Delegates to Grand Parlor Pay Delightful Visit to Oroville and Chico

Much Interest Centers in Election of Officers, Which Takes Place Today

MARYSVILLE, April 28.—The selection of officers for the ensuing year will be the chief business to be transacted tomorrow by the grand parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West. Today was devoted to extensive sightseeing. While it would be unjust to the hospitality of the people of Marysville to say that it was the most interesting day of the session, the excursion to Oroville and Chico was a delightful relief to the grand parlor from the tedium of its sessions. A perfect day made the trip into the foothill towns an altogether happy experience. The orangeade which the citizens of Oroville concocted before the anti-Omar Khayyam attitude of the order had been promulgated in the district was enjoyed by the delegates.

INTEREST IN ELECTION

There will be contests for three of the grand offices, and the race for grand trusteeship is a free for all. Promotion will come to Grand First Vice President Joseph R. Knowland, Grand Second Vice President Daniel A. Ryan and Grand Third Vice President H. Lichtenberger. Grand Treasurer Charles E. Jarvis of Sutter Creek will be unanimously elected grand third vice president.

For grand secretary Charles H. Turner, the incumbent, and Fred H. Jones of Stanford parlor, San Francisco, are in the fight. Turner declared emphatically tonight the report that he was going to retire from the contest. He would not discuss his attitude of the grand officers toward him.

Grand Treasurer John E. McDougald has two opponents, H. C. Pasquale of Golden Gate parlor and William Neumiller of Stockton. Grand Inside Secretary J. J. Griffin of Sacramento is running against George A. Burns of Sacramento. J. J. Griffin of Merced and F. L. Arbogast of Nevada City. Other candidates are Judge T. J. Lennon of San Francisco, Judge E. M. Sewell of Santa Rosa, N. P. Bundy, Sierra Madre parlor; Grand Marshal Louis F. Erb, San Francisco; William P. Caudy, South San Francisco parlor; Louis H. Mowser, Presidio parlor; A. M. Free, San Jose parlor; Thomas Monahan, San Jose parlor; Frank M. Silva, Napa parlor, and Bismarck Bruck, St. Helena parlor.

Seven grand trustees are to be elected. A resolution to change the number to nine has not been favorably received. Tonight Past Grand President Fred H. Greeley of Marysville is entertaining the past grand presidents at the session at dinner. The local parlor of Native Sons is giving a dance at the armory and there is an overflow dance in the street.

DELIGHTFUL JAUNT

Upper Sacramento valley Native Sons, Native Daughters and other pretty girls, brass bands and happy sights entertained the grand parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West today. One hundred delegates and their guests took two Northern electric excursion trains at Marysville at 9 o'clock this morning. The ride to Oroville, the first angle of the trip, was interesting to the delegates. The train ran near the Marysville buttes and north toward the glistening snow peaks of the Sierras, then veered to the west through the aromatic, blooming orchards of the Oroville orange districts and into the gold dredging environs of Oroville.

At Tres Vias the train was captured by members of Argonaut parlor No. 5 of Oroville and Oroville girls, who pinned a fragrant sprig of orange blossom on each passenger. On arriving at Oroville the grand parlor, escorted by the Oroville band, marched to the beautifully shaded courthouse square, where the visitors were graciously received. Past President A. F. Jones, who had been reported seriously ill, had recuperated sufficiently to welcome the order to Oroville.

ELOQUENCE TURNED LOOSE

Major Jones referred to the grand parlor held in Oroville in 1860 and called attention to the improvements in the town. He introduced Past Grand President Charles E. McLaughlin, who spoke feelingly of Oroville and of the part it played in the lives of the argonauts of '49. He called for the "first toast and prayer of the Native Sons, God bless our fathers and mothers." Grand First Vice President Joseph R. Knowland spoke particularly of the landmark work of the order. "I have hopes," he said, "that when the grand parlor meets at Lake Tahoe next year we can dedicate at Donner lake the monument in honor of Donner's party, and I trust that there something may be accomplished toward bringing the remains of Captain John A. Sutter from Philadelphia to the place where they should be, within the walls of Sutter's fort at Sacramento."

