

BAKERS WILL HOLD MEETINGS TODAY
Union Will Make Vigorous Fight to Put Shops on the "Fair" List
Funds Voted for Benefit of Striking Machinists of the Denver and Rio Grande

Bakers' and confectioners' union, local No. 24, its meeting on Saturday night in Liberty hall, received a proposition to provide out of work benefits for members. The matter will come up for final action at the last meeting in December.

The local voted $25 to the machinists on strike on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad.

It was decided to declare a boycott on a bakery in Twenty-second street because it has discharged its union workers and put on nonunion men.

Frederick Sutz was elected a trustee of the local and Marcel Willie was chosen as a delegate to the San Francisco labor council.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. J. Breitwieser for her donation of a handsome pillow, to be disposed of for the benefit of the sick fund of the local.

The members were requested to assist the garment workers by not purchasing any garments that do not bear the label of the workers.

There will be two meetings today in the San Francisco labor temple of parties interested in the movement to unionize all bakers. One will be held at 10 o'clock this morning and the second at 8 o'clock in the evening.

LIQUOR LICENSE REMAINS AT $500
After Lively Combat, Supervisor Hocks' Forces Outvote Those of Murdock
Hereafter, Gypsy Fortune Tellers Must Step Lively to Evade the Law

A $1,000 license for saloons, a $600 license, in fact, any increase or change in the present $500 license, was definitely voted down by the supervisors at yesterday's session, the crucial vote standing 10 to 8 against $100 increase after January 1. A battle of ballots waged throughout the afternoon, the contending hosts being led by Murdock and Hocks, resulted in the triumph of the latter, but there were moments when he was a very much worried general. Giannini's opinion that to measure, at a point time, its change any man's financial burdens, and Murphy's that the board should let the present understanding and charge alone were the ruling factors in the result.

The eyes of Bancroft, Broderick, Combs, D'Amico, Giannini, Hocks, Jennings, McAllister, McLeeran and Murphy kept the license down, while Booth, Center, Connolly, Johnston, Murdock, Pavot, Pollok and Rixford voted for Murdock's "20 cents a day increase."

The $5 one day license bill was turned into a $20 affair, then a $10, sidetracked, overhauled, superseded and resurrected, finally passing as a 10-cent measure, although the champion, once in chargin' moved to make it $100 per night to no second, and again sought to throw the mangled body of the resolution overboard by an indefinite postponement.

Secretary Skelly of the police commission explained that Chief Biggy had discovered he had been violating the law by issuing one day permits and stated the chief would resign unless the board passed some sort of a license bill to give the practice countenance. Only Murdock, Connolly and Pavot voted against the final 10-cent measure on the ground that the sale of liquor at balls, etc., was a bad piece of business.

The board struck a body blow at the gypsy art of fortune telling and all the crafts that go with it by passing to print a bill making it a misdemeanor to advertise that sort of thing, unless the board passed some sort of a license bill to give the practice countenance. Only Murdock, Connolly and Pavot voted against the final 10-cent measure on the ground that the sale of liquor at balls, etc., was a bad piece of business.

SUPERVISORS ACT ON WATER MATTERS
Result of Special Election on Hetch Hetchy Scheme Is Declared
Selection of Judge Curtis Lindley as Special Counselor Is Approved

Three Hetch Hetchy matters were passed unanimously by the board of supervisors yesterday. The result of the special election of the 12th, confirming the Garfield grant, and authorizing the $600,000 bond issue, was formally declared. The selection of Judge Curtis Lindley as special counselor was approved, and the city attorney was authorized to make the appointment. The board formally accepted the assignment by City Engineer Marston Manson of water rights recently filed upon at Eleanor creek and Tuolumne river, being the rights secured under the state laws.

It was announced also that the city attorney had completed his search into the law covering the appropriation by the board of supervisors of the initial $10,000 payment on the Hetch Hetchy lands, and, after months of consideration, had in view of the people's flat at the election of the 12th and the regularity of all the proceedings given his opinion that the money should be paid.

The payment was accordingly made by the treasurer to Ignatz Steinhart, the trustee, who received the loans which were paid over last August to bind the city's bargain in the Hetch Hetchy private holdings of Elmer E. Smith and others.

