

REUBEN H. LOYD
DEPARTURE
Funeral to Be Among Most Picturesque Ever Held in San Francisco

Noted Pioneer Lawyer to Be Carried to Last Rest With Solemn Masonic Ritual

Flags at half mast flew over the city all day yesterday out of respect to the memory of Reuben H. Lloyd, and the probabilities are that the signals of mourning will be maintained until 5 o'clock this afternoon, when the remains of the pioneer attorney will be laid away in the receiving vault at Laurel Hill cemetery.

The funeral will be among the most solemnly picturesque ever held in this city and will be attended by persons of every walk of life. The services will begin at 2 o'clock at Albert Pike Memorial hall and will be under the auspices of California commandery No. 1, Knights Templar.

The body will be removed from the residence at 10 o'clock this morning to the funeral home of Albert Pike, where it will remain until the time set for the services, attended by a guard of honor. It will be decked with the many valuable decorations which have been presented to Lloyd during his career as a Mason. Included among them will be the triple cross of the grand master and the cross of the grand prior of England, presented to the dead man by King 150-both in full regalia. The decorations are heavily studded with diamonds.

GRAND MARKS SERVICES
Unusual grandeur will mark the services. The various Masonic orders of the city, with many of which the dead man had affiliated during his lifetime, will have their representatives in attendance. Also present will be the officials of the courts and the legal profession. The services at the hall will be presided over by the grand master, J. George Liebald, assisted by the commandery prelate and officers.

Following the services at the commandery hall the procession will form for Laurel Hill cemetery. It will be led by a military band, and directly behind the bearers Lloyd's favorite saddle horse, a beautiful Kentucky bred animal, will follow, with the dead man's riding boots fastened in the stirrups.

Following the band will be the grand commandery, the Berkeley, Oakland, Mission, Golden Gate and California commanderies, and a second detachment of California commandery mounted on black horses. Behind them will be the various Masonic orders.

PRIZE OFFERED FOR MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN STATE

The executive committee of the Portola festival offers a prize amounting in value to $100 for the photo of the most beautiful young woman in the state of California.

It is desired to make the celebration of the discovery of San Francisco bay by Gaspar de Portola, the first governor of California, a statewide affair, and it is hoped that every section will send the photos of its most beautiful young women to this committee.

All young women should enter this competition both from a point of patriotism and for the prize offered. The photo finally selected will be used as a model for a poster drawing which will be representative of California in every respect and will be distributed the world over.

The competition will close Friday, April 2. The executive committee reserves all right to publish the photos in newspapers as it may deem proper.

Mark the name and address plainly on the back of the photos and send to executive committee, Portola festival, rooms 936-938, Phelan building, San Francisco.

SEARCH FOR QUEEN OF BEAUTY STARTS

Portola Festival Committee Offers Prize for Her Photograph

It will be worth $100 to be the prettiest girl in California. More than that, she who is adjudged the queen of beauty in the statewide contest about to be launched will have the honor of being the "Portola Poster Girl."

All authorities agree that California girls are the prettiest in the world. But the prettiest girl in California? That will be harder to agree upon, and yet, in order to show to the people of all nations the finest type of California loveliness in the Portola posters, the executive committee of the Portola festival has daily assumed the task.

The competition is to be statewide, open to all, and with no conditions to be met with beyond being the prettiest girl. Photographs only will be entered in the beauty contest, and the committee will reserve the right to use them in newspapers as it sees fit.

To the winner a prize amounting in value to $100 will be given, and her photograph will be used as the model for the "Portola Poster Girl" placard which is to be distributed all over the nation and throughout the world.

The headquarters of the executive committee of the Portola festival is located at 936-938 Phelan building, and communications should be sent there.

Closing Addresses to Jury Made in Case of Soldier Who Slew Police Sergeant

Prosecution Demands Extreme Penalty and Prisoner May Know Fate Today

Thomas Jefferson Jordan, the soldier who killed Sergeant of Police Antonio J. F. Nolting, probably will know his fate today. Only one address remains to be delivered to the jury—that of Special Prosecutor Hiram W. Johnson—and the judge expects to give his charge at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Yesterday was devoted to the arguments of Assistant District Attorney Hanley and Charles H. Fairall, the former demanding a verdict of murder in the first degree and the latter pleading for a verdict no higher than manslaughter.

