TRUSTEES SEEK TO SUCCEED FERRIER

BERKELEY, June 5.—A canvass of votes of the board of town trustees was made today by those interested in the fight for the election of a mayor of Berkeley to succeed Francis Ferrier. The opposition was dismayed when it found that only three of the necessary four votes could be mustered by representatives of the trustee contingent. Trustee Nels Olsen was leading the fight against Ferrier because the latter voted for Thomas Dowd, Schmidt's political opponent in the seventh ward, for library trustee. The political wise points to the election of the first ward as said to be the trio against the re-election of Ferrier and in favor of Trustee Nels Olsen, Schmidt's fellow representative from West Berkeley. At first Connor was believed to be on the side of Ferrier, but his aspiration to be the first mayor of Berkeley under the new town charter is said to have influenced him in casting his lot with the West Berkeley contingent.

Trustee Olsen is now said to be favored by Schmidt as candidate for the mayoralty, but Ferrier's friends have rallied to his support and the turn of the political wheel points to the election of Ferrier as president of the board of town trustees and ex officio mayor. Trustee Walter Gompertz, whom Schmidt would have made mayor, but the Schmidt camp to rout today by expounding Ferrier's cause. Trustees Schad and Favor are also said to be lined up with the Ferrier party, although Favor has not made up his mind which candidate he will support. Those interested in the fight will probably force issues and the new mayor of Berkeley will be elected at the next meeting of the board.

BOY'S LIFE IS NEARLY CRUSHED OUT BY AUTO

Under the wheels of a heavy touring car the life of Robert Warren, a 7 year old schoolboy, was all but crushed out yesterday when the auto ran over him at Clay and Polk streets and he stepped from behind a streetcar. The accident happened a few minutes after 12 o'clock, when the car was one of a hundred or more pupils just dismissed from the morning session of Redding school. His schoolmates witnessed the accident. Although the auto was traveling but slowly its driver, Ed Fowler of 985 Haight street, did not see the child and the machine struck him and two wheels of the vehicle passed over the little body. At the emergency hospital, Fowler immediately carried the lad, internal injuries were discovered. The boy was removed to his home, 1409 Jones street, and later taken to a private hospital, where his condition was pronounced serious.

A vicious kick from the animal struck the bicycle, but McGeown's only injuries were sustained when the wheels of the wagon passed over him. He was removed to his home in B street, Columbia square.

DARGIE'S DEFENSE HELD BODY BLOW

Judge Melvin Decides Levy's Letter Was Not Retraction of Libel

OAKLAND, June 5.—Another wave of legal verbiage behind which William E. Dargie of the Tribune publishing company sought to hide himself from the suit for $100,000 damages for alleged libel, instituted at 1 o'clock, First national bank of San Francisco, was beaten down today when Superior Judge Melvin gave two important rulings on the pleadings. Dargie's special defense, in which he pointed to J. Levy, a director of Herman Hayward, a director of the bank, calling attention to the inaccuracies in the article complained of, was completely smashed, for Judge Melvin finally decided that the publication of the article could not be regarded as a retraction, as he had been urged by the defense. A general demurrer to the answer on the ground that it was indefinite was sustained, the jurist thereby saving himself the labor of passing on a motion to strike out portions of the answer in numerous instances. The answer may be amended, and if the parts complained of are included, Judge Melvin announced that he would then consider the motion in detail.

LETTER NOT A RETRACTION

Levy's letter followed the publication of an article in the Tribune issue of August 27, purporting to show that the First national bank, of which Rudolph Spreckels is president, was in a bad condition due to carrying Spring Valley water company's securities and that the personal notes of millionaires had to be given to bolster these securities sufficiently to pass the federal bank examiners. The director wrote that the bank held none of these securities, they being carried by another corporation, and that the business of the bank had greatly increased since Mr. Spreckels' election as president. In considering the question whether the publication of the letter was a retraction Judge Melvin said:

Let us first consider the separate and special defenses and their relation to it. The motion to strike out has been withdrawn except as to that portion of the answer containing the letter of J. Levy, which, according to the allegations of the answer, was given as a retraction of the article in question. Defendants contend that this letter is pertinent, both as a retraction and in accordance with the rules governing the circumstances under which the publication was made.

Certainly the letter of Mr. Levy does not constitute a retraction on the part of the defendant, and I fail to see how it can be so construed as to constitute a retraction as to that portion of the answer containing the letter of Mr. Levy is therefore granted.

