California Promotion Committee
(ORGANIZED 1902)
"PROMOTION"—The act of promoting, advancement; encouragement.—Century Dictionary.
The California Promotion Committee has for its object the PROMOTING of California as a whole. It has nothing to sell. Its energies are devoted to fostering all things that have the ADVANCEMENT of California as their object. It gives reliable information on every subject connected with the industries of California. It gives ENCOURAGEMENT to the establishment of new industries and invites desirable immigration. It is not an Employment Agency, although it gives information regarding labor conditions. It presents the opportunities and needs in all fields of business and professional activity. This committee is supported by popular subscription and makes no charge for any service rendered. Affiliated with the committee are 100 commercial organizations of the state with a membership over 50,000. Meetings are held semi-annually in different parts of California, where matters of state interest are discussed. Headquarters of the committee are maintained in San Francisco in California building, Union square. CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

WELCOME OF FISTS AWAILS BOSS McNAB
Dick Dinnigan Is Indignant Because "Headquarters" Refuses to Keep Pledge
Promise of Congressional Nomination in Fifth Is Alleged as Grievance

When Gavin McNab and Tom Hickey return from their postprimary sojourn in the woods they are likely to find one Dick Dinnigan waiting to welcome them with open arms and closed fists. Dinnigan is mad clear through and doesn't care whether McNab or Hickey know it or not. In fact he may take particular pains to tell them all about it. Postprimary indignation pretty nearly always springs from anteprietary pledges. That is the Dinnigan case. Dinnigan lives in the thirty-fourth district, but he conducts a wholesale liquor store at the corner of Waller and Portola streets in the thirty-seventh.

The thirty-seventh district was captured by the Bell rebels in the May recent campaign. Men who claim to know whereof they speak say that all the work of Tommy Walsh, Harry Flannery and Tim Riordan, combined with the defection from the Bell forces of Kelly, went to the credit of Dinnigan to win the thirty-seventh for McNab if Dick Dinnigan had not helped.

DECLARE McNAB PLEDGED
That McNab thought so, too, Dinnigan and all his friends believe; for did not the boss give Dinnigan a pledge of the congressional nomination in the fifth, conditional on his helping the organization to win? Of course, these friends explain, it was not an iron-bound, reinforced concrete pledge, but it was a sort of a kind of a pledge just the same.

Dinnigan took that pledge seriously enough. It inspired him to do all sorts of political stunts for the organization, to put in overtime that brought results. When the thirty-fourth and the thirty-seventh were won, Dinnigan appeared as headquarters proudly displaying the endorsement of the thirty-seventh and thirty-fourth districts for his congressional candidacy.

But headquarters was decidedly cold and refused to warm up to Dinnigan. Headquarters had not a spark of enthusiasm for anybody in that fifth congressional fight except George Tracy, who is expected to swing union labor in behind the democratic ticket.

MAKES DINNIGAN MAD
That is why Dinnigan is mad. That is why he will have things to say to Gavin McNab and Tom Hickey when they return from the north. Meanwhile the inevitable compromise is being tendered. Will Mr. Dinnigan forego that congressional nomination in favor of a chair seat in the state college? Will he resign the chance of beating "Red" Hayes for the attenuated but glorious chance of casting California's vote for W. J. Bryan?

So far Dinnigan is too ruffed to accept the compromise. He may get around to it. Then again he may embarrass McNab and Hickey by throwing his 13 delegates to Alex Robertson, the bookman. That would nominate Robertson and George Tracy out in the cold. Holding the balance of power, Dinnigan is in a position to talk pretty frankly to McNab and Hickey. There are a lot of politicians waiting to hear what he will say.

Would he denounce electors as very slow about announcing themselves. Charles Edelman, who will not enjoy heaven unless Bryan is there, would like to represent the fourth district. Nick Johnson, San Francisco, like to represent the fifth. So would Hugo Hornlein of this city, but he was with Bell in the primaries and the organization will not give anything to the rebels.

