The Jacket of the Battleship Georgia Sends Two Votes to Aid a Fair Contestant

LONELY SAILOR

Far From Civilization With the Fleet, He Takes Part in Call's Contest

The fame of the Call's $20,000 prize contest has spread to Magdalena bay, where the battleship fleet is waiting the word to sail northward to San Francisco. In yesterday's mail of the contest department came a letter inclosing two voting coupons, which read as follows:

From a Blue Jacket on the U. S. S. Georgia. I don't know the young lady, but here is luck anyway. Respectfully, R. V. H., U. S. S. Georgia.

To the back of the letter were pinned the two coupons. They will be sent to the contestant whose name will not be revealed unless she chooses to tell her friends that way down on the coast of the peninsula, with never a woman within a hundred miles, a sailor picked her to win, probably because he liked her name.

MANY contestants are realizing the advantage of a goodly number of votes held in reserve. Some who stand at the top of the sub-district lists say that they would rather stand second or third, as their friends seem willing to help them rise, but withdraw that support when they reach the top.

Votes given for subscriptions can be polled any time. As long as you have a place in the honor roll your friends know that you are working. Don't strive to stand too high or you may awaken the envy of others. Be content with knowing that you can reach the top when you choose to poll your votes. You will need all you can get, so keep your friends steadily at it.

To Make this Contest hum right from the start we are going to give to the person having the greatest number of votes at the end of the first thirty days of the Contest a Deed and Clear Title to a Fine 40-Acre Farm, valued at $40,000 an acre.

As an additional incentive for contestants to get started early we will give to the persons having the second greatest number of votes at the end of the first 30 days a Two Weeks' Trip for Two People at Hotel Del Monte—this trip will include transportation, hotel bill, side trips, automobile rides, use of baths and golf links—and the winner of this splendid prize can go to this world famous resort with a relative or friend and live like a prince for two weeks without it costing a penny.

TO THOSE PERSONS WHO DID NOT RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION YESTERDAY, will state our advertising man told us that there would not be any great interest taken in the contest for a couple of weeks, and we were not prepared for the deluge of votes and inquiries that have poured in on us right from the start. We have now, however, secured more room and additional help, and all inquiries will now be assured immediate attention.

IMPORTANT: We would again impress upon contestants the importance of getting started early. Don't wait until the tail end of the contest and then expect to win the $3,000.00 Weber Art Grand, and don't forget the Two Special Prizes—the Big Farm and the Hotel Del Monte Outing.
