Gilbert Will Ride for Weir At Saratoga California Jockey's Abilities Are Well Thought of by Trainer of Roseben

Jockey Clifford Gilbert, the California boy who has been riding as a free lance on the Canadian circuit since Thomas H. Williams disposed of the contract on him, will ride for Frank Weir at Saratoga and possibly at Sheephead Bay.

Prince Noble, the horse for which James Gaffney paid $10,000, is in the string Weir handles. The horse was eligible for the Saratoga handicap, but it is said Weir thought Sam Hildreth would start King James and Redigouche and that James Rowe might send Celt or Hilarious to the post, and for that reason he abandoned the idea of starting the son of Garry Herrmann.

Prince Ahmed, the good horse in the stable of H. G. Bedwell, has no stake engagements at Saratoga and his appearance in races will be confined to overnight handicaps and purse events. When the Saratoga stakes closed Bedwell was planning to race on the Canadian circuit, but his horse showed up so well at Empire City he decided to try the game at Saratoga.

Prince Ahmed is a son of King Hanover and has proved to be a tough campaigner. When owned by John C. Ferris he won the Empire City handicap of 1907. Since then he has had much racing in different parts of the country, but is apparently very sound. Bedwell will enter him liberally in the fall at Saratoga and Bay, Gravesend and Belmont Park.

King Hanover, sire of Prince Ahmed, was by Hanover and won the Grand Union Hotel stake at Saratoga in 1901. His victory displeased his owner, the late William Whitney, who was beat by Tommy Burns, would allow Goldsmith, a stable companion, to win the event and thus save all allowances for King Hanover, a Futurity eligible. As it was, the colt was forced to take up 12 pounds, and the impost beat him. Yankee, colt in which Whitney held a half-interest, proved the winner of the Futurity.

William Walker is another owner well known here who overlooked the colt in his best form. The colt, Stanley Fay, was not named for the rich events to be decided there.

Molera & Josephs have a string of eight horses which they are preparing for a fall and winter campaign. Some months ago they purchased a number of mares and are devoting considerable attention to breeding.

Thomas McCreery, an eastern horseman, recently returned to California after having spent some time in England. He says there was a marked difference in the appearance of the American colt, Sir Martin, when he started in the English derby and on the day in which he won the Gold Cup. McCreery says the horse was losing about 150 pounds and was wanting in dash and spirit. He thinks it will take a year for Sir Martin to get back to his best form. The colt had a severe campaign when racing under the colors of John E. Madden in this country, but never showed any ill effects. Joseph Cannon is handling the colt in England.

Little's Drop Stroke Beats Melville Long Takes Californian Ninety Six Games to Learn Tricks of Eastern Grass Court

[Special Dispatch to The Call] NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—In the New York state lawn tennis championship tournament at Bay Ridge today Raymond B. Little defeated Melville H. Long, Pacific coast champion, for the place in the final round of the singles, 6-2, 6-4, 6-1. Little played his best. Rarely has the former internationalist demonstrated the winning quality of his short drop stroke game so completely. On the cross shots and straight ones Long got his racket to the ball with the expectation of its rising a few inches. Its failure to do so caused him to net and send it out so often that Little had the match well in hand all the way.

By the time that Long had raced through nine sets he was fully convinced with the difference between the asphalt courts of California and the turf of the Crescent athletic club at Bay Ridge. In contesting this lawn tennis Marathon he also learned the lesson that the shooting drop stroke ball of the eastern crack will not rise to any height of bound upon the grass playing surface. It took Long the better part of 96 games, which was his amazing portion of the day's play, to realize and acknowledge this.

The play in the doubles produced three good matches and one unfinished semifinal. In the latter, Long and the Mexican, Harvey M. MacQuiston, finally got their bearings and were playing the two former internationalists, Karl H. Behr and Raymond D. Little, to a standstill when the setting sun over the Staten island hills saved them from defeat, with the score at 2-6, 7-5 and 10-8 in favor of the pair from the west.

Before beginning this contest Long and MacQuiston had gained their place in the fifth round by defeating their teammates from the Pacific coast, Thomas C. Bundy and Simpson M. Sinsabaugh, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. Long and MacQuiston then took the level stretch of the gallery court, facing Little and Behr. The latter, by stiff volleying, ran through the first set easily at 6-2. They led on the second up to 6-3, when things began to happen. Both Long and MacQuiston began to lobb continuously and to smash returns

Gossip of Railwaymen

WANT voidable car," wrote a correspondent from Tulare to Frank E. Batturs, assistant general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, "open at both ends, so as I can get out easily. It should have a dining room at one end and sleeping rooms at the other end. If you have such a voidable car let me know at once by wire and what you charge for it by the month."