The only man mentioned for chairman of the state convention is Thomas O. Toland of Ventura. He is Bell's candidate and would have presided at the Fresno convention if the Napa leader had not previously pledged the honor to Senator Sanford.

REFUSE TO BACK SWEENEY
Delegates of Democratic Club Also Turn Down Maguire

The delegates of the San Francisco democratic club refused to endorse the candidacy of either John W. Sweeney or James G. Maguire for congressman from the fifth district at their meeting held last night in the city hall building in Fillmore street. John Allen, one of the delegates to the local convention, attempted to force an endorsement of Sweeney.

Allen declared that Sweeney was the only candidate that had any chance of defeating Hayes. He said that the labor forces would all turn out and cast their vote for Sweeney.

Harry P. Sullivan, who acted as temporary secretary of the evening, disapproved of the endorsement of any candidate. He advised that the proposed endorsement of Sweeney be referred to the delegates to the state convention exclusively. Allen and Hugh L. Delaney fought the motion. They wanted Sweeney endorsed.

The conferees became excited and personal encounters were inevitable when Harry Bocchio, secretary of the club, moved to adjourn. Delaney was on his feet in an instant. He declared that Bocchio was attempting to gag the delegates. "That's the very thing that has kept the democratic party in the background all these years," he said. "You wise politicians never will get next. If this motion to adjourn prevails the delegates will be cast as well as to Stockton and vote the McNab program." Quiet was restored by C. W. Eastin, president of the club, and argument on the question of endorsement of candidates was resumed.

Many of the delegates were in favor of nominating Judge Maguire in the fifth. The delegates conceded that he had no chance of being nominated in the fourth district, but were of the opinion that he could carry the fifth against Hayes.

C. W. Eastin was elected chairman of the anti-McNab delegates to the state convention and Harry F. Sullivan secretary. Hugh L. Delaney was made chairman of the question of plausibility of the local insurgents.

NELSON BIDS FOR SENATE
Points to Work in Cow Hollow as Proof of Strength

Johnnie Nelson, otherwise known as "Budny," is once more a lively bidder for the senatorial nomination in the twenty-fifth district. For a time it was thought that the nomination should go to the forty-first district, which outvotes the forty-first, Nelson's bailiwick, and Lester G. Burnett, elected as part of the Herrin program.

But Nelson considers that he has superior claims to the nomination. He points to his success in "Cow Hollow," the lower end of the forty-first, as proof of his strength, and contends that the committee are plausibly that without his services the district would have been lost to the organization.

There was some talk of providing Nelson with a job on the water front, thus leaving the senatorial nomination

Widow and Children of Late Spring Valley Company's President May Clash
Trust for Benefit of Sons and Daughter

Indications of possible conflict between the widow and children of the late Charles Webb Howard, former president of the Spring Valley water company, over his estate were revealed yesterday in the hearing of Mrs. Emma Howard's petition for letters of administration. She was granted the letters without contest, Howard having died intestate, but the curious fact transpired that there is an estate of only $40 for her to administer upon, notwithstanding that Howard was known to own stocks and real estate worth more than $500,000. This is explained on the ground that Howard, who was estranged from his wife for more than 15 years, organized a corporation known as the Howard investment company and two or three years before his death transferred all his possessions to it. The stock in this corporation was placed in trust with the Central trust company for the four children of Howard, Mrs. Howard for some other relatives, but Mrs. Howard was given no interest in the investment company.

Some years ago there was a property adjustment between Howard and his wife, in which he settled upon her a life interest in Point Reyes dairy lands said to be worth $500,000, and from which she has drawn an income of $750 a month. She still has this income. Upon the hearing her application for letters of administration yesterday, her attorney, J. C. McKinstry, wished to pursue an investigation into Howard's transfer of his possessions to the investment company, but Judge Hunt prohibited him from doing so. J. M. Duke of the Spring Valley water company, who was Howard's agent in financial matters, and who is secretary of the Howard investment company, was subpoenaed by McKinstry and questioned concerning the transfer, but declined to answer until he could consult his attorney.