DINGEE TRANSFERS MANSION TO WIFE

Action Comes as Climax to Demands by His New York Creditors

Losses of Multi-Millionaire Emphasized by Deed Recorded in Gotham

William J. Dingee, the capitalist who has recently become involved in serious financial difficulties, transferred the title of his $750,000 New York mansion yesterday to his wife. The information was conveyed in dispatches received last night from the east. It was only two years ago that Dingee negotiated for the purchase of the Isaac Stern home at 858 Fifth avenue, making a part payment and giving his note for the balance. He has within the last week lost his most valuable properties in California, and at the same time his New York creditors began to press him. The climax was reached yesterday in the transfer of the title of the home to his wife, Virginia R. Dingee.

His reverses cost Dingee his two big cement plants, one at Napa Junction and the other at Santa Cruz. These were acquired by the Crocker national bank, which had advanced large sums on the property. The plants were taken over when it became clear that Dingee could no longer finance them.

The transfer of the New York home will call attention more sharply to the heavy losses of the one time multi-millionaire. Dingee is on the bond of former Mayor Schmitz for $400,000. At the time an effort was made last week to summon him to court to undergo an examination as to his qualifications to act as surety in such an amount it was learned that he had made a hasty departure for Santa Cruz. He has been ordered to appear in court tomorrow.

DEADLY TORNADO SWEEPS ARKANSAS

Many Lives Lost and Towns Are Destroyed by the Cyclone

Timber and Crops Are Also Laid Low in Northwestern Part of the State

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 23.—More than a score of lives were lost and many persons injured in a tornado which swept the northwestern section of this state today. It swept through London, Wellsville, Jessico, Lodi, Lawsville, Patterson and Berryville and outlying portions of Mulberry, either completely wrecking or laying waste the larger part of these places and destroying timber and crops throughout the country.

At Piney 12 persons were killed and a number injured. The entire settlement was demolished. At London three lost their lives and considerable damage to property was done.

Wellsville and Jessico are destroyed, several fatalities occurring in each place.

TOMALTY'S TRIAL SET
James Tomalty, the former city bookkeeper, appeared before Judge Cabanis yesterday morning and announced that his health had returned and that he was ready for trial. His case was set for next Friday for arraignment. Tomalty has been ill for several weeks past, suffering from a severe case of constipation in the city prison shortly after his arrest on a charge of having falsified public records.

DOUGLAS SHOE FIGHT

Acting Secretary Nolan of the labor council received a letter yesterday from the boot and shoe workers' international union, calling attention to the fact that the effort to settle the difference with the Douglas shoe company of Brockton, Mass., in relation to paying lower wages for work on a certain class of shoes had failed, and that the union stamp had been taken from the factory.

HACKMEN'S UNION, LOCAL NO. 224, AT ITS LAST MEETING VOTED NOT TO DRIVE IN LINE AT FUNERAL OR OTHER FUNCTIONS WITH NONUNION MEN.

The local has nominated the following named officers as candidates for office to be voted for at the next election, December 3: For president, E. McCarthy; vice president, F. Kottelman; financial secretary and business agent, John Littlefield; recording secretary, John Downing; treasurer, John O. Kane; trustee, Edward Doherty; delegates to San Francisco labor council, James Bowlan, E. McCarthy and C. B. Wilgus.

On the occasion of the visit to this city of International Secretary-Treasurer Max Morris of the association of retail clerks next month the several organizations of retail clerks of this locality will call a mass meeting, to which clerks, members of the local associations, will be invited. The visiting official will address that meeting with a view to induce those clerks who are not members to join the association of the line in which they are employed.

UPHOLSTERERS' BALL

The ball given in Saratoga hall last Saturday night by local No. 23 of the upholsterers' union was a very enjoyable function, which was, despite the unfavorable condition of the weather, attended by a very large number of persons. There was an order of 22 dances, with two extras, under the direction of James McCoy, floor manager, assisted by Clarence Moran, W. McNulty, F. Gyslear, M. Davis, G. Miller, M. Boppie, Alexander Estell, Robert Mann, Sidney Sterling, Frank B. Richardson, Patrick F. Farley, William A. Kempster, William Watson, Charles H. Muller, S. Chioso, H. White, R. Barry, B. Shelly, J. Peacock, J. McDonald and M. Kragen.