ANSWER IS INDEFINITE

Consideration of the demurrer was then followed by the further announcement that the answer was indefinite, but might be amended in 15 days. The bank was represented in the proceedings of today by Attorney Laurence Kennedy of the office of Charles S. Wheeler, who with Reuben Lloyd has charge of the suit against Dargie. Attorney E. E. Trefethen, law partner of Attorney M. C. Chapman, counsel for Abe Ruef in his recent trial and Dargie's legal mainstay, appeared for the defendant. George Reed, republican boss of Alameda county, is also associated with Chapman for the defense.

SEIZES HOUSE AND SHOTS HIMSELF

Albert Andrews Fires Five Shots at Father in Law Before Attempting Suicide

OAKLAND, June 5.—After firing five bullets at his father in law and himself twice in return, Albert Andrews, a San Leandro carpenter, forced his way into the Foster house on a ranch in Cult canyon, nine miles from Hayward, this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Andrews went to the members of the household into rooms on the upper floor of the building and held the fort on the lower floor until half past 5 this evening.

When Constable James Ramage of Hayward arrived to arrest Andrews the desperate man shot himself with a revolver through the left breast, inflicting a wound that may prove fatal. Andrews was taken to the receiving hospital, as he had been urged by the defense.

Released from the county jail, where he was sent for six months for wife beating, he was out on bail pending an appeal of his case. Tuesday Andrews returned to the Foster ranch to see his wife, and while there compelled his father in law at the point of a pistol to drive him and Mrs. Andrews to San Leandro.

When Mrs. Andrews returned to her father's ranch Wednesday Foster swore to a complaint charging his son in law with an assault with a deadly weapon. The Fosters asked for protection and Deputy Constable Ed Ramage was sent to the ranch to keep a lookout for Andrews.

Ramage went to Hayward this afternoon. Andrews then emerged from a barn and followed his aged father in law, whom he threatened to kill. Foster drove toward his house and Andrews fired five shots at him. Foster secured a shotgun and fired twice at Andrews, but missed. Andrews took possession of the lower floor and wrote two rambling letters to his father in law.

One letter ended with a bombastic inscription: "Albert Andrews, born February 25, 1878; died June 5, 1908." Constable Ramage tried to persuade Andrews to submit to arrest, but not to commit suicide, but Andrews paid no heed to the advice and threatened to shoot the constable if the latter endeavored to force an entrance to the room where he was.

BABY'S BODY IS FOUND FLOATING IN THE BAY

SAN MATEO, June 5.—Wrapped up in a portion of a skirt and a newspaper the dead body of a baby boy was found floating in the water off Coyote point yesterday, a severed artery indicating that he had been killed before being thrown into the bay. The discovery was made by James Curran while walking along the beach accompanied by his wife and a friend. The body was then floating within a few feet of shore and wading in Curran picked it out of the water. In a few minutes the coroner's men mentioned his find to some boys, who went down today and carried it to town.

Except for the skirt, which is of fine material and well made, there was no clue to the child's identity. Examination showed that the child had been born last night, when the main arteries had been severed. The child appeared to be about three days old and was perfectly developed. The coroner will hold an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning. The general theory is that the baby was thrown into the bay by some one in San Francisco and was washed ashore by the tide.

DRIVEN TO DEATH, DENTIST DECLARES

Dr. Craig Said to Have Asserted That State Board Was Cause of Troubles

OAKLAND, June 5.—Fines which he was unable to pay and threats to revoke his license to practice dentistry are believed by the friends of Dr. W. H. Craig, a prominent Mason, to have been responsible for his suicide in the Masonic temple last night. To two of his acquaintances in dentistry, Dr. R. Harms of the Macdonough building, and Dr. G. L. Schmidt, the dead man had spoken of the action taken against him by the state board of dental examiners and complained that he was being hounded to death.

"I saw Dr. Craig four days ago," said Dr. Schmidt. "He was despondent, and he said the cause of his troubles was the state board of dental examiners who had fined him and threatened to revoke his license."

Dr. Harms stated that Dr. Craig had come to him a few days ago, and with tears in his eyes, had asked for cyanide of potassium.

"We laughed the matter off, but I have no doubt that he meant to commit suicide at that time," said Dr. Harms. "The state board had repeatedly demanded of him $2 for the yearly tax, which is used to prosecute other dentists who do not have licenses, and when Dr. Craig could not afford this, he was fined $10."

District Attorney Brown will take up the action of the state board in this county in connection with the prosecution of Dr. James Morton of Berkeley, who has been several times arrested, and twice tried before a jury in the justice's court, over which Justice of the Peace Quinn presides. On each trial the jury disagreed and the third is now being impaneled.

The Masons of this city, among whom Dr. Craig was prominent, will attend his funeral tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock from the Masonic temple, where he died. The body will be cremated at Mountain View cemetery.