McKinstry stated after the proceedings that he had not determined whether or not proceedings would be taken to compel the Howard company to deliver the $500,000 worth of property into the possession of Mrs. Howard to be administered upon. He said that all his information was of a hearsay character.

"I have no reason to anticipate that there will be any contest over the estate of my late husband," said Mrs. Howard when questioned last night. "There is no reason why there should be. I myself have no information about the Howard investment company. I don't know what properties it has nor what the value of the properties are. But I have now got my letters of administration, which will enable me to find out about the company. I will now proceed to get this information."

The four children of Howard, for whose benefit the greater part of the stock in the Howard company is in trust, are Shafter Howard of New York; Max Howard of San Rafael; Fredrick P. Howard of San Rafael, and Harold Howard, Newburgh, N. Y., all of whom are more than 21 years old.

APPLY FOR AWING LICENSES
Action which is being taken by the police department in forcing hotel and restaurant proprietors to remove silk walk supports of awnings has started a parade among the theater, hotel and restaurant men to the board of public works, which is now holding a public hearing on the proposed ordinance. The applications were referred to the inspector, who will report before the board on Friday morning. No permits will be issued for awnings which are supported by iron pipes at the end of the curb.

A WONDERFUL PLANT WITH A WONDERFUL PRODUCT
The John Wieland Brewery, right in San Francisco, is the oldest and largest on the Pacific Coast—equipped with every appliance known to modern scientific brewing.
The care exercised in brewing their Extra Pale and Brown Beer—made from hardy golden barley and selected hops, combined with rare skill, produces the best beer possible.
The bottling is done in the brewery's own bottling house—with the most modern machinery and methods—resulting in a finished product unexcelled by any beer anywhere.
Each month a handsome safe containing one hundred dollars will be given away by the brewery.
You get a key with every box of one dozen quarts or two dozen pints of Wieland's Beer purchased in San Francisco, Oakland or Alameda, and if any one of the keys you receive will unlock the drawer within the safe containing the money it is yours, the one hundred dollars, and safe, too.
One safe is on exhibition at Brown Bros. & Co., Market street, next to Chronicle, and one at the store of the Hub Clothing Company, Eleventh and Broadway, Oakland.
Wieland's Beer costs you no more than ordinary beer.

LOS ANGELES REPUBLICANS NAMED
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—The republican county convention adjourned last night after completing the county ticket as follows:
Supervisors—Second district, H. D. McKee; Los Angeles; fourth district, C. J. Nellis, Sawtelle; fifth district, R. W. Pridham, South Pasadena.
Superior judges, Curtis D. Wilbur, Bank R. Willis, Charles Monroe and N. P. Conroy.
Of the judges all except Willis are incumbents.
Tonight's session was devoted to a spirited contest, in which Judge Conroy was chosen over Judge William H. Jamison, recently appointed by Governor Gillett to fill an unexpired term.
R. W. Pridham, one of the nominees for supervisor, was a candidate of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league.

SAN DIEGO DEMOCRATS NOMINATE
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 19.—At the democratic county convention which was held here last night, E. E. Capps was chosen chairman. It was decided to make only one nomination for superior judge, thus practically leaving the field clear for W. E. Lewis, present incumbent, who is one of the two republican candidates. There were two candidates, W. E. Lewis and Albert Schoonover. The ballot resulted: Andrews, 93, Schoonover 81. A. E. Dodson was nominated for the assembly from the seventh-ninth district. For supervisors the following were nominated: J. P. Burt, S. Brown, Arthur Jones, Cyrus Purio.