Grand Second Vice President Daniel A. Ryan talked gallantly of the "pretty smiling ladies."

In introducing Grand President Charles M. Belshaw, Major Jones stimulated curiosity by saying: "I tried to bring him into letting me tell what he wants to be next, but he would not let me."

VISIT THE GOLD DREDGERS

Carriages took the visitors to a gold dredger in operation near Oroville, and the sons of the pioneers had the opportunity of learning what mechanical evolution had developed from the primitive cradle their fathers used along the banks of the same Feather river.

A tasteful lunch was served the guests of the town by Argonaut parlor and Oroville citizens. The local committee of Native Sons was headed by Albert M. Smith, Dr. A. E. Kueso and George Coy.

WELCOMED BY OROVILLE

At 1 o'clock, the trains left Oroville for Chico; at that place the excursionists were detained at Bidwell grove and were met by the Native Daughters of Bidwell parlor, who presented the hospitality of the city in the form of ice cream. There was also a band. President B. F. Hudspeth, of Chico parlor No. 21 presided over the exercises held in the grove. Major William

FORUM CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

Rival Candidates Embrace and Each Asks Members to Vote for Opponent

Political Meeting of Organization Enlivened by Pretty Renunciation Scene

Something new in politics was developed yesterday afternoon at the annual election of the Forum club, when candidates embraced each other and each besought the members to vote for her opponent, but the scheme, however charming, seems hardly practical for a universal contest.

The ticket had been prepared for election, but the voters had the right to scratch. For the treasurer's office Mrs. F. H. Abbott's name appeared on the printed ticket, but Mrs. John T. Scott was put forward prominently by some of her friends. There had been a question in the first instance as to which of the two should receive the nomination, but Mrs. Scott had at first declined the honor.

The feminine privilege of changing her mind, even in regard to holding office, was exercised by Mrs. Scott, however, and both she and Mrs. Abbott were put forward.

Then came the pretty scene of renunciation by both candidates, but Mrs. Abbott renounced most firmly, and Mrs. Scott became the unanimously elected treasurer.

Mrs. A. P. Van Duzer, who was to have been a candidate for director, died last week, and the name of Mrs. C. W. Coburn was substituted.

The ticket was as follows: President, Mrs. F. M. Wright; first vice president, Mrs. J. W. Hoyt; second vice president, Mrs. Charles H. Mann; third vice president, Mrs. W. H. Snedaker; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles M. Wood; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lillis G. Brann; treasurer, Mrs. John T. Scott; directors, Mrs. F. S. Brittain, Mrs. W. S. Miller, Mrs. H. D. Loveland, Mrs. A. F. Booth, Mrs. B. H. Lucke and Mrs. C. W. Coburn.

Prescription for Nervous Men and Women. Try It

The impairment of the nervous force in men and women is first manifested by extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, dread, worry and anxiety without reason, trembling of the hands and limbs, with the slightest exertion, heart palpitation, constipation, kidney trouble, and a general inability to act rationally at all times as others with health in their bodies do.

In a half pint bottle get three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound and add to this one ounce compound fluid balsam, and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardoli, and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not eardomion); mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at retiring.

MRS. ETHEL SUTTON WILL MARRY AGAIN

A. E. Montgomery, Capitalist, Is Credited With Capturing Affections of Wealthy Woman

Former Wife of Architect to Make Formal Announcement, Which Fiance Withholds

Although Mrs. Ethel M. Sutton, who received a final decree of divorce Tuesday from Albert Sutton the architect, has made no formal announcement of her intention to marry again, it is known that she intends to enter into another matrimonial union. A. E. Montgomery, a young capitalist who has played the stock market successfully, will be the man. The wedding will take place, it is said, some time in the fall.

