RESULTS OF GAMES

Oakland 9, Vernon 0.
Portland 3, Sacramento 2.
Los Angeles 6, San Francisco 2.

One peek at Vernon's error column will explain just what kind of a game the few faithful fans who were on the job yesterday were compelled to witness. It was an awful strain on the nerves of lovers of the pastime, for the game was never meant to be played in the manner the southerners executed it. Oakland was handed the contest on a silver platter, and it was forced on them from the outset. Oakland made nine runs and 10 hits, while Vernon failed to score and annexed eight errors.

Hogan's men played as if they had spent the night before along the water front. They were so slow in their fielding that they resembled the efforts of a fat man trying to climb a greasy pole. Outside of the Oakland all the Vernonites did some high and lofty work.

One burlesque was ushered in as soon as the curtain was raised. The fans were not kept in suspense as to what was going to happen and the closing work was among the early numbers on the program.

Christian, consistent twirler for Oakland, pitched the game. He was dealt out a line of the mystifying stuff that had the enemy guessing. He pitched the game after he had pitched the distance had been traversed and then he ceased up a little, but at that stage he had already pitched away his lunge from scoring. Vance was on the fringe line for the village crew, but he could not be blamed for the trouble. If he had been on the fringe line he would have made no difference.

The curtain raised with Stovall making an error on edge catching Carroll to reach first. Lewis waited out four bad ones and Hogan attempted a sacrifice, but was safe on Stovall's second error. Cameron forced Carroll at the plate. Kelly laid down a bunt and Lewis scored. Cutshaw singled, scoring Hogan.

In the third Hogan singled to center and Cameron singled by third. Kelly cut down the first base on Stovall's error on the bases. McKune hit a healthy triple to center, bringing two home.

With the error on the part of Vernon and the only relief afforded the fans was the fact that the crowdlike tactics of the Vernonites afforded some amusement. Hogan started the trouble by forcing four bad ones from Vance. Cameron pitched the error on Stovall's throw allowed Hogan to score. Cameron went around as far as third. Cutshaw scored, scoring Cameron. McKune was safe on Egan's error. Cutshaw came home on the slip. Stovall's error threw the ball allowed McKune to round the paths to third. He scored a moment later on a fielder's choice.

WAR SECRETARY TO REMAIN—Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Secretary of War Dickenson today denied a report that he contemplated resigning from the cabinet because of ill-health in his family and the recent death of his wife. This report was published in New York today under a misleading date line.

BIG FIGHTERS QUICK TO RETURN TO WORK

Johnson Is Forced to Ease Up Because He Is Shy on Sparring Partners

Yesterday found both Johnson and Ketchel hard at the training grind once again. Though both of them are talking about easing up in their work they generally come back much stronger after a day's layoff. Ketchel, especially, seems to be in favor of setting a new mark for training work the day after he loafs. Since his failure to report on the job last Monday afternoon the middle weight champion has been keeping the San Mateo roads hot with his sprints and topping over his sparring partners as fast as they are brought into the gymnasium.

Johnson probably would be doing more work if he could secure the necessary sparring partners. This is the obstacle that has held him back all the while at the black champion's training quarters at the ocean beach. Dave Mills, the dark skinned scrapper, who has been with Johnson since his arrival in this city, is the only one who reports on the job daily, and Johnson is forced to do practically all his boxing with this one man.

Big Bob Armstrong is being saved up for the special occasions. He is not in any top good shape, suffering from swollen lips and other injuries about the head. Johnson would not do him any good, and Armstrong without doing him serious injury, so his only one is Mills, and Mills apparently is able to start the fight day in and day out. Without him, Johnson would be in a sad way for a suitable sparring partner.

Champs Play For the Benefit Of Sam Crane

Tigers Defeat New York in Game Which Nets $7,000 for Veteran Player

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—For the benefit of Sam Crane, a veteran baseball player and newspaper writer, the New York and Detroit American League teams played an exhibition game today at Lincoln Garden, near the American League headquarters, with Joe McGinnity pitching, won by a score of 8 to 4.

Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals pitched three innings for the local American League club, and probably would have blanked the champions had his support been perfect. The receipts amounted to nearly $7,000.

A ball pitched by Mathewson and autoographed by him was sold at auction for $275, while the bat with which Cobb of Detroit made most of his hits this season was bought for $50.

Mrs. Martin Wins Golf Cup At Burlingame

A handicap medal play tournament was held on the links of the Burlingame country club yesterday.

Mrs. Henry T. Scott was the hostess at luncheon, and also put up a cup for the best net score. The handsome trophy fell to Mrs. W. S. Martin, one of the three scratch players.

Miss Alice Hager and Miss Edith Chesbroch, the other two contestants in the net score, finished respectively two and four strokes behind the winner. Seventeen fair golfers participated.

SIMKINS BEATS O'CONNOR

The class B tournament game played at the Graneby billiard room last night drew a large crowd. The contest was between A. G. Simkins and J. O'Conor. The contest was the most interesting of the series. Simkins won the match, 200 to 152, but not without a struggle. After going into a good early lead he was caught and passed by his opponent and had to go great guns at the end to land the draft. This week, endeavoring to have it ready for the board next Monday.

Harbor Commissioner Stafford informed the supervisors that his board would cooperate with the city in seeking to get the United Railroads to avail itself of the long standing franchise in Townsend street between Second and Third and to build a line to the mail dock. The committee agreed to recommend either a permit or a franchise for the short distance between Second street and the state line.

BELMONT ELEVEN BEATS LICK By 5 to 0 Score

The speedy Belmont football eleven took the Lick high school team down the line by a score of 5 to 0 at Belmont yesterday afternoon. The game was a fast one throughout and marked by good team work on both sides. Belmont scored its only points on a blocked kick in the second half. Several times Belmont had the ball very close to Lick's line, but was unable to put it over. The best work was done by King and Johnson of Belmont.
