secure Fairfax park for that date.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT Samuel Schneider was arrested in Oakland yesterday by Detectives Bailey and Lambert on a warrant from Police Judge Cabanis' court charging him with felony embezzlement. Schneider was employed by Kaufman, Davidson & Co., 137 Clay street, and is accused of embezzling $100 on March 14.

Competition to Win in The Call's $20,000 Contest Grows Keen

MANY START ACTIVE WORK IN DISTRICTS

Field Unlimited and an Even Chance Will Be Given Every Contestant

From the number of contestants that have already entered themselves or have been nominated in The Call's $20,000 prize contest, it is evident that the competition for the $4,500 automobile, as well as for the three $1,350 touring cars, will be keener than ever has obtained in any previous contest. Persons from all over the territory are hastening to enroll themselves. The indications now are that every one of the thirty-one subdivisions will have at least one representative in the field when the list is published Monday.

In all of the city districts even now earnest young men and women are industriously pledging their friends to save for them the daily coupons which will begin to be published Monday. From then on until the end of the contest a coupon good for a single vote will be published in every issue of The Call and those who secure the promise of their friends early in the contest will have an advantage over those who start out later in the race.

The first thing to be done by any one who wishes to win an automobile, of which there are four offered, one of the $1,350 touring cars, and one of the $4,500 automobile, is to get the nomination coupons which will be published up to and including Sunday's issue.

One of these nomination coupons having been filled out and mailed to the Contest Department of The Call the step is to secure the promise of all your friends to give their daily coupons. The nomination blanks count 10 votes each, but only one of them will be credited to any one contestant.

Many already are hard at work in their own districts, endeavoring to get all their friends to give their daily coupons, while the other counties are sparsely represented, sufficiently however to show that no district will be without some contestant when the voting is in full swing.

From inquiries by contestants already nominated and those who propose entering the race for The Call's $20,000 prize offer it is evident that a slight misconception has arisen over the division into districts. This plan of dividing the field into 31 sections was devised not to hinder the contestants, but to aid them. It does not limit the territory in which a contestant is to work, but merely to show down the competition in any particular district.

Those who are in district A, subdivision 3, for example, have perfect right to work in any other district they may desire. If you have a friend living five miles away in your own district don't wait until some one in that district has pledged his aid, but do it yourself.

BEST FIELD NEAR HOME One thing to be remembered when looking afar from your home territory is that what is done at home is less fatiguing and probably will accomplish greater results than spreading out too rapidly over a wide field. First get all your intimate friends in your home section pledged to aid and then, when you have exhausted the home field, broaden out. You will succeed that way.

While the daily nomination coupons will mount up quite rapidly there is another way to add to your score. When you find a friend who does not pay in his own district to The Call, have him send you a coupon to take the paper and pay ahead for as many months as he desires. This will mount up your totals in the voting amazingly, and 50, 100 or 1,000 votes will be yours at a stroke.

Some of the far ranging among the contestants already have sent to The Call receipt books and are starting on that plan so that by the time the contest is fairly started they will have a good total attached to their names.

Small success always brings success. If you have a list in your district people who never would have heard of you otherwise will be ready to aid you in this competition. In fact it might well happen that all your success in after life could be traced back to your contest. The scholarship that you win will be a stepping stone to higher planes far beyond your present ambition, while to win one of the automobiles will give you prestige not only among your friends, but among all those in your district.

If you contemplate entering do so at once. Below is printed the nomination blank. The one who nominates the winner of the $4,500 automobile will receive as a special prize the $150 diamond ring. If you do not care to wait to ask some one to fill out this blank for you do it yourself. Then you are in the race, and all that you need have is energy and ambition to win a prize.

MAIL BLANK TODAY If you do not know in what district you live send the nomination blank with your home address written plainly and when the list is printed Monday you will know your district and subdivision number. These districts, with headquarters in San Francisco, 10 in Alameda county and 16 in the other counties of the state, divide up the territory so that instead of having to work against every other contestant in the field you will have only a few at the start with whom you are directly in competition, but you can work in all districts if you so desire.

The division into grand prize districts makes it possible for a contestant in any part of the state to win an automobile. All that is necessary is to stand highest in the grand district. Another advantage of standing highest in the grand district is that the contestant with the greatest number of votes will have first choice of scholarships. As these range in value from $1,200 to $60 it will be seen that high standing means greater value in the prize you win.

Gossip of Railwaymen

"Ah!" remarked E. Shillingsburg, who represents the Southern Pacific at San Jose, "you have to go to San Jose to meet the man who knows what good living is. Of course, while Dan O'Donnell lived and Colonel Kowalsky favored California with his presence you had some actual gourmards. But whom have you now?"

"The only man now who can do the honors of California in this particular line is Paul Mason. Paul has erected a noble chateau in the mountains and his dining room is a dream. But it is as nothing when compared to the kitchen. There is nothing like it in America. He imported a spit from France which is one of the most ingenious contrivances I ever saw. If you want to cook a turkey all you have to do is to hook her on, wind up the clock and the bird is roasted to a turn. It is a minute too long in the spit you should hear the growls of the company."

"Paul is very particular as to whom he invites to eat. Unless a man can cook something he is not a welcome guest. He has to be an artist, even if it is only one dish."

"And what can you cook?" asked Charley Robinson. "Well, you see," remarked the modern Shillingsburg, "I am not much on the cooking line, but I tell you when it comes to eating I don't take second place to any one, and Paul Mason says there is no man in the state who is so discriminating a judge as myself of really delicately prepared dishes. He regrets only that my appetite is so large when one of his creations appears on the table."

The Southern Pacific passenger department reports large immigration into the Klamath country, induced undoubtedly by the fact that the government is to carry on considerable work there this summer and place several thousand acres of this land under irrigation.

Keep Cascarets in your pocket. Take one as soon as you need it. It is old fashioned and wrong to take harsh doses of physic.

We all live unnaturally. Our food is too fine, too rich and too plentiful. We eat too little fruit, too few green vegetables. We don't exercise enough. The result is, our bowels get clogged; for Nature intended us to live in a different way.

What shall we do? Shall we walk ten miles a day? Shall we diet ourselves? Shall we seek for more laxative, and less costive effect in our food? Or shall we take Cascarets? One way will serve just as well as the other.

Cascarets are vegetable laxatives. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit, of coarse food or of exercise. They are gentle. They persuade the bowels—never drive them or irritate them. They are candy tablets, and the dose is one at a time—just as soon as you know that you need it. It is wrong to take harsh physic and to wait till you need a big dose. It is better to keep at your best, every hour of every day. And one Cascaret at a time is sufficient. That means to keep clean inside.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and Ten Cents per Box