Montgomery is living at the St. Francis hotel and does not care to discuss the approaching nuptial. His intimate friends, however, know that he is engaged to Mrs. Sutton, but he prefers that any announcement should come from her.

During the progress of the trial which resulted in the interlocutory decree of divorce, Montgomery was frequently in court with Mrs. Sutton and accompanied her to and from the judicial chambers.

Mrs. Sutton is a wealthy woman in her own right, her fortune ranging, according to common report, from $300,000 to $400,000.

Disorderly Scenes Bordering on Rioting Attend Local Option Election in Ohio

Mayor and Police of Chillicothe Aligned Against Women and Clergy in Contest

CHILlicothe, O., April 28.—In a local option election characterized by disorderly scenes, at times bordering on rioting, Ross county today voted "wet" by 2,000. The city of Chillicothe gave a "wet" majority of approximately 1,800. Mayor Japtie and the city administration led the "wet" forces.

To restore order Company H of the Fourth regiment, Ohio national guard, was called out and a large force of special deputy sheriffs were sworn in. These, carrying wagon spokes, instead of rifles, stood guard in the disturbed quarter until the polls closed.

Woman patrolled in front of each polling place, and an army of detectives was at work for the "dry" ticket to prevent fraud, while every policeman in the city worked for the "wets" in citizens' clothes.

Rev. George L. Pake of the anti-saloon league, who was egged recently by "wets" while he was speaking at Adelphi was arrested this morning, charged with violating the 100 foot limit at a polling place.

The police also arrested several "dry" workers on the same charge. A number of "wet" workers were arrested on charges of attempted bribery.

When J. D. Whilligott, secretary of the local option committee, called at the city jail to see Rev. Mr. Eldridge the "drys" say he was assaulted by Chief of Police Pendergast, but was later released on bond.

Worth, George L. Pake of Portsmouth, O., who was assaulted by a "wet" last night in the street, had his left temple bone laid bare by a blow with steel knuckles.

Miss Myra Powell was arrested by a city policeman and her camera taken from her while she was patrolling in front of saloons with other women.

FORCED TO BE PRESENT AT CHINESE EXECUTION

San Francisco Woman Tells of "Seeing the Sights" at Canton

NEW YORK, April 28.—Mrs. N. W. Stowell of San Francisco, who arrived yesterday on the steamer Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm of the North German Lloyd line, told how she had been compelled to be present at Canton, China, when a man's head was cut off.

"Mr. Stowell and I were taken to the execution grounds in Canton among other sights," said Mrs. Stowell, "and when we were within the inclosure the gates were suddenly closed. To our horror they led out a poor wretch and our guide told us they were going to cut his head off."

"We wanted to get out, but they would not open the gates until the execution was over. Of course, I turned my head away and suffered intense emotions, but there were no unusual sounds or outcry."

"Afterward we were told that they had given the victim opium. When the gates were opened we hurried away as quickly as we could, and were home again by a trip around the world."

MUST PAY BOARD OF THE PRISONER

Peculiar Case in the Criminal Records of the State of Montana

Will Stay in Jail Nine Years Unless His Prosecutor Goes Broke

BUTTE, Mont., April 28.—One of the most peculiar cases on record in Montana developed today when C. W. Cockrell, a broker 60 years of age, was arrested and taken to the county jail to serve a nine years sentence, or as long as the man whom he was convicted of having defrauded pays his board.

A. W. Deavitt, formerly of this city, but now of Spokane, Wash., gave Cockrell money to invest in certain stock for him. Cockrell bought the stock, but before turning it over placed it as collateral for himself on a marginal speculation, and lost it. Deavitt sued and the jury found Cockrell guilty and gave Deavitt judgment for $8,000.

Under the Montana law in such case the authorities are not required to imprison a defendant unless the plaintiff will pay his board at the rate of 50 cents a day, the defendant having credit for $2 for every day he remains in jail.

Cockrell will apply for a writ of habeas corpus.
