

EDDIE WOLFE

Objects to Renomination of the Senator, but Will Yield to Herrin

Candidates Who Will Be Named for Legislature in San Francisco Districts

"Eddie Wolfe will not be renominated for state senator if I can prevent it. Wolfe does not want to be Frank Drury, the attorney, a clean cut young fellow. I control at least 20 and probably 21 votes in the thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth districts, more than enough to nominate the state senator if I wish. If Herrin insists on Wolfe, Wolfe will get the renomination because I will not fight Herrin. But I will not deal with Johnny Lynch, Jere Burke or any other lieutenant in this matter. I shall go to Herrin direct and settle it."

"That is the way Tim Sullivan, chairman of the campaign committee of the Herrin wing of the county committee, said in a statement issued in the thirty-seventh district, sounds the first note of discord in the "organization" camp.

Sullivan claims the lion's share of the "organization" victory in the thirty-seventh district. He will not concede to Wolfe more than a tithe of the merit for the 237 majority which was rolled up against the Lincoln-Roosevelt league. He claims that his workers, paid with money which he collected, did the most effective electioneering Tuesday. So he does not think that Wolfe should gather the fruits of a victory which he did not bring about.

GRIEVANCE AGAINST WOLFE Sullivan has another grievance against Wolfe and the Wolfe workers. This morning he was asked to contribute throughout the thirty-seventh district which had the names of 10 Lincoln-Roosevelt leaguers on it in place of 10 Sullivan men. Three hundred and fifty names were printed, and their distribution nearly precipitated a personal encounter between Sullivan and several of the Wolfe men.

Sullivan blames W. S. Williams and C. J. W. Brown, the Wolfe workers, for this attempt to "double cross" him at the last minute by defeating 10 of his men. The "basters" were not used to any extent, but if they had been voted, Sullivan would have controlled eight delegates in the thirty-seventh district instead of 18. For this attempt Sullivan bears Wolfe an additional grudge.

On the "organization" ticket in the thirty-eighth Sullivan claims to control two or possibly three men. These were named when the ticket was made up by Charles H. Forbes, secretary of the county committee, one of Sullivan's closest political allies.

As it requires only 20 votes to nominate a senator for the thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth, it would appear that Sullivan controls the nomination. At the same time he admits that circumstances may make it impossible for him to press his advantage and place in office Frank Drury, his opponent.

HERRIN MAY GIVE IT TO WOLFE Wolfe made himself the issue in the fight against the league in two districts and by analysis of the election returns he may be able to convince Herrin and Lynch that his personal following in the thirty-seventh district that event Herrin would naturally insist that Wolfe be given the nomination.

Sullivan has considered this contingency and declares that if Herrin gives Wolfe the nomination, Sullivan will not contest it. Sullivan does not consider that he has reached the stage where he can bid defiance to the big boss. At the same time he does not explain just what Herrin has in store for a district leader the nomination of a state senator.

If Wolfe receives the nomination, and the odds are strongly in his favor, despite Sullivan's note of defiance, Sullivan will content himself with naming the assemblyman for the thirty-seventh. He has selected John J. McManus as his candidate.

The organization slate for legislators is pretty nearly completed. Finn will get the senatorial nomination in the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth districts. Johnny Nelson, in recognition of his services to the organization, will be the nominee in the forty-first and forty-fifth districts. A deadlock in the senatorial district made up of the thirtieth and forty-second. Jack Barr, a candidate for the upper chamber of legislation, won out in the forty-third, but the league carried the forty-second. Both districts have three delegates. The league won the thirty-second and thirty-fifth, which means that Dick Welch will go back to the scene of his defeat.

TIMBER FOR ASSEMBLY Walter McCauley is slated for the assembly nomination in the twenty-eighth. John A. Cullen will probably be again on the ticket in the twenty-ninth. Jack Barr's friend, Tom Robinson, who works on the water front, will be nominated in the thirtieth. Jerry Lucey will probably be nominated in the thirty-first. Paul Pratesse will be renominated in the thirty-third. Jim Bonney, the saloonman, will be nominated in the thirty-fourth district. The thirty-fifth, Tim Sullivan will name McManus in the thirty-seventh. The organization candidate in the thirty-eighth is Sammy Beckett, but Forbes and his friends would like to nominate William A. Pugh, a plumber. Milton Schmidt will be the nominee in the fortieth, despite the roars of Mannie Cohn, Henry Thompson and Fred Winters, all of whom want the nomination. Nat Coughlin will be on the ticket again in the forty-first and Dominic Behan in the forty-third. Mannie Strauss probably will be nominated in the forty-fourth, and Louis Strohl in the forty-fifth.

START SCHURMAN BOOM New Yorkers Propose Cornell President for Governor

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Before the meeting of the republican state committee, which was called to order by State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff in the republican club today, a boom was started for Jacob G. Schurman, president of Cornell university, for governor. Prominent republicans who had informal conferences in the state headquarters before they went over to the club said that Woodruff, while in camp, received many letters from state recommending the university president. It now appears to be the plan of the state committee to leave the question of Hughes' candidacy open until the convention is called to order in Saratoga on Monday, September 14.