"What in the name of suffering humanity is a voidable car?" asked Batturs. The question went around the office till it encountered Foy, who looks after the theatrical business of the company. "He means a vaudeville car," explained Foy.

"Oh, I perceive," replied Frank Batturs, "a voidable car for an avoidable show. I voidable car for an avoidable show. I guess some of the jokes in that show aren't half as good as that."

The new freight tariff publication bureau under the charge of Fred Gompf, whose headquarters are in the city, has been permanently established, and the organization is assuming shape. This bureau will arrange the tariff publication and printing of the freight tariffs, naming rates between the territories embraced west of Ogden, Albuquerque and El Paso and will be a large and important bureau for the railroads, as well as for the business public, resulting in uniform rates, rates and regulations in the vast territory mentioned.

What will interest the businessmen particularly is that hereafter the freight tariffs applying on this traffic will not, as heretofore, be distributed by the railway companies, but will be sold by the bureau at a nominal price.

The law requires that at designated public places, along the lines of the railroads, their legally published tariffs shall be displayed for public information, but the law does not require that any supply of these tariffs be furnished to individuals for their personal use. The plan of the bureau is to supply the railroads, the tariffs is getting to be of larger consequence, and that they must, in some way, avoid these increasing expenses.

It is therefore deemed fair that those who wish the convenience of tariffs for their own use should at least pay the cost of printing and distributing them. The public will be better served and the railroads more regularly than heretofore.

It will be found that this procedure will be followed generally in other localities.

The fall colonist rates to California will become effective September 15, and will be in existence till October 15. The rates will be as follows over Southern Pacific lines: From Sioux City $26.95, from Chicago $25, Omaha $25, St. Joseph $25, Kansas City $25, Leavenworth $25, Denver $25, Houston $25, St. Louis $32, New Orleans $32, Peoria $32, Pittsburg $42, Memphis $32, Bloomington $32.

Graduate Manager Ralph Merritt of the University of California reports that a large schedule of games for the coming Rugby season has already been arranged. The schedule is not yet complete, several open dates having still to be filled in. Games have been arranged for the freshman teams as well as for the varsity teams.

The Olympic and Barbarian teams are scheduled to meet both the freshman and varsity squads, and it is probable the Reliance club of Oakland, which is now organizing a Rugby 15, will also give games.

A strong team will make the annual trip from Vancouver under the auspices of the Vancouver Rugby union, and the usual series of games will be played with both California and Stanford universities.

Cedric Cerf, captain elect of the University of California team, arrived in Berkeley early in the week, and will be in charge of the team with Coach Schaefer, going over the points picked up by the California coach on his tour of Australia and New Zealand.

North Enders Hard Luck For Are Ready to Put in Papke At San Diego Little Tribby Wins Lipton Cup; Mischieff II Disqualified; Skiddoo in Accident

By WILLIAM J. SLATTERY The men behind the North End club have about decided to agree to Billy Papke's terms and give him a guarantee of $2,500 for his bid to fight Frank Mantell for them in this city this week. The deal is not yet made, but it is expected to be completed in the next few days.

The men behind the North End club have about decided to agree to Billy Papke's terms and give him a guarantee of $2,500 for his bid to fight Frank Mantell for them in this city this week. The deal is not yet made, but it is expected to be completed in the next few days.

Papke beat Mantell in a round about a year and a half ago in Boston, but since then the then humiliated fighter has been showing a lot of speed. His best fight was with Jack (Twin) Sullivan in Sacramento on July 5, and he cleverly outpointed the wily tycoon after 20 rounds of lively going. Mantell is now under the wing of Sam Fitzpatrick, one of the best managers the game has ever known, and Sam thinks the boy is a comer.

There may be a dispute as to the weight. Louis Blot, who is representing Papke here, says that he does not believe the Thunderbolt will do 158 pounds for Mantell. This matter should be settled before the fight is brought out here, in order to avoid complications.

Now that the Mission club has completed its card, Manager Sid Hester is getting ready to boom his show all along the line. On paper the attraction looks to be the best one that has been pulled off in the city in many a day. Both Frayne and Hyland are well up in the ranks of the lightweights, while everybody wants to see Perry Cove, the human skeleton, perform. He has never fought in this city. The wise ones are picking Monte Atte to beat Jimmy Reagan when they hook up in Oakland next Wednesday evening, according to the articles the winner is to get a crack at Cove, who is willing to fight for his training expenses, just to show the local fans that he is a champion.

