

APACHE COLLEGE FILES RESIGNATION

Offer to Withdraw From Position With Church Culmination of Sad Romance

Sympathy With Father of Girl Who Wedded Japanese; Resignation May Be Refused

The culmination of the series of sensational incidents to the wedding of Miss Helen Gladys Emery and G. Aoki, a Japanese householder, came yesterday when the girl's father, Archdeacon John H. Emery of the Episcopal church, tendered his resignation to Bishop Nichols.

Since the infatuation of his daughter for the Japanese Archdeacon Emery has seen his beautiful home in Corte Madera go to ruin; he has been made the object of pity among his neighbors, and his family name has been hurled across the continent linked to that of a Japanese cook with a reputation none of the best.

And yesterday there was added the last chapter to the miserable romance when he offered to give up his position of honor and trust, the high place which his abilities and a lifetime of toil had secured him.

Sympathy for father Among the consolation in his sea of trouble will be that there is little likelihood of his resignation being accepted. His value to the church and his past services would, in themselves, be sufficient to retain for him his position; but to this is added a strong sentiment in his favor, a sentiment arising from the fact that he was generally conceded among Episcopalians to have been a most worthy and successful minister.

Probably, said one clergyman, "the resignation was prompted by the thought that some members of the Episcopal church in California were harshly criticizing the fact that Archdeacon Emery holding his position after what he and his family had gone through. Such criticism, of course, would naturally emanate from very small minds, but it would prove none the less embarrassing and harmful. Now, if his resignation has been tendered and not accepted, these criticisms will be quieted."

Attorney Withdraws Suit SEATTLE, March 29.—Augustus Armstrong, the attorney who sued Archdeacon John H. Emery for $2,000 in fees in connection with the marriage, this morning withdrew his suit. He announced that if he was not paid he would bring a similar action against Emery in the home county of the archdeacon.

NEVADA RAILROAD RATE HEARING OPENS Petition of Intervention Offered by San Francisco Exchange RENO, Nev., March 29.—The hearing of the Nevada railroad commission against the Southern Pacific and the Nevada, California and Oregon railroads, alleging discriminatory and unjust rates, began this morning before Special Examiner Lyon of the interstate commerce commission. Special Examiner Lyon formally opened the hearing and continued it until 1:30 o'clock owing to the nonarrival of Judge E. W. Hartine of the Nevada railroad commission. Expert Accountant Frank McCune.

This morning Attorney Seth Mann of the traffic bureau of the "Microfilm" exchange of San Francisco appeared before Examiner Lyon and offered a petition of intervention for the body he said the court would grant if it was found that San Francisco enjoys water competition and that it should continue to have the benefit of water competition on the coast. He also asked for a reduction of the rates charged the city of Reno and other points in Nevada and that the Nevada railroad commission be ruled against.

Administratrix is Removed by Court Court Grants Petition Directed Against "Lady" Broome [Special Dispatch to The Call] SANTA BARBARA, March 29.—"Lady" Frances Broome, whose denunciation of American courts and institutions has resulted in the loss of a large amount of her property, was today removed by Judge Crow as administratrix of her husband's estate on the petition of her eldest son, Thornhill Francis Broome, who was appointed special administrator in her place. "Lady" Broome was unrepresented by counsel, declaring no lawyer would remain loyal to her. She became hysterical after the decision and remained alone in the deserted courtroom for hours weeping.

The Broomes are prominent in this section, San Francisco, New York and London. The title "Lady" and that of "Mrs." were given to her by her husband, William Richard Broome died June 17, 1879, leaving an estate now valued at $2,700,000.

Her appointment "Lady" Broome has made no report to court, and in the main her actions have been eccentric.

NEW YORK FINANCIER TO STUDY INVESTMENTS F. S. Witherbee of Equitable Life Visiting San Francisco F. S. Witherbee, member of the finance committee of the Equitable life insurance society of New York, arrived in this city last night, accompanied by his wife and daughter and Franklin A. Plummer, a prominent New York financier.

Witherbee announced last night that while in San Francisco he would study financial conditions with a view to investing.

He also declared that life insurance companies and directors have been devoting considerable time to a study of conditions in this city and that much money probably will be invested here without any hesitancy by the several large life insurance companies.

Mrs. Harry J. Parker, Who Eloped to Marry

ON SHORTLY TO TRUE ETHICS

From a glance across the register in a fashionable Los Angeles hotel to an elopement on about three minutes' notice and then to a quiet marriage in San Francisco yesterday was the course of events in the romance of Marcia Lockard, 17 years old, and Harry J. Parker, 21.