GLIDDEN TROPHY A HARD CONTEST
Donor Explains Why the Premier Automobile Prize Was Offered

By R. R. l'Hommeidieu
The usefulness of the trophy offered by Charles J. Glidden, the Boston enthusiast, who for several years has been globe trotting in his automobile, has been questioned since the last contest. It undoubtedly has resolved itself into an event in which only experts can make a showing. These experts and the manufacturers are tiring of the strain, although it is one of the greatest tests ever devised for a motor car. However, the amount of advertising which the cars in the contest get has kept them in the game. Glidden foresaw the value of the contest and wrote:
"My tour of the world, which now totals 46,528 miles in 39 countries, prompted me to offer the trophy to encourage motoring and to call the attention of the public to this tour from Boston, in which I took part, driving my own car and receiving a perfect certificate. The offer of a trophy was accepted and the first competition was in 1905. The interest increased yearly, and now it is one of the season's greatest events. Changes in the original deed of gift have been made to suit conditions and to enable the placing before the public the motor car as it is today, showing its usefulness and utility. Millions read about or witness the annual tour of the association. On the summit of Mount Washington in 1903 I first intimated to the officials of the American automobile association that I would donate a trophy for touring, and in St. Louis in 1904. After finishing the original tour I found that the results proved a lot of things, and so decided that I would do all possible to make the event an annual affair. I believe the tour of 1909 will be west of Chicago to Denver, and that in 1910 the trip will be made through England, with a possible tour of Europe in 1911. The European trips will open the European markets to American cars and will do lots of good. The western trip next year goes through a territory which will provide a great opportunity for development. The European trips to follow will give us an opportunity to show Europe what the American car really is, and although we have before us some very interesting trips. The tour of this year provided opportunities for American cars and these opportunities were accepted, but the foreigners declined."

YOUTH MAKES A RECORD
Harry Hoffman, the 17 year old son of Hugo Hoffman of Los Angeles, drove his father's home-made Pierce Arrow car from Los Angeles to Yosemite and return last week without a mishap. The lad is proud of the record. He was his mother, brother and sister and he drove the car to the beautiful valley, and over the very steep grades with a perfect score of two dozen very interesting trips. The car was not injured in any way. The air in the tires that they started out with.

GREAT AUTO CONVENIENCE
"Few can have any idea of the amount of real pleasure I have obtained from my Warner automobile. It is a real pleasure, while on my present European tour," said A. R. Sattin of the Automobile club of America lately. "I got this automobile and got rid of the question of miles, which really required me on former trips to make of myself a rapid mathematician, giving me a headache oftentimes trying to locate myself by mileage."

IMPROVED CONSTRUCTION
Broken records in nearly every event of the Alconquin hill climb at Alconquin, Ill. Friday bore witness to the marked improvement in automobile building last year. Fifty-two contestants were entered in the contest, which was one of the largest hill climbs ever held. The contest was divided into two parts. In the morning the cars climbed Perry hill, a short but steep and snaky road. The afternoon events were run on Phillips hill, a long incline, with one sharp turn. The time made by each car on both hills was averaged. The best time of the meet was made by Leland's big six cylinder Stearns, which climbed Perry hill in 29.5 and Phillips hill in 29.5, averaging 27 seconds.

NOTES OF THE AUTO
Word was received yesterday by the Pioneer automobile company from C. A. Berge of a record breaking trip from Goldfield to Tomopolis in the remarkable time of 55 minutes actual running time. Berge drove his Thomas car from this city and reported the roads in good condition. Frank H. Johnson, the well known motorist, is again driving a Thomas Flyer. Johnson probably has owned more cars than any other enthusiast in the state. When a new machine does not work just right the San Rafael motorist gets rid of it and buys another make. This is the second Thomas for Johnson.
S. S. Freeman of Alameda in his Franklin touring car reports marvelous success, having driven more than 12,500 miles over the roughest country without any expense whatsoever from a mechanical standpoint and with the original set of tires furnished with the car.
The consolidated motor car company reports the sale of both a Pope-Hartford roadster and touring car to J. C. Kueh of Los Angeles and also a Pope-Hartford touring car to Bert Magley of Modesto. The company reports the sale of a '08 Royal Tourist to R. C. Coleman of this city.