SEATTLE, Aug. 6.—Seattle won from Portland in a tiresome and featureless game by a score of 12 to 3. Miller struck out three batters, Portland tried a new man, Ward, on first base and he played well. Score: R. H. E. Seattle.....12 12 4 Portland.....3 7 7 Batteries—Miller and Whaling; Seaton and Murray.

SPOKANE, Aug. 6.—Clafin's poor pitching in the ninth gave Vancouver today's game after the Indians had twice overcome a long lead for the "hoodoo" pitcher. In that inning he hit Davis and passed Nordyck. Cartwright got 12 men. Portland tried a new man, Ward, on first base and he played well. Score: R. H. E. Vancouver.....19 13 4 Spokane.....9 12 4 Batteries—Paddock, Erickson and Suggen; Clafin and Ostick.

ABERDEEN, Aug. 6.—Aberdeen hit Newlin in the first part of the eighth inning of today's game and netted seven scores by means of three singles, one double and a base on balls. Up to that time Newlin had been effective and Tacoma had been in the lead most of the time. T. Streib made his first appearance for second base for Aberdeen and produced a good impression. Score: R. H. E. Tacoma.....5 10 2 Aberdeen.....11 14 5 Batteries—Clafin and Ostick; Ovtitz and Kretz. Umpire—Caruthers.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL

Civic League's Charge of Reckless Expenditure of School Funds Not Proved

Winfield S. Williams, president of the Civic league, appeared yesterday before the finance committee of the supervisors to present his charge as to the reckless expenditure of school funds. While the discussion was still unfinished, Williams took advantage of a temporary intermission to leave the room, and did not return. He learned before he left, however, that in making his charge that the board exceeded the original estimate on schools by $200,000, he had failed to allow for the outstanding premium on uncollected bonds, which will cover the so called deficit.

"I am here representing the taxpayers of San Francisco," Williams announced, in introducing himself, "for the Civic league is a clearing house, so to speak, of all the improvement clubs."

W. G. White, a delegate from the Ingleside improvement club, said that his club was not a member of the Civic league and that he could name a dozen other clubs that were not.

"Is your only objection to our way of spending this money that we count on premiums from future school savings in future buildings?" Supervisor Murphy asked after the premium matter was explained.

"You have no right to bank on futures," Williams answered. "You ought to keep to the original estimates. In building the Bellevue house you met with unexpected contingencies, didn't you?" Murphy asked.

Williams was architect and engineer in this project for the Woodruff construction company, which is now involved in a lawsuit with the Barron estate. The original estimate of $400,000 was more than doubled in the building.

The dispute, which was heated, lasted over an hour. The facts, sifted out, are these: The board admitted that it had spent $178,000 over the estimate prepared in March a year ago by the city engineer and architect, but replied that this estimate was prepared roughly and was not intended to show the exact amount of the amount of bonds needed.

The charge that appraisers sold land to the city was denied by the committee and was not pressed by Williams. His specific charges fell through in every case, although he disputed the wisdom of the expenditures.

Baseball Notes

Cameron had plenty of chances to score yesterday. This is funny. On Thursday he laced out every mule and single which registered six runs for his team.

Reidy did not want to win Nelson on account of the cold weather, but the big southpaw simply insisted on being sent in and just see what he did. He seemed to go fine in practice, but when the real test came he was as good as dead. Nelson could not get the ball to fly right. He was lucky in that the Yonkers slingers did not send him to the south.

The Seals will play a game some place in Oregon on Monday afternoon. They will be in this city. Manager Long wired his consent, but Captain Mohler did not say where the game was to be played. It is a low level. The Seals were to play or anything else. All Long knew is that it is to be a benefit affair, the first of its kind in this country.

There was some great throwing from the outfield yesterday. In the second round the Yonkers runners were pegged out while trying to get home from second base on good throws. Rigan came in on a double, but the Seals were well on its way into deep left. Eagan started after the ball and struck out his glove hand before he could get to the ball. The Seals quickly doubled La Longe at second. There is no question but that Eagan saved his team from defeat then.

EAGLE'S WORLD'S RECORD GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 6.—The world's trotting record for 3 year old colts was equaled at the races here today when Ripley, owned by Curt Goswami of Ravenna, O., trotted a mile in 2:18 1/2.

Mickey La Longe got a hard foul tip on the end of his great mallet. He was in the favor of Carl Lewis. Mickey may be out of the game for several days. More hard luck for Billy Reidy.