Late Returns Show Herrin Delegates Will Control County Convention

Lincoln-Roosevelt Minority Will Force Ring to Pick Decent Class of Men

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Late returns from yesterday's primaries indicate that the Herrin faction will control the county convention, although the Lincoln-Roosevelt league will have a minority sufficiently imposing to force the convention to nominate a better class of men than past conventions have been wont to do. The league is assured of 175 delegates from the city and 325 from the county, a total of 400 in the convention. The machine claims 320 in the city and 170 from the county. It is reasonable to believe that many delegates who have been elected on the machine ticket will not submit to a machine program in the election.

In the sixty-seventh assembly district H. G. Cattell of the league has been nominated. F. C. Covas (league) has won in the sixty-eighth, and it is believed J. G. Strie (league) has won in the sixty-ninth over Harry Bardoular (machine).

The league's league candidate, is safe in the thirty-fifth senatorial district. The league has nominated Priddy for supervisor in the fifth supervisory district. Other assembly nominations are: Seventh district, Walter Leeds, machine; seventy-first district, P. A. Stanton, machine; seventy-second, J. N. Reich, machine; seventy-third, J. P. Transue, machine; seventy-fourth, W. J. Hanlon, machine; seventy-fifth, Percy V. Hammon, machine.

In the thirty-seventh senatorial district H. H. Smith, machine, defeated Marshal Stimson. The fight was the hardest the Southern Pacific machine has ever had in Los Angeles county. So close was the contest that many of the precincts returned shows in the city and county vote cast in both city and county as shown by the returns so far received is about 28,000, of which about 15,500 were for the machine.

An idea of the way in which the machine forces conducted the primaries in several precincts may be gained from the fact that the supervisors today sent out summons to about 75 judges and clerks to appear tomorrow and explain irregularities of various kinds. Several tally sheets are missing, others were sent in unsealed and still others were not signed.

It is doubtful if the count will be completed by the time the congressional convention meets at Long Beach Saturday. Never was the need of a direct primary more strongly felt than in the elections of yesterday. Voters who sought to cast their ballots for the Lincoln-Roosevelt league or the democratic league, as the case might be, were given defective tickets or slips bearing the name of the party whom they did not wish to vote. Many in disgust left the polling places and declared they would not vote.

Lisser, chairman of the league, declared tonight that machine politicians had never resorted to baser methods than in yesterday's primaries, and his expression is substantiated by numerous reports of stultidgery that are coming in tonight.

The anti-railroad faction of the democratic party probably has four assembly districts safe and is likely to control the county convention. Frank Golgs, who was read out of the party at Sacramento, was beaten for delegate. However, it is probable the machine democratic vote did not appear as such, many having registered as republicans to help defeat the reform forces.

Herrin Machine Secures Only 95 Votes, Against 214

PALO ALTO, Aug. 12.—Lincoln-Roosevelt league yesterday won 214 votes, against 95 for the Herrin machine. The result of the primary election in Palo Alto, an example to the city at large, is a view that the citizens of a clean town take of their civic rights and duties.

The machine workers were busy signing the names of the voters to the primary election in Palo Alto, and the voters were in sympathy with the league more than three to one. Venus Finishes First in Yacht Race

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 12.—Venus, first owner K. R. Bradley; Mischief II, second, owner Warren D. Wood; Wasp, third, owner A. M. Squire; Minerva, fourth, owner Commodore R. P. Spalding; Mischief II, fifth, owner Walter Folsom; Arrow, last, owner Francis H. ... This is the way the opening race of the second annual regatta of the South Coast yacht club finished this afternoon after a pretty contest. The course was a triangular one, the yachts were engaged in the history of the organization. Three classes participated: Mischief I and II, sloops, class N; Minerva and Arrow, yawls, class P; Wasp and Venus, class Q.

The course was triangular, two and one-half miles over. The start was at 2 o'clock, the corrected time at the finish being: Venus 2:08:55, Mischief I 2:13:49, Wasp 2:18:56, Minerva 2:16:15, Arrow 2:20:00, Mischief II 2:24:00. Venus, a fairly strong vessel, went breeze and comparatively smooth water and clear skies, formed ideal weather and water conditions.

The start was made in a bunch. Four local catboats, in class S, started at the same time, once over the course, the Volga winning. The yachts were strung out and the first round and a half was completed. Venus, Mischief I and Arrow, the three yachts, were the first mark was reached and maintained the lead. The Venus led the Wasp a wary chase to the second mark and her rival hopelessly, the Wasp dropping behind the yawls, which for nearly the entire course brought up the rear.

REAL FIGHT ON LINER American Knocks Out Englishman During Ocean Voyage

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL PLYMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 12.—Passengers on board the White Star liner Teutonic, which arrived here today from New York, had the unique privilege of witnessing a real prize fight. The principal contestants were an American and an Englishman, Fred Nolan of Washington and Henry Duval of London, and the excited spectators were practically everybody on board ship. The cause of the contest was that subject of so much strong talk and heated discussion, whether it finally became a ring was formed on the after deck. A San Franciscan acted as referee. Both men fought like gladiators. The fourth round Duval getting rapidly weak, Nolan came lightly to the scratch in the fifth, rushed at Duval and, with a trip hand, laid him out. The Englishman went to sleep.