Hanley insisted strongly that drunk-eness was no defense. "Proof of intoxication can be introduced only for the purpose of determining the degree of the crime or the mitigation of penalty," said Hanley.

The burden of Fairall's address was that no premeditation or malice or insanity had been shown; Jordan was insane through drink when he shot Nolting, said the lawyer, and had no hatred or ill feeling in his heart. Fairall referred to the way in which the police and army worked together just after the shooting, "others were scurrying like rabbits from their holes and seeking refuge."

"Don't let them shake the bloody clothes of the dead man in your face and urge that as a taken from you, should hang this poor devil, who bore no ill will to the sergeant," said Fairall. "The police of this city can not by the exercise of vengeance rescue the dead man from the grave. Vengeance is not a human attribute. It is an attribute of divinity itself. Don't let it be said that you handed this man because the eyes of the police department were upon you."

Enact Policeman's Murder
A vivid enactment of the circumstances attending the killing of Policeman William B. Helms was given by Judge Dunne's court yesterday during the trial of Thomas O. Young for the murder of the officer, James Bence, who was shot by Helms on the witness stand. Young, the defendant, reclined on the floor of the court in the position he was in when he is alleged to have shot Helms, holding in his hand the pistol afterwards taken from him by Officer McPhee, who was with him in the position occupied by Helms when shot.

The witness, Bence, said he saw Young draw the pistol from his waistband, level it and shoot the officer, who was at the moment leaning over searching his prisoner. Bence said he saw the gun in Young's possession when the policeman pulled him up to his knees, and shot the officer.

"Look out, he has got a gun." But the cry was too late to do any good, as Young at once drew the revolver and fired the shot, Bence said. "Police Officer John Rocca testified that when Young was brought to the city prison he denied shooting Helms, but later, when his brother James accused him of firing the shot, he kept silence, except to say, 'Take off my handcuffs and I'll kill any officer in the place.'"

From Monte the train went to London and was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the residents of that place. Vineland was visited and a large number of the scientists spent the night there.

"NICE LITTLE GIRL WHO LOVES ME"

Gertrude A. Keerl, in Divorce Suit, Says This Was Not Applied to Herself

That Francis A. Keerl, drummer for a wholesale house, is a male flirt, is the accusation made by Gertrude A. Keerl in a suit for divorce filed yesterday.

At the Monterey hotel last April he is alleged to have "boldly and openly flirted and ogled with one of the waitresses," notwithstanding the presence and protests of his wife. "Forget it, you little fool," he said to his wife when she complained. On another occasion Keerl is stated to have shown her a letter signed "M. A." full of endearing terms, saying it was from a "nice little girl who loves me." Mrs. Keerl complains that her husband often tantalized and humiliated her by telling her of his various conquests with married women and girls.

Mrs. Catherine H. Keerl, who was granted a divorce from Joseph Walters by Judge Van Nostrand yesterday, complained that her husband told her sauerkraut and frankfurters were good enough for her. As she is of Irish blood, she considered this remark an act of cruelty, she said. She also testified that Walters struck her with a poker.

Suits for divorce were filed yesterday by Mae D. Chilson against Frederick K. Chilson, desertion.

A. H. Weisman against O. Weisman, habitual intemperance.

Katherine Meyers against C. H. Meyers, cruelty.

The following divorces were granted yesterday: By Judge Graham—Ella May Warrens from Ben Franklin Warrens, cruelty.

By Judge Sturtevant—Joseph Matisek from Rosa Matisek, desertion.

By Judge Moganjennic de Witt from Clarence C. de Witt, cruelty.

TAX ON BACHELORS WILL HIT JAPANESE LABORERS
Hawaiian Measure Is for Purpose of Increasing Revenue

[Special Correspondence of The Call]
HONOLULU, March 11.—A bill to tax bachelors is to be introduced by Representative Long, a part Hawaiian, in the Hawaiian legislature, the object of the bill being ostensibly along the line of like legislation in some other of the states.

A tax of $2 a year is proposed on all male residents of the territory more than 23 years of age who are unmarried.

The real object of this bill is to increase the revenues through the large sums which must necessarily be paid under the new Japanese laborers in the territory. At least 60 per cent of the Japanese laborers here are unmarried and under the circumstances a majority of a very large number of these is impossible, there being very few unmarried Japanese women in the territory.