FAILS TO FIND FUGITIVE

Captain F. Theorien, the supposed murderer of Jack Anderson at Portland, Ore., last week, was not a passenger on the Rose City which arrived in yesterday from the north. Detective Welch went out to meet the Rose City on the tug Patrol, and boarded the steamer soon after it crossed the Golden Gate. He searched the boat from stem to stern, but he could not locate the man he was looking for.

MURDERER IS SENTENCED

STOCKTON, Nov. 23.—Jesus Oballe, a Mexican, this morning pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree for stabbing to death Cecilio Salinas, a countryman, in a quarrel over a woman at a local saloon last week. He was sentenced to 20 years in San Quentin.

UNUSUAL CONFERENCE

An unusual conference was held in West Hartwood, Eng. a short time since between the ship building firm of Furness, Whittier & Co. and its employees, when Sir Christopher Furness, speaking for the firm, said that it would be impossible to continue the ship building by the firm unless the incessant friction between the employees and the firm stopped. He then asked the delegates from the various unions connected with the ship building industry to consider the following propositions: To stop strikes or take the alternative of closing a number of works; that if the several unions thought they could carry on the business better than the firm, the firm would sell out at a price to be fixed by assessors; if the unions would not take the alternative of closing a number of works, the firm to admit the employees as partners on a profit sharing basis and that a council be formed to settle all disputes or refer such to accredited arbitrators. The delegates from the various industries interested decided to recommend to their several unions that the members accept the partnership proposition for one year as an experiment.

PROFESSOR KOBATSCH OF AUSTRIA, A recognized authority on labor questions and economic, recently issued a statement in which he sets forth that compulsory arbitration can not be adapted to the economic and social conditions of continental Europe. He cites in support of the stand he has taken that in England, the most progressive industrial country of Europe, a proposal for compulsory arbitration was defeated by a majority of 669,000.

WEBB PRESSMEN ACT

The web pressmen's union, at its meeting last night took the preliminary steps for the proposition to be tendered to International President George L. Berry when he visits this city during the latter part of the year. A committee will meet him in Oakland and escort him to a special meeting to be held in this city. At the close of the meeting he will be tendered a banquet. During his stay here President Berry will take up the matter pending before the allied printing trades and the publishers.

The union nominated candidates for officers last night. The election will be at the December meeting and the installation at the January meeting.

HENEY UNDERGOES MINOR OPERATION

Condition Not as Encouraging as Expected and Visitors Later in Day Debarred

Although he underwent a minor operation yesterday, Francis J. Heney spent a restful day in Lane hospital. His condition, however, was not as encouraging as was expected by the physicians, and at noon visitors were barred from the sickroom. During the morning Mrs. Heney, several relatives and Rudolph Spreckels visited the prosecutor, who was in a cheerful mood.

If Heney's condition permits, another operation will be performed today to relieve his system from the effect of the anesthetic which was administered during the operation which resulted in the removal of the bullet. The effect of the nervous shock has not entirely disappeared and the operation today probably will result in the disappearance of all nervous symptoms. But for a strong constitution, Heney would have suffered greatly with the reaction which almost always follows the penetration of the flesh by a bullet.

TWENTY-SIX GAMBLERS GATHERED IN BY LAYNE

Daring Officer Pounces Down on Chinese in Midst of a Fantan Game

In a single handed raid last night Police Sergeant Arthur Layne arrested 26 Chinese fantan players and 10 white persons, and in order to preserve as evidence a bowl of seeds used in the game, punctured the vessel with a shot from his revolver while several Chinese attempted to make away with it.

Noticed, Layne climbed over the roof of the gambling joint at 160 Waverly place and peering through a crack in the thin partition saw the celestials at their favorite game.

He thrust his revolver through an opening in the wall and commanded every man to remain seated. Fong Gee of 160 Waverly place was arrested and charged with conducting a gambling place.

RETIGG NOTIFIED TO FACE HIS CREDITORS

President of the Defunct Weniger Firm Is Located in St. Joseph, Mo.

A. W. Rettig, president of the firm of P. J. Weniger & Co., which passed into the hands of an assignee 10 days ago, and who disappeared from the city about the same time, has been located by the creditors in St. Joseph, Mo. He was informed by letter yesterday that unless he made some explanation or accounting for the $2,000, which he personally appropriated before he left, he would be summoned to appear before the courts on a charge of embezzlement.