Mrs. Parker is the daughter of Rev. E. T. Lockard, a Santa Barbara Presbyterian minister, and her husband was formerly a clerk in the Hotel Alexandria, Los Angeles.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT Miss Lockard, now Mrs. Parker, and her mother were stopping at the Hotel Alexandria about a year ago. Miss Lockard and the boyish clerk fell in love without even waiting for a formal introduction. Two weeks ago Parker resigned his position at the Alexandria and went to Santa Barbara. The couple planned to elope one month hence. Saturday Parker decided to leave for San Francisco to accept a position, and Miss Lockard went with him to the train, and the locomotive came into sight shrieking its greetings to the young couple Cupid decided a month was too long to wait. So Parker bought a ticket for his bride to be Sunday, the 22nd, and she came into sight shrieking its greetings to the young couple Cupid decided a month was too long to wait.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE DISCUSSES TENDENCIES DURING THE MIDDLE AGES

MANUFACTURERS PROPOSE TO APPLY TO COURT IN THE MATTER

From a letter received yesterday by Secretary Gallagher of the labor council from the united hat makers of America, their fight against the manufacturers of hats has assumed a new phase. The information imparted is to the effect that the manufacturers say that all the hat makers belong to the association and that they can not conduct their business without them, so with a view to have them return to work the attorneys for the manufacturers propose to apply to the courts for writ to compel the association to declare the hat makers' strike off and to apply for a writ of injunction to prevent the organization from firing or expelling any member who might return to work while the strike is on.

The secretary expressed the opinion that if such an injunction is granted the hat makers will not obey it, for the reason that it would be an infringement of the manner of conducting the affairs of the subordinate unions, having a tendency to destroy discipline.

The council is in receipt of a communication from Frank J. McNulty of the international brotherhood of electrical workers in which the national president, he declares that delegates from an association of electrical workers with the American federation of labor are not entitled to seats in the labor council, and that under the law of the federation such matters have seats there now must be unseated.

The farmers' union of Fresno sent to the labor council a number of cartons of raisins with a request that the delegates from the several unions place them with their regular grocers. This has been done, and a number of those who received them have called at the office of the labor council, which made a fight in their behalf, was notified of the fact.

The demand of the hostlers in the fire department for pay at the rate of $100 per month, as provided in the charter, was granted to the men yesterday by the board of supervisors, which made a fight in their behalf, was notified of the fact.

The resolution presented last month to the typographical union No. 21 to the effect that any officer or committee member who shall resign or be appointed or be elected to a political office shall resign his office in the union and retire from the union, was discussed at length last Sunday. The matter was laid over until the annual meeting, when all members will have an opportunity to vote upon it.

A resolution to exempt from the payment of dues members who are officers or who serve on committees was defeated.

Organizer George Mitchell reported that he had organized the printers of San Mateo, and that the union will be instituted next week, addressed by Organizer Terry of the international union of tailors on the subject of the matter of an all-goods union, which requested that the members do not purchase any article of wear that does not bear the label of the union.

The meeting announced that he had received information that International President Lynch is ill and that by reason of the illness of Lynch it is proposed that the session of the international arbitration board.

The bakers and confectioners at their meeting Saturday night admitted 55 helpers into the auxiliary and it was announced that at the next meeting as many more will be admitted.

The union decided to declare a boycott on one of the French bakeries because the baker refused to sign the wage agreement.

R. G. O'Neil, Gerald McFee, T. J. McDermott, T. Quinn and C. Magner have been named by the tile setters' auxiliary to arrange for a banquet April 17 in celebration of three years after the fire.

At the last regular meeting of the wood workers and metal lathers' union, a communication from General President McSorley was read. This was to the effect that the union should accept as members former members of the house-smiths' union who had been working at light iron tinning. It was decided that the union should accept as members former members of the house-smiths' union who had been working at light iron tinning.

The union appointed a committee to make arrangements for a reception to be tendered the international president, who will be in this city next Thursday.

W. W. Van Arsdale, Who Died Suddenly Yesterday

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN CAPITALIST

W. W. Van Arsdale, the well known lumberman, banker and capitalist of this city, died suddenly at his Ridgeview ranch, in Mendocino county, yesterday, of heart disease. The news was telegraphed to friends here and came as a great surprise.

Van Arsdale was born in Missouri, but was brought to California when an infant. He was a graduate of the University of California, and following his course there went east to take a post-graduate course in mining engineering. On leaving college he followed his profession, but very soon became identified with other interests and in time became known as one of the leaders in the movement to develop the natural resources of the state. At his death he was president of the Van Arsdale-Harris lumber company, vice president of the Scott & Van Arsdale company and also held the same position with the Snow Mountain water and power company.

With George W. Scott he opened to the market the McCloud river valley, built a railroad into the valley and erected a big manufacturing plant at McCloud. He held large interests in Mendocino county where he built a costly summer residence and was identified with the construction and operation of the big Eel river power plant.

Recently much of his time was spent on his ranch, Ridgeview, in Mendocino county, his house at Scott and Jackson streets being opened only for the winter months. He leaves a wife and a daughter, Mrs. Thomas R. Kurtz, wife of Lieutenant Kurtz of the United States navy, who is now stationed at Goat Island.

A special train will bring the remains to San Francisco today. The funeral will take place on Wednesday from the city residence. He was 53 years of age.

SENATOR NIXON AND WINGFIELD DISSOLVE Famous Goldfield Partnership in Mines Terminated [Special Dispatch to The Call] NEW YORK, March 29.—It was announced today by Senator George S. Nixon of Nevada that he had dissolved his business association with George Wingfield, with whom he has been identified in the last four years in mining and banking ventures in Nevada. Wingfield and Nixon were active in the promotion of the Goldfield consolidated mines company, a $50,000,000 corporation organized in 1906 to consolidate all the largest gold mining ventures in the Goldfield camp.

It is understood that it was in order to strengthen his position that Nixon decided to give up the presidency of the concern and sell his shares.
