Bad Breath From Stomach and Catarrh

Many Persons Are Victims of This Disagreeable Complaint.

It is quite common to hear of persons being spoken of as thoroughly agreeable companions, highly entertaining in conversation, fascinating and attractive in manner, gifted, well-read, accomplished and possessing all the attributes and qualifications necessary to make them desirable guests at parties and entertainments, but for the single fact that, for some cause or other, such as stomach trouble, decay of teeth, or throat and nasal catarrh, they are the unfortunate possessors of bad breath.

That one drawback is sufficient to make them almost universally shunned, and no matter how erudite or scholarly they may be, how much they may have traveled, or how large a fund of interesting anecdotes they may have accumulated, and which they may be capable of relating in an entertaining manner, the fact that they are victims of an offensive breath causes every other consideration to be set aside by their friends.

This is indeed unfortunate, and it has been the means of causing many a person to avoid society and social intercourse, because, realizing as they do, how disagreeable it must be to others, and wishing at the same time to avoid embarrassment and criticism, they are left with the only alternative of remaining off to themselves, and being deprived of many of the pleasures of life.

Such a deprivation is, however, wholly unnecessary, and persons who have long been troubled with foul breath from any cause, should know that there is a remedy for its relief, one which is a powerful absorber and remover of foul gases from the stomach, and an efficient oxidizer and purifier of offensive breath, whether from stomach or teeth, or caused by catarrh—and that justly celebrated remedy is STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES.

Thousands of persons testify to the fact that though they were once victims of bad breath, which compelled them to avoid the companionship of others, they are now able to mingle freely with their friends, to attend entertainments, parties and the theater, and to enjoy life generally, happy in the thought that through the use of Stuart's Anesthetic Charcoal Lozenges, their breath is rendered sweet and pure, and can not give offense to even the most fastidious persons.

These wonderfully purifying lozenges, which are composed of the purest charcoal, and made from willow wood, will sweeten the foulest breath, purify the most impure stomach and besides stopping the fermentation and decomposition of food, will also remove the breath-odors resulting from the use of onions, tobacco, alcohol and German cheese.