The creditors met yesterday morning in the offices of P. P. Bull in the Pacific building. Bull represents 43 creditors of $25, in holding the assets of the firm it was found that counting the furnishings, fixtures and the cash registers of the company, the assets would reach the sum of $63,000. The liabilities are stated to be about $77,000.

An effort will be made at a meeting to be held this morning to oust from his position as assignee George H. Perry, who was appointed by Rettig just before he departed.

The creditors maintain that Rettig was legally bound to have given the creditors five days' notice of his decision to appoint an assignee.

SUTRO LEAVES HIS ESTATE TO RELATIVES

Will of Former Mayor's Cousin Will Enrich Many San Francisco People

The will of Albert Sutro, who died in New York November 10 last, was filed for probate in San Francisco yesterday. Sutro was a cousin of the late Adolph Sutro, at one time mayor of San Francisco. He was 78 years old.

The will disposes of an estate said to be worth about $20,000, although the petition for probate simply states that it is in excess of $10,000.

To the Pacific Hebrew home $1,000 is bequeathed, and a large number of bequests of from $100 to $1,200 are made to relatives. The residue of the estate is divided in equal parts between the following: Virginia Lowenburg, Edmond Lowenburg, George Lowenburg, Jeanette Lowenburg and Emma Dooly Worrell. The executors named in the will are Alfred Sutro and Helen Sutro Schwartz, nephew and niece of the testator.

MURDERER OF GROSSMAN, WHO ESCAPED FROM JAIL, STILL ELUDES POSSES

Every guard whose duties did not make it compulsory for him to remain all of last night at the county jail was stationed on some portion of the peninsula searching for Samuel H. Taylor, the murderer of Joseph E. Grossman, who escaped from the county jail last Saturday evening.

Men with deadly rifles are stationed at all points between this city and San Mateo. Under Sheriff Haggerty is in charge of one of the posses and is working in the vicinity of San Mateo. Another posse of five men is making a close search of the Suro forest.

The wires between this city and the south have been kept hot with messages asking that the fugitive be intercepted should he have been successful in catching the south bound Southern Pacific train Saturday night. The posses that are working close to the city will close up today in an effort to catch the fugitive.

THE ONLY PART OF FELS-NAPHTHA SOAP THAT CAN BE IMITATED IS THE NAME.

Every now and then, we hear of a woman who cheats herself out of all the special benefits of Fels-Naptha soap. By using it—not in the Fels-Naptha way, but in the way her ancestors used ordinary laundry soap. She boils the clothes, she stirs them with a stick, she rubs them nearly threadbare—which is all wrong! Perhaps she adds a little washing-powder, or something,—which is very wrong.

Her explanation for all this unnecessary trouble and work, is—"It's the way I learned to wash."

In all probability, she learned to wash before Fels-Naptha was invented; for Fels-Naptha is one of the modern time and labor-saving inventions.

Now, with Fels-Naptha soap, you don't boil the clothes; there's no red-hot fire and steaming suds in the Fels-Naptha way. You don't do any back-breaking washboard labor. You simply rub Fels-Naptha soap on the clothes, put them in the tub, just covered with water and let them stay there for thirty minutes.

In this half hour, Fels-Naptha does everything that boiling and hard-rubbing can do and does it better.

The woman who once does a wash with Fels-Naptha soap, according to the directions on the wrapper, will never go back to the before-Fels-Naptha-was-invented way of washing.

Insist on getting the soap in the red and green wrapper.

Chawley Wants Anty Drudge's Daughter's Hand.
Chawley—"Mrs. Drudge, I came to seek your daughter's hand."

How the Bank Helps

2—The Checking Account

When you have money in the bank there are two ways to get it out. Either you can call and get it yourself or you can write an order on the bank to pay some one else.

The latter plan is the most common—so common that more than 90 per cent of payments in business transactions are made by these orders, or checks, rather than by money.

In paying bills by check you avoid the danger and bother of carrying money around, and of making change, and you run no risk of paying a wrong amount by mistake.

If some one else signs your name to a check, and the bank pays it, it is the bank's loss, not yours. Part of the bank's business is to protect you against forgeries.

To handle these checks properly and keep the accounts straight a good many skilled clerks are required. The bank pays them good salaries, and the services they perform are given freely to depositors. In addition to this expense the bank must pay for printing checks, deposit tags, ledgers, statements, etc.

If you have no checking account, you are missing one of the greatest safety devices in business, and you are invited to open one in the American National Bank.
